TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says, "Shiloh's Vitaliser saved my life." I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excells. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

your child

You note the difference in children. Some have nearly every ailment, even with the best of care. Others far more exposed pass through unharmed. Weak children will have continuous colds in winter, poor digestion in summer. They are without power to resist disease, they have no reserve strength. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is cod-liver oil partly digested and adapted to the weaker digestions of children.

ADJOURNED EASTER VESTRY MEETING.

Reports Presented and Adopted—Building Committee's Report Referred Back.

The adjourned vestry meeting of St. John's was held in the school house last night. The Rector occupied the chair, and after prayers Rev. Mr. Davidson presented a few statistics in relation to the work in this parish the past year. He stated that there had been a most gratifying increase of communicants, and there had been ninety-seven persons confirmed. Reference was made in fitting terms to the losses by death and removals, and also to the gratifying distribution at Christmas and the liberal Easter offering. He was pleased with the large congregations and the hearty and reverent worship.

REPORTS.

On motion the financial statement of the churchwardens, deferred from last meeting, was adopted.

THE CHOIR.

Mr. P. Campbell presented the report of the special committee regarding Rev. R. V. Stevenson's continuance as choirmaster, which stated that in view of the wishes of the choir and congregation, Rev. Mr. Stevenson was willing to continue his greatly appreciated services as choirmaster.

The report was cordially adopted.

SCHOOL HOUSE EXTENSION.

Mr. W. H. Walkey presented the report of the Building Committee, which, after discussion, was referred back to the committee with power to act.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr. W. H. Walkey presented the report of the Sunday school, which showed that the number of pupils enrolled was 239, with an average attendance of 151, number of teachers, 21. Total contributions, $76 84 ; of this $29.14 was devoted to missions. The report stated that the attendance was increasing and the school generally prosperous.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Mrs. G. A. Smith presented the report of the Woman's Auxiliary. There is a membership of 67 of whom fourteen have joined the society during the past year. Two bales had been sent away—one in December to Rev. E. Harold, Fort Pelly, diocese of Qu'Appele, and another to Rev. F. H. Hartley, Young's Point, diocese of Toronto.

During the year $133.96 had been collected for missionary purposes.

The Parochial Mission collections totalled $161.30.

During the winter the Auxiliary also contributed to supply the wants of the poor.

The Juniors have 2[illegible] members who have pledged themselves to send $5 to the Blackfoot House. They have a credit balance in the bank of $17, after giving $25 to the Sunday School building fund and $10 towards choir prizes.

CHANCEL GUILD.

Mrs. Sherwood presented the report of the Chancel Guild. The report showed what the work of the Guild had been, and referred with regret to the departure of Miss Lewis and to Miss Jenkins' inability to remain an active member of the Guild ; she has been one of the most devoted workers since its organization. A credit balance was also reported.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Miss Halliday read the report of the King's Daughters, showing the excellent work done by this organization. Reference was made to the loss of members by removal but it was a pleasure to state that numerically these losses had been met by accessions of new members.

THE CHOIR REPORT.

Rev. R. V. Stevenson, choir master, presented the report of the choir which was satisfactory though losses had been sustained by the departure from town of several enthusiastic and faithful members.

The reports were adopted, and one pleasing feature was that all reported a surplus of funds, and those presented by the ladies were received with hearty applause, showing how cordially their faithful and successful efforts to advance the several interests of the parish they assisted, were appreciated.

SOUTH WARD MISSION.

Rev. Carl Smith, on being called on for a report from the South Ward Mission, stated that he had prepared no formal report, but referred those who wished to learn particulars to the full report of the vestry meeting, published in the DAILY EXAMINER. He stated that the work was progressing satisfactorily, and that the prospects for the future were very encouraging.

The vestry confirmed the appointment of Messrs. Bamford and McFadden, church wardens of the mission.

A PRESENTATION.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Rev. Mr. Davidson stated that the Chancel Guild had provided a new Bible for the lectern, and the older Bible so long in use and which bore the carefully pencilled writing of the late venerable rector, Rev. Mr. Beck, indicating all the proper lessons, and he did not know of any more appropriate way of disposing of it than presenting it to Mrs. Beck, which was accordingly done through Mrs. Denistoun.

The meeting then closed with prayer and the benediction by the Rector.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The Lindsay Post says:—Yesterday morning the waters of the Burnt River overflowed the railway track near Fells' station, on the Haliburton branch, for the first time in the fifteen years. Last summer the roadbed at that point was raised some 18 inches by Roadmaster Ferguson in order to remove any danger of such a thing happening, but at an early hour yesterday he received word that the unexpected had occurred, and that the water was even with the rails, with every probability of going higher. Mr. Ferguson at once ordered out a train, and left in the course of an hour with eight or ten carloads of lumber of various sizes and a gang of men in order to repair possible damages. The ballast had not been washed away, but to make the track safe the track was elevated another 18 inches.

About six o'clock last evening a message was received stating that a very serious washout had occurred on the Whitby and Port Perry division between Sonya and Seagrave, and Mr. Ferguson after collecting a fresh force of about 30 men, along with necessary material, at once started for the scene. He found a mile and a half of track flooded, many feet deep in places, and the earth washed away to the depth of one to four feet in places. He kept the men working like Trojans all the night long, and at five o'clock in the morning they pulled into Port Perry, their task completed, when Conductor White was wired that he could start from Lindsay on time as usual.

The line between Goodwin and Markham was also reported unsafe last evening before the departure of the 6 o'clock train from Lindsay last evening. Roadmaster Cheer of Orillia took the repairs in hand, and found the track undermined at several points. The train was about three hours late in reaching the city.

Mr. Walser Mercer, of the Midland way-freight, has been transferred to Conductor Britton's train, and will remove his family from Midland to Lindsay to-day.

Roadmaster McNab has at last succeeded in making solid ground at the Missing Link sink-hole and the train from the east passed over it yesterday. It is said that over 300 carloads of old ties and boulders were dumped into the morass.

A visit of inspection from the "big guns" of the G. T. R., is expected at the local station this afternoon. Among the officials will probably be General Supt. McGuigan, Assistant Supt. Webster, Chief Engineer Hobson and District General Freight Agent White.

DO YOU GET WHAT YOU ASK FOR?

Many Are Deceived When Buying Diamond Dyes.

Many ladies are deceived when they go to purchase Diamond Dyes. They ask for the "Diamond," but many dealers, greedy for gain and extra profit, wrap up some worthless make of dye that proves ruinous to the materials that are to be dyed.

We strongly advise the ladies to beware of the merchants who are mean enough to substitute inferior goods. If your merchant sells only common and big profit dyes, send your order direct to us, and we will send the Diamond Dyes by mail to your address. The Diamond Dyes are only ten cents per package (same price as worthless dyes) and are always warranted perfect. Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last Wednesday Mr. A. Ferrin of Cavendish, Fortesque P. O., entered into the holy bonds of wedlock with Miss Flaherty, of Galway. The affair was a very quiet one, only a few of the friends and relatives being present.

The merchants and shopkeepers of Kinmount have adopted the Early Closing By-law, which took effect on Monday, April 20th. The shops will be closed at 7 p.m.

Seeding has begun, which is indeed a great deal earlier than was expected by the farmers two weeks ago. The presence of the early pasture is a great relief to those that were scarce of feed. Hay has been selling as high as $18 per ton, and straw was also deemed a sweet morsel.

An Glorious Age in Which We Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as "Maltine with Coca Wine."

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No ! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind ; strengthens the digestive organs ; improves the assimilative functions, and sustains the vital forces until, by the improved conditions is brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health is renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

THOSE NEW RIFLES.

House Authorizes the Three Million Dollars

WHICH THE EQUIPMENT WILL COST.

Opposition Object to the Manner in Which the Government Has Dealt With This Matter—The Application of Montreal For Money For an Exhibition.

Ottawa, April 22.—(Special)—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Bergeron asked if the Government had come to any decision with regard to the request of the Montreal deputation for a grant towards the International Exhibition in Montreal next year.

Mr. Foster replied that the Government had given the matter every consideration. It was not possible, however, that any money grant could be initiated and carried through this session. But the Government, he could say, were very favorably disposed towards the project of holding an International Exhibition in Canada and, accordingly, proposed that a committee of promoters of that exhibition be appointed to confer with the Government in order that a solid basis might be arrived at for future action.

Mr. McShane followed. "We, the people of Montreal"—as he put it—had long enough put up with promises and neglect at the hands of the Government. Now, they wanted the gold cash. He threatened the Government with the political consequences if they did not comply with this request for a grant of half a million dollars at once.

Mr. Ives remarked that Mr. McShane was misrepresenting the citizens of Montreal collectively, as Pooh Bah, being willing to accept cold cash by way of a solution for fancied insults. He himself knew the people of Montreal too well to take them at Mr. McShane's estimate, too well to believe that the large delegation which was here on Saturday came to point a pistol at the head of the Government and demand that half a million dollars be paid immediately. If anything could justify the suspicion that the delegation had politics in view, it was the oration of Mr. McShane.

Mr. Laurier defended Mr. McShane's observation as quite reasonable and declared the Government's answer to the delegation had been so unsatisfactory that another deputation had arrived to-day.

Mr. Cockburn regretted that Mr. McShane had taken so much to heart the kindly advice given to the delegates to consult with the promoters of the Toronto Exhibition, who had approached the Government long before on the subject of an international exhibition in 1897. Toronto's exhibitions had always been successful and the aid the citizens asked was simply the recognition of the Government for the time, being satisfied that when the Government returned triumphant after the general elections the matter of the grant could be left to Parliament. He thought that perhaps the two exhibitions could be merged into one, to avoid a conflict of interests.

Mr. Prefontaine, after dinner, continued the discussion. He said there should not be the slightest jealousy or ill-feeling between Toronto and Montreal. If Toronto wanted to hold its agricultural exhibition next year Montreal would help it, but Montreal intended holding this international exhibition and counted upon the financial assistace of the Government. He deprecated, however, the spirit in which The Toronto World had treated the matter in its report of the interview which the Montreal delegation had with the Government on Saturday, when it termed the visitors to Ottawa as a "deadhead delegation."

Mr. Coatsworth corrected the statement of Mr. Prefontaine that The Toronto exhibition was to be simply an agricultural one. It was to be representative of Dominion products in arts, agriculture and manufactures. It had been projected some years ago and he thought Montreal might well have deferred their exhibition until 1898.

Mr. Lister—How much do you want from the Government?

Mr. Maclean (York)—$100,000.

Mr. Lister—You only wanted $50,000 a few weeks ago.

Mr. Maclean—We will take $100,000 now.

Mr. Coatsworth, in conclusion, said he hoped there would be no friction between the two cities.

Sir James Grant thought Montreal and Toronto should compromise by selecting Ottawa. (Laughter.)

Mr. Lepine spoke in favor of Montreal, while Dr. Sproule thought Toronto was the next point for a Canadian international exhibition.

After some further talk the subject dropped.

The House went into committee on the resolution authorizing the Government to raise three million dollars for the purpose of securing better arms and equipment for the militia. Mr. Foster, who was very indistinctly heard, explained the reasons which had induced the Government to ask for this sum. After careful consideration and investigation the Government had decided on the Lee-Enfield rifle as a weapon to place in the hands of the militia and 40,000 stand would be procured as well as 2300 Lee-Enfield magazine carbines for the cavalry. Four batteries of six 12-pounder guns would also be procured. The decision reached by the Government was after consultation with the Imperial authorities. The arms and ammunition were to be supplied at the very lowest price, and in order to secure them at the smallest cost the Government had undertaken to pay for them promptly. One million dollars was due before July 1. The Government had contracted altogether for two millions for arms and ammunition. The other million asked for would be expended after consultation with the home authorities.

Mr. Mills—Is the whole liability with the War Office?

Mr. Foster replied that the obligation with the War Office already amounted to $1,844,000. The arms and ammunition were being supplied at cost, plus a commission of 5 per cent. only for inspection and handling.

Sir Richard Cartwright—What is the cost?

Mr. Foster—Some of the rifles are made in the Government factories, others by private individuals, but all are approved by the Government. For the rifles procured from the trade we pay £4 each, for the bayonets and scabbards 13s 6d, altogether £8,000. For the rifles made in the Government factories the price is £3 10s each. The four batteries will cost £24,000.

Mr. Dickey said it had been originally intended to purchase fifty Maxim guns, but Lord Wolseley advised that the money would be better spent in extra artillery. The cost of Maxim guns was $3000 each. All the details had been arranged by Col. Lake, without interference from Ottawa. The country was deeply indebted to General Gascoigne for his moderate estimates. Many Imperial officers would have run to great extravagance, but General Gascoigne had kept in view the conditions of the country.

Mr. Casey complained that the authority of Parliament had not been asked for this expenditure, and protested against this expenditure having been undertaken without the advice of a Royal Commission.

Mr. Mills declared the proceeding was wholly unconstitutional, and Mr. Laurier supported this contention.

Col. Prior, replying to Messrs. Mills and Casey, said that the former had impressed him as a man wrapped up in his books. His speech in favor of a rifle that would inflict terrible wounds seemed to mark him as a "Most blood-thirsty ruffian," to use the phrase in its parliamentary sense. Modern military science favored a rifle throwing a small bullet at high velocity, one that would place an enemy hors de combat without killing him. As for Mr. Casey, he could tell that honorable gentleman that the Canadian militia should be armed with the very best class of magazine rifle. Even the moral effect of going into action with an inferior weapon was not to be lightly regarded.

Mr. Sutherland favored the purchase of the best class of rifle, but criticised the manner of the purchase.

Messrs. McMullen and Lister protested against this expenditure.

Mr. Foster remarked that the resolution had been three hours under discussion, and if the Opposition intended to block this business something else might be taken up. In December last year circumstances arose which, while they might now be considered as tail-twisting, were not so considered here or in England. The Government deemed it its duty to be prepared for emergency. As to the Government not taking Parliament into its confidence, the Government had done so in the speech from the throne, and in the debate upon it. Not one hon. gentleman had demurred to the proposed expenditure. Again in the budget he had outlined the expenditure and members of the Opposition distinctly stated their determination not to oppose any reasonable expenditure for defence. The same spirit had been manifested in the debate upon the resolution of sympathy with the mother country, and now would the Opposition place the Government in the position of repudiating obligations undertaken to put the country in a state of defence called for by the circumstances of the time? If so, it was a strange commentary upon the expressions evoked in England at the splendid outburst of Imperial loyalty in the Canadian Parliament. He appealed to the leader of the Opposition to say whether this vote should go through or not. Frankly, the Government was, in this matter, in the hands of the Opposition.

This had the desired effect and after brief protests by Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Davies, the resolution was adopted and reported.

At 10 minutes past 1 the House got into Committee of Supply.

The supplementary estimates were taken up, but no progress was made, the first item, one of $180 as a retiring allowance to the late secretary of the Agriculture Department, being discussed until the House adjourned at 1.40 a.m.

BRIDGES CARRIED AWAY.

The Railway Companies Find it Cheaper to Rebuild Every Year Than Erect Permanent Structures

Port Arthur, Ont., April 21.—(Special)—About 120 feet of the bridge across the Kaministiquia River at Stanley, has been carried away. The probable cost of repairing will be $3000. The Slate River Valley bridge, likewise over the Kaministiquia River, is also badly raised, but is still passable. The Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway bridge is carried away. This is the annual occurrence, it being cheaper to rebuild every year than to put in a permanent structure, and it only delays traffic four or five days.

THREW OUT THE INDICTMENT.

The Grand Jury in Newfoundland Frees the Bank Directors.

St. John's, Nfld., April 21.—The grand jury decided this evening by a vote of 11, one juror being sick, to reject the indictment against the directors of the Commercial Bank. They, however, found a true bill against the manager, Henry Cooke, by a vote of 18 to 4. The Attorney-General intends to disregard the grand jury's action and proceed against the directors upon sworn information laid before him. The indictment against the Union Bank directors will be considered on Friday. Its rejection is a foregone conclusion, in view of the decision just rendered.

TO ENTER THE CROW'S NEST PASS.

Sir William Says the Length of the New Road Will Be 250 Miles.

Montreal, April 21.—(Special)—There was great satisfaction felt in business circles here to-day, when it was learned that there was an early prospect of the Crow's Nest Pass being penetrated by the iron horse. Your correspondent learned to-day from Sir William Van Horne that the probable length of the road will be 250 miles.

TUPPER AS PREMIER

And the Elections to Be Held on June 16.

SIR MACKENZIE WILL DROP OUT.

The Announcement to Be Made Officially as Soon as Prorogation Takes Place—Speculation as to the Proposed Reconstruction of the Cabinet Ottawa Gossip.

Ottawa, April 21.—(Special)—The nominations for candidates in the coming general elections for the Commons have been fixed for Tuesday, June 9, and the elections will take place on Tuesday, June 16.

By universal consent Sir Charles Tupper will be Premier, and when he takes hold a considerable change in the personnel of the Ministry may be expected from Ontario. A well-informed politician said to-night he would not be surprised if Chief Justice Meredith Hon. George A. Kirkpatrick, Col. Tisdale or Hon. Peter White were brought in, while from Quebec the names of Sir A. Lacoste, Sir Hector Langevin, Lieut.-Governor Chapleau and Provincial Secretary Pelletier are mentioned. Some politicians incline to the belief that neither Lieut.-Governor Chapleau or Chief Justice Meredith will enter Federal politics until the school question is disposed of. As for Hon. Peter White, it is generally conceded that he could only accept a portfolio with the school policy of the Government modified. The name of Mr. Hugh John Macdonald finds great acceptance in Conservative circles, in the event of Mr. Daly retiring. Mr. Macdonald, however, is known to be reluctant to re-enter politics.

The Solicitor-Generalship will likely be filled by the selection of Mr. Northrup, M.P. for East Hastings, who is conceded to be one of the coming men in Ontario politics. Young and able, Mr. Northrup has a bright future before him. Mr. Dickey and he should make a great team when the older generation of Conservative politicians have passed away.

Premier Bowell has virtually resigned the Premiership, although the official announcement will not be made until immediately after prorogation. Yesterday he informed his colleagues in council that he was desirous of retiring from political life, and that as soon as the business of the session closed he would place his resignation in His Excellency's hands. In accordance with the Premier's decision, Sir Mackenzie saw Lord Aberdeen, during the course of the afternoon, when, as may naturally be supposed, the situation was fully discussed. The fact that the conference lasted nearly three hours is a fairly good indication of the important nature of the meeting. The Premier again saw His Excellency this evening. It is understood to be Sir Mackenzie's intention to retire absolutely from any official position, retaining only his seat in the Senate. He will, however, in accordance with a generally expressed desire, be one of the Canadian delegates to the colonial office gathering on the Pacific cable question in London next month.

Dr. McEachran, chief veterinary inspector of the Dominion, is in the city, engaged at the Agriculture Department in arranging for a thorough reorganization of the cattle quarantine system throughout the Dominion, and a complete revision of the quarantine regulations. In the course of conversation to-night, Prof. McEachran said that the question of granting permission for the shipment of American cattle from Montreal was under consideration by the department. There was a feeling, however, among transportation and steamship companies against granting the concession, as it might lead to American cattle buyers coming on here and playing off Canadian against American lines.

Deputy Minister Schreiber was seen to-night relative to the delay in the opening of the Welland canal. He said that last year at the solicitation of shipping men certain needed repairs below the water line were neglected in order to allow an earlier commencement of navigation. It was absolutely necessary that these repairs should be made this spring. He hoped that the canal would be available for use on April 26 or May 1 at latest.

A. W. Ross, M.P. for Lisgar, has, it is said, consented to again contest that constituency.

The Ministerial supporters of the Government are being asked to name the returning officers in their ridings.

The report is current to-day that His Excellency the Governor-General has intimated his unwillingness to sign any more orders in council making appointments until the elections are over.

The project for a new opera house in the rear of the Russell House is well under way.

Mr. J. R. Booth, the well known lumberman and railway magnate, is being pressed to accept the Conservative nomination for the city.

Overtures are being made for a union of the two Conservative associations in Ottawa.

Mr. Harry Corby, M.P., arrived here to-day and was warmly greeted by his friends on both sides of the House. Sir Charles Tupper is desirous of Mr. Corby again contesting West Hastings.

A deputation of local military men waited on Mr. Desjardins, Minister of Militia, this morning and urged the appointment of Lieut.-Col. Aylmer, A. ..., as Adjutant-General. They received a very hopeful reply.

A delegation from Montreal is here again to-day to press for half a million dollar grant to the International Exhibition. They claim to have received a very hopeful reply.

The proposed loan to the Canadian Pacific Railway will aggregate five million dollars, the approximate length of the Crow's Nest Pass line being 250 miles.

The Patrons of Industry are asking for the abolition of the $200 deposit required in Federal elections.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

WORLD'S CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR PRAYER CHAIN.

"The whole round world is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

Subject of prayer for April:—"For Christian Stewardship—that Christians everywhere may realize their stewardship, giving more generously, and praying more earnestly for the conversion of the world."

LOCAL UNION MEETING.

The local union meetings in the past have, as a rule, been excellent promoters of Christian fellowship, and have stimulated the members to better work "For Christ and the Church." The next union meeting will be held in George street Sunday school room on Monday evening, May 4th, when a very instructive and interesting programme will be presented.

There will be short essays by representatives from each society in the Union on the following topics, all bearing on Christian Endeavour work: "Look up," "Lift Up," "Read Up," "Sing Up," "Build Up," "Brush Up," "Talk Up," "Write Up," "Grow Up," and the president will wind up with "Sum Up." Every Christian Endeavourer in town should be there, bringing a friend.

JUNIOR LOCAL UNION.

This union met on Saturday evening last at the Young Women's rooms. The attendance was fair. The encouraging and discouraging features of the work discussed, also the advisability of holding junior rallies in the future. The topic for discussion at the next meeting will be "what are some of the benefits of junior rally?" Miss Kennedy, the president of the union, will present the topic. Miss Cassie Robertson was appointed to prepare and read a paper at the union meeting to be held in the George street Sunday school room, Monday, May 4th, entitled 'Grow Up." When the union meets again it will be composed of a number of new members. Two of the superintendents are going out of town and others find it impossible to go on with the work.

THE PARK STREET SOCIETY

have discontinued their meetings until the revival services now being held in that church have concluded.

We have not heard from one country society since the convention.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

At The meeting on Monday night in St. Paul's society "Sabbath Observance" was the topic for discussion. Mr. A. J. Johnston, convenor of the Good Citizenship Committee, presided and the members of the committee had papers prepared on the subject. Sabbath visiting, Sabbath pleasures, Sabbath observance in this and other lands were discussed and some very good points brought out, showing the Endeavourers' duty in this respect. Throughout the meeting was interesting and highly spiritual. The Nominating Committee presented their report of officers for ensuing term which was adopted. Next Monday evening the meeting will be an automatic meeting, having no leader. It will also be the monthly consecration meeting.

MARK STREET.

Instead of the regular meeting Monday evening Mr. H. P. Kennedy delivered an interesting lecture on the "Armenians," which was listened to with much attention. A collection was taken up in behalf of the relief fund for the sufferers. In the absence of the pastor Mr. W. Matchett presided. During the evening a solo was rendered by Miss Nellie Hooper and a duet by Misses A. Smith and Nellie Courtney.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY.

The Epworth League of the Charlotte street church held their meeting on Monday evening, the topic was "What should we be doing to save the lost?" four members taking a part of the subject. Some of the prominent thoughts were: There are those lost in sin. The sin of intemperance. The sin of unbelief being the root of all sin. But Christ came to save the lost. A special feature of the meeting was the introduction of a league choir to lead in the singing. During the meeting their beautiful Gospel hymns were very much enjoyed by all present. The attendance was large and the meeting was altogether a profitable one.

Next Monday there will be a debate conducted by six members:—"Resolved that the son that stayed at home was worse than his brother."

MURRAY STREET B.Y.P.U. OF C.E.

Our society has, for the past few weeks, been holding, instead of our regular Monday evening meeting meeting at the church, a series of cottage prayer meetings in different parts of the town. These meetings have been of a spiritual character. The attendance has been good and much interest has been taken in them by those who have attended. We believe they have been the means of doing good, both to us who are members of the society and to those who are not. Different leaders have been appointed for the different meetings and the topic announced a week previous to the meeting. Monday evening's meeting was conducted on this principle. The subject was: "The Responsibility of hearing," as set forth in the following texts: "To you is the word of this salvation sent" and "Be careful how ye hear."

An Glorious Age in Which We Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has en an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the prepar tion known to doctors as "Maltine with Coca Wine."

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanising that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions, and sustains the vital forces until, by the improved conditions is brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health is renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

The Y.P.S.C.E. is thoroughly organized, well equipped, active, energetic and good work is being done. The president leads the meeting, but the topic is taken in turn by the active members. On April 5th the topic—"The gift of life and how to use it," Matt. 10, 34-39—was taken by Mr. Wm. Sharp, jr., and conducted it in a clear and forcible manner, making many good points, keeping his audience interested and attractive.

On April 12, the topic "Will our excuses stand"—Acts 26, 19-28—was taken by Mrs. Dr. McNaughton, who in an able manner, clearly explained the subject, discussed the many excuses offered by many when encouraged to do God's work, and, advised her audience to live and act that an excuse will not be necessary, and at the end of time receive a crown of glory.

The Christian Endeavour meets every Sunday night at 7.30.

The following are the officers of the Westwood Lodge, I. O. G. T. for the present year:—

A TORONTO LADY

GETS A CHRISTMAS BOX WHICH SHE PRIZES HIGHLY.

In tracing up some of Santa Claus' good deeds this year, a lady gives us the following account of her Christmas box. The lady's name is Mrs. H. G. Ferguson, and she resides at 211 Church st. Mrs. Ferguson began as follows:—

"I have for years been a great sufferer with kidney complaint, severe pain under shoulders and across back, and latterly so weak that I could not walk out or do housework. Seven years ago the doctor told me I had Bright's Disease. A number of physicians told me I was past help; one of them said I could not live a month. I have taken a great deal of medicine, but without relief, and had given up hope; in fact, told my son that I did not expect to live until spring. My son saw the advertisement of the Doan Kidney Pill Co., Dec. 3rd, and told me. I asked him to get a box and I would try them, although I had but little faith in them, because all other remedies had failed, and as a result I had given up hope. He got one box of pills at J. R. Lee's drug store and I commenced taking them. The result has been marvellous. After taking them once I experienced relief, and after taking them three times the change for the better was marked. I have only taken one box of pills, but I feel like a new woman. The pain and other symptoms of the dreadful disease are gone. I am stronger and better than I have been in many years. I am now able to do my housework and walk out without suffering any inconvenience. That box of Doan's Kidney Pills was indeed a grand Christmas box for me. I am glad to let everyone know about this wonderful cure, in the hope that some one who has suffered as I have may try the remedy and be benefited as I have been."

WHO IS THE DEAD MAN?

A Stranger's Body Found on the Road Two Miles East of Rockwood.

Rockwood, April 21.—About 3 o'clock yesterday the body of an unknown man was found lying on the York-road, about two miles east of this village, by Mr. Lachlan Currie. Coroner Dryden was notified, and he ordered the body to be brought to the village. Deceased was about 60 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches in height and stoutly built, with grey hair and very bald. He had every appearance of being a tramp, but had $7.50 in his pockets. He had been badly maimed at some period of his life, as his right arm was off near the shoulder and nothing remained of his left hand but the thumb.

Coroner Dr. Dryden issued his warrant for an inquest, which was opened at Hamilton's Hotel last evening.

Coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc., yield at once to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, the successful throat and lung specific.

CAHILL & HOOLIHAN

HARD STUDY IN SCHOOL.

BRINGS ON NERVOUS PHOSTRATION AND ST. VITUS DANCE.

A Young Lady Prostrated for Five Years From this Cause—Had to be Carried Upstairs—A Lesson Parents Should Heed.

Hard study at school brought on nervous prostration and St. Vitus dance. This is a very frequent occurrence in these days of high pressure study, and one of the many unfortunates who suffered thus, but has now happily found relief, is Miss Lizzie K. Marshall of Central Clarence, N. S. Despite all that was done for her the disease grew worse as month after month passed away, and both herself and friends feared that she was doomed to an invalid's life. But a marvellous and permanent cure has been wrought through the agency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the public will be interested in reading the young lady's statement of her illness and cure.

Miss Marshall says: "About six years ago I was taken ill. At the outset home remedies were tried, but as they did no good a doctor was called in. He pronounced my trouble nervous prostration and St. Vitus dance, brought on by over study in school. I was under his care for about a year, but did not seem to improve, and he then suggested that a change of air and scene might be beneficial. I followed his advice, and for a time seemed to get somewhat better. However, soon after I returned home I was taken worse, and for ten weeks was confined to my bed in a state of complete prostration. Our family physician was unremitting in his attention, and under his care I was finally enabled to sit up, but beyond this there was no improvement in my condition. My nervous system seemed to be completely shattered, and I became so weak that I could not walk about the house without assistance, and for two years I had to be carried up stairs. It is needless to say that I was quite discouraged, as nothing seemed to afford me more than temporary relief. For five years I was in this weak, wretched and despairing condition, when finally I resolved to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, of which I had heard and read a great deal, a trial. After I had used two boxes I felt somewhat better, and determined to continue the treatment, and did so until I had used twelve boxes, all the time gaining health and strength rapidly. I have recovered all my old time health and strength, have a splendid appetite and can walk a long distance without feeling tired. I know that had I not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not to-day be the strong, healthy girl that I am, and I cannot find words strong enough to express my gratitude toward this grand medicine which has restored me to health. I am only too glad to have my testimony published so that others afflicted as I was may be cured, and I shall always speak of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the terms of praise they deserve."

Experience has taught that in order to drive disease from the system, its root must be reached. The blood must be made rich, red and pure, and the nerves must be nourished and strengthened. Dr. Williams Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble, and perform these functions. This is the secret of their great success, and the reason they cure when other medicines fail. At no other season of the year does the blood so badly need purifying and enriching as in the spring, and to accomplish the best results Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. No other medicine can accomplish the same good results. See that the words "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" are on the wrapper around every box you buy. All others are worthless imitations, no matter what the interested dealer who offers them may say. Sold everywhere at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, or sent post paid on receipt of price by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ACCIDENTALLY ELECTROCUTED.

Linford L. Biles of Philadelphia Met a Sudden and Painless Death.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Linford L. Biles, aged 65, was killed, and his son, George E. Biles, aged 31, was badly injured this morning by coming in contact with a wire that was crossed with an electric light or trolley car current. The father and son went to the roof of their house at 2.30 to investigate a fire, a telegraph wire having ignited the woodwork. The parent seized the wire, and the current was so heavy that he was electrocuted. George Biles endeavored to extricate the wire from his father's grasp, and he was seriously hurt. Linford Biles was foreman of the jury that convicted H. H. Holmes of murder in the first degree on the charge of killing B. F. Pitezel. He was a well-known citizen.

TO SAVE THE CORPS.

Queen's Own Rifles Discussed in the Senate.

COLONEL HAMILTON AND OFFICERS

Could Not Agree—Colonel Otter Reported to the General That if Troubles Continued it Would Lead to the Disbandment of the Regiment

Ottawa, April 21.—(Special)—Colonel Hamilton's case came up in the Senate to-night. Before adjournment Senator Boulton asked what the department of Militia had done with Col. Hamilton's resignation.

Senator Desjardins was glad of an opportunity of explaining the position of the department, and in order that he might set at rest, by quoting from correspondence which passed in the case, many unjust accusations made in the Commons. While fully admitting that every commanding officer had the right to expect fair treatment at the hands of the department, he desired to point out that the department had also to maintain the efficiency of a corps. The correspondence would show that Col. Hamilton had been given an opportunity of answering all the charges made against him. There had been an investigation conducted in a fair and impartial manner by Col. Otter. The difficulties in the regiment began, he said, before December last, and reached a climax when Sergeant-Major George felt it his duty to resign. His letter to the Major-General commanding claimed that he had been treated unfairly by Col. Hamilton. The letter also went on to state that, owing to the want of executive ability on the part of the Colonel, dissensions had arisen among the officers and men which threatened to disorganize the regiment. Among other things he accused Col. Hamilton of having broken his word with the non-commissioned officers.

The General, said the Minister of Militia, did not act upon the charges made in this letter, but after enquiry into the accuracy of the allegations, instructed Col. Otter to hold an investigation. He then read the report of Col. Otter to the general commanding, on the charges made by Sergt.-Major George in February last, which stated that the charges of George were substantially correct. "Although this was the case," the report states, "there is nothing upon which to base a charge against Col. Hamilton which would call for a court-martial. It was evident," the report continues, "that Col. Hamilton has lost the confidence of his officers, and if the present condition of affairs is allowed to continue, it will lead to the disbandment of the regiment." Col. Otter concluded his report by refusing to recommend any course of action to the Major-General.

The Minister then read a number of letters from Col. Hamilton to the General, making charges against certain of his officers for refusing to obey orders and for not accounting for certain moneys belonging to the regiment. The minutes of the meetings of the battalion were also quoted to show that the bitterest feelings of enmity existed between Col. Hamilton and his officers.

The Major-General reported that, after ordering a full investigation into the condition of the affairs of the regiment by Col. Otter, who had reported that the continuance of such a state of things could only lead to disbandment of the regiment, he had, after careful consideration, come to the conclusion that Col. Hamilton had lost the confidence of his officers. He, the Major-General, was in favor of supporting a commanding officer in all matters relating to discipline, but he believed that it was essential that a commanding officer should have some executive ability and that he should enjoy the confidence and good will of his officers. He was, therefore, of opinion that Col. Hamilton should be asked to retire, and if he did not do so willingly, that he should be compelled to do so. Continuing, the Minister said that he had acted solely upon the report of the Major General in demanding Col. Hamilton's resignation. When called upon to act, he did not know of Col. Hamilton, except in his position as commanding officer of the Queen's Own Regiment of Toronto, and he certainly did not even know what his political proclivities were. He had acted upon the report of General Gascoigne, and because that officer had reported that unless there was a change one of the best corps in the Dominion would have to be disbanded.

Sir Frank Smith—Could Col. Hamilton be allowed to retire, retaining rank?

Senator Desjardins—Yes, Col. Hamilton was not charged with any offence as a military man; the only charge was that he had survived his usefulness.

Senator Boulton did not think that the General could have acted otherwise than he did under the circumstances. He hoped, however, that Col. Hamilton would be allowed to retire with rank, just as if he had retired voluntarily.

The matter was allowed to drop and the Senate adjourned.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

HOW
THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

WEST PETERBOROUGH LIBERAL CONVENTION

Mr. Richard Hall the Candidate.

HE RECEIVES THE UNANIMOUS NOMINATION.

Mr. Yelland's Name Also Submitted—Election of Officers — Resolutions Adopted—Addresses by Prominent Liberals.

WEDNESDAY, April 22nd.

A largely attended convention of the Liberals of West Peterborough, assembled in the Opera House this afternoon for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the representation of the riding at the approaching general elections.

Mr. James Middleton, president of the West Riding Reform Association, occupied the chair.

Mr. F. D. Kerr moved, seconded by Mr. James Stothart, Smith, the following resolution:

"That we, the Liberals composing this convention, proudly conscious of the great blessings of connection with the great Empire of which we form no insignificant part, hereby give reiterated expression of our ardent and unalterable devotion and loyalty to its beloved head, our most gracious sovereign lady, Queen Victoria; that we regard the most intimate and indissoluble connection with the Empire whose grand traditions are our best inheritance, and whose protection is our best bulwark, as an inestimable advantage; that we regard a fiscal policy that discriminates against the Mother Country, with the severest reprobation, involving, as we believe it does, not only disloyal ingratitude, but also an impairment of the strength of the bond that now unites us; that the benefits we enjoy from British connection imply corresponding obligations, and that, on behalf of the great Liberal party, we declare ourselves at all times determined to be true to these obligations in either forum or field, to maintain such a connection and the integrity of the Empire with all the energies of heart, head and hand.

Mr. Kerr, in a few well chosen remarks, referred to the loyalty of the Liberal party, which consisted in deeds, not words, as was shown by its adopting the principles of British liberty and British trade policy as its guiding star, and animating spirit, and he defended the Liberal party against the aspersions of its opponents.

The resolution was enthusiastically carried by a standing vote.

Mr. G. E. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Jas. Middleton, moved the following resolution, which was heartily carried:

"That this convention gladly takes the opportunity of placing on record its high appreciation of the character, political career and achievements of the venerable leader of the Liberals of Ontario, Sir Oliver Mowat, who for the long period of nearly a quarter of a century has conducted the affairs of this Province with a wisdom, carefulness, economy and withal with a judicious regard for efficiency, that has reflected the highest credit upon the principles of Liberalism; and that this convention appreciates the great moral influence of such a personal and administrative career and record in commending the Liberal policy and party to the support and confidence of the people in the pending struggle to instal in the Dominion a government founded upon the same principles and animated by the same spirit as that whose brilliant services during the past twenty-four years have made the Province of Ontario known everywhere as the most prosperous and well governed political community in existence."

Mr. E. B. Stone, moved, seconded by Mr. Wm. Simpson, the following resolution:

That the Liberals of West Peterborough, in convention assembled, hereby declare their complete confidence in the ability, honour, high minded patriotism, loyalty and integrity of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, the honoured leader of the great Liberal party of this Dominion; that we recognize the success and wisdom of his leadership as indicating qualities whose application to the work of the government of this country would result in the solid promotion of its interests; that the policy which he represents, as expressed in the resolutions adopted at the National Liberal Convention at Ottawa in 1893, is a progressive, patriotic and wise one, eminently adapted to the needs of Canada at the present time; that the ruinous rule of the present administration, conspicuous for the most flagrant corruption, for unbridled license of expenditure, extravagant beyond the honest requirements and capability of the country, oppressed by an enormous debt largely due to such extravagance; conspicuous for its prostitution of almost every function of honest government to the promotion of its own interests, regardless of the interests of the public; for the prostitution of almost every department of the public service to the practice of favouritism, and the squandering of the public funds; for gross administrative, indifference, inefficiency, incompetence and carelessness, and, in fine, for almost every offence against the common weal, embraced in the political criminal calendar—that a Government justly charged with and convicted by such a record is unworthy of ruling over a free people; that it has forfeited every claim to public confidence; that it will be for the best interests of Canada that it be replaced by a Government conducted under Liberal auspices, and that we pledge ourselves to personally and collectively employ every legitimate means of assisting the formation of a Liberal administration by returning at the coming election a supporter of such administration in the person of the candidate nominated at this convention."

Mr. Stone briefly referred to the political situation and stated that the time was ripe for the principles of good government inherent in the Liberal party to secure the endorsation of the country. At the conclusion of his brisk and breezy speech the resolution was carried with great enthusiasm, showing what a high place the gifted Liberal leader holds in the hearts of the Liberal party.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Nominating Committee reported the following nominations and their report was adopted:

President—Dr. Bell.
Vice-Presidents—
George Elliott—Smith.
Wm. Crough—Ennismore.
Jas. Fowler—North Monaghan.
W. Rutherford—South Monaghan.
Secretary—G. M. Roger.
Treasurer—R. P. Gough.

Dr. Bell recognized the honour of the position and went on to say that the administration of this Government had been and was of such a character that a change, such as a Liberal Government would supply, was absolutely necessary. The N. P. as an expedient had failed to give us prosperity. He referred to the necessity of selecting a candidate who would make a representative, who would have honour, integrity and a spirit of independence that would prevent him from following any party in the perpetrating of wrongs upon the country.

Nominations for candidates were then declared open.

Mr. Peter Hamilton took the platform for the purpose of placing the name of Richard Hall in nomination. Prior to so doing he made a few remarks, in the course of which he stated that a majority of the Conservative as well as the Reform electors were of the opinion that the last session Parliament had been of a nature to humiliate all true Canadians. The duty of the day was to place somone in nomination who would command the entire support of those opposed to the present government. A gentleman who had been named very prominently in connection with the election was one who had been born in the county, and whom he himself had known when as a boy he had come to Peterborough from Smith. He referred to Mr. Richard Hall, a gentleman of stable character and independent thought, whose sterling character and business ability were such as to guarantee his being able to manage the affairs of others successfully. He then formally placed Mr. Hall's name in nomination.

Mr. James Middleton, in seconding the resolution, prophesied that Mr. Hall, if he would accept the nomination, would have a large majority.

The name of Mr. Wm. Yelland, Mayor of Peterborough, was submitted by Mr. Wm. Graham, of Smith, seconded by Mr. John Sawers.

Upon the chairman submitting the names to the convention, the latter declared by a very large majority in favour of Mr. Richard Hall, who is therefore the nominee of the West Riding Liberal convention and the Liberal candidate, duly nominated, for the coming general election contest. Mr. Hall's nomination was then unanimously endorsed amid great enthusiasm.

[As this issue goes to press the convention is still in session listening to addresses by Mr. Yelland, Mr. Hall and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P.

EXAMINATION FOR THE METHODIST MINISTRY.

Now Being Conducted for This District in Belleville.

The board of examiners of candidates for the Methodist ministry in the Bay of Quinte Conference began examinations in Belleville yesterday, which will continue until Thursday. Some fifty probationers are being examined. The board of examiners consists of the following: Rev. O. R. Lambly, Rev. T. J. Edmison, Rev. W. R. Young, Rev. G. W. McCall, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, Rev. E. N. Baker, Rev. W. J. Crothers, Rev. J. A. McCamus, Rev. J. B. Wilson, Rev. W. Johnston, Rev. W. C. Beer. The following are the candidates:

—The concert given in the town hall, Ashburnham, under the auspices of St. Luke's Girl's Guild last evening, was fairly well patronized. The inclemency of the weather and counter attractions being decidedly against a larger attendance.

—The musical automatic figures in Grafton & Co.'s clothing store continue to attract attention. If you haven't heard the melodious warble of the singing bird, or the acting of the pretty little Swiss girl and Italian drummer boy, don't fail to do so soon. Parents should take their boys in to see the attraction, and, at the same time, have a look through the nobby lines of boys suits in the store, and combine money saving with pleasure.

—Mr. H. Calcutt has added another new waggon to his well equipped delivery service. The new rig is set much lower on its axles than those now in use, making it more convenient for loading and unloading heavy packages and cased goods, which suits the business in every particular. "Congenial Michael Angelo Costello" sits on perch as happy as a clam and does not even recognize "those not in it." The wagon was built by Mr. J. Craig, Ashburnham. The body is painted chocolate colour and is lettered in Indigo blue, shaded with bright yellow. The gear is painted in a bright red. Councillor Craig knew what the Commodore wanted and he got it.

THE YAW CONCERT.

An Evening Which Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by Peterborough's Artistic Element.

The appearance of the talented Ellen Beach Yaw has for some time been the topic of conversation among our music lovers, and considerable speculation has been indulged in as to her ability to claim for herself the title of the greatest ranged soprano known. Her visit to Peterborough was looked forward to with more than ordinary interest and many differences of opinion were expressed as to how her phenomenal notes would be taken, the general belief being that a screetch was all that could be expected. To say the audience were surprised and delighted would be but to use a mild expression. From the time the young cantatrice appeared in her first number until her last selection her audience listened with bated breath to her wonderful voice, her liquid tones and peerless vocalization. Her flights above the staff are as pure and her staccato work has been likened to the "throwing of sparks," brilliant as her tones are above the heights where no ordinary singer can attempt to go. Her middle register is full, round and musical, indeed. In her still lower tones one almost would look for, at first sight, an excellent contralto, rather than soprano.

Her numbers were "Villanelli," by Dell Acqua, "Ah forse e lui," (from Traviata), Verdi, "Birds of the Springtime," Randegger, and a selected number. In response to a decided encore, she gave Auber's "Laughing Song," and a Scotch ballad, each number being a triumph in the vocal art.

In Mr. Maxmillian Dick was heard a violinist of undoubted ability. His numbers were "Ballad and Polonaise," by Vieuxtemps, the always popular Schers Fantastique, Bazzini, and "Caprice de Concert," Musin. He also gave a pretty girotte as an encore and a slow movement. His fine round musical tone was much admired, and in his andante movements he displayed a depth of musical insight that held his hearers wrapped until its close. The "Scherzo" has never been played better here, and the hearty applause accorded Mr. Dick showed the audience to be thoroughly in touch with his playing.

Miss Lay, the solo pianist and accompanist, was not wanting in comparison with the other members of this talented company, and her solos were played in a manner indicating the true musical spirit. She was forced to respond to a very decided encore, her selections being, "Polonaise in E flat," Rubenstein, Etincelles, Moskoski and the Schuman, Liszt, "Dedication."

Remember the Mass Meeting to be held in the Opera House in the evening, to be addressed by Mr. Wm. Paterson, M.P., South Brant. Cordial invitation to all electors.

SELWYN.

The following letter has been handed in for publication:—

To the Chief Ranger, officers and members of Court Selwyn, No. 137, C.O.F.:

GENTLEMEN,—I must thank you for your kindness to my family during our recent bereavement and also, through you, the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, for their very prompt payment of $1,000.00 on the death of my son, Frederick Fitzgerald. I feel that your society is a good one, and should be highly commended for its promptness in paying its claims, and also for its fraternal benefits. Thanking you again, and wishing your Order every success, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD FITZGERALD.

This beautiful summer resort will this season be under the management of Mrs. F. Arkell for the house part, and Mr. Archy Fulton will be wine clerk. The grounds have been all put in shape and now have a splendid base ball ground, a bicycle track, and a dozen new boats for fishing have been added to the hotel and a small steamer to carry the guests around the lake. Fishing on Rice Lake commences on June 1st, two weeks earlier than the other lakes.

The Gilloolys Abroad.

A Utica, N. Y., exchange says:—"One of the cleverest musical comedies that has appeared at the local theatre this season is "The Gilhoolys Abroad," which was presented to a large audience last evening. In it the three Gormon brothers, of minstrel fame, appear as mirthful provokers. Their support is excellent, the costuming up to date and the piece has enough spirit to keep the spectators in good humour all the time." The famous brood mare Minnehaha died in California last week at the advanced age of 28 years. Minnehaha's history reads like a romance. When young she was bought in Wisconsin by L. J. Rose and taken to California. She was little more than a pony in size and of not particularly good pedigree. As a producer of speed, however, she was a wonder, as eight of her foals are in the 2:30 list, including Alcazar, 2:20¼, and Beautiful Bells, 2:29½, the latter in turn being also the dam of eight 2:30 performers, including Bellflower 2:12¾, Bell Boy, 2:19¼, Bow Bells, 2:19¼ and Hinda Rose, 2:19¼. She was also the dam of the two famous sires, Chimes and St. Bel. A couple more of Minnehaha's foals are likely to enter the list, and her daughter Beautiful Bells will probably be represented several more. Mr. Rose realized over $100,000 from the foals of Minnehaha, which he sold, and over $90,000 has been received at Palo Alto for the foals of her daughter, Beautiful Bells.

Robert Bonner announces that the one-time champion trotter, Sunol, 2:08¼, will be trained again this season, with a view of lowering her record. The daughter of Electioneer again will be in the stable of Charles Marvin, who developed her and drove her to her record. Sunol made her record to a high-wheel sulky and if her legs stand the severe preparation necessary, there is no doubt but that she will place a new record to her credit.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Rev. R. S. G. Anderson and his sister, of Wroxeter, Ont., were the guests of W. E. Roxburgh last week.

Mr. Lowe, of Ottawa, was in town this week.

The Marks Bros.' Emma Wells Company, consisting of Miss Emma Wells, Miss Jennie Ray, Messrs. Cool Burgess, Ned Curtis and Tom Shea, gave a concert here last Saturday evening. The different numbers on the programme were all well rendered. The audience, though not very large, showed their appreciation of the rendering of the different parts by their applause.

Last Wednesday evening a social was given in Christ's church parsonage in aid of the Sunday School. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the members who attended it.

On Friday evening the ladies of the Methodist church gave a maple sugar social, which was fairly well attended. Everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. After maple taffy had been served a short programme was rendered.

Rev. Mr. Hyde, of Warsaw, was in town on Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Roxburgh attended the missionary meetings held in Peterborough this week.

Last Sunday evening Miss E. Nichol delivered her report of the convention held in Peterborough on Easter Monday. Miss Nichol was the delegate from the Norwood Presbyterian Y.P.C.E.

S. W. E. Hill, the third assistant in our High School, has resigned.

A meeting of the lawn tennis club was held Tuesday evening. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The following officers were appointed:

Pres.—F. W. Ashe.
Vice-Pres.—Dr. Pettigrew.
Sec.-Treas.—Wm. Rutherford.
Executive Committee.—Dr. Hall, F. G. Code, F. E. Perney.

A meeting was held last week to organize a junior lacrosse club. The following officers were appointed:

Pres.—L. McGregor.
Vice-Pres.—W. Matheson.
Captain—D. Pettigrew.
Team Committee—G. Sherry, J. Ruttan, A. Calder.
Field Committee—S. Smart, J. Kellat, H. Buck.

Proceedings of the Twentieth Annual General Meeting of the Presbyterian Woman's Foreign Missionary Society Now in Session in St. Paul's Church.

At the conclusion of the devotional exercises, which marked the formal opening of the W.F.M.S. convention yesterday afternoon, in St. Paul's church, Mrs. Thornburn, of Ottawa, read a most interesting paper on the "Kinship of Christ." Afterwards reports were received from the following Presbyterial Societies: Ottawa, Lanark and Renfrew, Brockville, Glengarry, Kingston, Peterborough, Whitby, Lindsay, Toronto, Barrie, Owen Sound, Saugeen, Guelph, Orangeville, Hamilton, Paris, London, Sarnia, Chatham, Stratford, Huron, Maitland, Bruce, Winnipeg, Brandon, and also from the Auxiliaries not in connection with the Presbyterial Societies.

Prayer on the part of Mrs. McCrae, of Collingwood, for Home work and workers, brought the afternoon session to a close, after which the Nominating Committee went into session.

In the evening the Board of Management met.

Mention was made yesterday by Mrs. Ewart, of Toronto, the president, of the fact that after nineteen years of faithful service, Mrs. Howie had tendered her resignation as Foreign Secretary. Having received an appointment under the government as female Inspector of Prisons, Mrs. Howie will not hereafter have the time at her disposal, which is necessary to conduct the correspondence incidental to the holding of the office of Foreign Secretary of the Society.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION

was opened with prayer and praise. Miss Dickson, of Peterborough, was asked to offer a special prayer in adoration and invocation of the Holy Spirit.

The President's address, which is always anticipated every year with great pleasure was then delivered by Mrs. Ewart, who opened in the following appropriate words:

"Once more, through the gracious and loving care of our Heavenly Father, I am privileged to preside at the annual meeting of our "Woman's Foreign Missionary Society," and it is no small joy to me to look into the faces of so many earnest Christian women and to bid you a very hearty welcome. We have tested the goodness and hospitality of our Peterborough friends in past years and know that they will meet us in the most friendly and affectionate manner and that everything will be done for our comfort and enjoyment."

"Looking back over the past year, surely, dear friends," said she, "we must realize how very precious our Lord has been to us and how mindful of the work He has given us and still gives us to do for Him. This calls for our most fervent gratitude, and though He has from amongst the members of our society called many greatly prized and loved ones, He has also called others to fill their places, and still blesses the efforts put forth to enlarge and extend the sphere of our missionary workers, giving health and strength, vigour of mind and earnestness of purpose, to each and all, so that for which we were organized twenty years ago may be carried on successfully till the kingdom of this world has become the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ."

"From reports received from the various branches it is evident," continued the President, "that interest in this work for our Master is growing, and proof of this is found in the fact that in a time of great business depression, much liberality and self-denial has been exercised by the members of our society, they realizing that the essence of Christianity is loving obedience to our Lord's command, and faithfulness in all He has given us to do.

"I am rejoiced to know," said the speaker, "that our society has been able to meet all the demands of the Foreign Mission Committee on its funds, and we are not suffering as our sister societies in the States from large deficits, which in several cases have obliged them to close mission schools and send back to heathen homes children who were eager to learn." Dear friends let not such a condition be ours.

"There are, according to latest statistics, 186,000 members in our Presbyterian church. Say half are women. How comparatively few of these take any interest in this part of the Lord's vineyard or do anything to advance the cause of missions either at home or abroad. Being a living society, these are the surroundings you should lay hold of and stimulate with life and usefulness."

"Before sitting down," said Mrs. Ewart in conclusion, "let me very warmly thank both you who are present, and others who are absent, for the many kind expressions of affectionate regard I have received during the fifteen years you have honoured me with your confidence as president of our much loved and prosperous society. You all know something of what it has been to us, the women of our church, in stimulating us to lead holier lives, and enable us to realize that only as we follow in the footsteps of our loving Saviour, striving humbly but earnestly to obey His last command, can we attain the real and abiding happiness. So let us strive, dear friends, with ever increasing faith in Him to whom "All power in heaven and on earth is given," and who has promised to be with us always."

SISTER DELEGATES.

The reception of delegates from sister societies then took place. Each delivered a brief address, conveying greetings. Mrs. Hunter was present from the Murray street Baptist church, and Miss Rose represented the McCall Mission, after which a large number of letters were read, conveying greetings from nearly every organization of a similar nature in the Dominion.

REPORTS

The following reports of the different branches were then read by the different secretaries, as appended, and were adopted as submitted.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT.

Your Board would respectfully submit the Twentieth Annual Report of the Board of Management of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, and in doing so can, as in other years, report a very faithful attendance of the members at the weekly meetings held regularly throughout the year. The average attendance at each of the forty-two Board meetings was, of the managers twenty-five, and of the whole board thirty-two, and at the thirteen Executive meetings, twelve, thus showing a deep interest in the work, and a realizing sense of the responsibility that has been entrusted to them by the society.

During the year some correspondence has been carried on regarding the notices of motion from St. Andrew's Church Auxiliary, Kingston, and St. John's Auxiliary, Brockville. The latter has been withdrawn by special request of the Auxiliary, but the former will be brought up for your consideration at this meeting.

The Hamilton Presbyterial Society, have, with the sanction of the Board, withdrawn their former suggestion, "That the Presbyterial Reports be taken as read at the annual meeting of the General Society," and have substituted for it the following:—"That the devotional meeting of Tuesday, preceding the business sessions of the annual meeting commence at 2.30 p.m., instead of three o'clock, and that the Presbyterial reports be read on that afternoon; thus leaving more time for the discussion of the various topics to be brought before the Society." Your Board asked for an expression of opinion from the different Presbyterials, so, that if favourably considered, the suggestion could be acted upon at this meeting. As the approval was very general, it was decided that this year the reports be read on Tuesday. If not meeting with the sanction of the Society, other arrangements can be made for the future.

Your Board have found much of their time occupied with the now voluminous correspondence conducted with the missionaries at the various foreign fields, and though the enlargement of the Letter Leaflet has been carried out as agreed upon a year ago, the increased space has been taken up to a great extent with these letters.

No further action has been taken in regard to the establishment of a training home.

In response to an invitation from Mrs. Matthews on behalf of the meeting in June of the Pan-Presbyterian Council, two members of the Board intending to visit Glasgow, were appointed to act as delegates and convey our greetings to the International Union Missionary Meeting of Women.

As we are now connected with the Pan-Presbyterian Council, it was considered advisable that as a society we withdraw from connection with the "World's Committee of Christian Women."

In consideration of the health of our returned missionaries it was felt by the Board that the year of furlough should be to a great extent a time of rest. To avoid over-taxing their strength by too numerous addresses, also to prevent loss of time and unnecessary expenditure of money, it was unanimously agreed that the Foreign Secretary receive all invitations for visits and addresses from Miss Sinclair, and facilitate any plan for a series of meetings which might be arranged.

In the early part of October the Board had the privilege of receiving and saying farewell to Mrs Goforth and Miss McIntosh who were returning to their field of labour in China. The other outgoing missionaries, Dr. Dow, the Misses Ptolemy and Chase, were also present at different times, and received words of kindly counsel and encouragement.

We have been called upon to mourn the loss of a tried and faithful friend in the removal by death of the late Rev. Dr. Reid, who from the first organization of our Society had been ever our ready adviser and councillor. A resolution expressing our sense of loss, and sympathy with the bereaved family, was placed in the minute book.

And now in closing our report, we desire as a Board, unitedly to record our sense of the loving kindness and continued mercy of our Heavenly Father in sparing our lives this past year and permitting us in caring for the business affairs of our Society to contribute something towards the advancement of His cause and kingdom in the world, and entering on the coming year we feel that we have abundant reason to thank God for the past and take courage for the future.

FOREIGN SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In reporting the Foreign work of our Society, the progress, as noted, between one year, and that immediately preceding it, is often scarcely perceptible. Possibly a new station, an additional missionary sent forth, or a new building erected, and sometimes, not even these hopeful results of a year of faithful labor and earnest prayer can be chronicled. But, in taking a wider view, at this important epoch in our history, and contrasting the the work of the twentieth year with that that of the first, the advancement of the intervening years will be a matter of deep amazement and grateful thanksgiving to every worker in the Society.

Twenty years ago, at our first annual meeting, the Society decided to pay the salary of one lady missionary in India, and to assist in the support of a second. We were unable to aid the Foreign Mission Committe, by assuming the responsibility of work among women and children in any field.

To-day, at our twentieth Anniversary, the Society is supporting sixteen lady missionaries, of whom five are medical missionaries in Central India, and the Woman's Hospital, the Girls' Boarding School, and other buildings, stand as monuments of our labour of love in this land.

At Tamsui, the girls' boarding school building is a witness to our interest in the girls of North Formosa, and in this field, also, the salaries of a number of native Bible women, who labour in the homes of the people are contributed. Woman's work in Hopaon has opened up encouragingly, and the society is responsible for one lady missionary, and has assisted in sending forth others.

In Western Canada and British Columbia numerous buildings have been erected for educational work, and the society contributes the salaries of all who are engaged in the training of the young on the Indian Reserves.

This is but the merest outline of what has been done, and yet in looking at it we are filled with wonder, and can only say with humility, "It is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes."

A number of earnest, educated and spiritually minded women are now offering for service in the Foreign Field where they are greatly needed. The sending forth of more labourers will mean increased effors in the part of the W. F.M.S. in the coming year.

This year the presentation of our review of work at the various mission stations has been greatly facilitated by statistical reports of the Indian schools, forwarded very kindly by Rev. Prof. Baird and the Rev. Prof. Hart, of the Northwest Committee, Winnipeg, also by a large amount of information courteously given by Rev. R. P. Mackay, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Committee. (W.D.)

In closing this brief sketch we again draw attention to the contrast between the history of this twentieth year, in the loving labours of our society for heathen women and children, and that of the first. Surely the comparison will call forth from all hearts, not only a song of praise, but a resolution formed in entire

One Minute Headache Cure--10c.

For Sale at all Druggists and 306 Yonge Street, Toronto.

Centuries ago, people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a more terrible thing than any of these. There is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is the commonest trouble that human beings suffer from. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing—constipation. There is no telling what it may lead to, but it is sure to lead to something bad. Its immediate effects are unpleasant in the extreme. It makes people listless, gives them headaches, makes the digestion poor, causes dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. All this merely because Nature has been imposed upon, and has been refused the little help she needed.

This little help is furnished by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. There are two remarkable things about the "Pellets." One is that they never gripe; the other that they cure permanently. There is no other medicine that does cure permanently. You can take any other medicine you like, as long as you like, and if you stop, your trouble will come back quickly, and the chances are the trouble will be worse than it was before. This isn't true of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You take them until you get yourself into perfect working order, and then you stop. You don't have to take any more "Pellets" unless after a while you do something that deranges your digestive system again. We are not guessing about these facts, and we don't ask you to take our unsupported word for it. Thousands of people have found that they are true, and have testified to them. Let the druggist who says that something else is "just as good" sell that something else to somebody else. Don't let him trifle with your health for the sake of a little more profit to himself.

THE TROUBLE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

War Office Placing Stores in Readiness For Shipment—Every Officer on Furlough Being Summoned to Duty.

London, April 20.—The War Office is exceedingly busy making arrangements, says The Daily News, and placing stores in readiness for being transported to South Africa. Telegrams have been sent summoning every officer on furlough in Great Britain from the Cape to return without delay.

"The militant section of the Tories," The News adds, "are in active revolt against the policy in Africa of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Governor Robinson, of Cape Colony, and they talk of adjourning the House on the subject."

The Chronicle, commenting upon the situation in South Africa, does not assume that is Mr. Chamberlain's policy, but if the Government deliberately intends the subjugation of the Dutch race in South Africa, in revenge for the defeat of Dr. Jameson, it is time that Englishmen were up and doing. The Chronicle suggests the formation of a Watching Committee of leading men.

How German Papers View It.

London, April 20.—The North German Gazette cautiously advises delay in the despatch of the English troops to South Africa in deference to President Kruger's peace policy, but the unofficial and more outspoken Tageblatt sees a plan on the part of Great Britain to use the Matabele rising as a pretext for sending forces to the Cape Colony.

—The Vossische Zeitung approves the action of the Boers in arming themselves to protect their independence, and predicts another Majuba Hill disaster to England. The Boersen Zeitung declares that the British army is wholly inadequate to the task of conducting two wars at the same time, one in the Soudan and the other against the Boers. If England refuses an entente with Germany through jealousy of the growth of the German influence in South Africa, the paper adds, the loss will not be Germany's.

The North German Gazette, commenting upon the communication sent by Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary, to President Kruger, giving the reasons for an increase of the British military forces in the Cape Colony, says: "We are glad that Mr. Chamberlain has done this, as it shows the intention of the British to avoid irritation of the Boers."

The Boers on Guard.

London, April 20.—The Times will tomorrow publish a despatch from Mafeking, dated yesterday, saying that Capt. Duncan telephones from Buluwayo that he is confident that he will be able to resist attack by the rebellious Matabeles. The despatch adds that a force of Boers, estimated to number more than 1500 men, are at a point within 25 miles of Mafeking. Their ostensible purpose is to prevent the spread of rinderpest among the cattle, but the real reason of their being there is that they fear another raid will be made into the Transvaal owing to the gathering of British troops at Mafeking.

TO CATCH THE FARMERS' VOTE.

A Proposition to Reduce the Rates on Agricultural Lands in England

London, April 20.—In the House of Commons to-day Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, president of the Local Government Board, introduced a bill providing for the reduction of rates on agricultural lands. In the course of his speech, Mr. Chaplin declared that land was at present taxed out of all proportion to its ability to bear the burden. The time has come, he said, when land must be relieved; and the Government proposed to that end, after the close of the financial year in March, 1897, instead of assessing the whole ratable value upon land, to impose a tax on only half of its ratable value, allowing the buildings thereon to remain assessed at their full value, as heretofore. This, he said, would cause a deficiency of 1,500,000 pounds, which would be met by half-yearly payments from the treasury to the local county authorities, to whom the sum of 975,000 pounds is also allotted by the budget for the purpose of reducing the agricultural rating. He had no doubt, he said, that the relief under the provisions of the bill would go largely to the tenants.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in Mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address Jas. A. Harris, Box 226 sodw Delray Mich.

Right Hon. Sir Henry H. Fowler, who was Secretary of State for India in the late Liberal Ministry, said that the country had known times of heavier local taxation than was now assessed. The bill offered by the president of the Local Government Board, he said, was simply a proposal to hand over to a sectional class 1,500,000 pounds a year drawn from the pockets of the general ratepayers and furnished no real remedy for the prevalent agricultural distress. The imposition of local taxation might be unfair, but its unfairness was stronger against the towns than against the country. The bill said nothing about Scotland and Ireland, though the latter, as was well known, possessed a strong claim to a fair share of relief. The Opposition, he declared, would meet the bill with most uncompromising resistance.

Sir Charles Dilke denounced the measure, which he declared tended to increase the existing unequal rating, and instead of trying to relieve the poor, added to the wealth of the landlords.

Richard Burdon Haldane, member for Haddingtonshire, said that if the possibility of such a bill becoming a law had been known at the time of the last elections the Government would not have had a majority of the members from the boroughs. He predicted that in a few years after the passage of the measure, should it pass, the farmers would not thank the Government for it.

John Dillon, leader of the anti-Parnellites, declared that the bill was an outrage on Ireland. If it were passed Ireland ought to receive from 40 to 50 per cent. of the grant.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader in the House, said he doubted if the House knew the magnitude of the proposals contained in the bill. It was by far the greatest financial question that had been opened within his experience in Parliament. He was astounded by the recklessness and want of consideration with which a measure of this kind was flung on the floor of the House. It was a gross and palpable injustice. Sir William added that the bill went half way towards a national poor rate than which there was no greater danger. He predicted that very soon the Government would be unable to resist the demands that would be made upon it and would get the whole way.

Mr. Chaplin, replying to the criticisms on the bill, contended that the Unionists had pledged such a measure before the elections. Many of the proposals that the Opposition denounced were based on the recommendations of their own royal commission. Mr. Chaplin announced that the annual grant would continue for five years and thereafter as Parliament should determine.

The bill then passed its first reading.

A WIFE'S FAITH REWARDED

After Years of Search a Jersey City Woman Finds Her Husband a Hermit in Florida.

New Smyrna, Fla., April 20.—There was a glad reunion in a little cottage across the river from this place Friday, when Mrs. A. B. Conway of Jersey City, discovered in "The Hermit of the Peninsula" her husband, for whom she had been searching 15 years.

In 1881 A. B. Conway, then a thriving merchant of Jersey City, mysteriously disappeared, leaving no clue. Conway was in good circumstances and lived happily with his wife and child. Detectives searched for him nearly a year, and then the public settled down to the belief that the man had either been murdered or had wilfully left his home. But Mrs. Conway never lost faith in her husband. Over and over again she asserted that he was alive, and that his disappearance was due to no disloyalty to her. Despite the objections of friends and the protests of suitors, who wished to wed her, Mrs. Conway announced her intention of devoting her life to searching for her husband. Settling up the business and investing the proceeds, she began her quest, accompanied by her little son. She followed clues in many States, and even went to Canada and Mexico. Frequently she seemed on the point of success, only to have her hopes dashed.

Ten days ago, when almost disheartened, Mrs. Conway received a message from a Jersey City clergyman, who was spending the winter at New Smyrna, announcing that she might find a clue to her husband in Florida. Mrs. Conway immediately came south, accompanied by her son, now a young man. She reached here Thursday, and learned that the man thought to be her husband was known as "The Hermit of the Peninsula," who lived in a lonely spot across the river from New Smyrna. Fifteen years ago this man arrived here, when the east coast was a wilderness. Shunning the few settlers, he bought a few acres on the Peninsula, built a cottage and lived as a hermit. He was kindly mannered and pure in life, but kept aloof from all persons, especially Northern tourists.

Friday Mrs. Conway, accompanied by her son and the Jersey City clergyman, went to the hermit's cottage. They found the recluse standing before a portrait of Mrs. Conway, as she appeared when a bride. With a sob, Mrs. Conway said, "Albert!" The hermit turned, gave a loud cry, and caught his faithful wife as she fainted. After explanations the reunited couple returned here, where they are stopping for a few days before going north.

In explaining his disappearance, Conway said his mind gave way under pressure of business, and he wandered away, not knowing what he was doing. He came to Florida and settled, but it was nearly a year before he realized what had happened. When his mind became clear he was ashamed to return, and continued to live as a recluse until discovered by his wife.

Mr. H. E. Hudson, Combermere, Severely Injured—Protruding Knot Entered the Body — Cured by One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Combermere, April 13, (Special)—Mr. H. E. Hudson, trapper, hunter and lumberman, was injured by falling on a knot which entered his body from beneath and injured the bladder and kidneys. He says:—"I was confined to my bed for six weeks and was rarely able to work, feeling too weak since the injury over eight years ago. I have taken one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly cured and as able-bodied as ever before in my life. One box was worth one hundred dollars to me, if it is possible to estimate such a benefit in dollars."

Canary Bird Commits Suicide.

A bird fancier in Walnut Hills, O., has come to the front with a story that supports the theory of suicide among birds. He reared two canaries that were so attached to one another that one would not touch his hempseed if the other was indisposed, nor bathe in their four-inch tub unless he could use the same water with which the other had performed his ablutions. After reaching the ripe old age of ten years, one evening one of the birds died, and in the morning the other was found hanging stone dead, with his head fastened between the bars in the upper part of his cage. The owner of the two birds firmly believes, he says, that the latter committed suicide.

The Latest Reports Regarding General Weyler's Efforts to Penin the Cuban Insurgents—Gomez is Well.

Havana, April 20.—Gen. Weyler has succeeded in accomplishing what Martinez Campos and other Captains-General have attempted in vain. He has built a trocha across the island and kept it intact for two weeks. That the present trocha is formidable even the insurgents admit, but they profess that it alarms them not at all. When Maceo passed through Havana Province to the west and Weyler stationed 10,000 men along the 21 miles from Mariel on the north coast to Majana on the south, he cabled to Madrid announcing that the second in command of the rebel forces was penned up in the western province. After staking his reputation on the absolute impossibility of Maceo's crossing, he found that detached parties of from 100 to 300 insurgents were getting through the line at will. He then brought all the troops from other parts of the island that could be spared, leaving the eastern and middle provinces with forces barely sufficient for garrison duty and practically suspending active operations in all but the western province. The concentration raised the forces on the trocha to 28,000 men, and gave 5000 more for use in flying columns acting in conjunction with those on the line. The troops were set at work erecting forts, digging trenches and building barricades. The work has been pushed night and day, and the best trocha Spain has ever built in Cuba now confronts Maceo.

Gomez is said to be willing to have the Spanish troops hold the line until the rainy season sets in, by which time they will find it a very unhealthy spot. Reports are already being received of Spanish soldiers succumbing to the heat, and between wounded and sick there are fully 15,000 now in hospitals on the island.

The stories about Gomez being at death's door himself are exaggerated.

Weak Women

In the spring suffer more severely that at any other season. Scott's Sarsaparilla would soon make them healthy, strong, active and vigorous. A weak, debilitated, played out, run down, suffering and complaining woman can build herself up so that her friends will hardly know her. Her sprightly carriage, cheery laugh and snappy conversation will make her welcomed, admired and appreciated wherever she goes.

MADE STRONG

by Scott's Sarsaparilla, the blotches and pimples cleared from her complexion, that tired feeling gone, no longer nervous, irritable and cross grained, she becomes a real new woman.

A HUMORIST'S EARTH

ONE OF LATE BILL NYE'S HUMOROUSLY SCIENTIFIC ARTICLES.

Wherein He Differs from Proctor and the Duke of Argyle—Newton's Claim and His Opinion Thereon—What He Would Have Done, If—

The earth is that body in the solar system which most of my readers now reside upon, and which some of them, I regret to say, modestly desire to own and control, forgetting that the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof. Some men do not care who owns the earth so long as they get the fullness.

The earth is 500,000,000 years of age, according to Prof. Proctor, but she doesn't look it to me. The Duke of Argyll maintains that she is 10,000,000 years old last August, but what does an ordinary duke know about these things? So far as I am concerned I will put Proctors memory against that of any low-priced duke that I have ever seen.

Newton claimed that the earth would gradually dry up up and become porous, and that water would at last become a curosity. Many believe this and are rapidly preparing their systems, by a rigid course of treatment, so that they can live for years without the use of water internally or externally.

Other scientists who have set up nights to monkey with the solar system, and thereby shattered their nervous systems claim that the earth is getting topheavy at the north pole, and that one of these days while we are thinking of something else, the great weight of accumulated ice, snow and the last accumulation of second-hand arctic relief expeditions, will jerk the earth out of its present position with so much spontaniety, and in such an extremely forthwith manner, that many people will be permanently strabismused and much bric-a-brac will be for sale at a great sacrifice. This may or may not be true. I have not been up in the arctic regions to investigate its truth or falsity, though there seems to be a growing sentiment throughout the country in favor of my going. A great many people during the last year have written me and given me their consent.

If I could take about twenty good, picked men and go up there for the summer instead of bringing back twenty picked men I wouldn't mind the trip, and I feel that we really ought to have a larger colony on ice in that region than we now have.

The earth is composed of land and water. Some of the water has large chunks of ice in it. The earth revolves around its own axle once in twenty-four hours, though it seems to revolve faster than that and to wobble a good deal during the holidays. Nothing tickles the earth more than to confuse a man when he is coming home late at night, and then to rise up suddenly and hit him in the back with a town lot. People who think there is no fun or relaxation among the heavenly bodies certainly have not studied their habits. Even the moon is a humorist.

A friend of mine who was returning late at night from a regular meeting of the Society for the Amelioration of the Hot Scotch said that the earth rose up suddenly in front of him and hit him with a right of way, and as he was about to rise up again he was stunned by a terrific blow between the shoulder blades with an old land grant that he thought had lapsed years ago. When he staggered to his feet he found that the moon, in order to add to his confusion had gone down in front of him and risen again behind him, with her thumb to her nose.

So I say, without fear of successful contradiction, that if you do not think that planets and orbs and one thing and another have fun on the quiet you are grossly ignorant, of their habits.

The earth is about half way between Mercury and Saturn in the matter of density. Mercury is of about the specific gravity of iron, while that of Saturn corresponds with that of cork in the matter of density and specific gravity. The earth, of course, does not compare with Mercury in the matter of solidity, yet it is amply firm for all practical purposes. A negro who fell out of the tower of a twelve-storey building while trying to clean the upper window by drinking a quart of alcohol and then breathing hard on the glass, says that he regards the earth as perfectly solid and safe to do business on for years to come. He claims that those who maintain that the earth's crust is only 2500 miles in thickness have not thoroughly tested the matter by a system of practical experiments.

The poles of the earth are merely imaginary. I hate to print this statement in a large paper in such a way as to injure the reputation of great writers on this subject who still cling to the theory that the earth revolves upon large poles and that the aurora borealis is but the reflection from a hot box at the north pole, but I am here to tell the truth, and if my readers think it disagreeable to read the truth, what must my anguish be to have to tell it? The mean diameter of the earth is 796 English statute miles, but the actual diameter from pole to pole is a still meaner diameter, being 7899 miles, while the Equatorial diameter is 7925 1-2 miles.

The long and patient struggle of our earnest and treless geographers and savans in pat years in order to obtain these figures and have them exact few can realize. The long and thankless job of measuring the diameter of the earth, no matter what the weather migh be, away from home and friends, foot-sore and weary, still plodding on, fatigued but determined to know the mean diameter of the earth, even if it took a leg, measuring on for thousands of weary miles and getting farther and farther away from home and then forgetting, perhaps, how many thousand miles they had gone and being compelled to go back and measue it over again while their notes got red and their fingers were benumbed. These, fellow-citizens, are a few of the sacrifices that science has madeon our behalf in order that we may not grow up in ignorance. These are few of the blessed privileges, which, along with life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, are ours—ours to anticipate, ours to participate, ours to recipitate.

BILL NYE.

The wintry breeze came gayly around the corner of the postoice building. "Ta! ta!" said the hat "I'm off."

Thousands have tested the great building-up power of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have found renewed strength, vigor and vitality in its use.

THE NEW SPRING CAPES.

Wraps That Have for Rivals Ugly but Stylish Loose Sacque Coats.

The new spring capes display a tendency to increase rather than lessen their fulness, which seems hardly consistent with the trend of fashion in other things, and while they are unmistakably the garment of convenience, they have a formidable rival this season in the loose sacque coat, made very full by box plaits arranged to fall from a yoke, so that a good figure is almost lost in its folds, and a poor one is made to look uglier than it really is. But it is the fashion, and whether you like it or not it is the proper thing to wear. Time will doubtless modify and improve it somewhat in shape, or, what will serve the same purpose, accustom our eyes to the ungraceful outline. Tan, gray, blue and black cloths are used for these coats, and dressy ones are made of black velvet, black satin, and chameleon silks, and both cloth and silk coats are often lined with white satin, which is considered very chic.

Capes are shorter than those worn in the winter and excessively wide. They are made of all sorts of materials, such as smooth-faced cloth, serge, satin, velvet and the daintiest combinations of lace and silk, made very fluffy with frills and deep plaitings. One very odd cape of tan cloth is cut in pieces which narrow into points at the neck, and the spaces are filled in with plaited chine flowered chiffon. Little straps of cloth button over, this and the neck is elaborately ruffled in truly Parisian style. Black satin capes trimmed down from the neck in points and finished with a full ruche of black chiffon, which has boa-like ends, are very good style and easily made by those who are not expert in the art. Old-fashioned grebe is revived for cape collars, and in short, a little bit of everything seems to be admissible in some of these dressy garments. Cloth capes, with deep fan plaitings of checked Taffeta silk set in between the folds, to add color and fulness to the effect, are one of the successes of the season. Plainer light cloth capes are finished with rows of stitching for their only trimming, and those in dark blue are effectively decorated with narrow gold braid sewn in rows around the edge.

Chine silks enter into the construction of fancy capes quite a little, and one novelty in dark shades of purple and pink has a deep frill of black glace below the little cape of flowered silk, and a ruche of silk edged chiffon finishes both edges. Black satin sash ribbons arranged down the back and fastened with fancy buttons outline the figure very prettily.

Cape mantles which are half fitted in the back and loose in front have cape sleeves in fan shape and made of black silk covered with jetted net. They are very elegant. Very pretty models of black satin are covered with black lace net, relieved by applique figures of cream lace and cream lace designs applied directly to the satin, at intervals all over the cape, and outlined with jet, are almost as effective.

Frills of Fashion.

The new ribbons are really wonderful in coloring and diversity of patterns.

White tulle tied in a large bow in front is one of the popular decorations for the neck.

Parasols of the most summery description defy the elements with their gauzy loveliness, and the display in the shops blossoms out anew each week.

Very novel and elegant dress trimmings are embroidered bands, in various widths, of black chiffon done in silk of soft colors with a mixture of gold and silver thread, lace, and spangles. Honiton and Venetian lace over velvet bands is still another.

Violent green and petunia seem to be favorite colors, and masses of crimped silk muslin and tulle in black, white or colors, the distinguishing feature of new hats; this gives a soft effect which is very becoming to most faces. A new rose color is to be very popular this season.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'saved my life,' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excells. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, rattling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers: gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

HOME SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Another year in the history of our society closes and it is now our privilege to present the Twentieth Annual Report of the Home Work. Joy and gratitude fill our hearts as we note the growth and influence of our organization since it was formed twenty-one years ago. From a small off-shoot of the missionary vine it has grown to be a noble tree with wide spreading branches, covering twenty-five Presbyteries. Connected with these branches are numerous smaller ones from which most of the fruit of the past years has been gathered, and in addition, isolated branchlets have taken root in remote parts of our fair Dominion, east and west, and one in far-off India. But the growth has not been confined to outward extension. This work for Christ has become deeply rooted in the hearts of thousands of the women of our church, spiritual life has been developed, intellectual powers improved, and mental vision quickened to recognize the world as the Lord's vineyard and the heathen as neighbours. It would be difficult to over-estimate the enlargement that come to the women of our society through this work. We rejoice in what has been accomplished and humbly ascribe all the praise and honour to the Lord our God, who so graciously called us to this service and who has so wondrously guided us through all the perplexities of the past years.

A feeling of disappointment comes to us, as we report the fact that the twentieth year of our existence as a society marks the first appearance of decrease in our ordinary contributions. Continued depression in commercial affairs may have had some slight effect in bringing about this result, but judging from the reports we believe that it can be accounted for in other ways. Our members, on the whole, have not given less, but sympathy with our supply department has led some of them to divert part of their ordinary funds to aid it. All that is possible should be done for that department, but care must be exercised not to strengthen it at the expense of any other part of our work. Another cause of the apparent decrease is that a few of our branches were tardy in sending their funds to the Presbyterial Treasurers and their contributions do not appear in the total for the past year.

This has been a disappointment to the Board of Management and will, we are sure, be such to the members of those branches when they find that their contributions do not appear in our annual report. We would earnestly urge our treasurers to be more prompt in future.

We have been pleased to note the growing interest in the annual meetings of the Presbyterial Societies. Most interesting programmes have been prepared, in some cases extending over two days, comprehensive, practical papers have been read and discussed, interest has been deepened, and loyalty to the work more firmly cemented. The reporting of these meetings in our Letter Leaflet has been a step in the right direction. It has brought the Societies into closer touch with each other and has added the charm of home interest to our little publication. A few of the Presbyterial Societies have reported advance in almost every department; eleven show increase in funds. Several of the Presbyterial Societies show a falling off in membership, but this may be more fancied than real, as the Auxiliary and Mission Band Secretaries do not always report their membership fully, and this leads us to again emphasize the importance of using the tabulated forms provided for our Auxiliaries and Bands. There is one point where many of the Secretaries fall short and that is in not sending promptly, full reports.

Auxiliary meetings grow more interesting each successive year. This has been attributed to the fact that more time is devoted to systematic study of the Scriptures and of the mission fields. The reports indicate readiness on the part of the members to assist in every possible way. In not a few instances, the members have taken turn in preparing the programme and in conducting the meetings. Several Auxiliaries appointed a visiting committee, and through this agency kept the interests of the Society before the women of the congregations. Another method adopted for the same purpose, was to print the topic for the month and the names of the ladies who were responsible for each month's programme.

A few of the Auxiliaries report that they established an expense fund, so that no encroachment should be made upon the ordinary contributions. In one, the members gave from two to five cents each month for this purpose.

A pleasing feature, developing from year to year, is the prominence given in many of the Presbyterial annual meetings, to the work of the Mission Bands. In the past year they were more largely represented than ever before, conferences were held in the interests of their work, most excellent papers were read by members of the Bands and time was given for discussion. In this way the youthful representatives gave and received valuable suggestions which will, we trust be helpful to the juvenile department of our work.

For convenience in reference summaries of the first year's home work are given in addition to that of the twentieth year.

REPORT OF SUPPLIES TO MISSIONS.

It is with gratitude and thankfulness to our Heavenly Father that we are able to report the success that has attended this branch of our work during the past year.

Over 33,000 lbs. of strong, warm clothing, quilts, blankets, etc., have been sent to the different reserves, and we are glad to learn from some of the Presbyterial reports, that the preparation of this clothing has been a means of blessing, not only to the poor Indians, but also to some of our societies. Many who have hitherto taken little interest in missions, have, through helping to clothe the naked, been brought into sympathy with the whole work of our society, and have aided materially in lightening the burdens of our devoted missionaries.

It is the hope of our society that as these Indians become Christianized, they will be able gradually to dispense with these gifts, and be no longer children, "The Wards of the Nation," but men and women, able to provide for themselves and their families, but in the meantime it is our duty and also our privilege to help in this work, for this mass of Paganism existing in the centre of our Dominion, is a menace to its peace and prosperity.

The number of quilts sent last year was very large, in some cases more than was required, but the supply of clothing for boys, and also for old women, was very deficient. Could the members of our societies see some of these poor old creature, blind and feeble, their sympathies would be aroused in their behalf.

We would again appeal to our mission bands for help in providing gifts and prizes for the children in the schools, both in the Northwest and Central India. Surely out of their abundance they could spare something for those less fortunate than themselves.

We have again to report that the money paid for freight, amounting to $783.30, has been refunded by the Indian Department. Our thanks are due to Mr. Hayter Reed, Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, for his uniform kindness and courtesy.

We cannot too heartily thank all our societies for their loyalty.

The gifts and prizes sent by the Mission Bands in Peterborough and Whitby Presbyterial Societies to Central India, gave great pleasure to the children in the schools there, and were highly appreciated by the missionaries.

We trust that in the new year, upon which we are entering, there may be increased success in every branch of our work. This will certainly be the case if our members realize how much they owe to the Gospel for the blessings which they enjoy, and will show their gratitude to God for His goodness to them by doing all in their power to bring the same blessings to those who "sit in darkness and the shadow of death."

C. M. JEFFERY,
Secretary-Treasurer of Supplies.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Minnie Finnie has gone to Peterborough, where she has secured a position as book-keeper with Messrs. J. W. Moore & Co.

Mrs. Dr. Fraser, Mrs. R. Graham, Mrs. T. Hendren and Mrs. Reeves are in Peterborough this week attending the annual W. F. M. S. Convention of the Presbyterian church, representing the Lakefield Auxiliary.

Rev. J. McEwen is now in the village.

Mr. W. W. Grant, of Wellman's Corners, spent Sunday in the village.

Mrs. J. C. Sherin is in Peterborough this week, visiting the W. F. M. S. convention.

Mrs. W. M. Graham, Presbyterial Secretary of the W. F. M. S., is in attendance at the annual convention of the W.F.M.S., held in Peterborough this week.

Mrs. Joseph Maude is visiting friends in Peterborough this week.

Mrs. James Saulter, of Toronto, spent Tuesday in the village, the guest of her sisters, the Misses Ray.

Miss McLean, who has been visiting in Campbellford, returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. J. C. Grylls has gone to Peterborough to fill the position of engineer on the steamer North Star.

Mr. William Macklin left on Tuesday for a trip to England, where he expects to receive a legacy.

The family of Mr. Abel Hendren are now rapidly recovering.

Dr. Halliday, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Fred. W. Tanner, of the Globe staff, Toronto, and formerly of this place, has been appointed Captain of the Globe Cycling team. He has also been elected one of the directors of the Globe Benefit and Insurance Society.

R. Graham & Son have received a fine selection of new blouses, ladies' vests, hosiery, gloves and parasols. Extra good value. In their millinery department they have received a large lot of new hats in the latest New York styles.

Mr. R. W. Dixon, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Hugh Morrison, of Coldsprings, is visiting here.

Mr. Thos. Cox, who fell down cellar last week, is improving.

Mr. Hickey, with a number of men, are here seeing about letting loose the two drives of logs, held here by the Gilmour Co.

Mr. Wm. Copeland, of Hall's Bridge, lost a valuable horse here on Monday evening by inflammation.

Castle Doidge was occupied on Sunday evening by one of the tramp species.

Mr. R. J. Munro is having the Queen's hotel thoroughly renovated, new wainscoting, papering and painting.

Mr. Allan McCarthy, of Peterborough, is in the village looking after his business of moving the houses off the route of the Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Wm. Ash started on Tuesday morning to take down his buildings. He expects to soon have them off the route of the T.V.C. so that work may commence at an early date.

The local livery men will soon require to hand out their cash to Chief Doidge, as their livery licenses are due on May 1st.

Street Inspector Doidge has had a gang of men on the front streets getting them scraped off and the mud carted away. They now present a respectable appearance.

The water in the river is very high, being higher now than for the past 20 years. It is really a grand sight to stand on the bridge and watch the water go down the river in huge waves as if it were in an angry mood.

For mens shirts, collars, ties, hats, etc., in the latest and nobbiest styles, you will find a grand selection with R. Graham & Son.

Ministerial Association in Montreal Sticks to Its Resolution About Intoxication in the House of Commons.

Montreal, April 21.—(Special)—The Ministerial Association will not be downed by Parliament, and at a meeting, held to-day, declined to withdraw their former resolution. The resolution adopted this morning is as follows:

"That we receive with satisfaction the quite unnecessary assurances of Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and other members of the House of Commons to the effect that the conduct of the members of Parliament, as a whole, has been characterized by so high a regard for decorum, during the session now drawing to a close;

"That, at the same time, we would call attention to the fact that no charge was brought by us against the House, as a whole, our reference being limited to the 'conduct of certain members,' whose grave improprieties of behavior were frankly admitted by the honorable the leader of the House of Commons and by the leader of the Opposition. (See Hansard, pp., 6411 to 6419.)

"That we, therefore, find it impossible to yield to the request that we should withdraw our former expressions of shame and regret at recent disgraceful occurrences in the House of Commons, inasmuch as we are sorrowfully convinced that the facts admitted by honorable members themselves justify our position; neither do we think that our words of protest merit the unkindly insinuation of the Honorable Speaker, when he reminds us 'that the teaching of truth is quite as essential to the promotion of public morals as sobriety is.'

"That we accept the assurance of the Honorable Speaker that there is no open bar in the House for the sale of intoxicants, but while this is technically correct, we beg to refer to the repeated use of the term bar in the debates of the House, and to the fact that intoxicants are freely supplied to members of the House."

THE DATE CHANGED.

Elections to Be Held one Week Later On.

PARLIAMENT TO MEET JULY 15.

Meredith and Chapleau to Enter Sir Charles Tupper's Cabinet and Hold the Portfolios of Justice and Works—A Cabinet Shuffle to Follow.

Ottawa, April 22.—(Special) — The important announcement was made in the Senate this afternoon by Sir Mackenzie Bowell of the dates of the general elections. The Government has bowed to the express wish of the members that the middle of June is the best period for taking the verdict of the people, although at to-day's Council meeting it was decided to make the dates a week later than agreed on yesterday. Accordingly, the nominations will take place on June 16 and voting on June 23. The writs are made returnable on Monday, July 13, and the House will be called to meet either on Wednesday, the 15th, or Thursday, the 16th. The Premier himself stated that it would be the 16th, or possibly a little earlier or later. A new parliament, however, invariably meets to elect its Speaker on Wednesday, the formal opening being on Thursday, and this year may be no exception to the rule.

Prorogation takes place to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, but already the exodus has set it, and when His Excellency sends for the faithful Commoners, there will not be many to respond to the call.

Out of the mass of political rumors which are flying around the lobbies, it is now possible to state, with a certain degree of definiteness, amounting almost to positiveness, how Sir Charles Tupper's Ministry will be constituted.

First and foremost, it is about settled that Chief Justice Meredith will retire from the Ontario bench to accept the portfolio of Minister of Justice. It is felt that by securing Mr. Meredith, Sir Charles Tupper has played the trump card. The Chief Justice is known to be a man of consummate ability and of high character—a man who graces any position which he is placed in. He will certainly be a tower of strength to the old war horse. The accession of Mr. Meredith to the Cabinet follows as a result of the retirement of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who, although urged by Sir Charles Tupper to take the portfolio of Trade and Commerce, feels that at his time of life he can well be relieved of the responsibilities of an important department. Sir Mackenzie may remain in the Cabinet without portfolio, and be leader of the Senate.

With regard to Quebec, it may be taken as a settled fact that Lieutenant-Governor Chapleau will leave Spencerwood to accept the portfolio of Minister of Public Works, Mr. Ouimet becoming Lieutenant-Governor.

If Sir A. P. Caron takes the High Commissionership, which is altogether likely, then Mr. Angers or Mr. Pelletier will take a portfolio. The latter had a long interview with Sir Charles Tupper this afternoon.

With respect to other Ministerial changes, they will not involve any further disturbance of the personnel of the Cabinet, although there may be a little shuffling of portfolios. Mr. Dickey will return to the Department of Militia, in the administration of which office he displayed great ability during the few months he was there.

Mr. Haggart will continue to preside over the Department of Railways and Canals, and Dr. Montague will remain at the Agriculture Department.

There has been some discussion around the lobbies to-day respecting Mr. Meredith's views on the school question. A prominent Conservative and an intimate friend of the Chief Justice said to-night that he admits that the Catholic minority of Manitoba has a constitutional grievance and are entitled to some kind of remedy. If it be asserted that Mr. Meredith's position is inconsistent with the stand he took when leader of the Ontario Opposition, his friends point out that at no time has he questioned the constitutional rights of the Catholics of Ontario to Separate schools, or in any way proposed to abolish them. Indeed, in his memorable speech, delivered at Cobourg nearly ten years ago, and in Sir John Macdonald's presence, Mr. Meredith declared that he would be the last man in Canada to say or do anything that would set race against race, or creed against creed. All that he asked then was that the Ontario Government should carry out the law as it existed on the statute book, and that position is precisely analogous to the one under which to-day the Catholics of Manitoba claim their rights under the constitution.

Report has it to-night that Sir. C.H. Tupper may be Solicitor-General in the new Ministry.

Lieut.-Gov. Chapleau is at present in Atlanta, Georgia. He is expected here on Sunday.

There is a strong probability of Harry Corby, M.P., again contesting West Hastings. He is being strongly pressed by his political friends, and is disposed to accede to their wishes.

Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Foresters, and Mr. McGillivray, M.P. for North Ontario, Supreme Secretary, to-day deposited with the Receiver-General the sum of $100,000 as security for the policy holders in the Foresters body.

Messrs. John Gillespie and Charles Powell of Toronto are here seeing the Government on colonization land matters in the Northwest.

Mr. J. McLauchlan, Conservative candidate for North Grey, was in the city to-day in connection with the proposed grant for Owen Sound harbor works

Mr. J. S. Aikins of Brantford, representing the Pelee Island Wine Co., is in the city on business with the Government.

Mayor Wilson Smith, E. P. Hannaford and others of Montreal were here to-day, lobbying on behalf of the half million dollar grant for the Montreal exhibition.

Big Chief Oronhyatekha held a Foresters' court here this afternoon, when 15 members of Parliament, who are members of the order were present. Three new members were initiated, Messrs. Smith (Ontario), Guillet and Fremont, M.P.'s.

MANAGER HAYS AT WORK.

The Change in the Head of the Mechanical Department May Lead to Entire Reorganization of the Power Staff.

Montreal, April 22.—(Special)—It was officially announced this morning at the Grand Trunk general offices in this city that, with the retirement of Mr. Herbert Wallis on May 1 next, the office of mechanical superintendent would be abolished and that two new departments would be created in its place. These will be placed in charge respectively of Mr. F. W. Morse of Fort Wayne, Ind., who will be known as the superintendent of motive power, and Mr. William McWood of this city, who will occupy the position of superintendent of the car department. In connection with these changes, it is quite possible that there will be a complete reorganization of the staff at present employed in the various departments under the charge of the mechanical superintendent.

Another change which was officially announced this morning consists of the substitution of the standard system of operating trains for the system at present in vogue on all lines controlled by the Grand Trunk Railway in Canada. The former system, which is distinctly American, will be introduced as soon as possible, but will be modified somewhat to suit the conditions of this country.

DEATH MAY BE THEIR FATE.

One of the Three Rome Boys Charged With Train Wrecking on Trial.

Rome, N.Y., April 22.—When the cases of Watson Hildreth, Theodore Hibbard and Herbert Plato, the young men accused of train wrecking and murder, were called to-day, the defence demanded separate trials, and Hildreth's case was called for trial.

The selection of a jury from the 200 talesmen carefully guarded by deputy sheriffs was begun. Of 25 men examined, only one was accepted. The prosecution was particular to enquire whether the youth of the accused would have any influence in finding a verdict. The defence asked each talesman whether he had any dealings with railroads or acquaintance with railroad detectives.

When the first talesman was asked if he would be adverse to the death penalty in such a case as this, the color left little Hildreth's face, and he shifted uneasily in his chair. Hildreth and his companions thenceforward kept their eyes fixed on the floor, for the frequent reference to the death penalty brought them more and more to a realization of their position.

The town is crowded with persons anxious to hear the trial. Hotels and restaurants are enjoying unusual business, and the townspeople anticipate lively business until the trial is closed. It will probably take six weeks to hear all the cases.

DYING OF A SNAKE BITE.

A Young Girl Bitten by a Copperhead While Picking Violets.

Amityville, L.I., April 22.—While picking violets near this village this afternoon Mamie Bishop, 16 years old, of Brooklyn, who is on a visit to her uncle, John Bishop, of this place, was bitten in the right hand by a copperhead snake, and it is reported that she is now lying at the point of death. She was in her uncle's yard at the time when the reptile fastened its fangs in her hand. She shrieked with terror and ran breathless into the house.

A doctor was immediately summoned, while Mr. Bishop went into the yard and discovered the snake, which he quickly despatched. It measured about five feet in length.

Shortly after being bitten the girl was taken with convulsions, and her arm began to swell, until finally it became twice its natural size. Three years ago a younger sister, Jennie, was bitten by some reptile while gathering flowers in this same yard, and she died three hours later in great agony. It is now thought that the copperhead made its home there and bit both girls.

WAS IT DELIA KEEGAN'S BODY?

It Was Found Under a Stairway—She Sued Russell Sage For Breach of Promise.

New York, April 22.—The police this afternoon reported that an unknown woman was found dead under the stairway of the house No. 636 Second-avenue. Later it was believed that the body was that of Delia Keegan, the woman who sued Russell Sage for $50,000 for breach of promise. It is supposed the body had been under the stairway about a week, as it was much decomposed.

Only Part of the Salvation Army Correspondence Published.

New York, April 22.—Ballington Booth said yesterday that the Salvation Army had published only a part of the correspondence between himself and his father, as a complete exposure would only strengthen his position.

"My wife and I see no reason," said he, "for making further statements regarding this matter, as the extracts printed are only further proof of the accuracy of what we have already said. We stand by every word of our statement of April 13."

VERY NEAR TO DEATH.

Lady Aberdeen Thrown Into the Gatineau River.

HOW HER CARRIAGE WAS CAPSIZED

And the Occupants Escaped Without Injury Save a Wetting But the Two Horses Were Drowned—Her Excellency Was Returning to Rideau Hall.

Ottawa, April 22.—(Special)—Lady Aberdeen had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident this afternoon. She was out driving with one of the staff, returning home along the west bank of the Gatineau River, a tributary which enters into the Ottawa about a mile below the city. A few hundred yards north of Gatineau village the road is for a short distance just now covered with flood water, but is in regular use by the farmers and others. There is, however, at that point by the side of the river a large hole, concealed at present by the flood water, and when opposite this hole one of the horses swerved slightly, and immediately the carriage and its occupants were plunged into the water. Fortunately all the occupants of the carriage were extricated, but the horses were drowned. They were a very fine pair of chestnuts, given some years ago by the Governor-General to Her Excellency for her own use. Much thankfulness is naturally expressed at the escape of the Countess and the other occupants of the carriage. Her Excellency, though feeling somewhat the shock occasioned by such an accident, does not appear to have suffered in health, and to-night gave a farewell reception to the members of Parliament at Rideau Hall.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, TOO.

His Horses Fell Down and Kicked the Dashboard off His Carriage.

Washington, April 22.—Shortly after dark this evening a disturbing rumor was in circulation to the effect that while President Cleveland was driving to his Woodley residence, after leaving the Executive Mansion, his carriage came into collision with a cable car, and that the President had been thrown out and had received serious injuries. Inquiries were numerous from all directions, but in a little time information was obtained from officials closely associated with the President that the only foundation for the widely spread story, was that, as the President's carriage was being driven along U-street, near the outskirts of the city, one of the horses stumbled and fell, causing the other horse also to lose his footing. The animal kicked vigorously, broke one of the lamps of the carriage and also broke the dashboard and ruptured the harness.

At this juncture Hon. Gardner G. Hubbard, who was driving along the road, seeing the plight the President was in, stopped and tendered his carriage to the President, who accepted a seat in it, and was conveyed home in time for dinner. The coachman repaired the broken harness and soon followed the President to Woodley.

PHOTOGRAPHS THE HEART.

Nikola Tesla of New York Reports Further Advancement in the Use of Roentgen Rays.

New York, April 22.—Nikola Tesla, who has been quietly conducting a series of experiments with the Roentgen rays, announced that he has succeeded in actually seeing the human heart. He has obtained a wanderful result by the use of a new type of fluorescent screen made in his own laboratory, which increases the sharpness of the outlines in a shadow.

"By the use of this apparatus," he writes to The Electrical Review, "I have been enabled to examine much better than before the body with the fluorescent screen. The vertebral column can be seen quite clearly, even in the lower parts of the body. I have also clearly noted the outlines of the hip bones. Looking in the region of the heart, I have been able to locate it unmistakably. The background appeared much brighter, and this difference in the intensity of the shadow and surroundings has surprised me. The ribs I could see on a number of occasions, quite distinctly, as well as the shoulder bones. Of course, there is no difficulty in observing the bones of all the limbs."

Mr. Tesla has also discovered that if a sensitive film is placed between two plates of magnesium and copper a real Roentgen radiograph will be had after a long exposure in a dark room. He is devoting much time to scientific investigation of the various effects of the Roentgen rays.

POLITICS IN FRANCE.

President Faure Said to Have Got Into a Tight Box.

London, April 22.—The Daily News to-morrow will publish a despatch from its Paris correspondent in which President Faure is represented as very uneasy, hardly knowing which way to turn. According to the despatch, M. Faure meditates reverting to the policy formerly adopted by M. Sadi-Carnot, of shuffling off the outgoing Cabinet and bringing it in again as a new one. He has sounded M. Sarrien as to whether he would assist in the work of forming a ministry. M. Sarrien, who remains neutral, often assisted in M. Carnot's ministerial shuffles. If the Chamber of Deputies support M. Bourgeois a deadlock will ensue unless President Faure shall ask the Senate to join in dissolving or resign himself. It is believed that M. Bourgeois is playing for the retention of power, and will be guided entirely by the decision of the Chamber of Deputies.

An Attractive Window.

Mr. A. Clegg's window to-day displays a very handsome bedroom suite with tables, chairs, etc., and a very pretty secretary, all in native birch. The panels and prominent parts are of selected wood, and the effect is very artistic and pleasing. The style of the furniture, especially the bedstead, is quite new.

TARIFF REFORM.

THE Liberal trade policy is not a policy for a class nor for sections of the country. It is for all classes and all sections. It suits their opponents to represent Liberals as the enemies of industry, as desirous of destroying the manufacturers. The charge is almost too absurd to be noticed. The picture of the Liberal leaders filled with a demoniac desire to desolate the country by destroying its manufacturing industries may do for private consumption in certain quarters, but it will hardly be accepted by the business men of the country.

The Liberal party is proud of the enterprise of those citizens who have put their money in manufacturing industries, and instead of attacking or imperilling these industries, they will be, on the other hand, studious to relieve them of many of the burdens that have been imposed in the name of a national policy.

In a country like Canada farming holds the first place in the fabric of industry. Any fiscal scheme that unduly lessens its profits and attractions necessarily assails every other industry and promotes financial and commercial instability. Justice can be done to the farmer without working injustice or harm to the manufacturer or the merchant. They should be and are almost as much concerned in his prosperity as he is himself. This is illustrated every fall by the profound interest that is taken on all hands in the measure of the husbandman's returns from the harvest.

No industry need fear the advent of the Liberal party to power. No manufacturer is afraid of cheaper raw material or of pursuing his calling amidst a community whose purchasing power is increased by the stimulation that liberated commerce will impart to every branch of industry in which the masses of our countrymen are engaged.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of successes.

The woman who hesitates is invited to send 31 one-cent stamps to cover only the cost of mailing a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which contains plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions.

CHIN YUEN SING'S CASE

Admitted to the U. S. in Bond. He is Accused of Dying by Proxy to Evade the Law.

New York, April 22.—A peculiar case has come to light through the courts here, and it appears that a fraud has been perpetrated upon the Government to prevent the deporting of a Chinaman who illegally obtained admission to the country. Chin Yuen Sing arrived in Montreal from China in 1894 and applied for admission to the United States, claiming to be a merchant of Hartford, Conn. His statement was disproved, and he was debarred by law. Ultimately, however, he succeeded in smuggling himself into New York, but was caught and ordered to be deported. His friends took the matter to the courts, and Chin was held in jail, pending a decision. Upon the report of two physicians that he was suffering from consumption, he was released on bail, and on March 23 it was advertised that he was dead. To publish a death notice is a most unusual thing with the Chinese, but the case was dismissed and not brought up again until Chin's bondsmen asked to be released from their responsibility. Now the Chinese inspector declares that the man who died was Chin Wah Sing, who bore no resemblance at all to Chin Yuen Sing, and that the latter is not dead. Sensational developments are promised by the Government, and if necessary the body of the alleged Chin Yuen Sing will be exhumed and brought into court as evidence. If the Government establishes its case a number of arrests will follow.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Opening of the Congress at Washington—Mr. Carnegie Donates $1000 for Expenses.

Washington, April 22.—The International Arbitration Congress, which began a two-days' session in Metzerott Hall, in this city, to-day, was a distinguished gathering of prominent men from all parts of the country. Gardiner G. Hubbard called the convention to order, and introduced Hon. J. W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State, as temporary chairman. He extended a welcome on behalf of the local committee and the municipal authorities of Washington.

A letter from Chief Justice Fuller, who was unable to attend, was read. He expressed his sympathy with the object of the meeting.

A letter was also received from Andrew Carnegie of Pittsburg, stating that he was unable to attend the conference, but asking to have his name associated with those who favored arbitration, and enclosing a cheque for $1000 to be used for any purpose the convention saw fit.

On motion of Mr. Dodge of New York a committee of 15 was appointed on resolutions, and a committee of five on the order of business.

A motion to reject Mr. Carnegie's money was tabled.

BIG BLAZE AT PETROLEA.

The Imperial Oil Company Loses a Lot of Property—The Town at One Time Threatened With Destruction.

Petrolea, April 22.—About 4 o'clock this afternoon our town was thrown into a fearful state of excitement by the shrieks of the whistles at the refineries, and quickly followed by the town fire alarm. The fire proved to be at the Imperial Oil Company, and turned out to be one of the worst fires that have taken place here for many years, and at one time it was feared the fire would spread to the town. Mayor Edward and Reeve Simmons telegraphed to Strathroy asking for assistance with their engine and men. An answer was promptly received from Mayor Smith, offering to do all in their power, but fortunately the wind changed, thus averting all danger as far as the town was concerned. How the fire originated is a mystery, but it is supposed to be combustion of benzine. The buildings destroyed are: Two bleachers, two buildings used for the manufacture of wax, one paraffine shed, one grease works building (very large), two large storage tanks known as the Home Agitators. Gleeson's office, a large quantity of refined oil and a large amount of very valuable machinery were also destroyed. The president of the Imperial Oil Company was interviewed by your reporter, and he places the loss at $25,000, fully insured, but others claim the loss will be much larger. The following companies are interested: Lancashire, Mercantile, Economical, British American, Queen's, North British, Western and Royal. The firemen are still working at the ruins, and a detachment will be on hand all night.

WHAT WILL BRITAIN DO?

John Bull Cannot for One Moment Permit Uncle Sam to Dictate on Venezuelan Matters.

London, April 22.—The St. James Gazette, commenting on the despatch to The Times from G. W. Smalley, the correspondent of that paper in the United States, representing that the Venezuelan dispute is still a question of great gravity and a cause for alarm, says: "The revival of the Venezuelan question reminds us that even the wars in Africa are trivial compared with the real danger which has existed in the west since December. The American demand that the United States shall decide our quarrels and settle our frontier is admissible, and no amount of talking around the matter will make it anything else. President Cleveland in his message last December referred everything to a special commission, and then, when it was too late, attempted to negotiate. We are now told to be prepared for a report that is hostile to the claim of Great Britain. What will happen then? Either the Washington Government must allow the report to remain a dead letter or carry out its threat to enforce a decision by resort to war. There is no reason to believe that an attempt will now be made to work up an English feeling in favor of the surrender of our Government. This is vain. Our position is simply that British frontier questions are matters for negotiation only with the parties concerned."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The American correspondent of The Times seems to be in a state of undue alarm, possibly because Lord Salisbury did not accept his plan of settlement."

The Globe says: "All the hopes of the weak-kneed, in the compliance of Great Britain with the views of the United States, are groundless."

The Westminster Gazette says: "Except for a petty amour proper, there was no reason why Lord Salisbury should have rejected the proposal for a joint commission."

THE OUTLOOK IN WINNIPEG.

Mr. Hugh John Macdonald Will Run in the Conservative Interests—Why Mr. Martin Hangs Back.

Winnipeg, April 22.—(Special)—Now that the date of the Federal elections is fixed and the issues of the campaign in the West are so clearly defined, the merits of the candidates in the field and the prospective nominees are freely discussed. Winnipeg is naturally the centre of attraction.

The Liberals are preparing for a monster demonstration for Mr. Martin on his return from Ottawa, hoping thereby to induce him to again be a candidate. He is, indeed, their only hope, as his candidature here would materially aid the Opposition cause throughout the West. Mr. Martin is quite aware of this, and while anxious enough to run, he probably hesitates to announce himself until a fairly good campaign fund has been provided.

It seems practically settled now that Hugh John Macdonald will be the Conservative candidate for the city. He, too, seems to be the only hope of his party, and, knowing this, will insist on a Cabinet position, for which he is well qualified.

The contest between Mr. Martin and Mr. Macdonald in the city would be a vigorous one. The result, of course, would be only guess work at this early date. In the outside constituencies both parties have a good dear of organization work yet to do, but another week will probably see the full complement of candidates.

All Glorious Age in Which We Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as "Maltine with Coca Wine."

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions, and sustains the vital forces until, by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health is renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

SIX YOUNG MEN DROWNED

While Crossing the Becancour River, Inverness County, on Their Return From an Errand of Mercy.

Quebec, April 22.—While crossing the Becancour River, at the Lysander Falls, Inverness County, some 40 miles from here, on Sunday last, the following young men were drowned: John Culley, aged 28; W. H. Cox, 23; George Scott, 24; J. Patterson, 23; Charles Royer, 28; J. Royer, 22. The party had crossed the river to accompany Mr. James Miles, whose daughter was dying on the other side of the river. The river was crossed without accident, but on the return trip some misunderstanding occurred among the men at the oars, and the boat was headed down stream, which was running very swiftly at the time. The boat was a very large one and could not be handled easily. Her head was directed to the opposite bank of the river, but it was too late to avoid running over a dam 15 feet high, over which the seething waters rushed wildly. The party resolved to strike for the land by swimming. They accordingly jumped overboard, but only two managed to reach the shore—Messrs. Finlay Ward and McVitty.

INSISTS THAT THINGS SHALL LOOK WELL

She certainly insists on a good tone as a first requisite in a Piano, but other things being equal she prefers a Piano that looks well to one that doesn't. As Mason & Risch Pianos sound well, last well and look well, they usually receive the preference in the homes of the cultured, where tone and design are both considered from the standpoint of art.

You can recognize a Mason & Risch Piano almost as soon as you enter a room by the quiet elegance of its appearance.

GAVE AWAY MILLIONS

Charitable Work of the Dead Baron De Hirsch.

AS MUCH AS $15,000,000 A YEAR.

This Man Tried to Lift Up the Hebrew Race—He Founded Schools and Did a Great Work in Helping His People to Go to New Lands.

New York, April 22.—Mr. Julian Ralph, referring to the death yesterday of Baron Hirsch, cables from London the following interesting sketch of the "Millionaire Moses," as the late Baron was universally known: He was 63 years of age, having been born in Munich in 1833, the inheritor of a fortune. He went to Brussels while yet a boy, and in his early manhood began to display a marvellous shrewdness. He turned to gold everything he touched. His first grand chance came after the failure of Dumonceau, the Belgian banker. Hirsch bought up the bank, with all its depreciated assets, including a Turkish railway, and at once became one of the first financiers of Europe. His wealth, which is estimated at more than 250,000,000 francs ($50,000,000), came to him mostly from Oriental railways, at first from the line from Constantinople to Adrianople and the branch to Dedeagatch, and afterwards from the extension towards Bulgaria.

Cool judgment, mastery in details and a strict attention to economy were the ruling traits of Baron de Hirsch from the outset of his career.

He married a wealthy Miss Bischoffsheim, the daughter of a Belgian merchant senator, who brought a great fortune with her. She presented Hirsch with two children, a daughter, who died very young of consumption, and Lucien, in whom Hirsch centred most of his hope and pride. Lucien developed extraordinary talents. He showed great interest in science and art and also in the fate of his co-religionists.

Baron Maurice began to put by money for his son. From the moment of his birth he paid over to the boy's account a great part of his profits in speculations and industrial undertakings, and when the young Baron died, in 1888, at the age of 20, he had in his father's books a fortune exceeding $20,000,000. This sum the bereaved Baron resolved to devote to charities in the name of his dead son.

On the advice of prominent Jews, of all countries, the sum was ultimately divided into four portions, $5,000,000 being given to the Jews of Hungary, Russia, Galicia and Roumania, the countries in which the "Chosen People" are most backward.

It was thought that by educating these Jews to be artists, agriculturists and so on, the social status could be raised and prejudice against them combated. In Hungary and Galicia the experiment proved a success, but in the other countries it proved impracticable. Yet so faithfully did Hirsch consider himself a mere executor of his son's supposed will that the accruing interest of the unemployed capital is regularly distributed for charitable purposes by committees, which to this day receive in Vienna and at Buda-Pest 10,000,000 florins monthly; at Cracow 5000 florins; at Lemberg 7000, and so on.

These sums are devoted to the relief of the needy, but principally to start industrious Jews in business, or to prevent ruin, if undeservedly brought about.

This charity has been carried on simultaneously with the distribution of large sums in cases of sudden disaster. For instance, 40,000 florins were contributed by it for distribution in Tokay.

The schools of Hungary and Galicia were established and negotiations were made with Russia and Roumania, where similar foundations were in progress, when the cruel Russian decrees for the expulsion of Jews and the heartless manner in which it was carried out so impressed Baron de Hirsch that he conceived the plan of expatriating the victims. From that time it was no longer a question of Lucien's original $50,000,000. The whole fortune of the banker was devoted to a colossal plan.

The Baron made the deliverance of the Jews from serfdom the object of his life, and though mistakes were made in the outset of his scheme, it promised success.

The Russian Government in 1892 agreed to the scheme of emigration of the Jews to the Argentine and Canada and other countries, the Baron guaranteeing to expend $10,000,000 on the work. The colonies established in the Argentine were recently reported to be in a flourishing condition.

Baron de Hirsch spent in charity more than the income of some of the smaller countries of Europe. In 1891 alone he gave away $15,000,000. He gave the London hospitals all the profits he had made on the turf. He was ardently devoted to sport, and at one time kept a large racing stud in England. The best horse he owned was La Fleche, by St. Simon, out of Quiver, which he bought at Hampton Court, at Her Majesty's yearling sale of 1892. La Fleche won the "One Thousand Guineas," the "Oaks" and the "St. Leger," and finished second to Sir Hugo in the "Derby." She also won the Ascot Gold Cup of 1894.

Baron de Hirsch had several horses training this season, but none of any great promise. His winnings on the turf in 1892 were princely. In 1893 he won $210,000, out of which the London hospitals received $75,000. Baron de Hirsch went into the racing business because Lucien had done so; besides La Fleche, for which he paid $30,000, he owned Matchbox, who just missed winning the Grand Prix. Lord Marcus Beresford was closely associated with Baron de Hirsch on the turf.

Hirsch's great estate in Hungary is well stocked with game of all kinds. There, a few years ago, he received the Prince of Wales and a distinguished party, whom he entertained in princely magnificence for over a week. The Baron spent several months there every year. In London he kept a great house in Piccadilly, and also owned valuable property in France and Scotland.

Millions of poor Jews mourn his loss. It is said that not long ago domiciliary visits in Galicia resulted in the finding of photographs of Baron de Hirsch marked "The Emperor." The Jews proved that these photographs had been distributed by Vienna anti-Semites, who, at the same time, informed the police of the treasonable title given by the Jews to their benefactor.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

Death of General Jeffries.

Washington, April 22.—Gen. Noah L. Jeffries, a well-known lawyer, who was the attorney of the North American Commercial Company, the lessees of the Pribyloff Islands in the Behring Sea, died here to-day of heart disease, aged 65 years. Gen. Jeffries was one of the best-informed men in this country in the Behring Sea controversy.

Going After Their Diamonds.

New York, April 22.—Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden sailed for Europe to-day. They will go to London to identify the jewels taken from Dunlop and Turner.

He Died From Apoplexy.

Buda-Pest, April 22.—(Midnight.)—Investigation into the cause of the death of Baron de Hirsch proves that the rumors put into circulation to the effect that his death was not due to natural causes are entirely without foundation. The autopsy shows that his death was the result of an attack of apoplexy.

YOUR "BAD BACK" RE-BACKED.

HOW IT IS DONE!

The pertinent question of the day is—Does your back ache? Is it lame?

Thousands suffer from what they commonly term "Bad back." When they walk or when they work, when they lie down or rise up, wherever they may be or whatever they may do, the old aching, paining, "lame back" worries and wearies and wears them out.

Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can be cured.

Just a word of explanation.

The back is the key-note of the kidneys. When it aches that's a sign that the kidneys are not acting properly. When it is "lame," that indicates that the kidneys are clogged up.

Then all the poisonous products that it is the kidneys special duty to eliminate from the blood, are carried in the blood current to every organ and tissue of the body, bringing on many a kidney trouble which if neglected means disease.

Will you heed the timely warning the back gives you? Will you strike the enemy while you can strike hard? Doan's Kidney Pills are the little enemies of kidney disorders. They strike with no uncertain hand Old backs and young backs are being "re-backed" and freed from never-ceasing pain and many a lame and shattered one, stooped and contracted, is strengthened and invigorated by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills For sale by

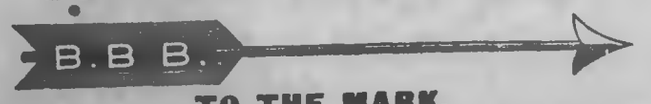
STRAIGHT AS AN ARROW



TO THE MARK.

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, it may be the stomach; perhaps it is the bowels or the kidneys; most likely it is the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters goes straight to that spot, strengthens the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the disease, and restores health, because it acts with cleansing force and curative power upon the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

With good red blood health is assured, without it disease is certain to come and Burdock is the only remedy that will positively remove all blood poisons. In ulcers, abscesses, scrofula, scrofulous swellings, skin diseases, blotches, old sores, etc., B.B.B. should be applied externally, as well as taken internally according to directions.

GREAT LIBERAL MASS MEETING.

The Campaign Auspiciously Opened.

MR. PATTERSON'S SPLENDID ADDRESS.

The Questions at Issue Clearly Set Forth—The Effects of the Government's Policy—The Liberals and the Trade Question—The Record of the Government Condemned—Unworthy Ministers—The Remedial Bill Question.

The opening of the campaign by the Liberals of West Peterborough took place yesterday under the most promising auspices. A strong, clean, respectable, reputable, honest, trustworthy candidate was selected in the person of Mr. Richard Hall, who received the unanimous call of the large and representative convention. With a good candidate goes a good policy, for the great audience that filled the opera house last night must have been so impressed by the splendid speech of Mr. William Paterson, M.P., South Brant, whose presentation of the Liberal policy and position, put the patriotic and and sound platform of the Liberal party in the strongest light; and that party's claim to the suffrages of honest, independent electors was eloquently and convincingly presented.

The Opera House was filled to the doors last night by a body of the most intelligent electors of the town, comprising both parties, though sympathisers with the Liberal cause largely predominated.

Dr. Bell, president of the West Riding Reform Association, occupied the chair, and on the platform were Mr. Richard Hall, Mr. Patterson, M. P., Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and Messrs. G. M. Roger, F. D. Kerr, J. B. McWilliams, Peter Hamilton, Robert Walton, Macfarlane Wilson and Fred Gladman.

There were several ladies present in the boxes and gallery.

THE ADDRESSES:

Dr. Bell occupied the chair and in opening the meeting said that the campaign for the general election had opened, and would rage for a couple of months—the nominations would be held on June 16th and the polling on june 23rd. The Liberals had nominated Mr. Richard Hall as standard bearer of the party. (Cheers.) Mr. Hall had made a good run at the last election and though he was defeated by something like 200 majority he would be elected by a large majority now. (Cheers.) He was a candidate that had the full confidence of the Liberal party. One that could be trusted. He would not be asked to make specific pledges for he could be depended upon to do what was right. The Liberals were not only going to redeem this riding, but they were going to replace the present aggregation of incompetents at Ottawa. (Cheers.) Another five years of government such as we have had, and under the leadership of would bring untold disaster. He also referred to the dissensions in the ranks of the Conservative Government, and to their hanging on to the spoils of power. Adverting to the remedial question, the speaker said that the Government used this question to distract public attention from their disgraceful and corrupt record. As to this question, the Liberal party were decided to respect provincial rights. (Cheers.) If the question were dealt with on the lines of the policy of conciliation advised by the Hon. Mr. Laurier, and if he were entrusted with the task of dealing with it he would have it settled in a very short time. Dr. Bell referred to the false promises of the N. P., and its failure to bring the prosperity promised in its name. The Liberal party could be trusted to deal in a common-sense manner with the manufacturing interests. They were not of favour of jumping into free trade, but they believed in moving in that direction; they were advocates of freer trade with all the world and especially with Great Britain. (Cheers.) No discrimination against Great Britain. (Cheers.) The Franchise Act was also denounced—the next election would be decided by electors who voted on lists two years old, whereby thousands of young men would be disfranchised. Reference was made to the failure of the N. P. to keep up the population of the country. The increase in population under the Mackenzie regime was almost double that under the vaunted creation of perennial prosperity by the N. P. The scandals that characterized the present government, and the waste of public money was advanced as a reason why the government, which had been guilty of these acts, should be dismissed from power. After calling on the electors to rally to Mr. Hall's support, Dr. Bell introduced Mr. Richard Hall, the nominee of the Liberal party.

Mr. Hall, who on advancing to the front was received with enthusiastic cheers, said that he had been selected as the standard bearer of the Liberal party of West Peterborough, but that circumstances did not imply that he was committed to any hard and fast political course. He would, if elected, do his duty as he saw fit. He entered this contest unpledged to any one, but he might say that he was in accord with the platform of the Liberal party. He was in favour of recasting the tariff, but in a manner that would not conflict with the prosperity of any of our existing industries. He would leave Mr. Patterson to enter more into detail with the trade question and took his seat amidst loud applause.

MR. PATTERSON'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Wm. Patterson, M. P. South Brant, who came direct from the fray at Ottawa was next introduced by Dr. Bell, who referred to him as future cabinet minister in Mr. Laurier's administration, that was to be formed after the next elections.

Mr. Patterson began his splendid address by saying that he was not particularly anxious to get into the Cabinet, but he wished more particularly to see the Liberal party returned to power, and in the course of his remarks he would tell his audience why. The Liberal party was heartily united and harmonious, and to no leader, even Sir John Macdonald himself, who achieved distinction as a successful party leader, was the undivided loyalty of a party given in such an enthusiastic and undivided degree as to the great leader of the Liberal party, Hon. Mr. Laurier. (Cheers.) The speaker was glad to hear of the enthusiastic convention that had nominated a candidate who made the bold stand of not being committed to the slavish support of any party. The Liberal party had in its policy and principles ample room for honest differences of opinion. The speaker then recounted how he had heard Sir Charles Tupper read man after man out of the Conservative party during the session because he had dared to act upon his own opinion, but though during the discussion and vote upon the Remedial Bill several members of the Liberal party had seen fit to vote differently from the Liberal leader, Mr. Laurier had read no man out of the party as a punishment for the exercise of his right to his honest opinions.

The speaker went on to say that he had been driven through the thriving town of Peterborough, which, with his own city (Brantford) were, he said, two of the few points that had prospered. He was pleased with the manufacturing industries of the town which he had visited, especially with the Electric Works.

The Conservatives misrepresented the policy of the Liberals, and he only thought it fair that Liberals should be allowed to define their own policy. The was adopted in 1893 at Ottawa, when Liberal delegates from all parts of Canada—from the Atlantic to the Pacific—assembled to decide upon a policy. No other leader besides Mr. Laurier had dared to call such a convention. But we had no such authoritative declaration of policy on behalf of the Conservatives. The leader of that party dare hardly call a Cabinet meeting, much less a Dominion convention, for fear of creating a disturbance and ending in confusion. The only declaration of a fiscal policy had been made by the Finance Minister, Mr. Foster, who declared that the policy was to protect manufacturers that needed protection. The Liberals held that the principle of protection was wrong and the policy of the Liberals was, such protection as was incidental to a revenue tariff. Tariff for revenue was a cardinal principle and the protection that arose from it was all the protection that could be legitimately extended in justice to all the interests concerned. In dealing with the claim of Mr. Foster, the Conservative Finance Minister, that protection was to be granted according to the needs of the manufacturer, Mr. Paterson pointed out that that which was the finished product of one manufacturer was the raw material of another, whose finished product might in turn be the raw material of another. Protection to the first raised the price of the raw material of the other, and the price of the finished article had to be raised to permit of profitable production and there was therefore no end to the height to which the tariff might be raised. This result obtained today under the present system.

REVENUE TARIFF MEANT

a uniform principle and under such a tariff the manufacturers, generally, though not all of them, would enjoy all the protection which could legitimately, in the public interest, be extended.

The speaker fully exposed the folly of the charge that if the Liberals came into power all the industries of the country would be destroyed. Such a charge was preposterous. The speaker believed that there was as much Liberal as Conservative capital invested in manufactures in Canada. (Cheers.) One party has as much at stake as another. It was a surprise that men claiming ordinary intelligence should make as that Liberals wished to destroy the industries of the country.

The speaker went on to inquire what would be the effect of the application of a Revenue Tariff. We had opportunities of judging from the past how a Revenue Tariff had affected the prosperity and progress of the country. We had a Revenue Tariff for twelve years—seven under Sir John Macdonald and five under Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, and for the past seventeen years the so-called National Policy had been in force, and we had a chance to compare what a Revenue Tariff could do compared with a policy of protection. This country wanted prosperity and progress, and the question was under what system would we enjoy most progress and prosperity. The speaker asserted that the supreme test of popularity was increase of population. Apply that test to the periods respectively of Revenue Tariff and Protection. Judging by the census, the figures of which had been prepared by the present government and surely they could not complain if their own figures were used—in the ten years between 1871 and 1881 a revenue tariff prevailed. During that period the population, the supreme test of prosperity and progress, had increased at the rate of 18 per cent. During the ten years between 1881 and 1891 a "protective" tariff prevailed and the increase of population, the supreme test of prosperity, increased only 12 per cent. The speaker challenged denial of these official figures. Thus the test of population showed without a doubt that Canada's population had increased 18 per cent. under a Revenue Tariff and only 12 per cent. under a Protective Tariff. Our population—and he made the statement with humiliation and regret—had not increased as it should have done. We should do something to keep our own sons and daughters in the country. Mr. Paterson would submit other government figures which could not be complained of, to show how very slowly our population had increased in the last decade under the influence of the great policy of protection. In that time by of money the government had, according to their own figures, brought in 886,000 immigrants from other countries, and in addition to these our natural increase that is the excess of births over deaths at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum, should in ten years have been 20 per cent., and from the natural increase we should have had an increase of population of 800,000. These two increases—886,000 from immigration and 800,000 of natural increase, should have made the total increase in ten years, from 1881 to 1891, exactly 1,686,000. But what was the fact as revealed by the government census? The actual increase of our population in these ten years had been only 502,000 or only about one third of what it should have been. The speaker asked what was the cause.

A voice—P. P. A. bigotry.

Mr. Patterson replied, something worse than that. He had no sympathy with bigotry himself but the sad truth was that some cause, even more serious than bigotry, was at the bottom of our slow increase of population. The cause was not in the country itself. We had in Canada a splendid heritage, taken altogether, one of the best countries in the world. The speaker went on to point out that from the Atlantic to the Pacific we had a country of unlimited possibilities for sustaining millions of people. Referring to Ontario, the speaker asked if a state in the American union could be found to compare with the magnificent Province of Ontario (cheers). Then there was Manitoba, with its millions and millions of fertile acres ready to become the homes of happy and prosperous settlers. Going further west to the Rocky Mountains we had the most magnificent scenery of any country in the world, and the Province of British Columbia was rich in minerals and had inexhaustible fisheries on its coasts. Such a country was Canada—capable of sustaining millions, and yet with all these unparrelelled natural advantages, in ten years the population, instead of increasing as it should have done by natural increas and immigration 1,686,000 had only increased 502,000. It was that there had not been greater growth, nor was it the fault of the people. What then was the reason? He would not charge this undesirable condition all to the N.P., but there must be something or that policy, which had been in force for the past seventeen years. Why was it? The Conservatives would not deny that their policy is to increase prosperity by restricting trade. But the Liberal policy was to expand trade. (Cheers.) Which was the sensible policy? the speaker inquired. If you put, said Mr. Patterson, a wall around Peterborough, and levy a tax of 25 per cent. on every commercial transaction with your neighbours, would the results be satisfactory? No person but a madman would seriously propose such a thing. If there was a tollgate on a country road leading to town there would be a demand for it being taken down. Now, if a wall would be a bad thing for a town, why would it not be a bad thing for the country? When we speak of facilitating trade with the United States we are met with the charge of disloyalty. The speaker had no sympathy with the sham loyalty cry. He was loyal himself, but he did not need to be everlastingly boasting of it. He was an honest man, but if he want about the country continually boasting of his honesty, he would very soon be suspected of dishonesty. (Laughter.) The speaker strongly deprecated the disloyalty cry. It had an injurious effect in the country. Where all were loyal, for one-half of the people to question the loyalty of another half equally loyal was disgraceful. Now this disgraceful accusation was made broad-cast and repeatedly during the last election. The speaker remarked that such an idea going abroad would humiliate and lower Canada in the eyes of other nations, and no doubt the attack that had been threatened by the United States over the Venezula matter, was largely influenced by the belief in the disgraceful and unfounded charges of disloyalty brought by Conservatives against the better and more loyal half of Canada.

The bulk of the trade of Canada was with England and the United States, between which countries it was pretty evenly divided. The speaker asked why we traded with the United States. It was because it was to the interests of both. It paid the United States to trade with Canada, and it paid this country to trade with our nearest neighbours. That was the whole secret. There were natural obstacles of a geographical character. There was a natural obstacle to trade on the Niagara frontier in the shape of a river. This obstacle was lessened by the building of a bridge, and that not leaving free course, another and still another bridge was built. The same condition existed at the western frontier. There a steam ferry for cars was built and that not being enough a tunnel, the

in the world, perhaps, was built by the Grand Trunk railway. And all these millions of dollars were spent to remove natural obstacles to free trade intercourse between Canada and the United States and remove natural restrictions to trade. And while the money of private and enterprising corporations is being lavished by millions to make trade come and go, the legislative bodies of the two countries are raising a worse kind of obstacle to trade intercourse, the tariff barriers, higher and higher. What sense, the speaker asked, was there in that? Make trade freer, so long as it can be done on honourable and equitable terms, and both countries would immensely benefit by it. But it is urged if we remove trade barriers the industries of Canada would be ruined. But we cannot remove these barriers now for years to come. But they could be so modified as to provide a revenue and all the incidents protection that any industry was legitimately entitled to. The condition of the country would not admit of free trade all at once, but the nearer we could get to free trade the better. (Cheers.) Hon. Mr. Laurier was denounced as advocating free trade as they have it in England. He did and does nothing of the kind. He says that free trade is the goal to aim at, not that it is practicable in Canada to-day. Mr. Laurier looks to England for the principles upon which he shall act in such matters and not to protected countries like the United States, France and Germany. But, say and opponents of Mr. Laurier, England is being ruined by free trade (laughter). He invited his hearers to read England's finance minister's last budget speech, and contrast it with our last budget speech, and see how magnificently England is being ruined by free trade. When our own finance minister, Hon. G. E. Foster, made his budget speech, he had to announce a deficit of millions, while the British finance minister declared the magnificent surplus of twenty millions of dollars, with a substantial reduction of the public debt and reduced taxation. Yet loyal conservatives declare that grand old England is drifting to ruin and decay. (cheers). That is the goal at which Mr. Laurier is aiming, but in Canada it must come slowly.

THESE SUPER LOYAL CONSERVATIVES

Then again it is charged, that in the event of freer trade with the United States, Canadians could not compete with His Club Mates Remember him on the Eve of His Departure.

It is with universal regret that his comrades heard of Mr. Leslie Scott's acceptance of a position with the Rob Engineering Co., of Amherst, N. Last evening accordingly his friends to the number of about forty assembled in the club rooms on Simcoe street and presented him the following address and a gold sovereign, on which was inscribed "To Scotty with compliments of the Strikers":

Mr. Leslie Scott, Peterborough.

We the members of the "Strikers" club, hearing with deepest regret that you are about taking your departure from amongst us, cannot let this opportunity pass without in some manner showing the esteem in which you are held amongst us. You will please accept this sovereign, not for its intrinsic value, but in the manner in which it is given, and as you look upon it from day to day, may it bring to your remembrance the many pleasant hours we have spent together.

THE LADY DELEGATES WHO ARE ASSEMBLED.

LAST NIGHT'S OPEN MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED.

Rev. Dr. Wherry, of Chicago, Addresses Those Present and Praises the Work Done by Women the Mission Field.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the W. F. M. S. Covention was opened with a prayer on behalf of the suffering Christians in Armenia; for all who are enduring persecution for the sake of the gospel; for nations and rulers; and that peace may prevail in all lands by Mrs. Munro, of Harriston.

A most interesting address on missions was then given by Miss Sinclair. It will be published in full in to-morrow's EXAMINER. The session was closed with prayer by Mrs. MacLaren, of Toronto, on thanksgiving for our colleges, schools and hospitals and for our native Christians, that they may be established in the faith and the Holy Spirit may prepare all hearts for the reception of the truth.

LAST EVENING

there was a large audience present to hear the address to be given by Rev. Dr. Wherry, of Chicago. Mr. Hamilton Cassels, of Toronto, who was chairman for the evening, read a portion of Scripture, and Rev. Dr. Torrance led briefly in prayer. Immediately after prayer Rev. Dr. Torrance gave a short and very effective address, in which he expressed his sympathy with the work of the W.F.M.S.

Rev. Arthur McKay then read the report of the work for the past year, which clearly showed that the work is gaining ground.

The Rev. Dr. Wherry, of Chicago, was then introduced by the chairman. The Doctor has had wide experience both at home and abroad, and has been for some time in Armenia, having had the opportunity of seeing the work going on under the most unfavourable circumstances. He liked to think of the great power which the Gospel possesses now, which it did not no later than a century ago. Some people, whenever they would see a bright young man or woman giving up friends and home, and perhaps riches, to go out and preach the Gospel, thought he or she was a fanatic to give up such bright prospects. For such people the rev. gentleman was sorry. Those, said he, who go out thus will have a greater reward than man can bestow upon them. Is that not enough recompense? If we were as ignorant as these poor heathen we would be glad to have someone show us the way.

RELIGION HAS DONE MORE

within the last century for women than is imagined. It has raised her from the slavery to some heathen men and made her their equal.

What a change has come over some of the women of India, China, Japan and other places too numerous to mention, all through religion being brought to them by women missionaries! It is an object lesson which should encourage the missionaries who as yet see no fruits of their labour, to keep their trust in God and help will surely come, and victory also. Christian Womanhood takes a prominent place in almost everything to-day. Have you ever thought of the fact, asked he, that they were last at the cross and first at the tomb? Women have the proper courage to become missionaries. In some cases they will hold out longer than men. In some places more women have stood by their faith unflinchingly and suffered martyrdom therefor than men. Missionary work desire has characterized all women of the Christian church in all ages. We often talk of the bravery that is at times displayed by some married men missionaries and then give the men all the praise. We forget the fact that their wives were just as brave as they were and perhaps more so. In a meeting similar to this one held in 1883 the doctor was reading a report of those who had laboured died and some who were still living in the fight, and it brought out the fact that more lady missionaries had died in India than men. Lady missionaries had been in existence as long as Protestantism. In some cases unmarried women may do a better work than married, as single ladies have the heathen women come to listen to them, whilst they dare not listen to the men, and the same thing occurs in regard to unmarried men, who are unfettered and have only themselves to look after.

Henry Martin could not have done the great missionary work he did if he had been married, nor could the noble Dr. Livingston.

WOMEN DO A GREAT WORK

in dispensaries, where the native women home for medical treatment and they may enlighten their dark hearts by some word or action.

Some important work has been done by married men and women. The reverend gentleman cited a few of such cases.

Women, he stated, could find a way to carry the gospel of Christ to the poor heathen through the medium of homes, where they take in perhaps a dozen girls and give them practical instruction in the work and then send them out as missionaries. The speaker has a sister, who is in the work. The held is unlimited for medical missionaries. Education is a good missionary agent also. One has to understand the native language thoroughly in order to be able to explain is fully to the natives. You must convey the right thought to the mind, which sometimes is very hard to do, as they are very ignorant. You can only convert women through women. In conclusion, the speaker wished the society God-speed in all its works.

Special music was given by the choir, and a solo, Shelly's "Resurrection" was sung in excellent voice by Mr. G. W. Mulligan. Miss Armstrong took the alto solo and Mrs. Sanderson took the soprano solo in Shelly's "Hark Hark my Soul."

was opened with devotional services which continued until 11.30.

Mrs. McNachton, of Cobourg, spoke most interestingly this morning on the subject of "Mission bands—Preparations for meetings and manner of conducting them." No part of the church work, she thought, was so important as the Mission Bands, as to them the older workers must look for the coming missionaries, and the society should give their earnest consideration to the development of these young minds. Miss Dixon's beautiful thought of the Mission Band bearing the same relation to the society as an elder daughter to a household often recurred to her. Mrs. McNachton urged that the boys be brought into Mission Bands. Doubtless it would complicate the work, but the result, she felt sure, would repay the extra responsibility involved. For a president of a Mission Band love was the first qualification, love was the second qualification and love was the third qualification. Love for the Master, love for the work and love for her companions. Inspiration she thought came from careful Bible study. None could know too much of the Scripture.

Care should be taken that the Mission Bands did not develop into mere sewing schools as this was not the object for which they were formed.

Two thoughts which all the delegates, she hoped, would take away with them was joy in the work and faithfulness to the work.

A lively discussion then followed on this subject, as well as on a paper read by Mrs. Steele, of Dundas, who addressed the convention on the subject of "Missionary Literature."

A WEDDING ON REID STREET.

Nuptials of Miss Blanche Sweet and Mr. Robert Turner, Last Night.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. John Titterson, No. 690 Reid street, when his sister-in-law, Miss Blanche Sweet, daughter of Mr. David Sweet, of Seymour, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Turner, of the Auburn Woolen Mills.

The bride and groom were assisted respectively by Miss Elvie Best and Mr. John Hanna, and the ceremony was performed by Pastor Zimmerman.

The number of beautiful presents which were received testified to the popularity of the young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner have taken apartments with Mr. and Mrs. John Titterson for the present.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

WEST PETERBOROUGH LIBERAL CONVENTION.

MR. RICHARD HALL THE CANDIDATE.

Conclusion of Report—Addresses by Mr. Yelland, Mr. Hall and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P.

The following is the concluding portion of the report of yesterday's nomination proceedings:

Mayor Yelland in making a few remarks stated that he had been solicited to stand as a candidate by a great many of the electors, but he had announced at the time that the nomination was due Mr. Hall if he would accept it. As Mr. Hall had signified his willingness to stand he would give him his support, as he considered him the right man in the right place. Mr. Hall better was prepared to fight the battle and occupy the seat at Parliament than he was. He hoped that Mr. Hall's nomination would be made unanimous, and that his (Mr. Yelland's) friends would be found working for Mr. Hall.

Mr. Graham, who placed Mr. Yelland's name in nomination, then rose to state that if Mr. Hall would stand as an independent Liberal he would work for him as he had never done in a campaign before.

Mr. Richard Hall was greeted with hearty and prolonged applause when he took the platform. He cordially thanked the electors who helped him in the last election, and hoped that Mr. Yelland's friends would assist him in the contest of the present year. His platform was the Liberal platform. If he went to parliament, he would go without a promise to anyone. He would not be bound to vote for either party. He would do what he considered his duty as a man, and hoped that this would be satisfactory to the convention. As there would be a public meeting in the evening, he would say no more, other than expressing his appreciation of the honour which had been conferred upon him as the Liberal standard bearer for West Peterborough.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., who was warmly received, was sure that the happy terminus to the afternoon's proceedings were most gratifying to all and that the riding owed Mr. Hall a debt of gratitude for accepting the nomination. It was one thing, however, to accept the nomination and another to carry the riding. It would require the utmost exertions of Mr. Hall, with the hearty support of his friends, to return him and the speaker trusted that the Liberals of West Peterborough, and others who were dissatisfied with the present Government, would unitedly put their shoulders to the wheel to return Mr. Hall as the next M. P. for West Peterborough. (Cheers.) Mr. Hall was a man who could be depended upon. He was always to be found, and not like a flea, here, there and everywhere on the same question, as best served his whim or the crack of the party whip. Mr. Hall in accepting the Liberal nomination was not bound down but would simply be returned to parliament and trusted to do what in his estimation was in the best interests of the people as a whole. If at any time his opinion did not agree with his constituents Mr. Hall, he knew, was a man who would at once return and vacate his seat in parliament. At present the country was facing a grave crisis in the deathbed scenes of the longest parliament which was ever held in Canada. The parliament was to be allowed to die by affluxion of time. The members of the Cabinet had all lost confidence in one another and the scene was often witnessed on the streets of Ottawa of a member passing his premier without salutation. This was indeed a most disgraceful state of affairs in any civilized country.

The people were groaning under a burdensome and ever-increasing debt. The annual expenses of conducting the affairs of the country were increasing to an unendable extent and they had to be raised by sweat of the brow by the Canadian people. The interest on the debt now amounted to thirteen millions annually and the balance of the money raised, to a great degree, was swallowed up in such matters as the McGreevy-Conolly and Tay Canal investigations revealed.

Over $3,000 had been stolen right here in the Peterborough Custom House, without any effort of the government towards having it made good. It was not the money of Mr. Clementi or of Mr. Stevenson which was stolen but of the people.

Mr. Robt. Rowe and Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., were represented to be the bondsmen. If this was so Mr. Stevenson laid himself open to a heavy penalty for sitting in the House under these conditions.

What effort, inquired Mr. Stratton, has the Government ever made to investigate this affair? Common rumor has it that not $3,000 but $30,000 was stolen. Mr. Clementi owed it to himself, Mr. Stevenson owed it to himself and the Conservative party of West Peterborough owed it to themselves to have a rigid investigation instituted.

In speaking on the trade issue, Mr. Stratton mentioned that it was charged, the Liberals had no set policy. He queried as to what the policy of the government was? He did not know himself, being unable to keep track of it as it changed with almost every sun.

The Liberals, he stated, were not opposed to the manufacturers but believed on the contrary, that they were necessary to the building up of this country, and were under the belief, though, that through the importation of raw material free it could be arranged that the goods could be manufactured more cheaply than at present. This was a question, however, which needed the most careful consideration. If Mr. Peter Hamilton thought that the manufacturing interests of the country would not receive careful consideration would he nominate Mr. Richard Hall? asked Mr. Stratton, and would the vast army of Liberals, whose money was tied up in manufacturing industries, be found still true to the party standard.

Concerning the Remedial Bill, Mr. Stratton pointed out that the only way of permanently settling the matter was in following Mr. Laurier's advice and appointing a commission to ascertain where the wrong lay and if wrong there was it must eventually be righted. The Roman Catholic party, he thought, owed it to Mr. Hall and the Liberal party to stand by them in the present election. In concluding, the speaker charged the Government with bringing on the Remedial discussion in order that the religious cry might be again raised, and the elections fought out on this issue. Public attention was forced to it, and the Government hoped that their misdeeds during the last five, or rather eighteen, years would be overlooked in the excitement thus aroused.

The meeting broke up with enthusiastic cheers for the Queen, Mr. Richard Hall and Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

ED. COURTNEY

P. O. Box 86. Workshop over W. Wan Factory Ashburnham.

Centuries ago, people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a more terrible thing than any of these. There is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is the commonest trouble that human beings suffer from. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing—constipation. There is no telling what it may lead to, but it is sure to lead to something bad. Its immediate effects are unpleasant in the extreme. It makes people listless, gives them headaches, makes the digestion poor, causes dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. All this merely because Nature has been imposed upon, and has been refused the little help she needed.

This little help is furnished by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. There are two remarkable things about the "Pellets." One is that they never gripe; the other that they cure permanently. There is no other medicine that does cure permanently. You can take any other medicine you like, as long as you like, and if you stop, your trouble will come back quickly, and the chances are the trouble will be worse than it was before. This isn't true of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You take them until you get yourself into perfect working order, and then you stop. You don't have to take any more "Pellets" unless after a while you do something that deranges your digestive system again. We are not guessing about these facts, and we don't ask you to take our unsupported word for it. Thousands of people have found that they are true, and have testified to them. Let the druggist who says that something else is "just as good" sell that something else to somebody else. Don't let him trifle with your health for the sake of a little more profit to himself.

KEEP THE ANIMALS SEPARATE.

Canadian and American Cattle, Sheep and Hogs Not to Be Shipped to England From Canada on the Same Vessel.

Ottawa, April 21.—(Special)—In the Senate to day Mr. Angers said that when the announcement was made that the Government had passed an order permitting the shipment of American cattle from St. John he had approved of that action, as it brought traffic to St. John and increased the carrying trade of the Canadian railways. He had understood, however, that one of the regulations attending the shipment of these cattle was that Canadian and American cattle could not be shipped in the same vessel. He had subsequently ascertained that this was not the case. The importance of this regulation would be understood when it was known that at present Canadian hams and bacon bring better prices on the English markets because Canadian animals were regarded as cleaner than American animals. If the shipment of Canadian and American cattle, hogs and sheep were allowed on the same vessels, the Canadian animals would be subjected to infection, and if disease broke out on a voyage the reputation of Canadian cattle would be lowered on the English market. He was glad to be able to announce that he had been informed by the Minister of Agriculture that the Government would at once put in force a regulation prohibiting the shipment of Canadian and American cattle on the same vessel.

Senator Ferguson explained the precautions taken by the Government in the shipment of American cattle in bond from the port of St. John to show that a minimum amount of risk was entailed in the shipment of the animals. He admitted the force of Senator Angers' observations, and said the matter had received the careful consideration of the departmnt.

THE CURLERS' CONGRESS.

April Meeting of the Ontario Curling Association in Toronto.

Toronto, April 22.

The representatives of the Ontario Curling Association met at the Walker House yesterday afternoon. Messrs. G. R. Hargraft of the Toronto Granites and T. C. Haslett of the Hamilton Thistles were appointed a credential committee, and reported the following delegates present:

Aberdeen, P. McLinckie; Belleville, W. H. Biggar; Bobcaygeon, W. T. C. Boyd; Bowmanville, D. R. Simpson; Campbellford, G. G. Eakins; Chatham, John Wright; Cobourg, G. R. Hargraft; Detroit, G. A. Matheson; Embro, G. A. Matheson; Fenelon Falls, J. D. Flavelle; Hamilton Asylum, Dr. Russell; Ham. Thistle, T. C. Haslett; Hamilton Victoria, A. Murdock; Harriston, G. G. Eakins; Keene, J. S. Russell; Lindsay, J. D. Flavelle; Meaford, J. S. Russell; Peterboro' Thistle, C. McGill; Peterboro' Granite, C. B. Edwards; St. Mary's, T. O. Robson; Sarnia, W. F. Davison; Scarboro', A. Fleming; Scarboro' Leafs, A. Thomson; Seaforth, T. S. Williamson; Stratford, T. O. Robson; Thamesville, R. Ferguson; Toronto, W. A. Wilson; Toronto Caledonian, W. D. McIntosh; Toronto Granite, W. Badenach; Whitby, Judge Dartnell; Woodstock, John Wright; Toronto Prospect Park, D. Carlyle; North Bay, J. S. Russell.

The financial statement showed a balance of $116. This is a new feature, and the good showing was greeted with applause. The annual publication was partially productive of this good result. The Executive Committee's report asked curlers to prepare for the next international match between Canada and the United States, that will likely take place in Buffalo next January.

The points competition showed a wonderful improvement in play. The scores over 30 are:

44, S. Ray, Peterboro' Thistle; 43, G. F. Hall, Wauhnushene, D. Bellegheim, Peterboro' Thistle; 42, G. Brown, J. Connal, Peterboro' Thistle; 39, G. A. Strickland, Lakefield, G. A. Little, Lindsay, A. Blade, Peterboro' Thistle; 38, W. G. Ferguson, Peterboro' Thistle; 37, J. Stranger, Peterboro' Thistle; 36, N. Reynolds, Lakefield; 35, R. Jackson, Petrolea; 34, T. Postlewaite, Lakefield; 33, J. Pentland, R. H. Kells, Adam Hall, Peterboro' Thistle; 32, J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay; 31, H. Gladman, Lindsay; C. P. Stocking, Waubaushene; R. T. White, Waubaushene; J. McClelland, Peterboro' Thistle; C. N. Brown, Peterboro' Thistle; W. Pringle, Petrolea; 30, W. J. King, St. Thomas; M. W. Kennedy, Lindsay; J. McKee, Peterboro' Thistle; R. E. Strickland, Lakefield; J. Rutherford, Peterboro' Thistle. Mr. Ray made 4 singles, 20 doubles and only 12 misses.

It was decided that hereafter the Executive Committee shall fill any vacancies that may be caused in the committee during the year. The practice of players walking and studying out their shots during match play was adversely referred to, and it was suggested that the umpire be empowered to cause the man at fault to lose his shot. The reports were adopted.

T. B. Edwards, Peterboro' Granites, was elected on the Committee of Complaints and Appeals in place of the late Thomas McCrakea.

The American Sault, Southampton and Ridgetown were received into the association.

The proposed Wilson bill, which would allow more teams in the Tankard competition, according to club membership, caused considerable discussion. Mr. W. A. Wilson of the Torontos pointed out some benefits that would come with his bill. All the outside representatives were against it for obvious reasons. Finally the motion was withdrawn.

Dr. Russell of Hamilton and Mr. Simpson were somewhat warm in their opposition. Several amendments were proposed, and it was finally agreed to leave the matter over for a year to allow all the clubs to discuss the matter.

Then President McCraw decorated the Tankard winners with medals, and the Granites got the big banner that has gone to them so often before, although they have only had one team in the contest.

WITH THE VANDERBILT MILLIONS

The Marlboroughs Will Attempt to Outshine Even the Offensive Swagger of the Ancient English Aristocrats.

New York, April 21.—Mr. Julian Ralph cables from London to The Journal:

The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough evidently intend to take the position in society to which their rank entitles them, and which by their wealth they are enabled to maintain in all its glory. The news about them to-day, both published and unpublished, comprises a greater budget than that which concerns any other persons, not excepting the Queen herself. The news which is most interesting of all follows. It appears in all the evening papers:

"Among the ladies to be presented at the forthcoming drawing-room is the young Duchess of Marlborough, whose presentation dress will exceed in magnificence anything seen at Court for many years.

"The silver and gold embroidery on the train alone is reported to be worth a small fortune."

The second in interest of the published items is the news that His Grace has accepted the presidency of the National Orthopedic Hospital, and he will presently preside at a festival dinner at the Hotel Metropole in London.

The most singular news of all, however, has not yet found its way into the papers. It drifts to London from Blenheim. It is to the effect that a great sensation has been created among the extensive force of Blenheim palace retainers over a recent edict that all men on the palace rolls must be clean shaven. It seems that there has never been any rule regarding hirsute facial adornment during this or any other recent ducal reign, consequently no order or system of style has been observed in facial fashions among the score of retainers employed in the historic halls. Of the older servitors some wore beards, some exhibited neatly cultivated sideboards and some were plain as eggs.

Among the younger retainers were many pairs of dashing military moustachios, suggestive of early days of the family when the first John Churchill surrounded himself with fighting men, who shared the perils and glory with him of the wars across the channel, but every man now is as devoid of and in some cases even more devoid the cheap luxury of hair on their faces than even the women who serve with them.

Visitors notice to eye and ear within the palace and park no sound of murmuring against the new rule, but let the tourist halt for half a day in the neighboring village of Woodstock, when from every shop and stall and public house is heard a loud echo of the servitors' complaints. It is so long since retainers have been obliged to follow the swagger custom of ancient English aristocrats of surrounding themselves with smooth faces that these isolated, rural servants actually fancy that the new rule is some strange importation from the United States, and they put all the blame on the young New York Duchess, whose glorious burst of popularity has thus become slightly dimmed.

THE BOOTHS GIVEN THE LIE.

Bramwell and the General Charge Them With Direct Falsehood.

New York, April 21.—The full correspondence between Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth and International Headquarters, relative to their retirement from the Salvation Army, has been made public. In the letter of resignation they speak of General Booth's order to farewell as "a cruel move," and say that they have lost confidence in him.

Bramwell Booth says the complaints of his brother Ballington are "unworthy of you." The Chief of Staff intimates that the Ballington Booths are actuated by selfish motives.

The General says that he endorses the letter of Bramwell Booth, and says his son cannot be justified in deserting. He says distinctly that Ballington knew that the order bidding him and Mrs. Booth to farewell had been intended for some time, and that Ballington had agreed to it 18 months ago.

THAT IMPALING CASE.

Mr. H. E. Hudson, Combermere, Severely Injured—Protruding Knot Entered the Body — Cured by One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Combermere, April 13, (Special)—Mr. H. E. Hudson, trapper, hunter and lumberman, was injured by falling on a knot which entered his body from beneath and injured the bladder and kidneys. He says:—"I was confined to my bed for six weeks and was rarely able to work, feeling too weak since the injury over eight years ago. I have taken one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly cured and as able-bodied as ever before in my life. One box was worth one hundred dollars to me, if it were possible to estimate such a benefit in dollars."

Temporary Insanity.

First Juryman—"I'll be doggone if I kin quite swaller Windworkse's 'temporary insanity plea. I don't believe there is no such thing."

Second Juryman—"Well, I believe they is. don't see whatever else could of indooced me to pull out my last nickel's worth of tobacco in this here jury room."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Speed of the Pigeon.

Experiment made with carrier pigeons in connection with various European armies show that the speed of the carrier in calm weather and for a short distance is about 1210 yards a minute. With a very strong wind in the direction of its flight the bird has reached 1380 yards a minute.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 220 eodw Delray Mich.

"How was the bride given away?" "By her complexion."—Chicago Record.

Gazley—Is it good to eat at night before going to bed? Lazbey—Be definite, man, is what good to eat?—Roxbury Gazette.

"Have those people in the other flat been married long?" "I think not; he takes naps on her best silk pillows."—Chicago Record.

"The game is up," remarked the hungry customer as he noted the advance in price of birds on the bill of fare."—Philadelphia Record.

"Poster designs are said to be often mere accidents." "Some of them must be regarded as fatal accidents, too."—Chicago Evening Post.

Teacher—Tommy, what is meant by "nutritious food?" Tommy—Something to eat that ain't got no taste to it.—Indianapolis Journal.

Mr. Boodles—You began life as a barefooted boy, I understand? New Clerk—Yes, sir; I was born without shoes.—New York Herald.

Ella—Maud is going to the masque in the character of "Night." Stella—It will be another case of making night hideous.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Drug Clerk—How will you have your soda—hot or cold? Customer—Guess I'll have it hot; haven't time to wait for it to get cold.—Roxbury Gazette.

He—Nice dog! Have you taught him anw new tricks since I was here last? She (sweetly)—Oh, yes; he will fetch your hat if you whistle!—Boston Globe.

Louise—How do you come on with that leap year proposal? Emma—I don't know yet. Harry is still examining my letters of recommendation.—Judge.

Bert—I can't think of marriage just yet; you know I'm not rich. Angelina—What difference does that make? Bert—None, providing you are.—Roxbury Gazette.

"Thou hast a pretty wit," quoth the monarch. "Aye, and a dry humor," replied the jester. Whereupon the king pushed the button.—Philadelphia Record.

"It is sad," said one girl, "that so many men nowadays have a great deal more money than brains." "Yes," sighed another; "and so little money at that."—Washington Star.

"My good fellow," said the dude to the hatter, "how's trade?" "There's really nothing in hats now-a-days," replied the hatter, trying one on the head of the dude.—Yonkers Statesman.

"Kitty, why has our French Revolution Club called an extra meeting?" "Oh, Nan, we are so bothered; we can't find out whether we've read two volumes or three."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Belle—You know Jack Giddiboy, of course; don't you think he is just out of sight? Sadie—Indeed, he is! a very personification of the old saying, "out of sight, out of mind."—Boston Courier.

Hoax—Timley went to Alaska prospecting for gold, and found lead instead. Joax—Ah! In large quantities, I suppose, and valuable. Hoax—No; in small quantities, and fatal.—Philadelphia Record.

Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Hunker—Impossible! Spratts—Well, I asked her if she had read Esop's Fables, and she said she read them when they first came out.—Home Journal.

Mamma—What do you mean by taking that piece of cake? When you asked for it didn't I say no? Tommy—You did; but last night I heard papa say that when a woman says no she always means yes.—Truth.

Dolly—I hear Mary Antique was a great belle at the dance the other evening. She told me she danced every dance. Polly—Oh, yes. Mary's just the kind of a girl to be a belle at a leap year dance.—Harper's Bazar.

She—Oh, yes; I know tht you think that woman is a silly creature whose head can be turned by mere finery. He—It is sure to be turned if some other woman passes with the mer finery on.—Indianapolis Journal.

Mrs. Greene—Of course you read all your husband's stories? Mrs. White (wife of the popular author)—Oh, dear, no! they are nothing to the stories he sometimes tell me after he has been out of an evning.—Boston Transcript.

Gadsooks—So Miss Neurasthenia is married. Her husband is a brave man, as she is one of the most nervous and restless women I ever met. Zounds—Oh, I guess it will be all right; he is a composer.—New York Tribune.

Miss Bellefield—How on earth did you come to get engaged to Willie Van Braam? Miss Point Breeze—Well, you see, just at the time he proposed I didn't happen to be engaged to any one.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Office boy—There is a man outside who wishes to see you. Business man—Didn't I give orders that I was not to be disturbed? Office Boy—Yes, sir, but this is a very mild looking man. I don't think he would create a disturbance.—Truth.

Bellefield—A cynical writer remarks that a wedding always brings happiness to two, the florist and the clergyman. Bloomfield—He forgets the father of tre bride, especially if the poor man has half a dozen other daughters on his hands.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

"The natural history class will now write down the names of twelve Arctic animals," said the teacher in monotonous tones. Little Johnnie dashed off the following and handed his slate proudly to the teacher: "Six seals, 5 polar bears and 1 walrus."—New York Sun.

Maud—I hear proposing parties are all the style this winter. The girls do the proposing and the one who proposes the best gets the prize. Have you been to any? Ethel—No; but I had a proposing party come to me the other evening. How do you like my ring?—Harpers Bazar.

Mrs. Townsend—Does your husband spend much of his time at home? Mrs. Peabody—No; he hasn't been able to in the past, but I expect that he will have a great deal of leisure after this. He has just been appointed to a public office.—Somerville Journal.

FELL DOWN THE SHAFT.

A Hero Named Carlson Found Dead at the Bottom of the Sultana Mine.

Rat Portage, Ont., April 21.—(Special)—A man named Carlson was found dead at the foot of the shaft of the Sultana gold mines this morning. It is supposed he fell from the ladder, as the men were changing shifts. A few months ago Carlson was presented with the Royal Humane Society's medal for his gallant conduct in rescuing a number of men from the burning shaft in the Sultana mine.

New Trial For Marie Barberi

A Wonderful Clock.

One of the most extraordinary mechanical wonders of the world is a clock built by a Russian Pole named Goldfadon. He was at work upon it six years. The clock represents a railway station, with all of its appointments and details carefully carried out. On the central tower is a dial which shows the time at New York, London, Warsaw and Pekin. Every quarter of an hour the station begins to bustle, telegraph operators click their machines, the station master and his assistants appear, porters bustle about with baggage and a minature train dashes out of a tunnel on one side of the platform. All the routine of a railway station is gone through, after which the train disappears into another tunnel, to reappear at the next quarter of an hour.—Popular Science News.

The "Tom" Cat's Promise.

TOM AND HIS FAMILY.

"Oh dear Papa!" three children cried,
"You promised, don't you know?
That next when you should take a ride
All three of us should go."
"I did," that father said. "You know
I never speak at random.
So get your roller-skates. We'll go Off in a touring tandem!"

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

science

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.

GREAT LIBERAL MASS MEETING.

our neighbours to the south of us; that charge was an insult to the intelligence and enterprise of Canadians (cheers). It was to say that Canadians were not as intelligent as the United States. The speaker had travelled considerably in the United States, and was sorry to see so many Canadians there, whom we had rather seen at home. What are they doing? Were they hewers of wood and drawers of water? "Not much." (cheers.) He said that you would find Canadians in the United States filling responsible positions in every department—in commerce, law, trade and divinity. In the United States Canadians came to the front. If you went into a large factory ten to one you would find a Canadian as foreman. The speaker declared that man for man the Canadian can hold his own in any country. (Cheers.) The speaker argued from this that if Canadians could go to a foreign country and push themselves to the front, that they should be able to compete, as a country, with the United States.

In regard to the charge that the removal of trade barriers would destroy all the industries of the country, the speaker pointed out that there were thriving manufactories in Canada before protection was known. The number of new industries that had sprung up under the "N. P." were comparatively few. Among them was the splendid electric works in Peterborough, but then, electricity had been commercially developed since 1878, and even this industry if it profited by protection in one way it was hindered by heavy taxes on its raw material in another way. The bicycle industry was another that had but lately become possible. Bicycles were not in demand in 1878 as they are to-day. The speaker asserted that there was not one great line of industry in existence to-day that was not in existence before 1878. We have, it is true, more establishments, but after all we have grown slowly in this respect. Canada was a manufacturing country twenty years ago. This country made a

at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876. And before the N.P. was known Canada was supplying nearly all the needs of the country in manufactures, and at the same time exporting abroad annually over four million dollars worth, and this was under a revenue tariff, and in the time of Mr. Mackenzie. What had been the progress under a protective tariff, whose modification means "ruin to our industries!" What had seventeen years of protection done? During last year our total exports of manufactures amounted to only between 7 or 8 millions. But the speaker must ask to deduct one million from this total, which though it might by some be regarded as due to the N.P., was something that he did not want to appear in a list of our exports of manufactures. This million was composed of household effects of Canadian people leaving their country for the United States. Not only were the young men and women of Canada leaving the country, but households were being broken up. We did not wish to see such items as a million dollars worth of household effects in the returns of our manufactured exports. We did not wish to boast of a trade increased in that way. The speaker related an amusing incident which he witnessed once in the House. Sir Richard Cartwright had called attention to the fact that there were evidences of the people of Canada leaving the country in undesirable numbers, and the Hon. Minister of Finance, Mr. McLellan, indignantly denied it and went into a glowing description of the happy homes of Canada — love-making, marriages and mothers rocking cradles, etc. Applying that picture to the export item of one million dollars worth of household effects, including 200 cradles, the speaker said it was a case of "Off's gone baby, and cradle and all." (Great laughter.) He didn't blame Conservatives or Liberals for being loyal and faithful to their party but we were all Canadians together and we should study what is best for the COMMON INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

The people, Liberal and Conservative, don't want any more money taken out of their pockets than is absolutely necessary. They would willingly pay all that the services of the country required but they demanded that it be spent honestly and without corruption and it was no difference, the speaker said, what party did the honest spending so long as it was done. If one party is guilty of the gravest corruption the supporters of that party, as Canadians, should not settle with their conscience by claiming that another party would be just as bad. If an employee had proven himself dishonest would a business man engage him again when his term was out? And the Government of Canada were simply the employees of the people of Canada and should be dealt with as would a dishonest employee in private life. The Liberal party had been in power before and they had not done "just the same." They had been in power in Ontario for twenty years and there was no better governed and more prosperous community in the world. (Cheers.) Give the Liberal Government a trial and if they did not do right, turn them out and repeat the process till governments would learn that the price of power was honest administration. The speaker referred with regret to the fact that scandals had cropped up that had disgraced Canada and prevented Canadians from pointing the finger of scorn at any other country. Can any Canadian show decent action in supporting the present government? The speaker then went on to illustrate the lack of honour and truth in our public men by detailing the recent quarrels in the Cabinet. Foster and the Bolters declared publicly that Bowell, their premier, was incompetent and in effect said he was a fool. Yet they had been loyal to him. The Premier also said publicly that if they had been loyal to him he could have carried on the government as as well Sir John McDonald or Sir John Thompson. Which told the truth? The speaker and in that case we had the spectacle of Ministers of the Crown publicly lying, and these same ministers had stated on several public platforms that all was peace and harmony in a cabinet that was torn with dissensions and was being wrecked by plotters. Their bolt at a time when their action implied an insult to the representative of the Queen by the impossibility of Parliament being able to return a civil answer to the Governor-General's speech, was scathingly denounced. And at a time, too, when dark war clouds hung over the Empire. When the Minister of Railways might be needed at any moment to move troops or munitions of war, where was he? Out on strike! (Cheers.) When the Minister of Militia might have been at any moment called upon to deal with our volunteers in the way of mobilization, where was he? Out on strike! (Cheers.) And these are the honourable gentlemen who make a parade of their loyalty, these are the men who are ruling honest and decent men of both political parties in Canada to-day. And Sir Charles Tupper had been added to them, and how had he strengthened the Government? The House had been fourteen weeks in session, and to absolutely no purpose, and the school boy plea was that the Opposition would not let them. Why, two months had been wasted before the Remedial Bill had been brought up, and then the government made a mighty show of anxiety to pass it by forcing all night sessions on a bill under conditions that prevented the careful consideration that it demanded. The speaker said, in its present shape we believe the bill would have done harm. It would have been of no value to the minority in Manitoba. It would have only led them into endless difficulties. It would have settled nothing. He stood with Mr. Laurier on this question for a policy of conciliative justice. If investigation showed that the minority should have relief, that relief must be given and public opinion would be brought to bear on the Manitoba Government to compel them to do what was right. Only a portion of the bill had been discussed but it was found so full of grave faults that every clause almost that had been considered had been amended and some struck out entirely. Yet this is the perfect bill that Sir Charles Tupper, to make a show of zeal, wished to force through the house without discussion. The provisions of the bill as presented would have caused endless troubles. Many of its provisions trenched on provincial rights. It required the appointment of a Catholic Board of Education by the Manitoba government, and if that government refused, as it had the power to do, the board would be appointed by the Dominion Government, which was equivalent to the establishment of a department of Education at Ottawa to deal with provincial schools. Such a state of things would cause endless friction and heartburnings. If Mr. Laurier's advice of conciliation and investigation had been followed, the question would have been settled long ago, and would not have remained to be a source of irritation and a screen, behind which the government seeks to hide its hideous record of past misgovernment.

BELIEVED THE PREMIER,

Mr. Patterson concluded a speech marked by great temperateness of statement and withal eloquent, and well-argued and convincing, by appealing to the electorate to support the candidature of Mr. Hall. He especially to be careful how they begun the exercise of their franchise. Many of them would have a vote for the first time, and they should not forget that for this privilege amongst scores of others they were indebted to the persistent advocacy and efforts of the Liberal party. He then resumed his seat amidst loud applause.

In closing the meeting, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., in a few but vigorous remarks impressed upon the electors present the fact that at much personal sacrifice Mr. Hall had accepted the nomination of the Liberal party in West Peterborough. He should have the hearty and united support of all those desirous of seeing a change in the present administration which had so mismanaged affairs at Ottawa.

COMMITTEE ROOMS.

The committee rooms, he stated, would be opened over Loch Bros.' store on Monday evening next. All those who desired to lend their assistance in the political campaign to Mr. Hall should be present at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, when the organization of committees would take place. The Liberals of West Peterborough expected this year to have the support of a large number of the Conservatives who were dissatisfied with the way in which the present Government was conducting the affairs of the country.

The speaker then called for three cheers for the Queen and the band played the National Anthem. Cheers were also given for Mr. Hall, Mr. Paterson and the Liberal leaders in the Ontario and Dominion Governments.

Diamond Dye Blacks.

Black is the most useful dye for the home as any colour can be dyed over to a black.

As it is absolutely necessary to use special dyes for different classes of goods, science has produced Diamond Dye Fast Black for Wool, Fast Black for Cotton and Mixed Goods, and Fast Black for Silk and Feathers. Each of these Blacks give the most perfect results in their special work. They are exceedingly simple and easy to use, and make rich, full Blacks that never crock or fade, and can be washed in soapsuds without the least injury to the colour. Dresses, cloaks, jackets, mens' suits, feathers, stockings, etc., etc., can be dyed a rich, full and everlasting Black with little labour and trifling expense, if the Diamond Dye Fast Blacks are used.

Beware of crude and imitation dyes that some dealers would have you buy instead of the Diamond Dyes. Ask for the "Diamond"; refuse every substitute.

PROROGATION OVER.

Seventh Parliament Wound Up at Last.

BLACK ROD STOPPED THE TALK.

His Excellency's Speech Was Unusually Brief—Sir John Carling Again in the Senate—That Goodwin Claim Must Go to Court—Ottawa Topics.

Ottawa, April 23.—(Special)—The House met again this morning at 10.30 as it did yesterday. At the very outset Mr. Martin complained that the accountant of the House had refused to pay him his indemnity before prorogation unless he produced a pair. He wanted to know by what right any officer of the House asked him how he was going to vote, for that was what a pair meant.

Mr. Speaker explained that the full indemnity could not be paid under the rule until after prorogation, but upon members paring they had been paid on the last day of the session.

Some further discussion took place and it was decided to hereafter stand by the rule and pay up only after prorogation.

A number of Government bills were put through. The Government accepted an amendment of Mr. Edgar's to the Atlantic Steamship Bill, providing that the fast line contract could not be entered into until Parliament meets again.

On motion to go into supply Mr. Davies asked Mr. Dickey whether the Government intended to refer the Goodwin claim for extras on the Soulanges canal to the courts before paying it. Mr. Dickey's remarks on a previous occasion had left that impression upon the House, but he thought a definite statement should be forthcoming.

Mr. Dickey said the impression referred to was the one he desired to leave with Parliament. His personal feelings on the matter were well known, but he could not give the pledges asked for. He could not say what his opinion might be until after he had studied the case.

Sir Richard Cartwright thought the leader of the House should assure Parliament that the claim would not be paid until the courts had adjudicated upon it.

Sir Charles Tupper could not consent to this.

Thereupon Mr. Edgar moved in amendment to the motion to go into supply that the House declare that the money in this case should not be paid until ordered by the courts.

Mr. McCarthy said it would never do to allow the Auditor-General or the Minister of Justice to be overruled by the Treasury Board and the money paid after Parliament had been dissolved. Unless the pledge of reference to the courts was given the supply bill would not leave the House to-day.

After this declaration there was a brief consultation amongst the Ministers and Mr. Dickey then rose and assured the House that Mr. Goodwin would not be paid until the courts had pronounced upon the claim.

Mr. Edgar thereupon withdrew the amendment.

In supply good progress was made.

On the electric lighting inspection item Sir Richard Cartwright urged that the inspection fee be reduced to a nominal charge. Mr. Prior said he would look into the matter.

On the postal items Mr. McMullen made a plea for better salaries for village postmasters, while Mr. McShane protested against the two-cent drop postage in cities. With the exception of a few items which were left over for further explanations all the supplementary estimates were passed.

Before the House rose Mr. Foster urged that the main estimates for three months be allowed to pass in order to avoir, if possible, the necessity for Parliament meeting in July, which would be expensive and inconvenient.

Sir Richard Cartwright said it was utterly impossible to accede to the request, it was most reasonable.

Therewith the matter dropped.

At 3 o'clock the House re-assembled and at once proceeded to concur in the supplementary estimates. Before the item of $1,000,000 for arms and ammunition was concurred in, Mr. Rinfret, seconded by Mr. Legris, moved in amendment that the item be not concurred in, but that "this House regrets that the Government, without the authority of Parliament, has entered into contracts for the purchase of arms and equipments to the amount of nearly two million dollars."

The House divided on the amendment, which was defeated by 67 nays to 35 yeas. Messrs. McCarthy and Stubbs voted with the Opposition and Mrs. Wallace with the Government.

Messrs. Edgar and Campbell having objected to the item of $7000 for deepening the entrance to the Beauharnois canal, Mr. Haggart explained that the work had been undertaken at the express request of the Board of Trade of Montreal and forwarders of the St. Lawrence, as a work of absolute necessity.

Mr. Tarte remarked that he had been lately in Beauharnois and had been informed that this expenditure was for political purposes.

Mr. Bergeron pointed out that the work which had been mostly performed during the winter, was absolutely necessary and could only be done in winter.

This Mr. Haggart corroborated, laying emphasis upon the fact that the portion of the work performed was of a nature that could only be done in winter so as not to impede navigation.

Mr. Mulock moved that the item be struck out and the debate went on. Finally Mr. Haggart arose and said that as the Opposition seemed determined not to allow the item to pass, he would withdraw the item altogether and cast upon the Opposition the responsibility of thus wilfully preventing the improvement of St. Lawrence navigation.

On the item of $200,000 for enlarging the Lachine canal, Mr. McShane raised all sorts of objections, claiming that amount was unnecessary.

Sir Donald Smith made an urgent appeal to have the vote put through, but Mr. McShane was obdurate, and being backed up by Mr. Laurier, the vote was reduced to $10,000. The remainin and the supply bill passed at 6 o'clock.

Sir Richard Cartwright wanted to know about the next meeting of Parliament and was informed by Sir Charles Tupper that it was the intention to have the new Parliament meet about the middle of July, to which Sir Richard rejoined that the elections should have been brought on a week earlier, as the Government would have trouble enough getting on without supplies in the meantime.

At the evening session five private bills, including the Chignecto Ship Railway Bill, were withdrawn and the fees ordered to be repaid. Business over, Mr. Bergeron brought up the matter of the commutation of the sentence of Valentine Shortis, upon which Mr. Tarte is making his campaign in Beauharnois. The Deputy Speaker, to place himself right with his constituents, reviewed the whole circumstances of the case and read letters to show that he was anything but favorable to the commutation, although Mr. Tarte was endeavoring to prove the contrary in Beauharnois.

Mr. Laurier made a reply by attacking the Government for having gone back upon their position, taken in regard to the sentence of Riel.

Mr. Dickey pointed out the inconsistency of both accusing the Government of failing in their duty by not advising His Excellency and charging the Government with responsibility for His Excellency's action. The responsibility was one, however, which the Government fully accepted.

While Mr. Davies was on his feet attacking the Government with might and main, rap went Black Rod's gavel on the door and the sergeant-at-arms stepped forward to announce him. But Mr. Davies kept on talking. He was bound to get in the last word and would have succeeded but that his remarks were replied to briefly by the Minister of Justice, against whom they were directed. Then came the summons to the Senate, when the final scene of the sixth session of the seventh Parliament was enacted.

THE FORMAL PROROGATION.

His Excellency's Speech Was Very Short—Sir John Carling in the Senate.

Ottawa, April 23.—(Special)—Everything has been rush and turmoil around the Parliament Buildings today. Members were crowding in their last batches of campaign literature because as soon as prorogation is over the franking privilege ceases. The other members have been busily engaged packing up their belongings and preparing to bid farewell to Parliamentary life, being morally certain that in the coming Parliament there will be more than the usual average of changes. Sir John's well-known expression of the uncertainty of horse races and elections is well remembered by the members.

Parliament prorogued at 8 o'clock this evening. Owing to the somewhat inconvenient hour there was not such a large representation of the fair sex in the Senate Chamber as heretofore. His Excellency, having taken his seat on the throne, read the following speech:

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I am glad to be able to relieve you from further attendance in Parliament. I desire to express my regret that the mission which my Government recently despatched to confer with the local authorities of Manitoba has been unproductive of any immediate result, and that the question relating to schools in that province still awaits settlement.

I thank you for the appropriation which you have made towards providing for the better arming and equipment of the militia forces of the country.

The powers with which you have endowed the commissioners appointed under the Behring Sea claims convention will, I trust, facilitate the investigations of that tribunal and hasten a just settlement of these long-standing claims.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons, I have to thank you for the supplementary provision you have made for carrying on the services of the current year.

Hon Gentlemen of the Senate:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

Inasmuch as in the opinion of my advisers it is desirable that the judgment of the people upon the questions which now engage public attention should be obtained at an early day, I have to announce my intention of causing this Parliament to be immediately dissolved.

The guns boomed once more from Nepean Point and the seventh Parliament of the Dominion was at an end.

The closing day of Parliament witnessed the disappearance from the Commons of a well-known figure in Canadian politics. Sir John Carling, who long ago announced his intention to retire from active political life, was to-day called to the Senate and took his seat in the Upper House this afternoon. Accompanying him was another member of the Commons—Thomas Temple—for many years member for York, N.B.

From this time out both parties devote themselves strenuously perfecting their arrangement for the great fight. Most of the Ministers will be here two or three weeks yet, and not until about a month before polling will the actual field work commence. Considerable organization work is yet to be undertaken by the Liberals and Conservatives. Many constituencies are yet to hold their nomination conventions, but before the Queen's Birthday the country will know pretty well who the candidates are to be.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell attended the annual banquet of the St. George's Society to-night. Replying to the toast of the Parliament of Canada, he referred in humorous terms to the session just closed. He ventured the assertion that no Parliament had sat so many hours continuously, had had so many sleepless nights, and had done so little work. (Laughter.) Referring to the progress and development of Canada, he said much had been accomplished since confederation, but much remained to be done. He spoke of the

WILL SIR OLIVER GO?

Mr. Laurier Extends to Him an Invitation

TO ENTER THE FEDERAL ARENA.

The Matter Discussed With His Colleagues in the Provincial Cabinet—If the Premier Does Not Go to Ottawa Mr. Ross Probably Will.

Toronto, April 24.

There has been of late considerable talk regarding the possibility of Sir Oliver Mowat resigning the Premiership of Ontario, and one journal has gone so far as to state that the Attorney-General has actually left the arena of provincial for that of federal politics. Sir Oliver has not resigned, however, and the paper in question, at the Premier himself observed last night, has been "using its imagination."

That Sir Oliver is still at the head of provincial affairs is, however, no proof that he will remain there, and there is a not very remote possibility that he will yet go to Ottawa. The World is fortunately in a position this morning to state exactly how matters stand in this regard.

Hon. Mr. Laurier has made the Attorney-General of Ontario an offer to enter Dominion politics as his lieutenant, and this overture Sir Oliver has been considering for some time, and is still "taking it into his serious consideration." Desirous as he is of helping Mr. Laurier, he is still a little loth to throw up a sure thing in Ontario for the shadow of office at Ottawa.

This offer of the Dominion Opposition leader's the Premier has submitted to his colleagues, and no small amount of the time spent in session by the Ontario Cabinet lately has been devoted to a discussion of the advisability of his accepting it. The question was discussed at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, but when the council rose at 5 o'clock Sir Oliver had arrived at no decision.

The Premier will not give Mr. Laurier an answer to his invitation this week, but he may be expected to finally accept or refuse it before Wednesday next.

In the event of Sir Oliver going to Ottawa, he will not likely be asked to contest a seat for the Commons. According to Mr. Laurier's proposal, the Attorney-General will resign the Premiership, and throw the weight of his influence into the Dominion campaign. Then, if the Liberals succed to power, Sir Oliver will be called to the Senate, and take a portfolio in Mr. Laurier's Cabinet.

Hon. G. W. Ross has also been invited to Ottawa, but has not yet decided whether he will go or not. If Sir Oliver accepts Mr. Laurier's offer, Mr. Ross will not, but if Sir Oliver does not Mr. Ross probably will.

If Sir Oliver leaves Ontario politics, Hon. Mr. Hardy will become Premier and Attorney-General.

No matter what decision is arrived at, Sir Oliver, Hon. Mr. Ross and other Ontario Cabinet ministers will actively assist the Liberals in the pending contest.

SKIN GRAFTED FROM HER SISTER.

Minnie Cotter's Life Will Be Saved Through the Courage of Maggie—A Young Woman's Only Chance.

New York, April 23.—There was a splendid example of sisterly devotion and courage at the General Hospital, in Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday, when Maggie Cotter, a young girl of 16, submitted to the process of having pieces of skin cut from her body to be grafted on to places where her older sister, Minnie, had been burned. The girls now lie in the hospital, side by side.

Maggie and Minnie Cotter live at 253 Pine-street. Minnie was burned nearly a year ago. She was at that time employed as a servant in the home of Policeman Scully, in East Eighty-ninth street, this city. Her dress caught fire from a gas stove in the kitchen and in a moment she was all flames. Before they were extinguished she was severely burned about the waist and hips.

An aunt of the girl's had Minnie taken to St. Peter's Hospital, in Brooklyn, where she remained until last Wednesday, when she returned to her home in Elizabeth. At St. Peter's Hospital the physicians told Minnie she could not hope to recover until the skin from a healthy person should be grafted upon her. Her sisters volunteered, and Maggie was yesterday the first to undergo the ordeal.

Dr. Victor Mravlag, surgeon of the hospital, took charge of the case. Maggie was put under the influence of ether and the surgeon's knife soon removed the pieces of skin from her body, which were at once transplanted to the sister's body.

Dr Mravlag found it would endanger the life of the devoted sister to remove enough skin for the entire grafting, so he sent word to two other sisters and her brother. They at once consented, and will take their places on the operating table, one after the other, until the body of their sister, where it was burned, is covered and her life saved. This will take several weeks. When the operation is finished Maggie will be covered with skin taken from every member of her family except her mother.

THROAT CUT WITH AN AX.

The Peculiar Accident Which Happened at a Barn Raising.

Brockville, April 23.—Two Elizabethtown township farmers, named Warren and Hill, attended a barn raising near Jelly Crossing. Warren was holding a timber while Hill scored it with a broadax. While in the act of making a stroke, the head flew off the ax and struck Warren fairly in the throat, making a terrible gash and exposing the windpipe. It was thought the man would die before medical assistance could be summoned from North Augusta, a town about eight miles away.

The patient lived through the night, but it is not likely he can recover.

An Attractive Window.

Mr. A. Clegg's window to-day displays a very handsome bedroom suite with tables, chairs, etc., and a very pretty secretary, all in native birch. The panels and prominent parts are of selected wood, and the effect is very artistic and pleasing. The style of the furniture, especially the bedstead, is quite new.

THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

The Liberals of West Peterborough made a splendid selection when they unanimously nominated Mr. Richard Hall as their candidate, and they were fortunate in Mr. Hall's frank and manly acceptance of the responsibility. He is a candidate of whom any party may well be proud, and who can be worked for with enthusiasm; one whose candidature will be aggressive and not defensive. He is a gentleman of honour, uprightness and integrity. He is a business man of wide experience and exceptional ability. He has made a success of his own business and as a representative he will be an excellent adviser to a business government such as will be placed in power for the next five years. A man that manages his own business affairs successfully will be most likely to make a good representative for the management of the affairs of the people, as a man that makes ducks and drakes of his own business or other peoples money would be a fitting supporter of a Government that has made ducks and drakes of the public business and the people's money.

Mr. Hall is quiet, retiring, reserved and unostentatious, but at the bottom he is possessed of sterling qualities, entitling him to complete confidence, either in a private or public capacity. He is in accord with the excellent policy and platform of the Liberal party, but he has an independence of character that will not permit him to support any government, by whatever name, that pursues a course which Mr. Hall thinks is not in the public interests, Mr. Hall is entitled to the unanimous support of the Liberal party. At the last election, at considerable self sacrifice, he carried the Liberal banner, and though he was not successful in placing it at the front he made a good fight and is entitled to the hearty support of the party on the present occasion. He is entitled also to the support of all who desire to see in this country a return to honest administration of public affairs. He may be counted on to discountenance all extravagant expenditure. He has discharged with fidelity and with discretion and prudence large trusts and is eminently fitted for discharging the highest trust in the gift of the people—that of representative. He is entitled to general support, not merely because he is a Liberal, and the supporter of a policy that will be administered in the interests of the people, but because he is a man to be trusted, a man of unimpeached honour, who never will pursue a course either inside or out of Parliament that will cause the people to blush when the name of their representative is mentioned. The present is a grave period in the history of this country; it is a time when the best available man of every riding should be sent to Parliament, and in Mr. Richard Hall the electors of the West Riding have a chance of sending a representative who will discharge his trust faithfully and not make it a medium for the gratification of self-seeking and office-grabbing. He is of independent means, and being independent in character—his sole motive will be to worthily represent one of the best constituencies in Canada, and he will only seek to serve his own interests as they will be served by advancing the interests of the riding and the country.

THE DUTY OF THE ELECTORS

The Canada Presbyterian, alluding to the recent denunciation of the behaviour of the members of the House of Commons by the Montreal Ministerial Association, says that "after all it should be remembered that Parliament is merely a reflection of the people." Upon this theory then, the people are responsible for the disgraceful scenes that have occurred in the closing days of the late session, and in a sense responsible for the misgovernment that has characterised the sixth parliament of the Dominion of Canada. But plainly the responsibility of the people lies in the direction of seeing that members of the late parliament who have subserviently supported a Government which has so grievously misgoverned the country, are not returned again to betray the electorate, and that candidates who are in sympathy with the Government are not permitted to have an opportunity of supporting the present incompetent and dishonest Government. The electors of the West Riding have an opportunity of pronouncing for clean, efficient government by supporting Mr. Richard Hall, the candidate of the Liberal party, a gentleman with an unstained record, upright, straightforward and honest, worthy in every way of representing the honest electors of West Peterborough.

THREE phases of the recent experience of the Dominion Cabinet—ruction, reconstruction and—the people will attend to this—destruction.

THE Toronto Telegram says: "When Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., appears before a Toronto audience, he will wonder whether he is the prospective Premier of Canada upholding the policy of Remedial legislation or Dr. Nansen breathing the crisp atmosphere of the North Pole."

AMONG the many changes and changes of their ministerial life—the Cabinet shuffles—there has been a failure to eliminate the worst elements, which have been strengthened by the addition of Sir Charles Tupper. Now the dying shuffle, which involves the retirement of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, deprives the cabinet of all the political respectability, with one or two exceptions, which it possesses.

PUBLIC opinion of the infamous treatment extended Sir Mackenzie Bowell is pretty accurately reflected by the generous remark of Sir Richard Cartwright:—every one "is prepared to grant the fullest consideration to the Prime Minister. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, whatever his faults may have been, appears to have acted straightforwardly under very difficult circumstances"—and this remark is as applicable to-day under the circumstances of his retirement, as it was at the time it was uttered.

Mrs. Benj. Scott, Van Horn, Ont., says: "My heart caused me great uneasiness, my appetite failed and I became very weak and discouraged. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made me all right; I feel well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

THE PUBLIC DEBT INCREASING.

Canada Farmer's Sun.

Among the items of Senate expenses under the head of stationery last year were the following:

84 atlases	$137 97
20 dozen ivory cards	13 30
12,000 visiting	20 09
7 dozen card cases	61 32
78 leather date stands	341 81
7 dozen desk knives	13 64
14 dozen diary cases	114 93
7 dozen diaries	22 66
7 dozen inks	36 79
7 dozen inks tidal	18 39
7 dozen inkstands	220 75
84 leather desks	602 24
7 dozen letter cases	156 37
84 ivory pencils	70 00
8 dozen silver pencils	194 57
84 fountain pens	126 00
10 dozen pocket knives	135 42
7 dozen purses	119 56
12 dozen scissors	6 58
8 dozen scissors (sheath)	74 40

And the public debt increases.

Yet who can tell why Senators should every year be presented with scissors and knives and purses and letter cases and inkstands and desks? These are not perishable commodities that cannot be used from year to year. Once in a lifetime is too often for them to receive some of these etceteras.

THE STRUGGLE STILL GOES ON.

When the Cuban Rebels Win the Spaniards Suppress the Details.

Havana, April 23.—Rebels have captured Cruces, an important town near Santa Clara. The Spanish troops remained within the forts about the town apparently afraid to venture forth to attempt to repulse the insurgents. The latter, after entering the place, set fire to the houses of several well-known supporters of the Government. They also looted a number of stores owned by Spaniards, securing supplies of provisions and clothing.

Narcisso Lopez, the rebel leader who was killed in a recent engagement near Santa Clara, was an American citizen. Complete details of this engagement are withheld by the Government, and this fact leads to the belief that the Spanish troops were defeated.

Dr. Pina and his wife were arrested a few days ago at Santa Fe, Province of Pinar Del Rio. They were brought to this city and thrown into the dungeons of Morro Castle. The charge against them is that they aided and abetted the rebels by attending the sick and wounded insurgents, Dr. Pina as a physician and his wife as a nurse.

WINIFRED WINTERS' RELATIVES.

A Sensational Case in the Surrogate Court at Buffalo

Buffalo, N.Y., April 23.—Surrogate Marcus had a sensational case before him to-day. Canadian relatives of Winnifred Winters, who died in this city about a year ago, leaving an estate of $25,000, without a will, made the charge in court that George A. Winters, the supposed husband of the deceased, is not her husband and never was. They also charge that a supposed daughter, a Mrs. Busch, is not a daughter.

Marshall, Clinton and Rebadow represent the Winters, who by law are entitled to the estate if they are the next of kin to the deceased. Ex-Surrogate Stern is attorney for the contestants. But little testimony was taken to-day. It was to show that the old man and his daughter are the rightful heirs. A baptismal certificate of the daughter was exhibited.

The contestants will endeavor to show that the daughter is an illegitimate child. An adjournment was taken until next Tuesday to enable the Winters to procure more witnesses.

A Glorious Age in Which We Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as "Maltine with Coca Wine."

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions, and sustains the vital forces until, by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health is renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

FROM OSMAN DIGNA'S CAMP.

The Report That 100 Dervishes Were Killed in the Recent Fight Confirmed.

Suakim, April 23.—An Arab who has reached here from Osman Digna's camp at Herasab says that he saw a hundred wounded Dervishes there, and confirms the report that more than 100 of the enemy were killed in the recent fight. The Dervishes are urging upon Osman Digna to withdraw to Thamiamkhor, owing to the scarcity of food. He has despatched camelmen to the Khalifa asking for instructions. Several of the subsidized Sheikhs have been reduced in rank for failing to support the Egyptian troops.

A Little Incident at Washington, After Which Blood Flowed.

Washington, April 23.—Representatives Hall (Dem., Mo.), and Monroe (Dem., Tenn.), got into an altercation in the room of the House Committee on Naval Affairs this afternoon, which quickly resulted in the use of force. Both men threw inkstands at each other. Monroe was hit on the back of the head, sustaining an ugly gash, from which the blood flowed copiously. He was removed to the barber shop and his wounds dressed.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success.

The woman who hesitates is invited to send 21 one-cent stamps to cover only the cost of mailing a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which contains plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions.

A SKATER LOST HER LIFE.

The Body of a Girl or Woman Floats Ashore on Galoupe Island.

Watertown, N.Y., April 23.—The body of a girl or woman, with skates attached to the shoes, floated ashore on Galoupe Island, about 12 miles from Henderson Harbor, Tuesday. There were three rings on the fingers and some of the teeth had been filled. The body was badly decomposed, and was buried in a shallow grave on the island, to await action by the coroner. It is believed to be the remains of Miss Myrtle France, aged 18, who was drowned while skating near her home at Minetto, Oswego County, Nov. 10.

Mrs. M. says: "My daughter was pale, languid and unable to stand any exertion. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made her strong and gave her colour. 50 doses, 25 cents. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

BAD BLOOD.

Bad blood courses through the veins and arteries just the same as good blood does, but good blood carries with it health, while bad blood distributes diseases throughout the whole body.

Good blood means vigor. Bad blood sows the seed of scrofula, ulcers, abscesses, boils, blotches, skin diseases, and almost all the ills that flesh is heir to. To get health we must cure the bad blood, and is Burdock Blood Bitters, which removes all impurities from the blood by its action on the stomach, liver and bowels, thus carrying off all morbid and effete matter, and purifying, cleansing and healing every organ of the body.

Rich Red Blood is thus created, which is a guarantee of health and happiness.

A Woman Of Refinement

INSISTS THAT THINGS SHALL LOOK WELL

She certainly insists on a good tone as a first requisite in a Piano, but other things being equal she prefers a Piano that looks well to one that doesn't. As Mason & Risch Pianos sound well, last well and look well, they usually receive the preference in the homes of the cultured, where tone and design are both considered from the standpoint of art.

You can recognize a Mason & Risch Piano almost as soon as you enter a room by the quiet elegance of its appearance.

AROUND THE WORLD.

An Attempt to Telegraph 24,000 Miles

TO BE MADE BY CHAUNCEY DEPEW

By Means of One Continuous Current Generated at Niagara Falls—All Cables Will Be Cleared For the Greatest Test of Advanced Electricity.

New York, April 23.—Chauncey M. Depew expects to perform on May 7 the greatest triumph of modern electrical science. He expects to rival the famous first telegraph message "What hath God wrought," with an epigrammatic sentence that is to be sent around the world by a current of electricity generated by the power of Niagara Falls.

For many days Mr. Depew has been studying over what is to be heralded as his greatest epigram. It must not be more than a dozen words in length, and it must express the master thought of a master mind. All this famous talker's eloquence, all his learning and all his ready wit must be concentrated in the one sentence.

The object of sending this message is to demonstrate the triumph of electricity over distance. Telegraph wires and cables reach now to nearly all parts of the world, and some of them make single jumps of hundreds of miles, but everywhere throughout the telegraph and cable system there are unavoidable relays, and messages are often repeated before they reach their destination.

With the power of Niagara Falls the greatest electric power in the world is generated for the purpose of distributing it to many points. Electricians have said that long-distance transmission of electricity is impossible. Nicola Tesla said he would prove that it was possible, and the Niagara Power Company backed him with millions of dollars.

The wonderful exposition of all the newest things in electricity opens in Madison Square Garden May 4, and the electric power generated at Niagara Falls will be transmitted to New York on ordinary telegraph wires of the Western Union Company. It will be made to demonstrate that 475 miles is comparatively nothing for electricity to jump.

Then Dr. Depew will make the great trial of sending one continuous current around the world, or as nearly around the world as the cable lines will permit. His message, addressed to either E. D. Adams or F. W. Hawley of the Niagara corporation, will be telegraphed from Madison Square Garden over 24,000 miles of cable and be received again in the same room, accompanied by the certificates of telegraph managers at the various points of land it touches. The electric tour will be over in a very few minutes, but just how long it is impossible to say.

The message leaving New York will go over the Western Union cable to Pensance, England, thence onward to Lisbon, and underneath the Mediterranean Sea, coming to dry land again at Suez, to run along the famous canal, and then diving under the Red Sea to emerge at Aden. There, borne along by the power of the Niagara, it will pass under the Indian Ocean to Bombay, across India to Madras, and under water again to Singapore, on the Malay peninsula. The next place it will be heard of is in a desolate spot on the northern shore of Australia, and then in Melbourne and Sydney.

If there was a cable under the Pacific Ocean, Dr. Depew's epigram could make a circuit of the world complete by a long dive under the sea to San Francisco; but that cannot be done. So the message will rebound on its trail, and by running along the east coast of Africa reach Cape Town. Then it will jump to Lisbon again and start across the Atlantic Ocean to Pernambuco, Brazil. South America will be the last continent touched, and with one more flash under the seas it will be back in New York.

"Dr. Depew was selected to send this message," said Mr. Hawley yesterday, "because his fame has spread throughout the world more, perhaps, than that of any living American. We concluded, too, that if he could not clear the track for a grand flying tour of the world then no one else could. The various telegraph and cable companies have generously entered into the project, and the message will demonstrate the great power of electricity in this direction."

TWO LIVES EXTINGUISHED.

Both Were Wife Murderers and the Method Was Electrocution.

Sing Sing, N.Y., April 23.—There was a double execution at the State prison here this morning. The victims were Louis P. Hermann and Charles Pustolka, both of New York City, both Germans and both wife murderers. Hermann shot and killed his wife during a quarrel on July 17, 1895, and Pustolka stabbed his spouse to death on Aug. 28 last, because he suspected her of infidelity.

Hermann was brought into the electrocution chamber at 11.16 and at 11.17.30 the current was shot through his body. After 50 seconds it was turned off and Dr. Irvine, the physician, made an examination, as a result of which he announced that the man was not dead. At 11.19 the current was again turned on at full force for five seconds. Another examination was made by Dr. Irvine, followed by the other doctors present, and at 11.21 Hermann was pronounced dead.

At 11.43.20 the signal was given by Dr. Irvine, and the current was applied for 50 seconds. After a little more than a minute it was turned on again for five seconds, and at 11.46 the doctors declared the second victim dead. Both executions were pronounced entirely successful.

Sawing Wood.

A TORONTONIAN OF 85 YEARS WHO CAN STILL HANDLE A BUCKSAW.

To find a man of 85 sawing and splitting wood without any trouble would surprise most of us to whom such vigorous exercise is—to say the least—distasteful, but to bear the circumstances under which it took place but increases the wonder.

"Our representative visited Mr. John Clyne, 174½ Sackville st., City, a sufferer from kidney trouble for the past 10 years, having undergone two operations during that time. Mr. Clyne was for some 30 years engaged in the express and cartage business for such well-known firms as Swan Bros., Hugh Miller, J.P., Wm. Rennie, etc., and having been a resident of Toronto for 50 years, is well known. Mrs. Clyne was interviewed at their residence and said: 'Mr. Clyne was in a very bad state, his urine almost black with sediment and he was expecting to have another operation such as he had before. The pain in his back was at times very severe and kept him from doing any work. Mr. Clyne got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. R. Lee's drug store and was relieved from the first dose; the urine is now clear, no trouble or burning sensation, and to-day you would say that although 85 years old, he has taken on a new lease of life.' Mrs. Clyne then took our reporter to the yard, and to his surprise found Mr. C. sawing wood for over Sunday. He emphatically endorsed every word Mrs. Clyne had said. 'From the very first they did me good; I am well known here and you can use my name as reference. Two weeks ago I expected to be operated on, perhaps to die—to-day I am well and strong, better than I have felt for a score of years.'"

YOUNG FISHER DIED AS A HERO.

Run Down by a Locomotive While Attempting to Save a Young Lady's Life.

Pottsville, Pa., April 23.—Charles Fisher, aged 18 years, of Frackville, met a tragic death last night while saving the life of a young lady. Fisher, in company with Miss Williams of Gilberton, and two male companions, was walking on the Reading Railroad. The party stepped from in front of an engine to the other track and in front of another locomotive. The party saw their danger and Fisher's two companions jumped safely aside. Miss Williams was but a few feet from the engine when Fisher pushed her safely off the track, but lost his own life. He was ground to death under the wheels of the engine.

Get Ready For South Africa.

London, April 23.—A detachment of the King's Royal Rifles stationed at Dover, and the Irish Rifles quartered at Brighton, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to South Africa.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

A Millionaire Suicides.

Cleveland, O., April 23.—The mysterious disappearance of Patrick O'Donnell, a wholesale and retail butcher, who had been missing for several weeks, was cleared up this morning when his body was found floating in the lake at the foot of Twelfth-street. It is supposed that O'Donnell committed suicide while his mind was deranged. D'Donnell's fortune is estimated at $1,000,000.

WINNIPEG EXHIBITION.

Winnipeg, April 23.—(Special)—Ratepayers voted to-day on the by-law granting the loan of $30,000 dollars to the Exhibition Association. The by-law received more than the necessary proportion of the votes cast, and will be, therefore, ratified.

importance of England and other colonies coming closer together. He did not yet know if he would go to England as Canada's representative at the conference on the Pacific cable question, but, whoever went, he would seek to impress upon them the great importance of that project.

Mr. Committant, who is to govern the Island of Anticosti, for Mr. Menier, the new proprietor, was here to-day and had an interview with Messrs. Tupper, Costigan and Caron, regarding customs arrangements on the island and the mail connection therewith. Mr. Committant offers to carry the mails between Quebec and Anticosti free.

Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen will spend two or three weeks in England and Scotland during the summer. Their Excellencies will probably leave shortly after the opening of Parliament in July, returning to Canada to fill a number of engagements in Ontario in September.

Major Bliss, assistant deputy adjutant-general, has retired from the command of the Ottawa Field Battery.

St. Joseph's (R.C.) Church was ransacked by burglars last night.

Mr. Richard Score, merchant tailor, Toronto, will be returning officer for Centre Toronto, and Mr. John Wilson has been selected for East Toronto.

There is little new to record in the political situation to-night. Neither the Premier nor Sir Charles Tupper will say anything for publication. Important developments are expected in a few days.

Only one vacancy in the Senate is unfilled—that caused by the death of Senator Kaulbach.

Their Excellencies to-day received many telegrams of congratulation from England and elsewhere on Lady Aberdeen's miraculous escape from drowning in the Gatineau river yesterday. Capt. Sinclair, Governor-General's secretary, is coming in for many encomiums for his exertions in rescuing the Countess.

Mrs. White, wife of the Speaker, held an informal reception this afternoon, which was attended largely by the members of Parliament.

Stick Out YOUR TONGUE!

What for?
Because it may save your life!
How?

It is the barometer that indicates the state of your health by its shapes, coatings and colors.

For example?

Well, a pointed tongue indicates irritation and disorder in the stomach and bowels.

The full broad tongue shows want of proper digestive action.

The dry, pinched tongue is the tongue of acute disease.

The fissure tongue proves inflammatory action of the kidneys.

A dry tongue is evidence that the stomach and intestines cannot do much digestive work.

Coating of the tongue is the result of intemperate eating and drinking. The Liver is deranged.

The broad, pallid tongue shows a want of alkaline elements in the blood. It is a danger signal.

The deep red tongue, generally dry, shows acid.

Dryness always indicates nervousness, and diseases of the nerve centres.

Extreme moisture shows the reverse.

Be your own doctor. Examine your tongue. It will show you whether or not you are in condition to stand spring weather changes.

If you are not almost any desease may strike you down. Get in condition at once by using the latest and best spring medicine

The Gilhooleys.

James Gorman, who for the past dozen years has invented about all the spectacular effects in minstrelsy, has written a musical comedy entitled "The Gilhoolys Abroad," and this vehicle of fun will be the attraction at the Opera House to-morrow. A good company of singers and dancers accompany the Messrs. Gorman, and the boys themselves will introduce new specialties. Id

Among the Oddfellows.

About a score of the members from Havelock Lodge, I.O.O.F., came up last evening to town and paid a fraternal visit to Peterborough Lodge, the famous degree team of which conferred the first degree upon half a dozen Havelock applicants. Other degrees were also conferred. During the evening Bro. Hooper served refreshments.

To-Night's Lecture.

Attention is drawn to the lecture of the Provost of Trinity University, this evening on "George Elliott" in St. John's school house. This is a popular lecture on a popular subject. It has been received with enthusiasm in Toronto, and it is to be hoped that the reading portion of our community will avail themselves of an unusual opportunity. At the conclusion of his lecture the Provost will give some information concerning Trinity, its work and prospects. Any balance above expenses will be divided between the Trinity Educational fund and that for building the new school house.

A Grand Concert Next Wednesday.

The coming appearance of Miss Beverley Robinson and her Canadian Concert Company, is creating much interest, both from a social and musical point of view. Of Miss Robinson and her family, who represent many names distinguished in Canadian history, so much is known that little need be said, except that after a most successful musical career in London, where her exquisite voice made her one of the leaders in musical gatherings of London society, she is enjoying a stay in Canada with her relatives, but will in the autumn go on an extended tour with one of the greatest prima donnas of the day, with whom she has received a most flattering engagement. Gifted and accomplished herself, she is on her present tour assisted by two talented and charming artistes in Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, daughter of the Hon. Mr. Justice Street, solo violinist, who was on tour with the Damrosch orchestra, and Miss Ada E. S. Hart, solo pianist, who has lately returned from a course of study in Germany, and whose playing is remarkable for its brilliancy and charm. Mr. Robertson Wallace, the tenor of the company, has been in Canada only a short time and it is said that his voice is unrivalled for sweetness and quality among Canadian tenors. Mr. Thos. Dunn, Peterborough's favourite baritone, will also appear, singing several duets with Miss Rodinson. Miss Beverly Robinson and her company will give a concert in Bradburn's Opera House, on Wednesday, April 29th. The seats are now on sale at Ormond & Walsh drug store.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The Conservative Preparations for a Nomination.

The West Peterborough Conservative Association will meet to-night for the purpose, as announced, of electing officers of the Association for the current year, and also to consider names to be submitted to the nominating convention, the date of which will probably be fixed at to-night's meeting.

Last night a preliminary caucus of the party was held at the offices of Messrs. Hall & Hayes, to consider the question of a possible candidate. It is understood that the names discussed were those of Messrs. James Stevenson, James Kendry, T. E. Bradburn and R. M. Dennistoun. The latter, however, is out of the running. He flatly refused to become a candidate, his intention being to visit the Old Country this summer. But he has, with a commendable loyalty to his party, postponed the date of his departure till June 27th when the elections will be over.

It is generally surmised that Mr. Stevenson will not be favourably considered, his record as a representative in the past has not been such as to reflect credit upon either himself or West Peterborough. His vote on the Remedial Bill will, it is said by some Conservatives who are opposing his candidature, alienate the sympathy of a large section of the Conservative party. His appointment of his son-in-law to the Customs and the deplorable consequences of that appointment; his appointment of his son to the position of Customs Collector against the understood wishes of the party; his double dealing with the local Conservatives, consisting in his request for advice as to the appointment of a returning officer, and the making an appointment other than that he was advised to make, have combined to put him practically out of the race, in the opinion, expressed on the streets to-day, of those opposed to his re-nomination.

The names most likely to be submitted to the convention are, therefore, Mr. James Kendry and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, with the probability of Mr. Kendry finding favour with the convention; but it is understood that neither of these gentlemen will accept if urged, and that, while one may withdraw, both names will be submitted to the convention.

A SENSATIONAL ELOPEMENT.

The Young Couple Come to Peterborough—The Police Scare Them Out.

The little town of Uxbridge was the scene of an elopement the other day when pretty little Anna Jackson, aged 16, ran away with George Roberts, a man of about 30. The young lady is described as being the belle of Uxbridge, and one whose charms are well-nigh irresistible. Roberts was a clerk in a drygoods store, and held a fairly good position, but was forbidden the house by the fair Anna's father. The young couple, it seems, could not stand the separation, and accordingly eloped on Friday evening last.

Tickets were taken to Blackwater, and from there to Peterborough. On the same train was Chief Reesel, who sized up the situation very quickly, and when the pair got off the train here he followed them up Charlotte street to Water, down Water to King, along King to George, and down George to Charlottee again, where they retraced their steps to the White House.

Al this manœuvreing was enough to make the Chief very suspicious and he followed the two into the White House and frightened the young man away from the girl for the night. In the morning they went to Omemee and spent Sunday.

On Monday morning they proceeded to Lindsay, and the same evening Anna returned to Omemee alone, Roberts remaining to look up employment. In the meantime Constable Frankish—an old friend of the young lady's father—arrived in Lindsay, and hearing of Anna's whereabouts, left for Omemee. On arrival there he speedily located the young girl, and elicited the information that her partner in the flight was in Lindsay. Frankish thereupon telegraphed Chief Bell to arrest him, and returned with Anna to Lindsay. After securing her comfortable quarters at the Benson house he arrested Roberts. He was taken to the lockup by Chief Bell a few minutes later. He took the affair very coolly, and said it was all a mistake.

The erring couple were taken back to Uxbridge on Wednesday night.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

No More Rubbish to be Dumped into the Goose Pond.

At a meeting of the Board of Health, yesterday afternoon, a complaint was received from Mr. A. C. Herridge regarding the depositing of filth on Water street.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Robert Innes, it was decided "that no one be allowed to deposit rubbish of any kind or cleanings from yards in the gully on Water street, between Dublin and Antrim streets, or east of the Huffman House or the east end of Simcoe street, and that the Medical Health Officer have notices to this effect posted at the different places and that the Sanitary Inspector's see that it is enforced." A copy of the resolution will be sent to the Town Council.

On motion of Mr. Adam Hall and Dr. Burnham it was resolved that the Sanitary Inspector be instructed to see that the law requiring closets and yards to be cleaned before May 15th is strictly enforced.

The Medical Health Officer reported a case of scarlet fever, in which medical attendance had not been summoned and the case not reported to him. On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Adam Hall a resolution was passed, urging the strict enforcement of the law requiring householders to report infectious cases.

MR. R. A. MORROW MADE RETURNING OFFICER.

WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT'S GAME?

What is to be Gained by Setting Aside Sheriff Hall?—He is Generally Regarded as Ex-officio Entitled to the Office—Why Then is an Extreme Partisan Appointed?—Is the Government Seeking an Undue Advantage?

The Dominion Government are fighting for their lives and may be trusted—as they can (be in no other respect—to use every means, fair and foul—especially foul—to retain their grip on power and the spoils of power. They may be depended upon to degrade the sacred privilege of the franchise to their own ends.

They have made the first step in this riding by the appointment of a partizan Returning Officer.

Mr. R. A. Morrow, who has all his life been an active Tory partisan, has been selected by the Government to act as Returning Officer for West Peterborough in the coming election.

Why has the position been taken from Mr. Sheriff Hall, who has performed the duties of returning officer since his appointment, and who is regarded generally as ex-officio the proper person for returning officer?

Is he supplanted in order that a Conservative partisan, and a friend of the Government, may be placed in a position that requires the utmost impartiality?

Can it be that there will be an attempt to stuff the ballot boxes, or take some undue advantage?

Sheriff Hall has heretofore efficiently and fairly discharged the duties, and is familiar with the work, and, according to an unwritten law, by virtue of his office, entitled to receive the appointment of deputy returning officer.

There must be some occult reason why an efficient and experienced gentlemen should be set aside and supplanted by a government favourite, a gentleman with no experience in the important work of handling the vote of the people, and withal, a partisan of the party in power, and an active campaign worker in certain departments of campaign operations.

The public would like to know, what is the governments game?

It may be sworn that their game is to work something to the government's own interests, and anything in the government's interest, it may be sworn is not in the people's interest.

It can't be that the petty emoluments of the officer are intended to be tendered as a favour to the newly elected officer—he is above any petty consideration as that; there is a deeper object and the progress of the campaign will disclose it.

It is unworthy of a government, having the slightest claim to decency and respectability, but it is the only thing possible to be placed to the credit of the government, that they make no claim to decency and respectability in their official capacity.

What is the government's game in West Peterborough?

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

About eighteen or twenty members of Auburn Lodge, I.O.G.T., paid a fraternal visit to City Lodge last night, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The chair was taken by Mr. Jas. Stubbs, P.D.G., C.T., and the following impromptu programme given:

ONTARIO ROAD COMMISSIONER.

Sir Oliver Mowat has written the following reply to a letter asking him for information as to the duties of the new Roads Commissioner:—"The proposition entertained by the Government does not contemplate the expenditure of any money whatever by the municipalities. The work of the commissioner will be entirely educative in its character. It is proposed that during certain months of the year he shall collect in this country and in foreign countries such information as shall be available regarding what is being done elsewhere for the improvement of highways. He will also prepare any literature which it may be considered desirable to distribute in reference to this subject. In addition to this it is proposed that the Commissioner shall meet personally with road overseers and with the members of township, town and village councils with the view of discussing the best methods of improving the ordinary highways. It is also proposed that wherever an opportunity is afforded he shall superintend a section of a road as a sort of pattern or ideal towards which overseers may work. The Minister of Agriculture has always firmly refused to entertain the idea of making any radical changes in legislation as to the labour employed on the roads, or to give countenance to any scheme of taxation such as has been proposed by some who have discussed the matter. The theory of the Government is that we ought at present to work along the lines of educating the people as to how they may, through the present system, better utilise the labour now employed in road-making."

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 20—The cattle market is demoralised, owing to the irregularity of the British market. There has been practically no buying of cattle for export yet, and but very little space on the boats has been engaged. There were about 600 head of butchers' cattle, 500 calves, twenty-five sheep and twenty lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were present in large numbers, and trade was brisk, but the prices of cattle were more than a quarter of a cent per pound lower than they were last week. The highest price paid during the early part of the week did not exceed 3¼c per lb, although a few choice animal sold for more. Pretty good stock sold at from 3 to 3¼c per lb. A large calf some 3 months old sold for $12. The others sold at from $1 to $6 each. Sheep sold at from 2¾ to 3c per lb, and lambs at from $3 to $4.50 each. Fat hogs sell at about 4¼c per lb.

THE LADIES' MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

We congratulate the ladies of St. Paul's church upon the success of the convention of delegates of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, which they have so handsomely entertained and which came to a conclusion yesterday. It was a problem of no small magnitude to comfortably install in temporary houses at this house cleaning season, an influx of over three hundred strangers, and it is much to the credit of the local management that it was so successfully accomplished. No doubt the visitors, who seemed to be of the happy, appreciative kind, helped to make the duty a pleasant one. All the same, the strain upon the resources of the managing ladies, though cheerfully performed, must have been great and they and those who opened their homes so hospitably to the strangers, deserve credit for the results, which, from the expressions of the departing guests, were evidently all that could be desired. We congratulate the delegates upon the admirable spirit in which their deliberations were conducted, and the despatch with which the business of the convention was conducted. In both of these respects the delegates convened, might well serve as a model to some of the more pretentious deliberative bodies of the opposite sex. We have given considerable space to the reports of the convention, but this was amply warranted by the great importance of the aims of the society and by the great work they have achieved in promoting the work of Christianizing the world. It is a pleasure to know that the attendance of delegates was sufficiently large to entitle them to single return railway fares.

Gloom

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter: "Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and down stairs without clasping my hand over my heart and resting. In fact, it would almost take my breath away. I suffered so I did not care to live, yet I had much to live for. There is no pleasure in life if deprived of health, for life becomes a burden. Hood's Sarsaparilla does far more than advertised. After taking one bottle, it is sufficient to recommend itself." MRS. J. E. SMITH, Beloit, Iowa.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Will Davidson came up from McGill University, Montreal, last night.

Mrs. C. B. Fretz, of St. Clair, Michigan, who has been visiting at M. T. Ostrom's during the week has returned home.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mrs. George Ingle is at present the guest of Mrs. Wm. Fowler, 273 Rubidge street, Peterborough.

Provost Welsh of Trinity, Toronto, will arrive this evening but is compelled by business engagement to return in the morning.

Miss Weldon, of Chatham, who has been visiting in town for the last three weeks returned home this morning very much pleased with her stay in the Plate Glass City.

Rev. W. C. Beer, who has been attending the examinations of candidates and probationers, of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist church, returned home to-day.

General Supt. Leonard, of the C. P. R., came up in his private car, attached to the 4.48 express, yesterday afternoon and after an hour's stay returned to Montreal with a special engine.

The very many friends of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, will learn with regret that he is somewhat seriously ill. Though it was not generally known, Mr. Hazlitt had been confined to his room for a few days. On Wednesday, however, he was able to be out, and was taken ill more seriously, and he is now again confined to his room. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hazlett will soon be restored to his normal health.

DEPARTURE OF THE LADY DELEGATES.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE W. F. M. S. CLOSED YESTERDAY.

Verbatim Reports of the Addresses Delivered by Miss Sinclair, a Returned Missionary, and Mrs. Thorburn, of Ottawa.

At the closing session of the W. M. F. S. yesterday, in St. Paul's church, the majority of the ladies brought their baggage with them, as the western contingent were desirous of leaving for their homes by the 4.48 p.m. express.

During their stay in town the visiting delegates have formed many warm attachments amongst the ladies who have entertained them while here, and many of them were accompanied to the closing session and afterwards to the train by the friends which they have made during their three days' visit to Peterborough.

Officers were as follows, in accordance with the report of the Nominating Committee:

President—Mrs. Ewart.

Vice-Presidents { Mrs. Maclaren, Mrs. G. H. Robinson, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. MacLennan.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Playfair.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. H. Campbell.
Home Secretary—Mrs. R. Grant.
Foreign Secretary—Mrs. Shortreed.
Secretary of Supplies—Mrs. Jeffrey.
" " Publications—Mrs. Telfer.
Assistant Secretary of Publications—Miss Telfer.
Secretary of International Conference—Miss J. Caven.
Treasurer—Miss George.
Leaflet Editor—Mrs. G. H. Robinson.

Members of the Board—Mrs. Ewart, Mrs. Telfer, Mrs. J. J. Bell, Miss J. Caven, Mrs. Maclennan, Miss Clark, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Crombie, Mrs. Jeffrey, Mrs. G. H. Robinson, Mrs. J. Caven, Miss B. MacMurchy, Mrs. Shortreed, Miss T. Robinson, Mrs. A. Bertram, Mrs. McGaw, Miss Craig, Mrs. Mortimer Clark, Miss Gouge, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Playfair, Miss Reid, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. H. Campbell, Mrs. Carlyle, Mrs. Wm. I. Davidson, Mrs. MacLaren, Mrs. Harvie, Miss Patterson, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. McClelland, Miss Bethune, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. E. Lee.

Executive Committee—Mrs. J. J. Bell, Miss Clark, Miss E. Hall and Mrs. Fraser.

Nominating Committee—Mrs. McQueston, Hamilton; Mrs. McCrae, Guelph; Mrs. McCalla, St. Catherines; Mrs. Thorburn, Ottawa; Mrs. McLean, Guelph; Mrs. Playfair, Toronto; Mrs. Maclennan, Toronto, and Mrs. W. B. McMurrich, Toronto.

NEXT PLACE OF MEETING.

Hamilton was selected as the next place of annual meeting.

Votes of thanks were passed during the afternoon to Mrs. Harvie, the retiring foreign secretary; to Messrs. Wm. Hayden and J. P. Hurley, of the Grand Trunk, and Messrs. W. B. Bambford and T. E. Boddy, of the C. P. R., for courtesies extended; to Dr. Warden; to the ladies of St. Paul's and St. Andrew's for the kindness of their reception of the visitors; to Miss B. McMurchy; to the organist and choir; to the ladies and gentlemen who contributed solos, and to the little girls and boys who acted as pages.

FUNDS APPROPRIATED.

Disposition was made of the funds as follows:

To Foreign Missionary Committee, $43,-179.

To the women's work in the New Hebrides and Trinidad, $1,200.

Mrs. Stewart, of Perth, offered prayer for the board of management and all officers of the society, that they might be divinely sustained and directed.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by Mrs. R. D. Fraser, of Bowmanville.

The Question Drawer was most capably handled by Miss Grant, of Orillia.

The closing words of the convention were given by Mrs. Grant of Toronto, who in a few brief words, directed the attention of those assembled, to the scriptural quotation "Better is the ending of a thing than the beginning thereof." The Society, she thought, had reason to be pleased, both with the ending and the beginning of their work. The ending of the year had come and prosperity had been reported from every branch in increased membership and strength in Divine Grace. From abroad the report was "extension". The speaker then gave a detailed account of the advancement of the work in the different missions. New opportunities, she stated, were constantly presenting themselves in all the mission fields of the world. Concerning the Home Department of the work, the question now arose "Have we grown in our love of Christ, do we love more ardently?" "Have we grown more faithful in trying to carry out His work?" Have we grown in Christian love?" "If this is so, then can we truly say the end has been better than the beginning."

"Of what practical benefit," asked she, has the present been to us? We have been living in a missionary atmosphere for the last few days and our thoughts have been centred in Christ and His work, and we have felt that the one desire of our life is to ... and His kingdom upon earth. Will that feeling last? If we have only been inspired by a passing enthusiasm it will die away, but if the Holy Ghost has spoken to us through the mouths of our speakers, then the blessing will indeed be a great one."

We also stand at the beginning of a new year as well as at the end of an old one, continued the speaker, we are always at beginnings. Every morning is the beginning of a new day. Every sound we are told starts an endless series of vibrations in the atmosphere. Every word, therefore, has an effect, which is beyond estimation. There can be no standing still in Divine work. Everything moves. If not forward then backward. All must be in earnest in the work and push forward, and as each one left the church they should take unto themselves some special work in the Master's vineyard. It is in our power to rejoice the heart of the Saviour, concluded Mrs. Grant, and if we keep this thought constantly in our minds we can lead infinitely better lives.

The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Grant, of St. Mary's, after which the meeting was formally brought to a close.

During the convention a number of most excellent addresses were given by visiting delegates, and by special request the EXAMINER publishes two of the most interesting, as appended:

MISS SINCLAIR'S ADDRESS ON MISSIONS.

There is not one of your representatives in any part of the foreign field but is to-day with us in spirit, remembering us where remembrance availeth much. We have invoked God's blessing on this afternoon's meeting, but we were not the first to approach the Throne of Grace and ask for the Spirit's presence in this hour, for around on the other side of the world where, in point of time, they are hours ahead of us, they have been already pleading with the Father of Mercies to guide us into all truth. This thought, that the earth is guided with the prayers of God's people, is a helpful one and appertains in a special way to the work we are considering, for it was regarding the world-wide Kingdom of Christ Jesus that the Psalmist said: "For Him shall prayer continually be made."

There is another thought that comes to me as I look over this audience. Some of us can remember our twentieth birthday and the hopes and ambitions and aspirations that filled us as we looked forward to attaining our majority after one year. The W. F. M. S. is entering on its twenty-first year, and if we meet with the Master here, we shall all go away filled with holy zeal and a determination to advance in the year to come, relying on the promise, "They shall go from strength to strength." We should never think of retrogression, for there can be no meridian of power and no subsequent declension where the master spirit is Christ, who is over all—God blessed for ever.

I would like this afternoon to help you take three looks—one to the past—one to the present and the third to the future in relation to Christ's kingdom and glory. After we have looked into the past and compared it with the present, we shall be compelled to say, "Behold what great things God hath wrought," and we face the future it will be with a firm resolve to do all in our power to "widen the skirts of light and make the struggle with darkness narrower."

The first mission to Japan was in 1839. Now we may almost rank Japan among the Christian countries of the world, for she has taken the western culture and education and civilization as no other eastern nation ever has, and her thousands of Christians cannot fail to exercise a very healthful influence on the country at large.

In Fuchow, a province of China, work was faithfully carried on for ten years without a single convert. Seemingly, no impression had been made upon the people, and the missionaries must have sometimes felt that their labor was in vain. In 1860 there were 34 enquirers—in 1892, 10,323 Christians. The missionaries of the C. I. mission report very abundant opportunities for the presentation of the simple Gospel of the Nazarene throughout the interior of China.

We have all heard of the opposition to the work of our own missionaries in Honan from five to eight years ago; but we read in the papers of recent date that the work is becoming very encouraging—that hundreds come to visit the missionaries and listen untiringly to this same Gospel which is "the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

When Victoria came to the throne Samoa was cannibal; now there are 24,000 Christians there, and the place has recently become dear to us, because the grave of Robert Louis Stevenson lies on the hillside there.

We have heard of the Fiji Island and the ferocity of the islanders. A recent missionary publication contains a report of a missionary who is asking for more Fijian Christian helpers in His work. One whose very name was synonymous for all that was fierce and cruel and savage is now preaching the unsearchable riches. Truly they must have become "new creatures in Christ Jesus." We need scarcely remind you of the Island of Aneityum. In 1848 there were no Christians there and in 1872 no heathen.

We might speak of other countries where the "people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death upon them hath the light shined."

But we wish to speak more particularly of India for there we are on more familiar ground. Politically, we are under the Imperial Government of Great Britain, and while there are blots on that Government and wrongs countenanced by it that every Christian must deplore, yet we believe it to be, on the whole, a righteous Government. Geographically, India is not too favourably situated, for the sun is our enemy, the climate is against us. Yet many are able to faithfully serve the church and the cause of Christ there. And never before in the history of modern missions was the door of access to all classes of the people so wide open as it is to-day. A generation ago western education was in its infancy, now 15,000,000, chiefly in the large cities, freely use the English language—though all work among women and children must be done through the medium of the vernacular. In Southern India you find the immense temples of the Hindus, the building of which, and the sustaining of priests and temple services in connection therewith, must have very seriously taxed the thousands of pilgrims who annually visited them in the hope of having their sins washed away with filthy water, and merit accumulated for the life to come. Now you will find numbers of these strong holds of heathenism deserted and falling into ruins. We have wandered about these forsaken spots, marvelling at their size and architectural design, frightening away the insects and birds, but disturbing no devout Hindu engaged in the worship of his gods. Until recently, hook swinging and spike walking and many other sorts of self torture were commonly practised. Now these things are done, but contrary to Government orders, and in native states such as Indore.

We have read of the Shrine of Juggernaut and how the devotees would throw themselves under the huge wheels of this hideous god's car and be crushed to death. Two years ago I visited Serampore. It was the very day before the annual festival. The car, painted and carved with most obscene figures, stood by the roadside, a few booths were erected along the streets in the immediate vicinity of the temple, but the people were not moved from the even tenor of their way, and there was no evidence of preparation for such festivals as were the rule a few years ago.

From the temple we went and stood by the graves of Carey and his colleagues, who first planted the standard of the cross in that place, who preached Christ and Him crucified, who counted not their lives dear unto them. That is well nigh one hundred years ago. You may say little has been accomplished. I answer—

"The mills of God grind slowly
But they grind exceeding small."

But, though advance has been made along certain lines, let us not think for a moment that we can afford to rest before these open doors. We must enter in, and every woman who goes to India prepared to do what her hand finds to do, will soon have abundance of work, for every energy of body, mind and spirit. It is the women in lands and other Christian lands, who are rousing the church to a sense of her duty to India, but let us never feel or say, "We are doing all we can, or all we ought to do," while nearly 128,000,000 (127,800,000)

ENGLAND AND VENEZUELA

The British Government Hopes for Favorable Result From the Negotiations With the United States.

London, April 23.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Labouchere asked the Government a number of questions in regard to the Venezuelan dispute, among them whether the plan proposed by the United States Government to refer the Venezuelan frontier dispute to a commission composed of two English, two American and one neutral member, or the Chief Justices of England an dthe United States and one neutral, had been declined by Great Britain; whether Venezuela had been excluded from the general scheme of arbitration which Great Britain had submitted to the United States, whether negotiations between England and the United States still continue and whether any agreement is probable before the United States Congress adjourns in May.

In reply to these questions Mr. Curzon, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that negotiations with the United States in regard to Venezuela were still proceeding, but it was not advisable at this time to make any statement on the subject.

Mr. Labouchere asked whether the Government expected a favorable result from the negotiations.

Mr. Curzon answered that that was unquestionably the hope of her Majesty's Government.

Sir William Harcourt—I give notice that I will ask a question upon this subject on Monday next.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, in reply to questions by Sir Ashmead Bartlett, said that the Transvaal Government had placed strong patrols upon the northwestern and western boundaries of the territory of the South African Republic to prevent the introduction of the rinderpest into the country. He did not know, he said, how many foreigners who had received a military training had entered the Transvaal since Jan. 1. The right of allowing German immigrants to enter the Transvaal had never been disputed.

The Hon. W. S. F. Broderick, Parliamentary Secretary for the War Office, stated that it was the intention of the Government to send from England further drafts of mounted infantry to Natal. The items of expense attending these movements, he said, could appear in the estimates.

Mr. J. H. Dalziel, Liberal, asked Mr. Chamberlain whether in his speech at the banquet of the Constitutional Club last evening he had referred to the administration of the Transvaal Government as being corrupt and defective in all its departments of state and a subject for just criticism.

Mr. Chamberlain admitted having made the statements as facts which were a matter of common report and had so long been so that he had not thought it necessary to place upon the table of the House the papers necessary to support the charges.

A man's health carries him through the world. He depends on it for enjoyment, for happiness, for success, for the achievement of anything he has in hand. Americans take big chances. They risk everything in business. They have confidence in their brains and their ability. The American business man is active, flexible, elastic. Knock him down with failure and he is up again in a minute. As long as he keeps his health, failure doesn't mean anything to him. He has lost a little time, but that is all. If he can keep his health, he will go on to success. He feels sure of that, and yet his health is the very thing he neglects more than anything else. His health is the rope by which he climbs to success. It behooves him to keep the rope in good condition, and not to neglect broken strands. When the rope of health breaks even a little bit, it should be mended at once. It is easier to keep health than it is to regain it. When a man feels himself running down, when he realizes a loss of vitality and energy, he must call a halt. He is on a down grade. The strands of his rope are parting rapidly.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped thousands of men in just this condition. It makes health, it makes pure, rich blood, it forces out impurities and kills germs. It doesn't make any difference what name you call your trouble by—dyspepsia—kidney disease—rheumatism—consumption—skin disease, the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it absolutely. None of these diseases can retain hold on the body when it is full of rich, pure blood.

Every man who cares to keep his health should have Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—a finely illustrated book of 1008 pages. Sent to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only.

SLAUGHTERING MATABELES.

In Seven Fights One Thousand of Them Have Been Killed.

London, April 22.—The officials of the British Chartered South Africa Co., received to-day the following despatch from Buluwayo, dated April 21:

"The situation is most serious. There are 14,000 Matabeles within three miles and 1150 friendly natives have arrived in town."

A despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Buluwayo, published this afternoon, says: "Both Buluwayo and Cwelo are absolutely safe. The Matabeles are not disposed to attack, but are content with cutting off small bands of whites. It is believed that 300 whites, prospectors or farmers, have been murdered. In seven fights, nine whites and a thousand Matabeles have been killed. The rebels are running short of ammunition."

ARID LANDS.

The Methods and the Means for Their Practical Redemption.

The two questions involved in the irrigation of the plains uplands are now practically answered in the affirmative. Can water be lifted 200 feet at so low a cost that it will pay to irrigate with it from that depth? And is there water enough below the surface to irrigate any proper proportion of the large area of the semi-arid uplands? Saying yes to both these queries, it may also be said that where water is even at greater depths enough may be raised with comparatively small expense to irrigate so much land as in dry years will be a material addition to the means of subsistence of the farmer's family.

The writer has no doubt of there being enough water in the tertiary formations previously mentioned to irrigate five per cent. of the land of large parts of the western plains. The mechanical devices for raising the water are becoming better and cheaper every year. There was never before such activity among the manufacturers of water lifting appliances as is the case at the present time. The volume of water and the means to lift it being assured, the redemption of the plains from the stigma of aridity is also certain.

In saying this it must not be understood that irrigation of the uplands means the irrigation of large bodies of land in solid areas. It is absolutely true that under present conditions a family can obtain a good living from three acres of irrigated land. If a family can within itself supply the labor for the irrigation of ten acres, or even hire some help, competence and comparative wealth will be certain in a comparatively short period. The owner of 160 acres, irrigating from three to eight acres, will always produce a living and some surplus. The rest of his acres for pasture, for timber, for some grain, will give additional surplus in the good years, and his family will always have the means and leisure to give attention to mental improvement and be certain of increase of home comforts and some of the luxuries of life.

The position and volume of the subterranean waters point to the desirability of numerous pumping plants scattered over the plains—not large ones with expensive machinery. Wind is the cheapest motive power. It is abundant on the plains. These facts all suggest that small holdings, say the standard 160 acres as a maximum, worked by the owner and his family, are those that will most economically operate in the redemption of the plains. —Harper's Weekly.

A Paradise of Prunes.

A ride through one of the vast prune orchards of Santa Clara Valley when the trees are in full bloom is an experience never to be forgotten. Some of these orchards, consisting of 500 acres, contain 50,000 trees, their ages varying from five to ten years, and planted in regular rows about twenty feet apart.

Nor pebble, nor clod, nor blade of grass can be found among the friable soil of the miles long aisles which intervene, tessellated by the flickering shadows of the swaying snowy petals which project on either side from flower-laden branches.

As the eastern plum pest, the curculio, is unknown in California, as scarcely a drop of rain falls upon the trees from May until November, and as there is no scorching sun to shrivel the delicate skin of the prune nor rough wind to mar its contour, a bough of full ripened clusters represents one of perfect prunes.

In an area from six to twelve miles square planted to fruit trees, 15,000 acres are in prunes alone.

They cover the billowy surface of the majestic foothills, as well as the plain, with a beautiful irregularity impossible to describe. At plucking time thousands of busy hands are at work, chiefly those of boys and girls, preparing the luscious fruit for curing under the rays of the midsummer sun.

The average yield when the crop is full is about eight tons per acre. The average cost of caring for the orchards, harvesting and curing such a crop is $30 per acre, leaving a net income per acre of $210.—Harper's Weekly.

The Law of Growth.

Dr. Charles Sedgwick Minot, professor of histology and embryology in the Harvard Medical School, backs up his theory of the law of growth by the results of several years of observations upon guinea pigs, dogs, rabbits, ferrets and other small animals, as well as Boston school children. He says that in all growing animal organisms, from the period of birth to death there is a steady loss of the power to grow, contrary to the general belief that this loss begins later in life. The body develops all the time, but the power to keep up that development steadily decreases after birth, and it decreases much more rapidly at first than later in life. A guinea pig two days old will gain 10 per cent. of its weight in the next two days. But the twenty-fifth addition of 10 per cent. to its weight will take the pig eighty-eight days. The law is the same with animals and man.

Nothing Hunts Out Corns

Like tight boots. Corns are very small affairs, but apply them to a pair of tight boots and all other concerns sink into insignificance. Tight boots and Putnam's Corn Extractor (the great and only sure cure for corns) may go together and comfort will be their partner; but don't fail to use Putnam's Corn Extractor. Frauds, cheap, poisonous and dangerous substitutes are in the market. Beware of them. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

VAN HAMMERSTEIN SOAKED.

The Former Editor of The Kreuz Zeitung Goes Into Servitude For Three Years.

Berlin, April 22.—The trial of Baron Von Hammerstein, formerly editor-in-chief of The Kreuz Zeitung, and the leader of the Conservative party in the Reichstag, upon charges of forgery, fraud and embezzlement, began this morning and ended this afternoon. On his conviction, the court sentenced Hammerstein to three years' penal servitude, to suffer the loss of his civil rights for five years, and to pay a fine of 1200 marks.

Secured Her Divorce a Second Time.

Newburg, N. Y., April 22.—Judge Dickey to-day granted an absolute divorce to Sabra M. Ashley of Poughkeepsie from her husband, Harford Ashley of Belleville, Ontario, and also for the custody of two daughters. This was the second time she had secured a decree, the first one by Judge Barnard of Poughkeepsie having been appealed and a new trial ordered. The defendant is a wealthy manufacturer of Belleville. The plaintiff is a sister of ex-Assemblyman Vandewater and a stenographer to the Supreme Court in Poughkeepsie.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs money to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date."

They are honestly made of pure rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable, extra thick at ball and heel.

ARIZONA'S ROAD RUNNER.

Bird With Tireless Legs and a Deadly Hatred of Rattlesnakes.

"There's a bird down in my country," said Major Ransom of Arizona, to a Denver reporter, "which we call the road runner. It is an interesting fellow, this bird, with long legs that never give out and which devour distance with an appetite that never seems appeased. Generally two road runners go together—for company's sake, no doubt. They seem to be great gossipers and do a vast sight of talking to each other. They will chase ahead of your horse as you ride along the trail, and keep up the stride for miles and miles side-to-side motion much like the gait of a packing horse. Why they run along ahead of one in this insane fashion can only be guessed at. It would seem to be for fun and exercise.

"They are gifted with a great deal of sagacious malevolence toward the rattlesnakes, with which crawling brood the runner has deadly feud. I suppose the rattlesnake pounces upon the road runner's eggs and makes omelets of them or gobbles up their young on a spring chicken theory. Whatever the cause of hate, however, the road runner is the deadly enemy of the rattlesnake. They wreak vengeance on it in this way: They espy a rattlesnake asleep in the sun. 'Mum' is the countersign with your road runner; he never says a word. He and his fellow road runner go about in discreet silence and collect the dried, dead joints of the flat cactus, which abounds in the southwestern deserts. They build a corral about the dozing serpent with them.

"These pieces of cactus bristle with thorns as sharp and keen as needles. When they have their snake corraled the two road runners arouse it with yells and the flapping of their little jimcrow wings. They revile it and scold it and appear to apply all kinds of hard epithets to it. The snake gets frightened and its rattles buzz. But they don't come near it. They stand at a safe distance and rail at it. At last the snake tries to crawl away, but can't cross the cactus fence which the road runners have built. The spines prick the snake and it draws back. Meanwhile the road runners keep up their derisive racket. With each prick of the cactus the rattlesnake's wrath increases. At last, in desperate, brainless fury it begins to bite itself. Its poison is as deadly to itself as to everybody else, and in a short time it dies. Great, then, is the mad triumph of the road runners, which taunt it until its last gasp and exult over the corpse like savages. After the snake is surely dead they walk over with airs of cockney satisfaction, and, as it were, arm in arm."

READ THEM BACKWARD.

How a German Boy Interpreted His Teacher's Instructions.

It was a country school. The children were all of German descent and attended with that regularity which characterizes their nationality, and as usual were all present on this particular day. Reading and numbers came first in the program. Reading was gone through without anything unusual occurring, and the numbers then taken up. A drill on reading them from one to ten was the lesson assigned, so they were written on the blackboard, and each child made to read them as they were pointed to.

I shall tell this just as it happened. The first to be questioned was a stout little fellow, the brightest in the class. "Hans," said I, "you may read the numbers as I point to them on the board." So I began to point and Hans began to read, which was something like as follows: "Von, dow, dree, vour, vife, zix, zeeven, ocht, nien, den." "That was well done, Hans," said I. "Now you may read them backward."

The little fellow's face darkened for an instant, then suddenly brightened, as an idea how to read them backward came to him. He first turned his back to the board and tried to read them by looking over his shoulder, but failing in this, he bent forward until his hands touched the floor and looked from between his legs at the numbers back of him on the board.

I will not attempt to describe the uproar among the rest of the scholars, nor did I at the time attempt to quell it, for anyone who would not laugh at that long-headed little German boy as he placed himself in such a ridiculous position to read the numbers backward, is lacking one of the charcteristics of genuine humanity.—Jennie B. Hogan, in Chicago Times-Herald.

YOUR NOSE.

Do You Know It Is an Index to Its Possessor's Character.

It is astonishing how seldom the contour of the nose, its beauty or meaning, enters into the criticism of the face. Women are nervously anxious that their eyes should be large and bright, their mouths small and a true cupid's bow. They mourn over the possession of "uninteresting" hair and prefer that their ears should end in pretty pear-shaped lobes rather than be fastened close to the head. In what Lombroso designates as "criminal fashion," but beyond the mere fact that a nose is useful to complete the outline of the profile, it has little interest for them.

Yet it is really the most tell-tale feature of the face and actually a far more important index to character than either the eyes or lips. It is not an invariable guide, to be sure; but sometimes its close relation to the brain can be gathered from the fact that it broadens or sharpens according to the strength or weakness of the lungs and thereby indicates the power of the physical system to supply nutrition to the brain.

It is a remarkable fact that a certain type of nose is characteristic of a certain race of people. Snub-nose races have equally undeveloped intellects: while the long, well outlined nose belongs to the nations of advanced civilization.

It, of course, goes without saying that there are, so to speak, misplaced noses—noses that, so far as the accompanying disposition goes, seem to be strayed, lost, or stolen; far-sighted great souled women whose noses are rudimentary in the extreme and frivolous mites of women whose noses of Wellingtonian proportion have been a perpetual mortification to them.

There is no doubt, also, that a well-shaped nose can start out with the best intentions of leading an exemplary life and be overcome by uncongenial surroundings: thus, the nose of a statesman is seen bobbing with the watery eyes and weak mouth of the professional "bum," and the magnificent proboscis of a warrior disfigures the baby expression of a society pet; but those are just the necessary exceptions that furnish the appropriate setting for the rule.

What could be a truer index to a character than the splendid, well proportioned nose of the "Divine Sarah?" It is the nose of a diplomat, a statesman, in fact. It shows the power of concentration; of will-power potent enough to cut a swath through the strongest opposing influences. It is a nose greatly resembling that of William Pitt, the English orator, and expresses the same individuality and intensity of purpose; always intensity of purpose with Sarah Barnhardt—whether for good or evil.

This nose also expresses that same keen insight into varying, human emotion that is noticeable in any portrait of Pitt. It is this power that enables a great statesman to penetrate the policy of another nation and be ready for action and qualifies a great actress to delve into the motives that actuate human existence and show them again to the public with unvarying accuracy.

If Sarah Barnhradt had been a man, she would probably have been one of the controlling powers of France; a man to make and unmake cabinets; whose opinions were feared and policies adopted.

A London Fashion.

The new hats showed in London are a departure from the styles which obtained during the last few seasons that is refreshing and satisfactory. The illustration shows a typical hat for the spring season of '96—a bit staged perhaps—but pretty and artistic. Feathers, buckles and ribbons are combined in an effect which is picturesque and becoming. The smooth crowns of satin and even of velvet are among the threatened innovations.

A LONDON FASHION.

All the spring hats are rather high, with medium broad brims, trimmed well up in front, and are pulled over the face. This latter style is one that will never be popular, as it is becoming to but few women.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his care was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that zap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

women and children of India, are blind, wretched, ignorant and superatitious.

As one grows in years and experience one is slow to utterly condemn any cause or people, and while I would gladly welcome any glimmer of light that flickers amid the black darkness of these heathen homes, yet "in a country where polygamy is not only tolerated, but where it has been unchallenged for many centuries; where child marriage is not only the rule but all classes warmly defend it; where a mythology exists full of unclean traditions, and an idolatry with many images of unclean deities," we must be prepared to find a low moral tone. We like to think that there is nothing on earth so pure as a child's soul, for Christian said, "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven," but we must sadly admit that even the children of India who breathe this tainted air, who are surrounded by this moral miasma, are not so pure and innocent as the children of our favoured Christian lands.

But the people are accessible—more especially the children—and surely no field of labour can be more interesting than this—of work among the little girls. In school they are obedient, intelligent, bright, clever and interesting, and though the school work is not frequently interrupted by festivals in connection with the marriage or funeral ceremonies of friends, or fasts or feasts demanded by the religious customs of the people, yet they make very fair progress in the purely secular part of the school work. While their knowledge of the Bible and the great truths of duty is very gratifying, we feel confident that God's seed sown in the hearts of these little girls will bring forth God's harvest in His good time, and who can say how the opinions of the next generation will be moulded and by the mothers who, as girls, attended our missions schools, and these learned of Jesus, and heard of the liberty wherewith He makes His people free. If these girls who are married so young, and thereby lost to us, could be followed into their homes and further instruction given to them and the good impressions made in school deepened, and the other women of the household instructed along with the young child-wife, what an influence might the Missionary not wield in the homes of the people. My experience teaches me that this might be done if we had the workers. Often in visiting pupils in their home we have been cheered by seeing the little girl tell the other women of the family what she has learned in school, and the medical ladies tell me that when they go into a house they recognize at once any girl who has been a pupil in our mission schools.

Ideal mission work must be three-fold—evangelistic for the soul; educational for the mind, and medical for the body,—and our church has not overlooked any of these agencies. In evangelistic and educational work the missionary must seek and win her audience; in the medical work, the people seek the missionary. Medical mission work enlists the sympathies of all, and would have your deepest heartfelt sympathy could you see the afflictions and know the revolting forms of many diseases among them—much of it no doubt traceable to the moral condition of the people. The women are so extremely ignorant and superstitious, attributing sickness to the anger of a god or goddess, or perhaps to the presence of a widow in the family. You would scarcely credit some of the foolish things they do. A friend of mine removed a cataract from an old woman's eyes, provided her with a pair of spectacles, and sent her away to her village home rejoicing. Some time after her son reported that she was again losing her sight. When the message came that she was again quite blind, Miss M. went to see her, and after examining the spectacles and treating them—not the eyes—to a soap and water bath, the old woman's sight was again restored.

A sadder case, however, was that of a woman who was seen leading her blind boy along the road. When asked how it happened, she said:—"His eyes were sore, so I filled in salt and they all ran out."

Of course it goes without saying that those who go out to engage in any medical work should have the fullest qualifications. Indeed we may say in general that the best the church can send is none too good. A woman who would be a missionary needs all the resources of a well filled mind, a trained intellect, a love-filled heart, a Spirit-baptised life—all tempered with and regulated by that blessed commodity—common sense.

But you want to know about the results. Is the work worth the doing? Are the people improved after they become Christians? It is true that among the Christians we do meet with discouragements. Paul, the great apostles of the Gentiles, when enumerating his hardships said, of the disciplining and organizing of the native church, "above all the care of the church." It is a comparatively easy matter to teach and preach to the heathen. It is comparatively more trying work when one is responsible for the education, training, etc., of the native Christians. Infinite patience, infinite tact, resolute purpose, definite plans; these and many more qualities are called into daily requisition. Yet there is much to discourage us, for "the native churches bear fruits which prove the reality and the power of the life of Christ in them." I wish it were possible to introduce you to some of our Christians—Yesodabai—a woman of as beautiful a character as I have seen in this or any land; gentle, loving, earnest, zealous, constant in season and out of season. She passed into rest about five years ago. Or Lachchha, a girl who was neglected and deserted by a sister and her cruel husband. When first I saw her, I doubted the advisability of admitting her into the school along with our Christian girls. But what was to be done with her? I dare not send her away to a probable life of sin. She was taken into school and there surrounded by Christian influences; she gradually lost her violent temper and "put on Christ Jesus." After a time when she appeared before our church session, seeking admission by baptism, our missionary told me he had never received from any candidate more intelligent replies to the questions put by the session.

We might indefinitely multiply instances showing how the people, when brought to a knowledge of the Truth, show in their very faces that they have been with Jesus.

In conclusion, let us press forward. Booth said:—"If there were only one word that I might write across the skies so that all the world might read, that word would be OPPORTUNITY." To-day is the day of opportunity in India. With redoubled energy and renewed zeal let us face the future strong in the knowledge that the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ.

MRS. THORBURN'S ADDRESS ON THE KINGSHIP OF CHRIST.

We are told of one well known to fame, a German philosopher, for his intellectual gifts that he gave expressions to this prayer: "Lord, give me great thoughts." It is a prayer that we may well make our own, and I think it is most profitable at the very beginning of a meeting, such as this, to bring before our minds some one great thought which we may keep as the key-note to all our proceedings. I know of none more inspiring in this work for which we are gathered together to-day than that of the kingship of our Lord Jesus. It suggests the greatness, importance and universality of our work. We are engaged in the King's business—it is not given to us by any subordinate ruler—not circumscribed in its operations, nor confined to our own country or people, but as far as our Jesus rules in this world so far our aims extend. Christ's kingdom will come whether we help or not, that is certain. There is no haphazard about it, neither is it based upon the promises of one who can fail. The religion of Buddhism, Brahmism, Confucioism have many grains of gold among the heaps of rubbish—even cruel Mahomedism has the one great thought of the one God, "Allah is Allah!" but they have loving seed within them, no vital, soul-saving, sin-destroying doctrine. These systems shall wax old and pass away, but the kingdom of Christ shall never pass away. It shall break in pieces and consume all these, it shall stand for ever, and our King shall rule when the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ.

These things being so, what manner of persons should we be? What influence should this thought make upon us as workers in this kingdom?

1. It should make us earnest and eager. The King's business requireth haste. He saith to one "go, and he goeth." "Go quickly and tell." The overpowering wonder of the converted heathen seems to be, why did you not tell us this before. "Oh send it faster, faster," is their cry.

2. It should strengthen our faith. So many things perplex us in our work at home and in our outlook abroad into the world. But at such times what a strength to know that Christ reigneth. Perhaps never within the memory of those living has this old earth seemed so troubled as during the months since we last met together as a society—wars and rumours of wars, insurrections, massacres—the sound of armies and fleets preparing for the fray—but in the midst of all we can calmly say, "The Lord reigneth." These events are working together for the fulfillment of His purposes. He will make even the wrath of man to praise Him, and the remainder of wrath will He restrain. Out of all the apparent evil good will come. God's ploughshare is going through the nations, overturning and overturning, so that a more glorious harvest may appear. Oh, let us see the hand of God in the affairs of the nations. Let us have faith in His promises and in the ultimate triumph of the gospel of His grace. The prayer book version of the 4th verse of the 99th Psalm comes often to my mind at such times as the present, "The Lord is king, be the people never so impatient; He sitteth between the cherubims be the earth never so unquiet." Where is the place for anxiety and alarm with such a verse as that?

3. It should make us loyal to our King. We know well what the feeling of loyalty is. We have seen its exhibitions during the past winter in our own country. Never at any previous time has there been such a burst of loyalty—never such a rally on the part of ocean-sundered colonies to the dear old land—never such a feeling of unity and brotherhood, never such an assured consciousness of this greatness of the race to which we belong. Thank God for that! but shall we be less loyal to our great spiritual king—the king and head of the church? God forbid!

4. It should make us earnest and constant in our prayers. We are coming to a king, large petitions let us bring." He has power to grant us our heart's desire; He is willing to give us great things for the kingdom. I wish I had time to expand this thought in regard to our special work for Foreign Missions, but I am limited to time.

5. It should inspire us with hope and joy. Oh! I love to think of Christ coming down the centuries, the "Ercomonos," the coming one. I often have a vision of Him, clad in white, as I saw Him in the picture of Dore's "Christ leaving the Pictorium," only with the sad look all gone and in its place one of victory and regal conquest. Yes,

"Thou art coming, oh my Saviour!
Thou art coming oh my King!
In thy beauty all resplendent—
In thy beauty all transcendant.
Oh the joy to see thee reigning,
Thee my own beloved Lord!
Every tongue thy name confessing,
Worship, honour, glory, blessing,
Brought to Thee with one accord."

So, my dear friends, let the thought of our King dominate our minds and hearts during these days of our meetings. Let us not think of Christ as only in the past, but in the present and the future—not only as Jesus the carpenter, Jesus the teacher, Jesus the healer, not only, even, as Jesus the crucified—but also as Jesus the King, exalted, not always on the cross, but now on the Throne, glorified, adored, reigning. Let Him not be a memory only, as of one who nearly 1900 years ago died for us, but now King, here in our very midst, to-day. Thus will our religion be a religion of life; thus will it be a joy; thus will our life be full of hope, due to a faith in a living King; and we shall pray in the beautiful words of Milton, "Come forth out of Thy chambers, O Prince of all the Kings of the earth; put on the robes of Thine Imperial Majesty; take up that unlimited sceptre which Thine Almighty Father hath bequeathed thee! For now the voice of Thy Bride doth call thee and all creatures sigh to be delivered." And while we pray let us be doing, standing ever in His presence and saying "Behold thy servants are ready to do whatsoever my Lord the King shall appoint." For all of us the years of service are fleeting fast away, for some the day is far spent. But when the end of life shall come, whether it be near or far off, I think it will be one of the sweetest of thoughts that we have been permitted to be co-workers with Christ in the spread of His Kingdom, and let our minds stretch on to the future, when our

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

SPLENDID RALLY IN MONTREAL

Ten Thousand Electors Gather in Sohmer Park to Greet the Liberal Leader and a Number of His Leading Supporters From Different Provinces.

Montreal, April 24.—The Liberal campaign was opened here to-night by a demonstration which in all the elements of popular enthusiasm surpassed anything of the kind which Canada has hitherto seen. To the Liberals of this city fell the honor of sounding the call to arms, to which the Liberals of Canada everywhere will respond. The occasion was a party celebration, but it was more than that, and growing as it did into the general character of a reception and ovation extended by the largest commercial centre to the Liberal leader, it became the augury of an extension of confidence which will be Dominion-wide in its expression on June 23. Mr. Laurier came down from Ottawa on the evening train. Accompanying him were a score of his lieutenants from the other provinces.

The meeting was at Sohmer Park, the largest auditorium in Canada. It is capable of holding more than 12,000 people, and to-night it was crowded to the utmost. The scene there was one of the most magnificent which could be imagined. The building had been stripped of its seats and the audience stood throughout the long meeting. Mr. Laurier received a tumultuous reception, and all the speeches evoked spontaneous and enthusiastic cheers.

The open-air part of the demonstration was an unparalleled success. The weather was fine and thousands upon thousands of people lined the streets. It is estimated that fully 5000 men were in line carrying torches, singing and cheering themselves hoarse. No estimate can be made of those along the route.

At Alexandria the Liberals of Glengarry took occasion to present an address, which was read by Mr. A. G. F. MacDonald, asking him to deliver an address there in the near future. Mr. Laurier in a brief address promised to do so.

At the Bonaventure Station the distinguished guests were met by the officers of the Club National and conducted to the hall. As early as half-past 6 the members of the clubs began to gather at their headquarters and organise for the march.

Transparencies were carried with the mottoes, "Liberals for the people and with the people," "Welcome to our chief, Laurier," "Liberals and honest government," "Out with buffers, duffers and Tuppers," Liberals are above and before all Canadians," "Liberals from ocean to ocean." The members, 300 strong, marched to swinging Scotch airs by way of Notre Dame-street and St. James-street to the Champ de Mars.

As they passed the St. Lawrence Hall, where Mr. Laurier was staying, they cheered the Liberal chief time and again. In the meantime the Clubs Laurier, Letellier, Mercier, Chenier, National, Blake, Geoffrion, Papineau, Pelletier and the students of Laval and McGill had started from the Monument Nationale and marched down the Main-street. At the historic Champ de Mars they met the English Liberals, joined forces, and all advanced to the St. Lawrence Hall, where Mr. Laurier reviewed them as they passed along.

The entrance to Sohmer Park was so crowded that it was with the greatest difficulty the procession could enter. Taken altogether, the demonstration was the finest ever accorded to any public man in Canada.

At Sohmer Park the crowds began to come at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the immense floor space was almost filled, and the gallery, in which were the only seats, except those upon the platform, was rapidly filling. This gallery half covers the floor. The scene was heightened by tasteful and appropriate decorations.

Dr. Choquette, M.P., opened the meeting, and in doing so, speaking in French, he declared it was an augury of the success of the Liberal party on June 23.

There was a renewal of the cheering when Dr. Lachapelle announced the name of Mr. Harcourt. The Provincial Treasurer of Ontario advanced to the front of the platform and bowed, whereat the multitude sent up a shout of welcome to the visitor from the sister Province of Ontario, who came charged with an encouraging message from his colleagues. "Let me say," said Mr. Harcourt, after a few fitting prefatory words, "that we will unite to place in power the great leader who will address you to-night. We in the Province of Ontario have been proud of Blake and Mackenzie, we are proud of Oliver Mowat—(cheers)—but we are just as proud of our great leader, Wilfrid Laurier. (Cheers.) We in the English Province of Ontario think just as much of the gifted Frenchman, Wilfrid Laurier, as do his compatriots in the Province of Quebec. Why, sir, there is no leading Liberal in the Province of Ontario who is not determined this minute to spend the next eight weeks in an earnest endeavor to place in power Wilfrid Laurier. I simply close by saying that I am authorised to say that the Mowat Government is with you heart and soul in your efforts to secure honest government for this Dominion, and in your efforts to place the Premiership upon the brow of Wilfrid Laurier. The gratification with which this promise of support was received was indicated by cheering long and loud.

A renewal of the demonstration, when Mr. Paterson was invited to address the great audience, showed that the fame of the eloquent representative of Brant was not confined to his own province, and that his abilities and patriotism are appreciated in Quebec as well as Ontario.

Mr. Laurier, on rising to speak, was greeted with vociferous applause. He had believed, he said, that he had, when addressing a similar gathering in that same place last year, addressed the largest meeting at which he had ever had the honor of being present during his whole political career. But that magnificent assemblage surpassed all those that he had ever witnessed, not only in Montreal, but in all Canada. (Applause.) When the meeting was held there last year there was a smell of powder in the air. It was thought that the Government was about to face the people who were its judges and its masters. But a change came over them; their hearts faltered; their courage left them; they decided to stave off the judgment day as long as they could. (Applause.) Now, however, that judgment day had come, and the Government was face to face with the people. What that judgment was the Government would know on the evening of the 23rd of June.

A voice—A Laurier Government will be in power then. (Applause.)

Well, it was for the people, it was for those whom he was addressing, to say. The Liberals were, he was glad to know, thoroughly prepared for the struggle.

Mr. Laurier touched upon the public issues of the day, and concluded as follows:

"We are on the eve of the great battle, and we all want a change in the Government. (Loud applause.) I call upon you all to get to work earnestly for the victory of the good cause. (Applause.) I address myself more especially to you, workingmen, my friends. You are, perhaps, the most interested in the issue of this great fight, and I ask you to lend us a willing hand on the 23rd of June. I also appeal to the young men, to the students, the hope of our country. I ask you but one thing, that is to be the worthy sons of your fathers. Electors of Montreal, I told you the names of your candidates, and I want you to elect them. I want you to be ready for the battle, not on the 23rd of June, but even from this moment, and until voting day. Unite all your efforts to drive from power the corrupt Government which has held the reins of power for over eighteen years, and on the wings of the breeze will be borne to the four corners of the earth, tidings of the great victory of the cause of the Baldwins, the Lafontaines and of Laurier."

Messrs. Davies, Fraser, McShane and others spoke, and cheers for the Queen and Mr. Laurier brought to a close the greatest political demonstration ever held in Canada.

THREE PLEADED GUILTY.

Messrs. Rhodes, Phillips and Farrar Admit That They Were Guilty of Treason in the Transvaal.

Pretoria, April 24.—Col. Rhodes, Lionel Phillips and George Farrar, members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, who were arrested in Johannesburg and brought here for trial, have pleaded guilty of treason under the first count of the indictment against them.

The other members of the committee jointly indicted with Rhodes, Phillips and Farrar pleaded guilty of lese majeste, but without hostile intent against the independence of the Transvaal republic. The case was adjourned until Rhodes, Farrar and Phillips can prepare and hand in written pleas, when the prisoners will be sentenced.

London, April 24.—The Times will tomorrow publish a despatch from Pretoria saying that the prosecution withdrew all the counts of the indictments except those to which the defendants pleaded guilty. Messrs. Hammond and Curtis, who are sick and who were released on bail, were not present at the proceedings. It is expected that they will attend Monday. The despatch adds that the prosecution was conducted in a fairly dispassionate manner and that no vindictive feeling was apparent. It is understood that the defendants were actuated by cogent reasons in pleading guilty and that these reasons will be published shortly.

SIR DONALD SMITH

Appointed Canadian Commissioner in London.

SWORN IN A PRIVY COUNCILLOR

The Gossip in Regard to the Cabinet—Hon. J. A. Chapleau Said to Have Declined to Accept a Portfolio—The Dissolution Proclamation—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, April 24.—(Special)—At to-day's meeting of the Cabinet Sir Donald A. Smith was appointed High Commissioner for Canada in London, as well as a Privy Councillor of the Dominion, but not of the Cabinet. Sir Donald proceeded to Rideau Hall at 5 o'clock this afternoon, where he was sworn in before His Excellency in the presence of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Frank Smith.

Meanwhile there appears to be no change in the political situation. Sir Mackenzie Bowell is still Premier. Your correspondent had a few minutes' chat with him to-night and found him as chirpy as ever. Beyond the fact of Sir Donald's appointment, he said there was nothing further to announce. The present uncertainty, however, must be dispelled in a few days.

Sir Frank Smith had a lengthy conference with the Premier to-night and it is not unreasonable to suppose he urged decisive action.

The formal proclamation, announcing the dissolution of Parliament was issued to-day

The Clerk of the Crown in Chancery is busily engaged issuing the writs. Those for the most distant constituencies will go first.

There was a large gathering at the C.A.R. station this afternoon, to say good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Laurier on leaving for home. Mr. Laurier was accompanied to Montreal by Messrs. Lister, Sutherland, Gibson, McMullen, Lowell, Davies, Fraser and other members of Parliament, who have gone to attend the Sohmer Park meeting to-night.

Mr. Thomas McFarlane, Dominion Chief Analyst, leaves for England shortly. He has been instructed by Col. Prior, Controller of Inland Revenue, to enquire into the utilization of the sewage of large cities for fertilizing purposes, by the establishment of sewage farms.

It is definitely settled that Col. Cole of Montreal Garrison Artillery, will command the Shoeburyness team this year. The chances of Capt. Bob Myles of Toronto for securing the adjitancy of the team are very good. This will be the fourth time that a Canadian team has gone to England to compete with the members of the National Artillery Association of Great Britain. The first occasion was in '81, the next in '83, and the third time in '86.

The Marine Department was notified to-day of the breaking of the ice bridge at Quebec, so that navigation of the St. Lawrence is fully opened. The light-keeper at Cape Race reports five large icebergs in the vicinity of that place. During the recent floods three lighthouses between Montreal and Quebec were carried away by the ice.

Trade returns for the nine months, which were issued by the Customs Department to-day, are of a most satisfactory character. The exports show an increase of $5,821,000 over the same period last year, while imports are increased by $5,705,764. Mr. Foster will undoubtedly be gratified with the steady increase in the revenue from this source. For the nine months it is $2,185,000 better than for the same period last year.

Already notices of legislation for next session are being filed. Among the latest is one to incorporate a company to build a bridge across the Niagara River at Fort Erie.

H. P. Davies, Charles Miller, Toronto; Charles Sparks, Ottawa; Emilie Davies, of Toronto; Hawdon Brumell of Toronto are seeking incorporation as the American Tire Company with headquarters in Toronto and a capital of $25,000. The object is to make all kinds of parts of bicycles.

CHAPLEAU WILL NOT ACCEPT.

The Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec Said to be in Poor Health.

Ottawa, April 24.—Lieut.-Governor Chapleau will not take a portfolio under Sir Charles Tupper unless he gets that of Railways and Canals, and as Mr. Haggart is not likely to stand aside to open the place for His Honor, there is an end of the deal. Hon. G. A. Nantel, the Commissioner of Public Works for Quebec, and one of Mr. Chapleau's warmest friends, arrived here to-night, and, in conversation, stated positively that the Lieut.-Governor would not accept a portfolio in the Tupper Cabinet.

Montreal, April 24.—It is said that Hon. J. A. Chapleau's health is so poor that his return to public life will have to be postponed for some time. A despatch from Atlantic City, where His Honor has been staying for some weeks, states that under no consideration could he at present take an active part in politics.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

The Dominion Government professes a great interest in the progress and prosperity of the country; but their actions towards the class composing one-eighth of the wealth and importance of Canada show a scant consideration of their interests. The government pays an annual subsidy of $125,000 of the farmer's money to a monthly line of steamers from British Columbia to Australia. One of the results is, that frozen Australian mutton is imported by these steamers, subsidized by the farmer's money, into Canada, and is actually competing with the mutton raised by Canadian farmers. But the government's dealings in the matter of the export cattle trade is the strongest evidence of their indifference to and neglect of, the farmer's interests.

The export cattle trade with Great Britain is a matter of grave moment with Canadian farmer's, especially since low prices for grains have compelled them to resort to cattle raising and dairying. The British market is worth some seven or eight millions a year to the Canadian farmer, and it is a trade which under proper conditions is capable of almost unlimited development. But by the neglect, carelessness and indifference of the Dominion Government, this trade has received a severe blow, a blow that has resulted in the loss of millions of trade in live cattle to the Canadian farmer.

In November of 1892 on account of Canadian animals affected with pleuro-pneumonia being imported, an order was issued forbidding the importation of live animals and requiring that they be slaughtered at the port of entry. This was a serious blow to the live stock trade, and that obnoxious embargo is in force to this day, and a bill is before the Imperial Parliament making the embargo of Canadian cattle permanent. That this embargo remains is entirely due to the bull-headed conduct of the High Commissioner, Sir Charles Tupper, and the bull-headed course of the Canadian Government. There is no reason to discuss whether the British authorities are right or not, but it is clear that our own authorities have acted wrongly.

Ever since the embargo was imposed the British authorities have shown the warmest desire to accede to the wish of Canada for the privilege of free entry to British ports of Canadian cattle. But our government have not made an honest attempt to accede to the wish of the British authorities that certain precautions should be taken to prevent the importation of animals showing possible symptoms of pleuro-pneumonia. These demands were persistently met with the answer that there was no pleuro-pneumonia in Canadian cattle. That might have been the fact, but it was not in the interest of of cattle trade that the Canadian government should rest its case on that. A formidable array of British experts found that pleuro-pneumonia existed in cattle imported from Canada and, believing these experts rather than the denials of Sir Charles Tupper and the Canadian government, the British, in defence of their own rights, could not restore the right of free entry to Canadian cattle, which the correspondence on the subject shows they were not only willing, but, indeed, anxious to do. But the Canadian Government refused to adopt the simple precautions the British authorities required as the condition of removing the embargo—the only reply being that the cattle of Canada were sound.

The course of the Canadian High Commission in the matter showed a disposition on his part to bulldoze the British Government—to set up his knowledge of pleuro-pneumonia against the opinion of the best veterinary and scientific experts of Great Britain. He was evidently practising the coercion he attempted to enforce in Canada.

The Canadian Government is criminally responsible for the continuation of the cattle embargo. The British Government is perfectly willing to withdraw it the moment the Canadian Government takes the precautions the British Government has a right to require. Great Britain is their country, and if they do not choose to permit Canadian cattle to enter it except on the conditions they impose, they are not compelled to do so. They require certain conditions which are not unreasonable, in the way of suggested precautions, and these conditions the Canadian Government refuses to comply with. Let the Canadian Government do what the British Government requires, and the cattle embargo will be removed at once.

We have had Sir Charles Tupper in England for years at an annual expense of about $15,000, and under his very eyes, and by virtue of his bull-headed obstinancy in taking his own way, the Canadian export cattle trade has been injured to the extent of millions of dollars. We pay a Minister of Agriculture $7,000 a year, and being a lawyer formerly and a doctor now, he is eminently fitted to make a muddle of the farmers' affairs. Farmers know where the blame for the odious embargo now lies—not with the British Government, for they are willing to remove it, but with the Canadian Government, which refuses to fulfil the simple conditions upon which our cattle will be restored to live entry. The farmers will have a chance of expressing their opinion in June next, and if they endorse a Government that plays fast and loose with the farmers' interests, the latter have only themselves to blame for a ruinous and expensive bull-headed blunder represented by the continuance of the cattle embargo on Canadian cattle.

A YOUNG LAD'S RESCUE.

CONFINED TO HIS ROOM FOR MORE THAN A YEAR.

An Intense Sufferer Through Pains in the Muscles of His Legs and Arms—Reduced Almost to a Living Skeleton.

From the Wolfville, N.S., Acadian.

Mr. T. W. Beckwith is the proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Wolfville, the most important hostelry in the town, and is a man well known and esteemed throughout that section. He has a bright handsome looking son, 13 years of age, named Freddie, who is a lad of more than average intelligence. It is pretty well known in Wolfville that Freddie underwent a very severe illness, though perhaps the means to which he owes his recovery is not so generally known and a statement of the case may be the means of helping some other sufferer. On the 25th of December, 1893, Freddie was taken ill and was confined to his room and his bed until March, 1894. Two different physicians were called in during his long illness. One said he had la grippe and the other that his trouble was rheumatic fever. He was troubled with severe pains through the muscles of his legs and arms, after three or four days was obliged to take to bed, where he lay nearly all winter, suffering terribly from the pains. He became reduced almost to a skeleton and was unable to relish food of any kind. During his illness he suffered relapse owing to trying to get up sooner than he should. Boylike he was anxious to get out and enjoy the beautiful spring sunshine and for several days was carried out and taken for a drive. This brought on the relapse. The doctor was again called in and as he continued to grow worse he was ordered once more to bed. Things then looked very dark as despite the medical care he did not get any better. At last his father decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Soon after beginning their use Freddie began to feel better. His appetite began to return and the pains were less severe. As he continued the use of the Pink Pills he regained health and strength rapidly, and in about a month was apparently as well as ever, the only remaining symptom of his trying disease being a slight pain in the leg, which did not disappear for several months. It is over one and a half years ago, since Freddie took his last pill, and in that time he has not had a recurrence of the attack. There is no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured him, and both the boy and his parents speak highly in their praise.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the medical marvel of the age. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed. They are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers, or by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutions against which the public is cautioned.

An Eighteen-Ton Atlas.

Four French scientists have made a wonderful model of the earth. It is a sphere, 42 feet in diameter, and has painted upon its outside all details of the earth's geography. At Paris, where the pigmy world is being exhibited, an iron and glass dome has been erected over the globe. The building is eight-sided, and is well provided with elevators and stairways, which make it an easy task for the visitor to examine "all parts of the world." The globe weighs eighteen tons, but is so nicely balanced that it can easily be rotated by a small hand-wheel. The entire surface area is 525 feet.

Pigmy Porkers.

Some specimens of the smallest known species of hogs are now quartered at the London zoological gardens. They came from the desert regions of Australia and are known as "the pigmy hogs of the antipodes." They are well formed, frisky little porkers, the very largest and heaviest in the lot (which are all full grown) not being larger than a muskrat. These zoological curios are real hogs, and should not be confounded with the so-called "Guinea pigs," which are a specie of rodent.

A Glorious Age in Which We Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as "Maltine with Coca Wine."

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanising that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions, and sustains the vital forces until, by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health is renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

DALHOUSIE'S BENEFACTOR.

Next Week's Closing Will Take Form of a Memorial Service.

Halifax, N.S., April 24.—Owing to the death of George Munro, the New York publisher, whose princely beneficence towards Dalhousie University is universally known, there will be no special exercises at the closing convocation next week. The program that was being arranged, which included an address reviewing the educational advancement of the year, has been abandoned. The convocation is usually held in the Academy of Music, but next week's closing will take place in the University law library, where the exercises will partake of the nature of a memorial service. Mr. Munro's gifts to Dalhousie aggregated over $300,000. He married a sister of John Forrest, president of Dalhousie.

HEART DISEASE STRIKES DOWN ALL CLASSES.

The Essential Matter is to be Prepared for any Emergency.

It is painful to pick up the daily papers and observe how many people of all classes are being stricken down with heart disease and apoplexy. One day it is the farmer in the field, again the labourer carrying his hod or, as this week a prominent architecht in Ottawa. Perhaps it not too strong a statement, that 80 per cent of the people of Canada are afflicted with heart disease to some degree. What a blessing it is then, that there exists a medicine like Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart which is so quick in in producing relief. Instantly the patient obtains that ease that is so longed for when the heart is afflicted. There is absolutely no case of heart disease that it will not help, and with few exceptions, will produce a radical cure.—Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

WILL MR. LAURIER GO WEST?

A Prince Albert Despatch Says He Will Run for Saskatchewan

Winnipeg, April 24.—(Special)—A despatch from Prince Albert states that Mr. Laurier has accepted the candidature for Saskatchewan, and that he will undoubtedly go to the polls. Mr. McDowall declines to run.

Imperial Customs Union Winners.

How the Kidneys Talk.

They have a Language of their own.

Kidneys can't talk, but if you don't treat them rightly you will hear from them. They have a language of their own, and this is how they speak to you: You stoop or strain, ride too far, walk too much, work too hard and rest too little; then your back aches, and your head aches, and you ache all over.

Oh! you say, it's because I'm tired out. Now, this isn't true. It's because your kidneys are tired.

They can only do just so much and the lifting, stooping, straining or exciting has retarded their action.

The heart has pumped the blood into them faster than they could filter it. The filter is overtaxed and becomes clogged. They cry for assistance in the many symptoms that follow.

There is dull headache, backache, pains in various parts of the body, scalding of the urine, high colored urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the legs and all the other conditions that go with kidney disorders.

Why do the kidneys thus tell you their troubles in language so plain as to be unmistakable?

So that you may be warned in time. Will you heed the warnings?

If so, you will use Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing starts the kidneys working so quickly. Remember "Doan's." It is the original kidney pill, the most reliable kidney pill, and the pill you can place full confidence in to cure you. For sale by Paine's Celery Compound Gives Another Wonderful Proof of Its Life-saving Powers.

Mr. R. W. Daniels Says: "I Feel Like a New Man, Which Condition I Owe to the Blessing of God and Paine's Celery Compound.

All Statements Indorsed by a Prominent Methodist Minister.

The World's Safest and Best Spring Medicine

Thousands of suffering and disease-laden mortals would give gladly all they possess, were each one able to say from the heart, "I am a new man," or "I am a new woman."

If our people believe in the thousands of cures effected every year by Paine's Celery Compound, there is not the slightest necessity for giving up all that one may own to gain health, strength and new life. A few bottles of the great medicine often suffice to overcome and perfectly cure the most dreadful forms of disease and suffering. The use of Paine's Celery Compound in ninety-nine cases out of every one hundred means a cure.

Mr. R. W. Daniels, of Lawrencetown, N. S., is one of the many thousands who have found Paine's Celery Compound far superior to any of the medicines that doctors can prescribe. Mr. Daniels, who is a well known and respected citizen of this town, furnishes a statement of his case which is fully indorsed by Rev. C. M. Tyler, Methodist minister, of Weymouth N. S. He says:

"I feel constrained, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to add my testimony to the wonderful effects of your Paine's Celery Compound. I was induced to try your Compound through its wonderful effects upon a Mr. Parks. I had previously used a vast quantity of patent and doctor's medicines, only to find myself growing weaker. After using your Paine's Celery Compound to the number of five bottles, I gained forty-three and a half pounds, and I am able to work hard all day as a mason with comfort to myself. I feel like a new man, which condition I owe to the blessing of God and your Paine's Celery Compound."

A DECIDEDLY SERIOUS POSITION.

For a Time the Britishers Were Driven Into the Water. But They Rallied and Repulsed the Rebels

Cape Town, April 24.—A despatch from Buluwayo, dated April 24, says Commander Duncan, with 100 whites and 200 natives, with Maxim and Hotchkiss guns, met the Matabeles three miles out from Buluwayo. The Matabeles fired a heavy volley into the British party, and drove them into the Umguza River. One of the whites of the British party, was killed, three of the officers were wounded and several of the natives were killed.

The Matabeles lost 150 killed and a large number wounded.

The details of the fighting show that the defenders of Buluwayo decided to make a sortie from that town and engage the natives, who were besieging it. The British party met with no resistance until they reached the Umguza River, where they came upon the enemy. The force from Buluwayo occupied the south bank of the river for a distance of a mile, while the Matabeles were stretched along the north bank for four miles. Selous, with 100 natives, was stationed in the centre, the Afrikanders formed the left wing and Guy's Scouts the right wing. The British force crossed the river and rushed upon the Matabeles who were outflanked and driven into the water. The enemy swarmed up, however, and attempted to get in the rear of the British, obliging the Afrikanders to gallop back to intercept them. Guy's Scouts fell into an ambush and had to make a rush to extricate themselves from the Matabeles, who were pouring a hot fire into them.

There were many instances of personal heroism. Trooper Baxter, seeing Corporal Wise severely wounded, and his horse shot from under him, jumped from his own horse and helped Wise to mount him, thus enabling the corporal to escape. Baxter gave his life for his friend, for shortly after Wise's escape, he was killed by a stroke from an assegai, hurled by one of the ambushed foes. Guy had a narrow escape a bullet grazing his scalp.

Lieutenant Hood was severely and Lieutenant Crewe slightly wounded. The latter insisted that Hood should take his horse and the latter, after some demur, did so, and effected his escape. Crewe also got off without further injury, but had great difficulty in escaping Baxter's fate.

The Hotchkiss and Maxim guns became jammed early in the fight. They were only fired twice. Had it not been for this the loss of the Matabeles would have been far heavier than it was. The horse that Selous was riding was killed in midstream, and the rider barely escaped with his life.

NO EQUAL OR RIVAL.

Many Poor Imitations.

Diamond Dyes Tested for Twenty Years, and Given First Place in the Best Homes—Scientific Chemists Say They Are the Purest, Strongest, Fastest and Most Brilliant.

To-day, Diamond Dyes have no equal or rival in the world, and are the only package dyes that can be used with safety and confidence. The imitation and worthless dyes now on the market—some foreign and some domestic—are a constant source of danger to home dyers. Merchants and dealers sell them, simply because of the great profit that results when a sale is made. These imitation dyes which are sold at the same price as the "Diamond," are very dear at any price, as they ruin and destroy all kinds of goods.

People, in order to be fully protected from having inferior dyes foisted on them, should examine each package offered them. If the name "Diamond" is not seen, rest assured the dyes are dangerous and worthless. Diamond Dyes are fully warranted; crude and imitation dyes are made to deceive and swindle the careless buyer.

SENT BACK TO CANADA.

This Unfortunate Arabian Could Not Go to His Dying Brother.

Windsor, Ont., April 24.—An Arabian landed at the Windsor Ferry dock yesterday and informed the customs officers that he was on his way from Montreal to visit his brother in Ohio, when he was taken off the Canadian Pacific train by American officers and sent back to Canada. He produced a letter, written by his brother, in which the writer said he was dying. The letter is in Arabic and the customs officers could not make it out. The man was informed that nothing could be done for him.

DYGERT HAS BEEN RELEASED.

This Young American Knows the Horrors of a Cuban Prison.

Washington, April 24.—Secretary Olney has received a cable despatch from Consul-General Williams at Havana, confirming the news that Walter Grant Dygert, the young American, in whose behalf the Illinois delegation in Congress has taken so much interest, has been released from his confinement in the prison of Guines, Cuba. Both he and the brothers Diaz, concerning whom the Southern Baptists have been much exercised, will leave for the United States by the next steamer.

HAS THE MENENDEZ BEEN LOST?

She Has Been Finally Given Up at Halifax—Seven Lives Lost

Halifax, N.S., April 24.—The new schooner Menendez, before reported overdue at Port Spain, Trinidad, from Lunenburg, has been finally given up for lost with all hands. She is now 74 days out with no tidings of her or any of the crew. The schooner was 130 tons. There were seven in the crew, Capt. Heisler leaves a family at Lunenburg. It is believed that the entire crew have perished.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

A $200,000 Gown.

A fifth of a million dollars for a dress to be worn only once. Just think of it! That amount of money invested at 6 per cent. would bring in the tidy little income of $12,000 a year, or $1000 a month. The lump sum of $200,000, which this rate of interest represents, has already been invested in a coronation robe for Alexandria Feodorovna, Empress of Russia.

For a few hours on the 24th of next May she will wear this gown which has taken six months to complete. It then becomes practically state property, and will spend the remainder of its existence in a glass case labelled, "Coronation Robe of Her Imperial Majesty Alexandra Feodorovna, Empress-Consort of Russia."

A $200,000 costume lying useless in a glass case, after a few hours' wear, will make a nice target for the eloquence of Anarchists, Nihilists, Socialists and all the other "ists" in which Russia abounds.

QUEBEC HEARD FROM.

Henry G. Carroll, M. P., for Karmouraska, Que., Sounds the Praises of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

It will be noticed by those who have studied the testimonials for this wonderful catarrh remedy, that they are thoroughly unsectional in character. Every province in the Dominion, through its members of parliament and most prominent citizens, has told of the peculiar effectiveness of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It is of a character that overcomes any local or climatic conditions, and as with Mr. Carroll, it is a most effective remedy for catarrhal troubles in whatever shape, not omitting hay fever, where it works like a charm, and in every case is speedy in effect.

A Woman Of Refinement

INSISTS THAT THINGS SHALL LOOK WELL

She certainly insists on a good tone as a first requisite in a Piano, but other things being equal she prefers a Piano that looks well to one that doesn't. As Mason & Risch Pianos sound well, last well and look well, they usually receive the preference in the homes of the cultured, where tone and design are both considered from the standpoint of art.

You can recognize a Mason & Risch Piano almost as soon as you enter a room by the quiet elegance of its appearance.

CANADIAN FORESTRY.

A Local Contingent of Brethren Visited Norwood Last Night—A New Court.

Last evening Messrs. R. Q. Dench, D.D. H.C.R., H. Nesbitt, P.D.H.C.R., F. J. Jamieson, member of the Executive, Dr. Ross, and Mr. J. T. Hardwick, of the Canadian Order of Foresters, visited Norwood on the occasion of the institution of a new court in that town.

The Court was organized by Mr. R. J. Stewart, who during the last few weeks has been doing yeoman service in the eastern part of the country, having organized courts in South Dummer, Havelock and Hastings, as well as the one which was instituted last evening and which will be known as Court Norwood, No. 619.

The interesting ceremonies in connection with the institution of the Lodge took place in the town hall which was handsomely decorated for the occasion. Besides the members from Peterborough and Lakefield, there were also brethren present from Havelock, South Dummer, Hastings and Court Rob Roy, of Norwood.

The proceedings were conducted by Mr. Stewart, assisted by Messrs. Dench, Nesbitt, Jamieson, Rose and Hardwick, after which the election and installation of officers took place as follows :

Bro. Sherry	C R
" Dr. W. Hall	V C R
" D A Fraser	Rec-Sec
" Jas White	Fin-Sec
" Jas Cumming	Treas
" Rev Somerville	Chap
" Ed Martin	S W
" Mar Brown	J W
" Chas King	S B
" Chas Peters	J B
" Malcolm McGregor	J P C R

Court Norwood has been instituted under the most favourable auspices, there being 36 charter members composed of the representative men of the town.

Canadian Forestry has received quite an impetus in the eastern part of the country recently, and the Order is to be congratulated on securing so efficient an organizer as Mr. Stewart.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies last night, short addresses were made by a number of the visiting and local brethren, after which refreshments were served, and the meeting broke up in the "wee sma' hours."

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Most Rev. Archbishop Langevin Passes the Night in Town.

Last night Most Rev. Archbishop Langevin, of St. Boniface, Man., accompanied by V. Rev. J. McGuickin, O.M.I., president of Ottawa University, arrived in Peterborough by the evening train from the west. The Archbishop was the guest of his Lordship Bishop O'Connor during his short stay in town. The Archbishop and his reverend companion went to Ottawa by the mid-day C. P. R. express.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

On account of the hall being let by the week, there will be no gospel meeting to-night.

It is expected that Rev. Catenach, of Centreville, will address the young men's meeting at 4.15 to-morrow.

The faithfulness of the junior workers, has been rewarded in seeing several of their companions brought to Christ.

The thanks of the Association are due Rev. V. Clementi, B.A. for a beautiful set of chess-men. Such acts of kind thoughtfulness on the part of citizens, are very much appreciated by those having the responsibility of the work, as well as by those more directly benefitted.

OBITUARY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. James Wilson took place yesterday afternoon, the coffin, drapings, etc., being of white, in accordance with a promise exacted by the deceased from Mr. Clegg prior to her death. Mrs. Wilson was born in County Down, Ireland, in 1807, and before coming to Canada was a governess in the family of Lord McBride, of County Down. Her late husband, Mr. James Wilson, was born in the same county. He was a brother of the late Rev. Andrew Wilson, of Toronto, and father of the late Andrew Wilson well known in town. The deceased on coming to Canada with her husband resided in Cambogie for a time and afterwards in Fenelon Falls. Twenty-four years ago the family moved to Peterborough. Mrs. Wilson survived her husband 23 years.

NICHOLL'S HOSPITAL.

Mrs. O'Donavan, who has occupied the position of Lady Superintendent of the Nicholl's Hospital for the past five years, yesterday tendered her resignation. Miss Bolster, the assistant, has been promoted to the position. Since coming to town, Mrs. Donovan has made hosts of friends, who will regret exceedingly to hear of her intended departure.

Results Tell the Story.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequalled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache.

Fortnightly Club.

An open meeting of the Fortnightly Club will be held in the County Council chamber, Court House, Monday evening, April 27th. The subject of the evening is "Air and Ocean Currents," on which a paper will be read by Mr. D. W. Dumble, B.A. All citizens are most cordially invited to be present.

Going out of Business.

The announcement is made to-day of Mr. Robert Hall's intention to retire from the dry goods business. This well known dry goods house has become a favourite shopping place, especially for the ladies, and the reliability of the goods and trustworthy policy of the store has attracted a large trade from intelligent and careful shoppers. It will be with anything but pleasurable feelings that the patrons of this store will hear of the withdrawal from business of the popular head of the firm. Such, however is the determination; and in order to close out the business as rapidly as possible, Mr. Hall will inaugurate a great clearing on Tuesday morning, April 28th. Everybody knows that this establishment keeps in stock only goods of the better qualities, at as low quotations as a legitimate and honourable business could be conducted upon. The present stock is that laid in for the spring and summer trade, and includes many lines not more than a month out of their cases. The stock is also complete in every department; therefore such an an opportunity for offering goods of a sterling quality at cost price, has not been presented for years. The entire stock must be disposed of previous to the 30th of June, so an absolute clearance must be effected. Read the large half page additional in another page, and profit by it.

CONSERVATIVES IN COUNCIL.

The Proceedings at the Annual Meeting Last Night — Officers Elected — Speeches by Mr. James Stevenson, Ex-M.P., and Others - Convention for Nomination May 2nd—Probable Candidates.

At the annual meeting of the Conservatives of West Peterborough, held last night, to elect officers for the current year, there was a large attendance, but the lack of unanimity, and evidences of party schism, rather detracted from the encouraging feature a large attendance might suggest.

There was difficulty from the start. Mr. L. M. Hayes, though urgently pressed, absolutely declined to accept the secretaryship again. The position of president was offered to several gentlemen before it was accepted by last night's appointee. It is understood that all through there was evidence of revolt against the machine, without any definite substitute machine being presented.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. James Kendry occupied the chair, and after routine the following officers elected :—

President—Mr. W. H. Moore.
Vice-President for Peterborough—Mr. Robert Fair.
Vice-Presidents for North Monaghan—Messrs Jos. Forster and Geo. Webber.
Vice-Presidents for South Monaghan—Messrs. R. Fisher and Jos. Clark.
Vice-Presidents for Smith—Messrs. Jos. Millburn and Geo. Fitzgerald.
Vice-Presidents for Ennismore—Messrs. M. Perdue and C. O'Connor.
Vice-President for Lakefield—Mr. R. C. Strickland.
Vice-President for Harvey—Mr. A. Johnston.
Secretary—Mr. W. Salisbury.
Treasurer—Mr. Geo. W. Hatton.

At the conclusion of the elections Mr. W. H. Moore thanked the meeting for the honour conferred upon him.

Afterwards speeches were indulged in by several gentlemen.

Mr. James Stevenson laid particular stress upon the fact that during his term of office he had done all he could for the riding, and no man could do more. If returned again as a representative for West Peterborough he would pursue the same course. He also pointed to Sir Charles Tupper's charge of obstruction against the Opposition, and laid all the blame of the Remedial Bill not passing to the obstruction of the Opposition. His services to the party were also emphasized, and his services to the riding in the procuring of the building of the Post Office and the Customs building (without, however, any reference to its late tenant) were submitted as things that should be placed to his credit.

Mr. Garvin stated that he was no longer entangled with the school inspectorship, and was free to enter the political field, but he feared that he could not give much of his valuable assistance to the party in this riding, as he was due in Simcoe, where he would be called upon to measure swords with his old antagonist, Mr. D'Alton McCarthy.

Mr. Kendry also made a brief speech, in which he urged the Conservative party not by any means to belittle Mr. Hall, the standard bearer of the Liberal party, for he was a candidate who would put up an exceedingly strong fight, and said the Conservative party would have to make the hardest fight of their lives to win.

Mr. Moore, the president, emphasized the point that his belief was that Mr. Hall was not brought out because he was a good candidate, but because he was a gentleman of means.

Mr. John Carnegie, who arrived later, was invited to the platform, and made a short speech, to the effect that everybody knew where he stood on the Separate School question, but the constitution gave Separate Schools to the minority, and he was prepared to uphold the constitution, and give the minority their rights.

The following resolution was moved, seconded by Mr. T. Kelly :

That this regular meeting of the Liberal-Conservatives of the West Riding of the County of Peterborough heartily approve of the political course pursued by our esteemed member, Mr. James Stevenson during his Parliamentary career and is pleased to acknowledge the many services rendered to the party by him both prior and subsequent to his election to Parliament.

It was decided that the convention for the selection of a candidate will be held in the Opera House on Saturday, May 2nd, for the nomination of a candidate. It is expected that Hon. G. E. Foster and Hon. Dr. Montague will be present at a mass meeting to be held in the evening.

The question of the selection of a candidate was not taken up by this meeting, the leaders of the party feeling that it would be unwise to go farther than to generally discuss among themselves the probable chances of the available candidates and last night's gathering was therefore not taken into the confidence of the party leaders.

It is however generally understood that either Mr. Kendry or Mr. T. E. Bradburn will receive the unanimous nomination on Saturday next.

John Pitt, acting G.T.R. baggage master at Millbrook, deems himself a lucky man. On Tuesday he was assisting in shunting cars at the station. He was standing on the steps of the last car, and when passing the cattle yard a post struck his head and he was rendered insensible and fell to the ground, his feet falling on the rail. The cars fortunately were going the right way or he would likely have lost his legs.

How to get "Sunlight" Books.

THE RETURNING-OFFICERSHIP.

At the Conservative meeting last night no effort was made to explain why the position of Returning Officer was taken from Sheriff Hall and bestowed upon a partizan. It has been the custom to have the Sheriff and Registrar of the county to act as Returning Officer for the West and East Ridings, respectively. What is the objection to Sheriff Hall? Is he not to be trusted, or is there some lurking reason why he has been replaced by a partizan like Mr. R. A. Morrow? Sheriff Hall has always discharged the duty of returning officer in a satisfactory manner, and the electors always expect and get fair play from Mr. Hall. The public want to know why this change is made, and the Conservative party that permitted it. is called upon to afford an explanation. The public are expecting or should expect from their public men the practice of a higher standard of political morality than is implied in the appointment in question.

A Beautiful Tandem.

What is probably the most expensive and elaborately finished article in the bicycle line ever brought to town is a fine imported tandem, which Mr. Hudson has on exhibition at his store on Brock street near Water. A large number of wheelmen examined it last evening, and were as one in praising its gracefulness and its many modern improvements.

An Attractive Window.

Mr. A. Clegg's window to-day displays a very handsome bedroom suite with tables, chairs, etc., and a very pretty secretary, all in native birch. The panels and prominent parts are of selected wood, and the effect is very artistic and pleasing. The style of the furniture, especially the bedstead, is quite new.

The Gormans are well known favourites in this town, having for years been the proprietors of Gorman's high class minstrels. "The Gilhoolys Abroad" is a departure in farce comedy, and contains many funny situations, pretty dances, marches and lots of good singing.

Turner's Snowden House Awnings.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son have equipped the Snowden House with nineteen new fancy stripe window awnings, of which four are large awnings for balconies, etc. This fine piece of work adds much to the attractiveness of this popular hotel. The enterprising firm of J. J. Turner & Sons have also just completed a large photographic tent, with dark room, etc., etc. It was set up this afternoon and may be seen on the lot south of the Customs House.

Runaway Accident.

At noon as the delivery wagon of Mr. Lateillier, butcher, was turning into the west end of Gilmour street, the whiffletree bolt came out, and the horse ran away, throwing out the driver, Alex. Gordon, and Edward Burritt, a young man accompanying him. Gordon was considerably bruised, but Burrit was more badly bruised and shaken up, especially his left arm. Mr. Poussette, medical student, who lives near, attended to the dressing of the wounds as well as could be done on the spot. The horse, which broke loose from the wagon, ran on and brought up in the woodshed of Mr. Peter Thompson, narrowly escaping running down his little boy, Louie.

"GEORGE ELIOT."

Rev. Provost Welch's Brilliant Lecture.

Last night there was not a large, but a very appreciative, audience assembled in St. John's schoolhouse to listen to an address on "George Eliot" by Rev. Provost Welch, of Trinity College, Toronto. Previous to the beginning of the lecture, Batcher's string orchestra highly pleased the audience with a very well rendered overture, which was greatly appreciated.

Rev. Provost Welch's lecture was of a very high order. He is a pleasing speaker, with a dry humour, whose suggestive subtilty, unaided by an impassive immobility of countenance, dawns on the hearer as a charming surprise. His keen analysis of the character of Mary Ann Evans and her novels—for it was only as a novelist that he dealt with George Eliot—was a splendid specimen of literary dissection. He gave a brief outline of her life, referring to the moral catastrophe that cleft her life in twain, the result of earlier unbelief. In 1856 she began to write fiction and her success was great and immediate. Her earlier works were marked by a strong local colouring and the strong fidelity to life. While dealing with "Adam Bede," as he did with several of her works, the speaker read an extract from this novel, which was, apart from the literary excellence and humor inherent in the sketch, given with more than common elocutionary effect and was warmly applauded. Her later books, such as the "Mill on the Floss," lacked the spontaniety that marked her earlier works. This was due to the responsibility she felt as a writer, arising from her strong sense of duty, which was unusually developed in George Eliot's character—which was, in fact, her religious creed. Still there remained the same artistic literary finish. "Silas Marner," from which readings were also made, was referred to as a masterpiece of artistic and literary merit. A wide gulf opened between the novelist's previous works and "Romola," "Middlemenci" and "Daniel Deronda." In the first she had to construct her enviroment and of course it lacked the intense local colouring of her other novels. Gems of thought, in settings of beautiful expression, were read from Romola. The character of Tito, the picture of a soul's tragedy, did not belong to the fifteenth century. Dealing in summary with the moral effects of George Eliot's writings, the speaker evidently felt that the general tendency was good. She strove with her strong sense of duty to elevate the good and debase the bad. She evidently aimed to undo with her pen the evil influences of her life and mode of thought. The positive good of her writings over-balanced the negative good of obscure orthodoxy. She tried to balance the moral account and championed right because it was right. As a moral teacher, judged by her novels, she stood on a high level.

At the conclusion of Rev. Provost Welch's delightful lecture, a cordial vote of thanks, moved by Judge Weller and seconded by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, was very cordially adopted.

In reply the Rev. Provost referred to Trinity University and its work as an institution with full university powers. Contrary to some opinions it represented no particular school of thought in the church. This and the residential system were its two distinguishing characteristics. Rev. Mr. Symonds, an ex-professor of Trinity, also referred to its qualities and work.

—Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co. have placed a huge sign on the "Farley Mansion," corner of Elizabeth and Lake streets, Ashburnham.

—Inverlea Park is undergoing a thorough cleaning, a number of men being engaged raking all the dead leaves and rubbish together and burning them.

—The enterprise of the Ambitious City's residents takes peculiar form. Hamilton has a "Jane Cakebread"—a lady who has just completed her one hundredth term in jail for drunkenness.

—Attention is called to the advertisement of Prof. Bernard Halfpenny, hypnotist in another column. He comes to town highly recommended by physicians, ministers, educationalists and others.

—The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. P. B. McIlhargey shipped a load of hogs to the Geo. Mathews, Co., Peterborough, this morning. To morrow he will ship a mixed load of cattle and hogs to Montreal.

—The Morgan House dining room has just been newly re-papered, and is looking brighter and cleaner than ever, if such a thing is possible. The paper was purchased from Mr. A. H. Stratton, and was hung by Mr. Tom Clitheroe.

—The steamer Beaver was the first to arrive in port, coming in this morning from Harwood, and brought a large number of passengers from intervening ports. Capt. Harrison has his last season's crew—Wilbert Harrison, engineer; mate, Jack Dale.

—The people of Bobcaygeon have been in danger of being floated into Pigeon lake for some days past owing to the very high levels of Sturgeon and Pigeon lakes. At present the difference between the two is but 9 inches, and many portions of the village are flooded.

—The high water has gained access into Mr. Faint's woollen mills. The shaft of the elevator which enters the ground is filled to a considerable distance with water. Mr. Adam Hall is repairing the leakage, but the water seems to accumulate.

—Mr. A. P. Morgan has already commenced seeding his twenty acre farm in the South Ward. The work is under the supervision of Mr. George Smith, and the entire twenty acres will be seeded to vegetables only. Mr. Smith is a practical market gardener, and knows exactly what "A. P." requires for seasonable vegetables for use on the table.

Intense Pain From Sciatica—The Mystic Remedy, South American Rheumatic Cure, Conquers in Two Days.

The following comes from the wealthy lumberman, of Merrickville, Ont., Mr. E. Erratt:—For a number of years I have suffered intense pain from rheumatism and sciatica in my left hip. It is needless to say I have doctored constantly, but without receiving anything but temporary relief. South American Rheumatic cure was at last tried and its effect was truly magical. In two days the pain was all gone and two bottles of the remedy cured me completely. I was so bad that for two years I could not lie on my left side if I got the universe for so doing. At present I have not a symptom of sciatica or rheumatism, and hence it is with much pleasure that I recommend this great remedy. I know it will cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Going Out of Business!

ROBERT HALL

Begs to announce that he has decided to retire from the Dry Goods Business in Peterborough, and, in order to close out his present buriness as rapidly as possible, he will commence on TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 28th,

A Positive Clearance Sale

Covering every Department of his business. MR. HALL desires to state that this sale will be conducted strictly in good faith with the public. No deception of any kind need be apprehended and he confidently asks the public to rely upon the genuine character of this sale, as everything will be done in a straightforward manner. The Reduction of Prices will apply in all departments as follows:

GENERAL DRY GOODS,	PARASOLS AND UMBRELLAS,	SHIRTING, SHEETING, TOWELLING
SILKS AND DRESS MATERIALS,	HOSIERY AND GLOVES,	LACE CURTAINS,
MILLINERY AND MANTLES,	BED AND TABLE LINEN,	PORTIERES AND DRAPERIES,
RIBBONS AND LACES,	UNDERWEAR,	SMALLWARES.

There can be no question about the High-Class Character of this Stock. Every department is in first-class condition—many lines not one month out of their cases. The Spring Stock is the choicest and most strikingly new in character ever brought into Peterborough. Exclusive styles are here in ample variety, with no chance of their being duplicated now or two months hence. No such opportunity has occurred for years of securing goods of sterling quality at prices much below their regular value.

ON MONDAY THE STORE WILL BE CLOSED in order to afford an opportunity for marking down the goods. On Tuesday morning the doors will be opened and the Clearing Sale will commence punctually at 8 o'clock. As the entire stock must positively be disposed of previous to the 30th of June, prompt sales and positive Bargains must prevail every day. You are advised to shop early. ☞During this sale it will be impossible to continue our Furniture premiums.

385 George Street, Peterborough. ROBERT HALL.

The man who stands idly by and sees the life fading out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in the perfect enjoyment of vigorous, useful health, is either less than a man or else does not know of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength. Most women do not understand their own bodies, or the things that make them well or sick. The most frequent cause of sickness in women is the cause last looked for. A women will go to a doctor when she has a severe cold, or some acute digestive disturbance, but she hesitates and procrastinates when the trouble is with the distinctly feminine organism. And yet the latter is infinitely more serious. It is the most serious sickness that any woman can have. It is the most dreadful—the most dangerous. Its consequences are always serious, and serious right at the beginning because it is debilitating. It saps the life and strength and works on the nerves to such an extent that the whole body is disturbed. Appetite leaves, the color goes from the face and hollows sink into the cheeks. Irritability succeeds good temper and fretfulness takes the place of contentment. Little by little life becomes more and more miserable. The woman is killing herself with neglect just as surely as if she were taking deadly poison. Perhaps her husband cannot persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable examinations and "local treatments." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use and tested every day for 30 years. It isn't an experiment, there are no chances about it. It is a certain and infallible cure for all derangements peculiar to women. Those who care to know all about it, and to receive the best medical work ever prepared for the general public are invited to send 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only and receive a copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

THE GREATEST PROBLEM

OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY HAS BEEN SOLVED.

Electricity is Applied With Wonderful Results in the Manufacture of "Ryckman's Kootenay Cure"—A Discovery as Important as That of Dr Rontgen's Cathodic Rays.

The introduction of electricity in the manufacture of "Ryckman's Kootenay Cure," and the astounding results therefrom, have startled the public mind and aroused the interest and amazement of scientists. The large variety of diseases which it has successfully treated is causing a profound sensation and has absolutely dumbfounded the doctors. Thousands of afflicted men and women all over the Dominion are using it with wonderful results, and letters unsolicited are being received daily gratefully testifying to the marvellous curative powers of this life-giving remedy, including many cases of long standing which have heretofore been pronounced incurable and baffled the skill of the highest medical practitioners. These statements cannot be denied, and the proprietor will be pleased to allow any committee of responsible persons to make an investigation as to the above facts.

Never before in the history of medicine have so many permanent cures been effected of rheumatism, catarrh, kidney and skin diseases, in so short a space of time for the number taking it. It is stated, without fear of contradiction, that ninety-five per cent. of those who have used the remedy, and who have faithfully followed out the directions, have been cured of some of the worst forms of diseases. It has proved to be the greatest tonic and blood purifier known and believed to be the only medicine in the world compounded by an electrical process. Eminent professors of chemistry assert that it will revolutionize all existing methods of treating the manufacture of medicine, and there is no doubt but that it will lead to most important and valuable discoveries. However that may be, the action of electricity in the present case has proven conclusively that electricity is a mighty agent in the preservation of human life both for old and young, so much so that many who have used the remedy state that they feel ten years younger. This is the great, mysterious problem which scientists have been endeavouring to solve since the days of the ancient Egyptian doctors and men of learning, and which has been left to the nineteenth century for discovery.

HARRY EMES IN THE TOILS.

A Niagara Falls, Ont., Young Man Charged With a Serious Offence.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 24.—Harry Emes, the 20-year-old son of Dr. S. P. Emes of this town, was arrested this morning by Chief of Police Young, charged with performing the illegal operation on Minnie Minchen of Glanford, Ont., at his father's house and causing her death on or about the 11th inst.

The young man will have a hearing before Police Magistrate Logan at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning, when it is expected some startling revelations will take place. It will be remembered the Coroner's jury brought in a verdict from the evidence tendered that the girl met her death by an illegal operation being performed by other than herself, and such person or persons being unknown to the jury. Bail is refused.

Nothing Hunts Out Corns

Like tight boots. Corns are very small affairs, but apply them to a pair of tight boots and all other concerns sink into insignificance. Tight boots and Putnam's Corn Extractor (the great and only sure cure for corns) may go together and comfort will be their partner; but don't fail to use Putnam's Corn Extractor. Frauds, cheap, poisonous and dangerous substitutes are in the market. Beware of them. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

WORKING HOURS IN GERMANY.

Count Herbert Bismarck Fears the Reduction Would Unsettle Trade.

Berlin, April 23.—In the Reichstag today Count Herbert Bismarck made a speech in opposition to the proposal of the Government to limit the number of working hours in the various industries upon the ground that such compulsory limitation would unsettle trade. No Government, he declared, had done what Germany had done for the welfare of the working classes within the last 15 years.

Freiherr von Berlapsch, Minister of Commerce, refuted Count Bismarck's attacks upon the Government policy. As long as he remained a minister, he declared, he would strive to the utmost to secure laws for the protection of the working people and see they did not remain a dead letter. Furthermore, he would continue his endeavor to amend such laws wherever defects in them were discovered.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Blacksmith Shop Burned and Planing Mills Damaged at Listowel.

Listowel, April 23.—Fire, which originated in John Daum's blacksmith shop, destroyed that building and badly damaged Jacob Larfe's planing mills. The loss will be $300; insurance $2250.

Funeral of Leon Say.

Paris, April 23.—The funeral of M. Leon Say, the distinguished political economist, took place to-day, and in accordance with his known wishes, was remarkable for its simplicity.

Sir Oliver Mowat Afflicted with Kidney Trouble.

The news has been flashed across the wires from the old country that Sir Oliver Mowat, who is there seeking medical advice, is a victim of kidney disease. His friends say that the case is not as alarming as the press reports have stated. But there seems to be no disguising the fact that with Ontario's premier, as thousands of others, kidney disease has seized the system. It is laying waste the lives of our best people in all parts of the Dominion. And yet those who have learned to use South American Kidney Cure are finding in it a remedy far surpassing a sea voyage, or even the skill of England's greatest physicians. It is a kidney specific, not a cure-all, but as a specialist in this particular it gives relief within six hours after the first dose, and renewed health to all who use it. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

AN ITCHING HEAD

Is a source of great discomfort. It's annoying to yourself and disgusting to your friends.

Most times dandruff, scurf, or scales cause it, and these, if neglected, produce baldness. By using Hairene you can clean the scalp, relieve the itching, nourish the hair roots, and produce a vigorous growth of hair.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

FOR MEN.

No remedy has ever equaled Warner's Safe Cure in curing every form of liver and kidney complaint. If you are troubled in this way and are experiencing such symptoms as biliousness, headaches, backaches, nervousness, dizziness, constipation and tired feelings, it will give you speedy relief. Remember that Warner's Safe Cure is not an untried remedy or an experiment but a scientific preparation prescribed and recommended by eminent physicians all over the world. Thousands have testified to its wonderful curative effects. It is the best remedy in existence for any man who needs fresh life, energy and health.

FOR WOMEN.

Not only the best but the only remedy which can always be relied upon. That is the verdict of every woman who has tried Warner's Safe Cure. There is no better remedy for women who suffer from distressing weaknesses. It acts like a charm in overcoming aches, pains and bearing down sensations. It restores the colour of health to pale cheeks, gives brightness to dull eyes and takes away that sallow, unhealthy complexion. No woman who values her health and strength should be without the great safe cure.

ERIN IS MY HOME.

Oh, I have roamed over many lands,
And many friends I have met;
Not one fair scene or kindly smile,
Can this fond heart forget.
But I'll confess that I'm content,
No more I wish to roam,
Oh, steer my bark to Erin's isle
For Erin is my home.

In Erin's isle there's manly hearts,
And bosoms pure as snow,
In Erin's isle there's right good cheer
And hearts that ever flow;
In Erin's isle I'd pass my time,
No more I wish to roam.
Oh, steer my bark to Erin's isle,
For Erin is my home.

If England was my place of birth,
I'd love her tranquil shore.
If bonny Scotland was my home,
Her mountains I'd adore.
But pleasant days in both I've passed,
I'd dream of days to come,
Oh, steer my bark to Erin's isle
For Erin is my home.

ST. LAWRENCE.

The River's Mysterious Tidal Movements and the Proof.

The tidal movement in the St. Lawrence is not the familiar diurnal one common in the ocean and other extensive bodies of water, salt or fresh, and caused by the attraction of the moon. It is something much more mysterious.

The allegation is that the big river has a tidal period of about fourteen years, and that is that it falls regularly and continually for seven consecutive years, dropping its level four or five feet, and then rises for the next ensuing seven years. Those who make this assertion—and its most persistent adherents are the fishermen and guides who study the river as a matter of business from day to day and year to year—are fortified with apparently excellent evidence.

They will show you the islands submerged for twelve years that only show themselves at the lowest water during the two remaining years of the period. They will row you out to perpendicular cliffs, upon whose sides they, their fathers and their grandfathers before them have marked high water, and the alleged dates seem to confirm the theory. What makes this singular movement of the water more apparent is the fact that the lordly St. Lawrence is not subject to the floods and droughts which rise and lower the level of almost all rivers many times during the course of each year. Except for the almost imperceptible "tidal" rise or fall, as the case may be, its level is constant the year around. Weeks of heavy rain do not disturb its steady volume or spoil the angler's sport by making muddy the clear water.—New York Herald.

Emerson and the Guide.

The poet Emerson was never credited with being a handsome man, though people who knew him saw in his face his beautiful character and forgot to discriminate between him and his appearance. Years ago when "Philosophers" were in camp at Follensbee Pond, in the Adirondacks, Emerson was one of the party, and his devotion to his studies and "worthless writin'," seemed to several of his guides a great waste of time, which might better have been spent in hunting and fishing.

There was, however, a guide, Steven Martin, who became perhaps the most noted that the Adirondacks ever produced, and who recognized in Emerson something of his real worth and upon whom the poet made a great impression, "Steve," as he was familiarly called, was an observing man, and the poet's physical defects, then undoubtedly more prominent than in later years, did not escape his eye, as may be seen from the answer he gave to the question of the writer of this paragraph: "What kind of a fellow was Emerson?" "Wal, sir," said the old guide, "he was a gentleman every inch—as nice a fellow as you ever see; pleasant and kind—and a scholar, too, allus figgerin' and writin'; but, sir, he was, I believe, the all-firdest homeliest critter for his age that ever came into these woods."—Troy Times.

THAT IMPALING CASE.

Mr. H. E. Hudson, Combermere, Severely Injured—Protruding Knot Entered the Body — Cured by One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Combermere, April 13, (Special)—Mr. H. E. Hudson, trapper, hunter and lumberman, was injured by falling on a knot which entered his body from beneath and injured the bladder and kidneys. He says:—"I was confined to my bed for six weeks and was rarely able to work, feeling too weak since the injury over eight years ago. I have taken one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly cured and as able-bodied as ever before in my life. One box was worth one hundred dollars to me, if it is possible to estimate such a benefit in dollars."

How to Dry Wet Shoes.

When without overshoes you are caught in the rain, carefully remove all surface water and mud from the shoes. Then, while still wet, rub them well with kerosene oil on the furry side of canton flannel. Set them aside until partially dry, then apply the kerosene. They may then be deposited in a moderately warm place and left to dry gradually and thoroughly. Before applying French kid dressing give them a final rubbing with the flannel, still slightly dampened with kerosene, and the boots will be soft and flexible as new kid and will be very little affected by their bath in the rain.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Baron De Hirsch's Remains Will Be Laid Away in Paris—His Will.

London, April 23.—A Vienna despatch to The Daily News says Baron Hirsch will be buried in Paris on Sunday.

The Vienna correspondent of The Standard says:

"Baron Hirsch's will is probably in Paris. It is believed it will leave a million to his brother. According to his marriage settlement the survivor should inherit one-half, but it is understood that the Baroness agreed with her husband that a number of foundations should be made in the name of both after the decease of either, so that only about four millions will remain at her free disposal. The two boys were not legally adopted, but they will be well provided for."

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, April 23.—Business still continues to be confined solely to the buying and selling of cattle to meet local requirements, there being as yet no inquiry for export. Trade, both in cattle and small meats, continues fairly active, receipts good and prices steady. This morning at the Eastern Abattoir Market about 500 head of cattle, 700 calves, 100 sheep and 50 spring lambs came in.

Last Monday's values ruled in most cases, and, as a good general demand was shown, the volume of business transacted was fairly large. The range of prices to-day for common rough animals to best butchers' beeves was from 2c to 3¼c per lb., live weight. Spring lambs brought from $2 to $4 a head, and sheep sold at 4c per lb. The range for calves was a wide one, from $1 to $10 each being asked, according to size and quality. Following was the general range of quotations:

Cattle—Butchers', choice, per lb., 3½c to 3¾c, live weight; do., medium to fair, do., 3c to 3¼c, do.; do., do., culls, do., 2c to 2½c, do.

Calves—Good to choice, $7 to $10; common to fair, $1 to $6. Spring lambs—Common to good, $2 to $4. Sheep—Common to good, 4c per lb., live weight.

MRS. PITEZEL WANTS HER MONEY

She Will Endeavor to Make Holmes Give Up $6000 Insurance.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Thomas A. Fahey, counsel for Mrs. Benjamin F. Pitezel, says his client will arrive in this city to-day. The object of Mrs. Pitezel's visit is to demand restitution from Holmes of the $6000 insurance money due her upon the death of her husband, which Holmes collected shortly before the murder of the Pitezel children. When asked if Mrs. Pitezel would take any part in the new attempt of Mr. Rotan to save the condemned man's neck by petitioning for a reprieve, he said: "Certainly not, for that would undoubtedly jeopardize the purpose of her visit. It is my intention to make an effort to see that she secures a part, if not all, the money out of which she was defrauded."

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

No. LX.

A Short Study of Tennyson's In Memoriam.

The second cycle (XXVII-LXXVII) forms what one might justly call the heart of the whole poem. Here the poet gives expression to his doubts and it is here he answers them.

By the thoughts which Christmastide suggests, the poet is led to contemplate the question of the immortality of the soul. But for him this is not a question upon which to speculate, but something to be accepted as a matter of faith. The real picture of this faith Tennyson gives us in the picture of Mary, the sister of Lazarus, of whom he writes:

"Her eyes are homes of silent prayer,
Nor other thoughts her mind admits,
But he was dead and there he sits,
And he that brought him back is there.

"Then one deep love doth supersede
All others, when her ardent gaze
Roves from the living brother's face,
And rests upon the Life indeed.

"All subtle thoughts, all curious fears,
Borne down by gladness so complete,
She bows, she bathes the Saviour's feet
With costly spikenard and with tears.

"Thrice blest whose lives are faithful prayers,
Whose loves in higher love endure;
What souls possess themselves so pure,
Or is there blessedness like theirs?"

For the poet this faith is deepened and strengthened by his own intuitions, for, as he says:

"My own dim life should teach me this,
That life shall live for evermore,
Else earth is darkness at the core
And dust and ashes all that is."

And from the doubts which death might suggest he turns to Him who made this truth of immortality "the current coin," and has wrought out for man

"The creed of creeds,

"Which he may read who binds the sheaf,
Or builds the house, or digs the grave,
And those mild eyes that watch the wave
In roaring round the coral reef."

There now follows a series of questions as to the character and conditions of the soul in its life beyond the grave, for which the poet finds his answers in the promptings of his love and faith.

Is there progress in that life? Will the soul which has passed through the valley of death develop, and shall that be of such a nature that the earthly friend will be outstripped and left so far behind, that intercourse and communion will be impossible? He expresses these doubts in the following words:

"But thou art turned to something strange,
And I have lost the links that bound
Thy changes; here upon the ground,
No more partaker of thy change.

"For tho' my nature rarely yields
To that vague fear implied in death;
Nor shudders at the gulfs beneath,
The howlings from forgotten fields.

"Yet oft when sundown skirts the moor
An inner trouble I behold,
A spectral doubt which makes me cold,
That I shall be thy mate no more."

In the answer he gives, we see his deep admiration for Hallam and his high estimation of his abilities, and he confesses that here he was far outstripped, for

"It was but unity of place
That made me dream I ranked with him and,
So may place retain us still."

Is the life beyond the grave a conscious one? May it not be a sleep? The poet shows that if this is the case, love will endure, and when the time of awakening comes all will be the same; for

...."love will last as pure and whole
As when he loved me here in time,
And at the spiritual prime
Rewaken with the dawning soul."

Does memory still exist in the future life? Or may not memory lose itself by absorption of self-consciousness personality into the general soul? Against such doubts as these the poet's love for Hallam protests, and in that protest, and not in any direct line of reasoning, he finds an answer which brings him joy and happiness.

From these doubts the poet turns to consider the true character and ultimate destiny for creation. In seeking this he gives to us that picture of the larger hope which is found mirrored in so many hearts.

"O yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill."

. . . . . .

"I can but trust that good shall fall
At last—far off—at last, to all,
And every winter change to spring."

And though he feels that nature "red in tooth and claw" suggests a vastly different alternative, yet if life has no larger hope than nature gives, then truly it is a failure, and in his despair he cries:

"O life as futile, then, as frail!
Oh for thy voice to soothe and bless!
What hopes of answer, or redress?
Behind the veil, behind the veil."

But there comes to him a voice which bids him linger and

"Thou shalt take a nobler leave," and soon, through the power of his faith and love, his mind is pacified. And he turns from such distracting thoughts to contemplate the condition of his friend and the relationship between the living and the dead, and resigns himself to the hope which his love suggests.

"Sweet soul do with me as thou will;
I lull a fancy trouble-tost
With 'Love's too precious to be lost,
A little grain shall not be spilt.'

"And in that solace can I sing,
Till out of painful phases wrought
There flutters up a happy thought,
Self-balanced on a lightsome wing:

"Since we deserve the name of friends,
And thine effect so lives in me
A part of mine may live in thee
And move thee on to noble ends."

Thus the poet's doubts have been dispelled by the power of his love, which he apostrophises in the prologue as the "Strong Son of God," for through its power he has been led from the dark valley of despair into which he was cast by his great bereavement, to the highlands where the bright sun of faith and love shines, and, as Robertson says, we see that "In Memoriam is simply one of the most victorious songs that poet ever chanted."

Only the briefest mention can be made of the main ideas of the remaining cycles or divisions of the poem.

In cycle number three (lxxvii-cili) Tennyson describes to us his efforts to realize a more intimate communion with his friend. He says:

I wage not any feud with death,
For changes wrought in form and face,
No lower life that earth's embrace
May breed with him, can fright my faith.

Nor blame I death, because he bare
The use of virtue out of earth;
I know transplanted human worth
Will bloom to profit, otherwhere.

For this alone on death I wreak
The wrath that garners in my heart;
He puts our lives so far apart
We cannot hear each other speak.

This union he realises by a more direct interest in the things and the people of his present life. For in doing this he realises that he is making his life what Hallam would wish him to, and so he writes:

Whatever way my days decline
I feel and feel though left alone
His being working in mine own
The footsteps of his life in mine.

In the last cycle (cili.—end.) the poet pictures for us the future glory of the human race. In Arthur Hallam, idealised by his love, he sees the true type of coming humanity, and the glorious destiny of man. Of this thought Canto cvi. forms the key:

Ring out wild bells to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light,
The year is dying in the night,
Ring out wild bells and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring happy bells across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor,
Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out the want, the care, the sin,
The faithless coldness of the times;
Ring out, ring out my mournful rhymes,
But ring the fuller minstrel in.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

This Christ-like nature, says Tennyson, is our destiny as I see it written in the noble character of Arthur Henry Hallam.

Strange friend, past, present and to be,
Love deepliar, darkliar understood;
Behold, I dream a dream of good,
And mingle all the world with thee."

We have now briefly followed the poet through his hours of great darkness and doubt till we have seen the mind gain its serenity, take a renewed interest in his fellow-man and picture for them a future bright and beautiful with visions of the "Christ that is to be." And we cannot close this brief and imperfect study of his great poem in more fitting words than those in which he gives us the key-note of the whole purpose which he would make it serve:

I held it truth, with him who sings,
To one clear harp in divers tones,
That men may rise on stepping-stones
Of their dead selves to higher things.

Lumber for South Africa.

One day last week Messrs. J. W. Howry & Son, shipped 25 cars of lumber to South Africa, via New York. The train was drawn by two engines and landed in New York at the steamer's dock in 48 hours after leaving Fenelon Falls. The shipment was only part of an order recently placed with the firm; the balance will be forwarded via the same port as soon as vessel accommodation is provided.

NOT RESIGNED YET.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Retains the Premiership

AND KEEPS HIS MIND TO HIMSELF

A Three Hours' Session of the Cabinet on Saturday—Some Unfinished Business Cleared Up—Appointments Made—General Gossip From the Capital.

Ottawa, April 26.—The Cabinet held a three hours' session yesterday and cleared up some business. Sir Mackenzie Bowell still retains the Premiership, and though there is much much speculation, there is nothing definite as to when he will surrender the position. Some think that to-morrow the reins will be handed over to Sir Charles Tupper; others believe Tuesday will be the date of transfer. All is speculation, however, as Sir Mackenzie keeps his own counsel. The fact that Sir Mackenzie, Sir Donald Smith and Mr. Sandford Fleming have secured their tickets for England by the Lucania, which leaves New York May 9, makes it tolerably certain that the change will not be long delayed, as it is quite improbable that Sir Mackenzie would leave Canada at this juncture if he intended to retain the Premiership.

At yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet some important business was transacted. Wm. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and L. A. Catellier, Under Secretary of State, were superannuated, and these appointments made: Major F. Gourdeau, accountant of the Marine and Fisheries Department, to be Deputy Minister of the same department; Joseph Pope, assistant clerk of the Privy Council, and formerly private secretary to Sir John Macdonald, to be Under Secretary of State; J. L. Payne, private secretary to Sir Mackenzie Bowell, to be assistant clerk of the Privy Council.

The appointments of Messrs. Gourdeau and Pope leave the balance of nationality representation undisturbed.

Among other appointments which it is said were made on Saturday, but which yet require official confirmation, are the following:

John McDougal, ex-member for Pictou, N.S., as commissioner of customs.

D. W. Davis, ex-member for Alberta, collector for the Yukon district, with headquarters at Fort Cudahy on the Yukon River.

Aleck McKay, retiring member for Hamilton, inspector of customs ports for Western Ontario, Mr. Alfred Boultbee, the present inspector, being assigned to Eastern Ontario.

Not until Sir Charles has been actually commissioned to form a Ministry will the present indefiniteness give way to uncertainty. For the present the Secretary of State says nothing with regard to Ontario. Nothing seems to be settled. It is a question of one man coming in and whether that man will be Chief Justice Meredith or the Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick is problematical. But if uncertainty prevails regarding Ontario it is equally so from the Quebec standpoint. The announcement of Mr. Chapleau's friends that he will not accept a portfolio has upset everybody's calculations. There is a possibility, however, of his being coaxed. Whether the portfolio of railways and canals will fetch him remains to be seen. Certainly Mr. Haggart will not care to leave the department which he had administered so well. A report was current yesterday that Mr. Ouimet would quit politics, but this does not tally with the fact that the Minister of Public Works is making active preparations for the fight in the Montreal district. Supposing he went out and Mr. Chapleau will not come in, who would take Mr. Ouimet's place? It must be a man from the district of Montreal. Had Mr. Angers accepted the nomination for Chateauguay he would certainly have filled the bill, but that nomination has been accepted by the Hon. Joseph Royal, and consequently Mr. Angers would have to look elsewhere for a constituency. It is generally conceded that Mr. Desjardins will not remain in Federal politics.

The first shot in the campaign from a Ministerial standpoint will be fired at Montreal on Monday of next week when Sir Charles Tupper and others of his colleagues will attend a banquet to be given in their honor. Thence Sir Charles, Mr. Daly and other Ministers will proceed to Manitoba, where they will spend a few days.

Sir Charles Tupper was waited upon yesterday by a deputation consisting of Messrs. Davin, Macdonald (Assiniboia), Earle and Davis, who presented a memorial setting forth that the Northwest contingent were a unit in their desire to have Mr. Daly remain in the Cabinet as Minister of the Interior and their representative.

During the past day or two the Cabinet has been engaged considering the terms of the fast Atlantic service; daily communications have been passing between Ottawa and London. As already announced the vessels must have a speed equal to 20 knots. Quebec is to be the summer port and Halifax the winter port, but it is noteworthy that the contractors may at their option make Montreal in summer or St. John in winter the terminal point. One express condition is that the terminal point on this side of the Atlantic must in winter or summer be in Canadian territory. Another stipulation provides that the contractors cannot enter into any agreement for the carriage of mails or in any other way deal with any foreign Government. Our Government purposes retaining the management of the postal service entirely in its own hands.

Sir Mackenzie and Mr. Fleming, as previously stated, are going to England as Canadian representatives to the Colonial Office conference on the Pacific cable question. New Zealand is very anxious to have a representative at this conference, making three for Australasia, and if this be conceded by Mr. Chamberlain, it would entitle Canada to a third delegate, who would naturally be Sir Donald Smith.

The appointment of Mr. McDougall as Commissioner of Customs, means that Mr. Kilvert will not take the position. As acting commissioner the collector of Hamilton has shown great administrative capacity, but he could hardly be expected to give up an office with $3000 salary attached for one of $2800, even with an extra $800 as chairman of the Board of Customs. The extra $600 is no inducement for him to leave a splendid position in Hamilton.

Sir Mackenzie's lease of his present residence in Ottawa terminates on May 6th.

Hon. John Costigan leaves for New Brunswick to-morrow to look after the election.

It is understood that Mr. R. C. Desrochers, private secretary to Mr. Ouimet, has been appointed assistant secretary of Public Works.

The Hansard staff presented Mr. LaRiviere, chairman of the Debates Committee of the House of Commons, with a handsome traveling bag on the eve of his departure for home.

Mr. Harry Corby states that he will not contest West Hastings again. His medical men strictly forbid his entering politics for a time.

Mr. White of Shelburne will not be a candidate at the general elections, his constituency having been wiped out under the Redistribution Act. His name has been mentioned in connection with a vacancy on the provincial bench, a position which it has long been thought would be offered to him.

Mr. A. W. Ross leaves for the west in a few days, with the object of preparing for a contest in Selkirk constituency.

Hon. T. M. Daly has received an invitation from the Sons of Ontario in Chicago, to attend a banquet they propose having on the 6th of May next. The Minister of the Interior has decided to be present.

Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, the Conservative candidate for Winnipeg, left for Ottawa to-day. It is understood he will be sworn in as a member of the new Cabinet, probably as Minister of the Interior, before returning.

Lieut.-Governor Chapleau will, it is expected, be here on Tuesday.

THAT CATTLE EXCLUSION BILL

Will Not Get Through the Imperial House This Session at Least—Mr. Long's Bad Grace.

New York, April 26.—The London correspondent of The Sun cables: There is good reason to believe that the Government bill closing the United Kingdom to foreign colonial cattle will not get through the House this session. Its opponents have not been making much noise, but they have been working hard and effectively. The order book is crowded with amendments, the bulk of them palpably obstructive, and more are added almost daily. The Government might overcome this kind of opposition, but public business has got into such a tangle that it is already evident that some bills will have to be dropped, and the Ministers have practically decided that the Cattle Bill must be one of those sacrificed, as the time necessary to force it through may be more usefully employed on measures of greater importance and provoking comparatively mild hostility.

The Minister of Agriculture is naturally pretty angry over the projected sacrifice of his pet bill, and his feelings got the better of his discretion on Thursday, when, receiving a deputation of members which urged him to exempt Canada from the scope of the measure, he not only refused to make any concession but had an unseemly wrangle with the deputation. The incident was almost unprecedented in English parliamentary annals. The Minister evidently suspects that he has been made a fool of by his colleagues, and he is not far wrong.

Two Persons Perished.

Middletown, N.Y., April 26.—The house of Bernard Cullen, situated near Chester, was burned to the ground early this morning, and Cullen and his wife perished in the flames. Morris, a son, and George Thompson, a relative, escaped fom the burning structure by jumping from a third story window. It is thought that the fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp.

MR. MARTIN HONORED

Grand Reception Tendered on His Arrival at Home.

ON THE SHOULDERS OF HIS FRIENDS

He is Carried to a Carriage—Immense Meeting Addressed by the Popular Member and Others—Anti-Coercion Resolution Passed—The Campaign Now Opened.

Winnipeg, April 26.—(Special)—Mr. Joseph Martin, Winnipeg's member of Parliament, arrived home from Ottawa on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock and the Liberals turned out en masse and gave him a most enthusiastic reception.

When Mr. Martin stepped off the train ther was a rush of personal friends to shake hands, and soon he was surrounded by a cheering multitude, a brass band adding to the din. Somebody shouted "He's a good fellow; push him along," and with this shout the enthusiastic crowd picked up Mr. Martin and carried him on their shoulders to a carriage.

The crowd then proceeded to a large hall, which was packed to the doors, hundreds being unable to gain admission. The chair was taken by R. W. Jameson, Mayor of the city, who, in opening, declared the present was the most important election since Confederation to Manitoba, as it decided whether Manitoba is to retain control of its educational affairs. There were signs of victory for Manitoba, he said, one of the most notable signs being that many Conservative members had broken with their party and opposed the policy of coercion.

James Ashdown moved the following resolution:

Resolved that we, the citizens of Winnipeg, here assembled, desire to place on record our appreciation of the great services rendered by Joseph Martin during the last session of Parliament, particularly in all matters affecting the City of Winnipeg, the Province of Manitoba and the Northwest;

That we cordially approve of the step taken by him in opposing the Remedial Bill, and we congratulate him and the country upon the success which crowned the devoted efforts of himself and the other members of the House, both Liberals and Conservatives, who were determined that the obnoxious measure should not be forced through a moribund Parliament, which clearly did not reflect the sentiments of the electors.

That we denounce the action of Messrs. Daly, Boyd and Ross in voting for and supporting the Remedial Bill, in direct opposition to the well understood and frequently expressed wishes of their constituents.

That we have been much gratified to notice the active and prominent part taken by our representative in criticising the Government for extravagance, corruption and incompetency, and for the able assistance he has afforded during his Parliamentary career the distinguished statesman, the leader of Her Majesty's loyal Opposition, the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

Isaac Campbell, who was the opponent of Hugh John Macdonald at the last general election, seconded this resolution, declaring that no matter what Government came into power at Ottawa, the great question for Manitoba was that there be no interference with provincial legislation.

After H. M. Howell, a prominent barrister, had made a speech attacking the Conservative policy generally, Hon. J. D. Cameron came to the platform.

Mr. Cameron was one of Manitoba's commissioners at the school conference at Winnipeg, and he confined his remarks to this. He declared the Conservative Government had been insincere in this conference, having agreed that no matter what propositions for settlement were made these propositions would have to be acceptable to the minority. By the minority, said Mr. Cameron, was meant Archbishop Langevin. So that the commissioners did not come to Winnipeg to effect a reasonable settlement, but in reality to attempt to secure something that would suit Archbishop Langevin. Mr. Cameron extolled Mr. Laurier for defying clerical control.

Then came Mr. Martin, who was cheered to the echo when he rose. Mr. Martin simply reviewed the events at Ottawa and the debate on the Remedial Bill. He brought out nothing new in this connection. Touching on immigration, Mr. Martin vigorously attacked the policy of the Hon. Mr. Daly, declaring he left everything to his subordinates, who knew nothing of the requirements of the country and cared less. Mr. Martin endorsed Sir William Van Horne's proposal in respect to an immigration commission.

The resolution was adopted on a standing vote, after which the gathering dispersed.

This meeting inaugurates the election fight at Winnipeg which, without doubt, will be one of the hottest, if not the hottest, of the Dominion campaign.

Both Mr. Martin and his Conservative opponent, Hugh John Macdonald, are the very strongest men that could have been put forward by their parties, and a battle royal will ensue. Both sides are supremely confident.

Mr. Macdonald is about to leave for Ottawa and the belief is here that he will be sworn in as a Cabinet Minister, probably succeeding Mr. Daly as Minister of the Interior.

NO ISSUE FOR JINGOES.

U.S. Venezuelan Commission Will Not Report to the President Until December.

Washington, April 25.—The reports that the Venezuelan question had again reached a critical stage have developed two facts which are stated positively, namely, that the United States Government has not offered nor suggested a withdrawal of the present Venezuelan commission, and that negotiations towards general arbitration between the United States and Great Britain are proceeding satisfactorily, although there has been little progress as yet towards having the Venezuelan dispute included in the general scope of the arbitration.

Aside from these two material points the general status of the subject, it is stated, has not changed of late, and there is no apprehension or uneasiness lest the negotiations lapse or fail.

It is the general understanding that the Venezuelan Commission will not report until December next.

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1896.

A BAD BEGINNING.

It is an act of courage in a private business enterprise to boldly face the situation even if it be a bad one, and to provide with prudence for its improvement rather than to shut one's eyes to disagreeable facts and blindly drift into deeper difficulties. When the opponents of the present expensive and extravagant government bring to the public attention the lamentable and ruinous effects of misgovernment they are, with an incomprehensible imbecility, accused of preaching "blue ruin" and discrediting the country, while the parties guilty of that blue ruin and of discrediting the country are allowed to escape criticism. One is perfectly justified in calling attention to things that are wrong as the results of mischievious management of our affairs, when it is done temperately and with an honest desire to arouse public sentiment to the point of insisting on a change that will prevent the recurrence of bad results. With this object the Montreal Herald, submits as a bad beginning, the following:

Statistics of failures in Canada during the first quarter of the present year as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., make an unsatisfactory showing as compared with figures for the corresponding quarter of last year. Banking and a few unclassified branches of trade excepted, there is an all-round increase in the failure list, in point of both number and amount. In the aggregate the failures for the present quarter shows an increase of some $3,000,000, as compared with the amount of failures during the corresponding quarter last year. The table is as follows:

1st Quarter.	No.	Liabilities.
1896—Commercial	736	$5,745,540
1895 "	626	4,230,195
1896—Manufacturing	177	1,110,776
1895 "	108	980,568
1896—Trading	539	4,608,914
1895 "	444	3,131,178
1896—Miscellaneous	8	25,850
1895 "	4	108,155
1896—Banking	2	32,000
1895 "	1	68,000

Such figures call for little comment. They make a showing that is everyway regrettable and which calls for closest scrutiny by the business men of the country. It would have been a most agreeable thing to have been able to congratulate ourselves that the commercial year at the beginning had promised better fortune than its predecessor had afforded. To do so, in view of the figures, would be to cherish a delusion. Canadians can only hope that the promise of the next three months of 1896 will be bettered in the fulfilment.

THE NEW CONSTITUENCIES.

The new parliament which is to be elected on June 23rd will be smaller by by two members than the present House. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island each lose a member, and New Brunswick loses two; while Manitoba gains two. Ontario and Quebec show no changes in the totals; but in both cases the chief cities make gains at the expense of the rest of the province, thus reflecting to some extent the flow of population. Toronto will elect four members to the new House instead of three; and Montreal will send five in place of her present trio.

THERE is some difficulty in patching up the Dominion Cabinet. Mr. Meredith hesitates to come into the leaking ship of state and Hon. Mr. Chapleau apparently feels more secure in Spencerwood than facing, as a member of a shaky cabinet a justly indignant electorate.

HON. MR. CHAPLEAU declines to enter the Dominion Cabinet unless he can get the Department of Railways and Canals. This is the largest "spending" department in the public service and a favourite field for the operations of contractors; and contractors are the favourite sources of Government boodle.

SOME Conservative journals are taking comfort from the fact that in certain constituencies Conservatives are safe because their candidates had large majorities. They should remember that in Montreal Centre Mr. Curran had a majority of 1,214, and that Mr. McShane, Liberal, defeated a strong candidate by 300 majority. And this at a bye-election with everything, except their iniquitous record, in favour of the Government.

OUR evening contemporary in sneering at Mr. Hall, as a man of "honour, uprightness and integrity," makes the extraordinary statement, that a claim on behalf of a public man for support on such grounds "is uncalled for." Well if the organ and the party are satisfied with a representative upon whose behalf such "uncalled for" claims, cannot, by the greatest stretch of imagination be possibly made, it will find that the electors of West Peterborough are not.

THE appointment of Sir Donald Smith as High Canadian Commissioner at London, is a compliment to a Canadian who has done much philanthropic work for his country. To his appointment on personal grounds few will be found to object. But he will be unable to maintain the traditions which Sir Charles Tupper has established. He is not windy and obstinate enough and it is to be hoped that he will not, as Sir Charles has done, sacrifice the interests of the Canadian live cattle export trade to the obstinate adherence to his own wishes.

OUR evening contemporary accuses the Liberals with obstructing the measures of the government for developing the live meat trade. The government very properly take an interest in this. They have created the necessity for a dead meat trade for their policy of stupidity and obstinate refusal to listen to the British government has made the live meat trade a dead one. The government is directly and solely responsible for the continuance of the British cattle embargo, which has destroyed a trade with England that amounts to between seven and eight millions a year.

OTONABEE.

At the meeting of the Otonabee Council all the members were present.

Messrs. John Breckenridge, M. Walsh and J. Cardwell, of Asphodel, presented a joint petition signed by five ratepayers from each of the municipalities of Asphodel and Otonabee petitioning that the Council take the necessary steps to remove lots 9, 10 and east half 11, con. 1, Asphodel, from Union School Sections No. 2, Asphodel, and No. 6, Otonabee, and east half lot 8, con. 1, Asphodel, from Union S. S. No. 12, Asphodel, and 18 Otonabee, and annex them to S. S. No. 1, Asphodel. On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Deyell,—That whereas the bounds of Union School, No. 12, Asphodel, and 18, Otonabee, had been changed within five years and the school act forbids further change in that period, therefore no action be taken, as it would be unlawful so to do. Thos. Blezard and Andrew Robertson were present, stating that the road at the Duck Pond was unsafe and almost impassable on account of its being covered with water to a considerable depth, and would recommend that the ditch leading from it through J. Laroche's farm be deepened and a railing should be erected on the corner of the concession line. Messrs. Lancaster, Blezard and Robertson were appointed to investigate and take action. Mr. Alex. McFarlane was also present representing that on account of the culvert through the old Cobourg railway, lot 13, con. 10, falling in the Keene road had been flooded over 3 feet in depth. On motion of Messrs. Lancaster and Deyell, Councillor Weir was authorized to have a ditch excavated on the road allowance at the end of the railway dump, sufficient to take the water off the road. On motion the first sitting of the court of revision will be held on Thursday, the 28th of May. A petition was received from John Duff and others for the erection of a sidewalk at Indian River station; no action taken. On motion lot 27, con. 11, was detached from road division No. 41, and attached to road division No. 70. The following accounts were passed, Edward Grieves, one day employed excavating ditch near Cobourg railway, $1; John Fitzgerald, cedar, $10; Robert Spears, for drain across street near his house, $1.50; Mrs. R. McIntyre, sweeping council room, 75c. Council adjourned to 28th May.

A CLOSE SHAVE

A TALK WITH THE MAN WHO EXPERIENCED IT.

People really do not know how often the angel of death hovers over them. Mr. R. P. Watkins, 173 Bay st., is a barber by trade, and gave our representative this short history of his escape from the disorder which was rapidly carrying him to his grave. Mr. Watkins is a skillful and experienced man, and is now enabled to exercise his skill from morning till night, where before he was unable to regularly follow his chosen calling. This is Mr. Watkins' story as related by himself.

"For over three years I have been troubled with what the doctors said was Bright's Disease, was getting rapidly worse, and could scarcely attend to my business. My ankles were swollen, the pain and heat in my back were almost unbearable, the urine was of a dark wine color, and it used to dribble away continually. I had to rise 9 or 10 times each night to void the urine, and consequently lost nearly all my sleep. The scalding heat and pain in passing the urine were painful and distressing beyond my feeble power to describe. People who did not know my trouble used to laugh at my frequent visits to the urinal. My hands and feet were always cold and clammy, and I suffered severely from palpitation, shortness of breath, and was, in fact, almost a total wreck. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Messrs. E. Hooper & Co., and improved at once. I have used two boxes and feel like a new man; can now work right along and at 12 p.m. feel like working right ahead. Had I not got those pills I feel that I would not have been working to-day. My words only faintly express the dreadful condition I was in, and the wonderful cure made by Doan's Kidney Pills."

CODY WAS A CANADIAN.

The Handsomest Man in Chicago and a Great Joker is Dead.

Chicago, April 26.—Thomas Cody, a few years ago a character in Chicago, was buried yesterday in Oakwoods Cemetery.

"Tom" Cody was born in Canada and his youth was spent in Buffalo, N.Y. He came to Chicago 35 years ago, and for the greater part of that time was one of the most famous characters on the levee. A man of magnificent physique and a stylish dresser, he was for 20 years known as "the finest-looking man in town."

Of late years, however, Cody's luck has been on the downward trend and when he died he was a porter at a saloon on South State-street. Cody was a great joker all his life, and old-timers around town can tell stories by the hour of his doings when he was in the zenith of his popularity.

Osman Digna's Dervishes Starving

Suakim, April 26.—It is reported that the Dervishes under Osman Digna, who are at Horasab, are suffering greatly from want of food. There have been a number of desertions from his forces. Arab messengers assert that it is the intention of Osman Digna to retreat to Adarama.

DROWNED IN HUMBER BAY

Ernie Savage Loses His Life Through the Capsizing of a Canoe His Companion's Narrow Escape.

Toronto, April 27.

The first drowning accident of the season occurred yesterday in the lake, opposite the Humber River. The victim is Ernie Savage, aged 20, son of George W. Savage, painter, 116 Lisgar-street.

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon Savage and a chum of his, John Bow, 5 Afton-avenue, hired a canoe at Dean's boathouse. They had paddled out some distance, when the large crowd of pedestrians on the shore were startled by hearing cries and screams for help. The spectators were horrified to see the two lads struggling in the water, and the canoe upset.

George Maw, son of Captain Maw, was among those who went to the rescue. He got there first, and pulled Bow into his boat in an exhausted condition, but was too late to save Savage, who had sunk a few minutes before. Bow was taken to his home in the ambulance.

Bow's story of the accident is that Savage, who was in a canoe for the first time, dipped his paddle too deep in the water, which caused the canoe to upset. They both grabbed the overturned boat, but it kept on rolling over until Savage, who could not swim, finally lost his hold and sank. They were clinging to the boat for 15 minutes.

MILITIA GENERAL ORDERS.

Capt. Morren of the Royal Military College Retires From the Staff in August Next.

Ottawa, April 24.—(Special)—The militia general orders to be issued to-morrow announce that Major Vidal of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry has been appointed to the command of No. 3 Military District during the absence in England of Lieut.-Col. Colton.

Capt. Morren, assistant instructor in mathematics in the Royal Military College, has completed his terms of service, and will be succeeded in August next by Lieut. F. H. Vereoe.

The following changes are announced in Ontario corps:

Queen's Own Rifles—Capt. J. B. Thompson is granted brevet rank of major.

14th Battalion—Capt. D. R. Dupuis resigns his commission.

17th Wentworth Battalion, No. 2 Co.—Capt. John D. Courtenay resigns his commission. To be captain: Lieut. Joshua Lockhart, vice Courtenay, retired. To be second lieutenant, provisionally, Daniel Alexander McClenahan.

$1,150,000 FROM THE ARMOURS.

This is Wanted by New York State for Wrongfully Selling Oleomargarine.

Albany, N.Y., April 24.—Commissioner of Agriculture Fred C. Schaub said to-day: "I have caused papers to be served to-day on Herman O. Armour as the representative of the Armour Packing Co. in a suit instituted by our department against the company to recover penalties aggregating $1,150,000 for violations of the Agricultural Law during the year 1894, the violations consisting of selling oleomargarine in this State made in imitation or semblance of butter. There are papers ready to be served upon other concerns for penalties for similar offences during the same period. This is the period during which the question was being litigated as to the right of corporations in other States shipping oleomargarine into the State of New York in original packages and selling them in that form, the courts having held that the importers could not do this with oleomargarine made in imitation or semblance of butter, which made every sale by these people during that period a violation."

SUNDAY PARADES IN LONDON.

The Ministerial and Clerical Associations and the Societies

London, Ont., April 24.—The joint meeting of the Ministerial and Clerical Associations of the city with reference to Sunday parades was held this morning and passed a resolution expressing to the various societies concerned their sympathy with them in their work and a desire to arrive at a basis of common action. A committee was appointed to confer with the societies in reference to a settlement and will meet to-morrow for the purpose of drawing up a circular. The result is a victory for the societies.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

SIX PEOPLE SLAIN.

A Discharged Lunatic Kills a Woman, Two Children, a Sheriff, a Constable and Himself.

Rookville, Ind., April 25.—This morning at 8 o'clock, Peter Egbert, a young man, 23 years old, shot and killed Mrs. Herman Hascke and her two children, Herman and Aggie, Sheriff W. D. Mull and Constable W. M. Sweem. He then killed himself; and his sister, Miss Florence Egbert, who was lying very ill of typhoid fever, died shortly after the tragedy of shock. About 7 o'clock young Egbert was sent into the back yard to saw some wood for family use. Shortly after, while Mrs. Hascke was out milking her cows, Egbert secured a double-barrelled breech-loading shot gun, and going into the Hascke house, which was next door to his home, shot the little daughter, a child of ten years, dead, and wounded the little boy, two years younger, who ran out on the porch, where Egbert shot him again, killing him instantly. The murderer then went out into the alley and levelled his gun at Mrs. Hascke, who, seeing his intention, attempted to escape. He shot her, however, the charge taking effect in the top of the head, removing part of her skull. Mrs. Hascke lingered in an unconscious state for about two hours, when death put an end to her sufferings. Having completed this work of butchery, Egbert shouldered his gun and deliberately walked up into the business part of the town. Sheriff Mull and Constable Sweem were planning a means of capturing the murderer. Egbert was walking across the north side of the square, holding his gun in position, with both barrels cocked, when he saw Mull and Sweem crossing the street towards him. He called out to them not to come any nearer. The two officers retired into a stairway in the National Bank building for a moment's consultation, when Egbert turned, and coming up on them suddenly, shot and instantly killed both men. The murderer then started to run, taking a westward course towards the fair grounds, a number of citizens in close pursuit. He ran like a deer until, while crossing an open field just west of the town, a shot from his pursuers took effect in his head. This crippled him and, though he managed to scale the enclosure of the fair grounds, he was unable to run any further, and, crawling into a stall in the fair grounds, he shot himself in the right breast. The fire from his gun ignited his clothing, which was partially burned when he was found.

Business is suspended. The dead are being prepared for burial, but no arrangements for their funerals have been made. Egbert was at one time confined in the insane asylum, but had been discharged as cured. The general belief is that insanity was the cause of the crime.

SIR HENRY PARKES DEAD.

Former Prime Minister of Cape Colony Passed Away Yesterday Morning at the Age of 81—His Career.

Sydney, N.S.W., April 26.—Sir Henry Parkes, formerly Prime Minister of this colony, died here this morning, aged 81 years.

Sir Henry Parkes was born in Warwickshire, England, in 1815. He spent his early life in New South Wales, and was afterwards apprenticed to a mechanical trade in Birmingham. In 1839 he emigrated to Sydney and engaged in the ordinary pursuits of labor. In 1840 he took an active part in the election of Sir Robert Lowe (Viscount Sherbrooke) as a member of the Local Legislature for the City of Sydney, and soon afterwards he established The Empire, a daily newspaper, which he conducted for seven years. In 1854 he was elected to the Legislative Council for Sydney. In 1861 he accepted the appointment of Commissioner for Immigration, and was in England until the end of 1862. Soon after his return to the colony he was re-elected to the Legislative Assembly, and in 1865 he took office as Colonial Secretary, and was the member who passed the Public Schools Act of that year. In 1872 he was entrusted by the Governor with the formation of a Ministry, and he had office as Premier from that date until 1875. In 1877 he was commissioned by the Governor of New South Wales to form an administration, and became Premier a second time. In 1878 he took office as Premier for the third time. During his third tenure of office he passed a new educational law and an act to regulate the liquor traffic. In 1881 he left New South Wales, under medical advice, on a short visit to America and Europe. In America he was publicly entertained in San Francisco, Boston, New York and Washington, and in England he received a marked welcome from all classes. In January, 1883, the Parkes Ministry was defeated, and retired, having been in office a little over four years, the longest term of any Australian Ministry. In 1887 he formed his fourth Ministry, which continued in office until January, 1889. During this period he passed the Railway Act. On the resignation of Sir Henry in 1889, Sir Robert Dibbs formed a Ministry to carry out a protectionist policy, which movement only lasted 50 days, when Sir Henry was called upon to form his fifth Ministry, which continued in office until 1891. During his fifth Ministry Sir Henry did much work in the cause of Australian federation. In 1890 a conference of all the colonies was held in Melbourne, which agreed to the convention of the following year to frame a federal constitution, and he was elected president of the convention. In June, 1877, Her Majesty conferred upon him the rank of K.C.M.G., and in 1888 he received from Her Majesty the Grand Cross of the same order. In 1882 King Humbert conferred upon him the dignity of Commander of the Crown of Italy. In recognition of his services to a large number of the Italian emigrants who went out to New Zealand, and who arrived ultimately in Sydney in a state of great distress.

HE WANTS OTHERS TO KNOW.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please state in your journal, that if any sufferer from Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lack of Energy and Ambition, Lost Manhood, Night Losses, etc., will write me in confidence, I will inform him by sealed letter, free of charge, how to obtain a perfect cure. I ask for no money, having nothing to sell. I know how to sympathize with these sufferers and am only too glad to be able to assist them. I promise everyone absolute secrecy and as I do not, of course, wish to expose myself either, I do not give my name. If you desire to get well, send stamp and address simply: P. O. A QUEBEC VILLAGE RUINED.

St. Barthelemi Has Been Devastated by the Inundations—People Had to Climb Trees to Escape Death.

Quebec, April 24.—News has reached here from St. Barthelemi that the inundations have devastated the whole village. The water extends from the railway track to the mountain, northward, and the flood is described as a boundless lake. Hay and other farm products have become a total loss and farmers have lost their seed for the coming season. All is lost. Dead horses and other animals are floating about. Buildings have disappeared and people had to climb trees and floating wreckage to escape death. Two days ago boats patrolled the village day and night in the hope of rescuing life. Ruined villagers boarded the trains bemoaning their losses. The inundation is said to extend five miles to the westward.

Get Rid of Neuralgia.

There is no use of fooling with neuralgia. It is a disease that gives way only to the most powerful remedies. No remedy yet discovered has given the grand results that invariably attends the employment of Polson's Nerviline. Nerviline is a positive specific for all nerve pains and ought to be kept on hand in every family. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a bottle.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 229 eodw Delray Mich.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

St. Paul's Service of Praise.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, of St. Paul's church, the choir will give a Service of Praise, assisted by Miss Smith, elocutionist of Toronto, on Monday evening, the 11th inst. Miss Smith is spoken of in the warmest terms by the press, and in all probability the church will be crowded on that evening.

The Axle Broke.

This afternoon as Mr. J. J. Turner, accompanied by his traveller, Mr. Green, were driving east along Hunter street, the axle of his buggy broke at the corner of George street. With British courage Mr. Turner, although dragging on the ground, still clung to the reins and succeeded in stopping the horse at the post office. In the fall he wrenched his right leg very badly.

The B. B. B. Pipe.

The English traveller representing the manufacturers of the celebrated B. B. B. pipes was in town on a business visit to Mr. Charles Legros, the sole agent here for these pipes. He expressed himself as surprised at the extent of the sales in a town the size of Peterborough, and took Mr. Legros' order for a further supply of these fine goods.

Dr. Bethune's Address.

Lovers of natural history are not often afforded such an opportunity as will be presented them to-morrow evening, when Rev. Dr. Bethune, Canada's leading Entomologist, will speak at the Y.M.C.A. hall on "Canadian Insect Life," and it is hoped that so distinguished a guest will meet with a hearty reception. Dr. Bethune will bring specimens from his extensive collection, and his address will, it is understood, be of a practical character.

An Evening of Fun.

The Gorman's production of "the Gilhooly's Abroad" was one of the best things, in the variety line, which has ever occupied the boards at the opera house. The fun was fast and furious from start to finish and the audience was delighted with the performance. The spontaniety of the wit which flowed so freely, the pretty girls, the clever song and dance artists, all combined to keep the audience in a good humour from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The Gorman's and their Gilhooly's should draw a big house on a return date.

FIRE ON WELLER STREET.

Sheds and Summer Kitchen of Mr. Wm. Aldridge's Residence Destroyed.

The alarm of fire shortly after midnight called the brigade to the residence of Mr. Wm. Aldridge, Weller street, last night.

Upon their arrival they found the entire rear portion, consisting of sheds and summer kitchen, in a blaze. The fight for mastery between the flames and the fire laddies was larger than usual as only only one stream of water could be brought to bear on account of the distance of the nearest hydrant, requiring all the hose to cover the intervening stretch of 1250 feet.

By skillful management the fire was kept out of the main building and the loss will probably not be more than about $300. The property was insured through Mr. W. H. Hill in the London Assurance Co., and the loss is therefore fully covered.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, as it was first noticed in the extreme rear portion of the sheds, where no light had been taken. Mr. Aldridge states that a short time before the flames broke out he heard a strange noise in the back yard, which leads to the belief that tramps may have been around and in some way set fire to the place.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The Coming Conservative Convention.

There is some rumour to the effect that the date of the Conservative party convention, called for Saturday, May 2nd, may be postponed on account of the doubt of Hon. G. E. Foster and Hon. Dr. Montague being able to be present on that date.

The local political situation remains about the same. The three talked-of candidates, Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Kendry all have their friends—all of whom claim that their candidate will be nominated.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Charged With the Larceny of Some Wearing Apparel.

Manuel Bresau was to-day committed for trial by Magistrate Dumble on the charge of stealing some wearing apparel from Mr. McGill, a boarder at the Huffman House. It seems that McGill was out of town for a time and his trunks were placed in the basement. Whilst there they were broken open and rifled, and a portion of the missing clothing traced to Bresau, who was working at the hotel for a time. Bresau stated that a bell boy named Cresswell gave the clothes to him, and the hearing was adjourned from time to time in order that the lad might be found. As he could not be located, the prisoner was heard this morning and committed, as stated. Mr. E. B. Stone is conducting the defence.

A SAD DEATH.

Demise of Mr. Thomas E. Howden on Sunday Morning.

The death of Mr. Thomas E. Howden, aged 29, took place yesterday at the family homestead, Lansdowne street. Mr. Howden, it will be remembered, had his eyes badly injured some years ago through the explosion of a gun. He went to Toronto last week to have an operation performed, but the socket of one of the eyes had become diseased to an extent as to cause his death, thus cutting off a general favourite in the prime of his young manhood. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery, from the residence of Mr. W. E. Morris, Lansdowne street.

A PRESENTATION.

Miss Cairn's Sunday School Scholars Remember Her.

On Friday evening last, one of the teachers of St. John's Ward Sunday School, Miss Cairns, was agreeably suprised when the members of her class met and presented her with a beautiful case containing a hymn-book and prayer book, accompanied by a very pleasing address signed by the members of her class :—Bertie Cranfield, Gilbert Harris, Charlie Williams, Willie Bullen and Wallace Hutchinson.

Although completely suprised, Miss Cairns replied in a few words, and a very enjoyable evening was spent with music and games.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

The residents of Tiveyville, (Stewart street north) are agitating for a continuance of the sidewalk to Douro street, then past Mr. Mien's new residence to crossing.

Mr. P. Hogan, who has been the tenant of the Albion hotel for some years, bought the property at a private sale last week.

Mr. John Throup, who conducted a grocery business here, and was also member of the village council, has been in the village a few days. He has bought out a grocery business in Peterborough, through Messrs. Hurley & Hopkins, real estate agents, Opera House block.

Mr. McIntyre has the plasterers now on his new house and will soon be moving in.

The Mark street Methodist choir has been reorganized and is now under the leadership of Mr. M. W. Matchett, whose capability for the position is well known.

St. Luke's Church Notes.

There will be divine service at Auburn on Thursday evening next at 7.30.

The monthly meeting of the Communicant's Class will be held in St. Luke's school house on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. A. Peck, Mrs. McGregor and Miss Symonds attended the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary in Toronto last week, when Miss Symonds delivered an address on the mission work of the Anglican church among the Blackfoot Indians.

Miss Smith, one of the delegates to the Presbyterian W. F. M. S., was the guest of Miss Mills, Ashburnham. Miss Smith represented St. James' Square church, Toronto. The W. F. M. S. of this church alone raises the sum of $1500 per annum for missions.

Miss Beverly Robinson.

Miss Beverly Robinson and her company of Canadian artists, are making their second appearance here on Wednesday evening, April 29th. Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, violinist, who studied for 6 years in Germany and London, was engaged as solo violinist by the Damrosch Orchestra, of New York on the occasion of one of its recent performances in Toronto and played with great success. Miss Ada Hart, a pupil for some years of Leschetitzky, has since her appearance here a few weeks ago had the exceptional honour of playing before Paderewski, himself a former pupil of Leschetitzky, and was highly commended by him. Mr. Wallace, who has been for some time tenor soloist at St James Cathedral, Toronto, is also one of the company. This company will be assisted by Mr. Thomas Dunn, Peterborough's favourite baritone, who will sing several duets with Miss Robinson. This will undoubtedly be the last concert this season. Seats now on sale at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. 1d

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.

The West Peterborough License Commissioners met to-day and granted all the licenses applied for, with the exception of that for the Tremont House, Lakefield, which was withheld until a tenant satisfactory to the Commissioners is obtained.

KILLED BY A TRUCK.

Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, a Former Resident of Peterborough, Meets with a Sudden Death in New York.

The many friends of Mr. Wm. Ogilvie will regret to learn of his death, which took place in New York a few days ago. The following extract relating to his demise, is taken from the New York Herald :

"William Ogilvy, at one time a prominent broker, and a member of the Stock Exchange, was knocked down yesterday by a runaway truck horse while crossing Pearl street at Peck slip. He was so badly injured that he died on the way to the Hudson street Hospital. George Deck, of 42 Goerck street, the owner of the horse, was arrested, but was discharged when arraigned in the Centre street court, as Mr. Ogilvy's death was not then known. He was re-arrested later on a charge of homicide.

"Mr. Ogilvy was about 68 years old and was born in Scotland. His parents were wealthy. After leaving college he went to Canada, where he married a daughter of a captain in the British navy. He then began his career as a merchant in Peterborough, Ontario, and was at one time the senior member of the firm of Ogilvy, Hood & Co., of that town. Later he was a stock holder and an agent in the Royal Canadian Bank. When the bank failed, about 20 years ago, with what was left of his fortune, he came to this city. He bought a seat on the stock exchange, which he retained until eight years ago."

Mr. Ogilvie was married to Miss Connin, a sister of Miss Condon, who resides at present on Water street, and survived his wife only a few years.

While in Peterborough Mr. Ogilvie was the popular manager of the Royal Canadian Bank, and his friends here will regret to hear of his sudden and unexpected death.

PERSONAL.

Cadet Green, Peterborough, has been attached to the Kingston corps of the Army. Cadet Green was bandmaster in the S. A. band, at Peterborough.

The Lindsay Post says :—Rev. Carl Smith, curate St. John's mission, Peterborough, and Mrs. Smith, arrived in town yesterday. They will be the guests of Mrs. Dunsford, Glenelg street, for a week.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The Health Inspector started out on his rounds to-day.

—A number of wheelmen visited Chemong, Lakefield and Young's Point yesterday.

—For the summer months, the sessions of the Police Court will be held at 9 o'clock in the morning. The change takes place a week from to-day.

—On Saturday evening the Hercules Minstrels of Gilmour street gave a largely attended entertainment in Ruttan's Row, corner of St. Francois Xavier and Gilmour streets. The audience was composed of the elite of that fashionable quarter, the West End, and a splendid variety programe was presented with artistic excellence by the juvenile performers. Encores were frequent and the applause had a distinctly loosening effect on the window glass. Miss V. V. Venator was to have contributed, but the damp seriously affected her guitar strings and consequently her number was cancelled.

THE LIBERAL COMMITTEE ROOMS

Liberals are informed that the Committee Rooms of Mr. Richard Hall, 413½ George street, over Clegg's tobacco store, and next north of Lech & Sons' fur store, are open this (Monday) evening.

The opening meeting to be held to-night (Monday), to which all workers in in the interest of Mr. Hall's candidature are cordially invited, will be for the election of chairmen for the different ward committees of the town.

THE RETURNING OFFICERSHIP.

The explanation by the Conservative organ of the change in the returning officership of West Peterborough, is much more of an excuse than an explanation.

Mr. Sheriff Hall has discharged the duties of returning officer for a number of elections, and has filled the position efficiently and fairly, meting out fair play impartially to both parties. It is disgraceful on the part of the Conservative party to cast reflections on the honesty and fairness of Mr. Hall, as returning officer, by removing him from a position which he has held successfully and to which by virtue of his official position he is entitled. Considering the auspices under which the recent appointment is made, the hand of the Government is to be reckoned with more than the personality of their returning officer. If the past record of the Government had not been such as to destroy all public confidence in their fairness and square-dealing, the substitution of a strong partizan for an efficient, fair-minded official like Mr. Sheriff Hall, would not have such suspicious significance. If the appointment was taken from Mr. Hall and given to Mr. Morrow simply because the latter was a strong partisan of the Government then it was palpably wrong and suggests suspicion, as the public expect that a fair-minded, unbiased, unpartizan man, who is not a party worker, shall occupy a position of such great importance as that which deals with the vote of the electors, which is their only means of effectively expressing their opinions. If he was appointed because he was a heavy loser by endorsing the paper of Mr. Stevenson, with a view of recouping him at the public expense, that is an additional wrong.

Mr. Morrow will not deny that he has always been an extreme partisan and it will be admitted that he has worked hard for his party and to give him due credit, that he has worked for the Conservative party with good effect. Now the Conservative party in this riding is not, in its present condition of stress of political weather, so overburdened with good party workers that it can afford to withdraw one of the best, and place him in a position in which he is supposed to be strictly neutral. There is some reason, and that not in the public interest, for this change being made. What is it? Mr. Morrow's course will be watched with considerable interest. Such a position as returning officer should be held by an independent person, free from entangling party associations.

THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

In an article in these columns referring to the annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, it was inadvertently omitted to include the ladies of St. Andrew's church with those of St. Paul's in the hearty commendation of the excellent work done in entertaining the delegates to the convention. The omission arose from the assumption that the meetings being held in St. Paul's church, the ladies of that congregation would naturally have the burden of entertainment thrown upon them. However, the EXAMINER is advised and cheerfully makes the statement that the ladies of St. Andrew's in proportion to their numbers, deserve equal credit for the energetic endeavours that were put forth with such marked success to make the stay of the lady delegates a pleasant one and to give them delightful recollections of the open-handed and thoughtful hospitality of the Presbyterian ladies of Peterborough.

The Drives.

Gilmour & Co's drive of logs, now quartered in the lake at Lakefield, will be cut loose in a few days. There are two blocks with thirty-five thousands logs in each. Mr. Giles Stone, the foreman has a gang of men at work already. During the last two seasons this Company have left drives at Lakefield until the spring, as a much quicker run can be made down the Otonabee than in the summer when the water is low. The dams at Young's Point and Nassau are said to be pretty shaky on account of the high water, and it is a question if they will hold out.

Faster Service on the G. T. R.

It is whispered among local railroad men that one result of General Superintendent McGuigan's visit to town, will be orders to make faster running on this division. Driver Dave Clarke, who had charge of the engine pulling the special train yesterday, was encouraged to open the throttle a shade wider than usual on leaving Lindsay yesterday for the Falls, and he succeeded in covering the 16 miles in 15 minutes. Mr. McGuigan expressed satisfaction at the showing made, but when Lorneville was reached last evening on the way to Midland he hinted to Dave that as the roadbed appeared good he might try to do a little better. Passing the word to his firemen, Dave prepared for a record-breaker, and when the train got fairly under way the telegraph poles beside the track appeared to be planted about a foot apart. The 28 miles between Lornville and Atherly were done in 21 minutes, and the general superintendent congratulated Driver Clarke very warmly on the splendid showing he had made.

A PROMISING YOUNG CANADIAN.

An Old Peterborough Boy who is Doing Well on the Stage.

The Montreal Herald has the following to say of Mr. Charles Baguley, formerly of town, and a son of the late Mr. J. J. Baguley, who was at one time bookkeeper for Mr. Adam Hall, and afterwards started up in business for himself in town:

"Mr. Charles Baguley, who is acting as understudy for the part of Rob Roy with the Whitney Company, is another promising young Canadian who has taken up the stage as a profession. He belongs to Peterborough, and studied at the Toronto College of Music for three years, being soloist of the Metropolitan church during that time. When the Presbyterian church was built he was offered and accepted the position of choirmaster. This he filled for three years, and two years ago, with a view to going on the stage, he studied grand opera with Signor Ernest Baldanza, who speaks very favourably of Mr. Baguley's voice and ability. Last August Mr. Baguley joined the Whitney Opera Co., and has played the part of Rob Roy several times very successfully. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Baguley played the title role, and I was exceedingly pleased at his success. He has a rich powerful voice of good compass, which bears signs of earnest study and careful training. As an actor, he also excels, and we may safely look upon him as another Canadian artist who will take a high rank upon the American stage."

Mr. Baguley is a cousin of Mr. Ed. Dawson, of the G.N.W. Tel. Co., local agency.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

LOCAL ODDFELLOWS PARADE TO CHURCH.

AN INTERESTING SERMON BY REV. H. SYMONDS.

He Exhorts the Brethren to Live up to the Standard of the Lofty Principles of Their Order—Warnings and Advice.

Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., rector of St. Luke's, preached the annual sermon to the Oddfellows, yesterday, who turned out very strong and marched over to Ashburnham at half-past three in the afternoon. The front of the altar was decorated with an exquisite floral design—the three links—emblematic of Friendship, Love and Truth.

The speaker took for his text the words "Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others."—Philippians, ii chapter, 4th verse. Christianity, he opened by saying, is both a creed and a light. It is something to believe and something to do. Our doing springs out of our believing. If we do not believe we do act, and if we do not act we have not faith. Some people are of the opinion that everything in Christianity depends upon how you think. Others again think that it is no matter what one believes as long as right is done. Both of the views, Mr. Symonds thought, were erroneous. What, said he by way of illustration, would the Oddfellows think if one of their members said that they cared nothing for the constitution—that their obligations were discharged by visiting the sick and living up to the principles of the Order? Did not every true Oddfellow believe that a sound understanding of the constitution was a necessity? Just so was it with Christianity—a right belief led to a right doing.

God bids us to love and worship Him, continued Mr. Symonds, and also directs attention to the needs of our fellow-men. Love one another was one of His last injunctions to His disciples. If a man love not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love his Master, whom he hath not seen?

The speaker did not know of a text which so clearly defined the duty of Christianity as the one upon which he was basing his sermon—"Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others."

I find, said he, that the underlying principles of Christianity are also the underlying principles of your order.

The speaker then proceeded to enumerate a few of the general characteristics of humanity, which caused the order to exist.

God says it is not good for man to live alone. To the prisoner solitude is the most terrible of confinements. A child cannot bear to be alone, and when coming home from school can always be found in groups, and as we grow up our social instincts become quieter, but deeper. We form friends, join clubs and have family ties.

It is bewildering to read of the various employments of man—the furniture he needs and his many wants. An animal is content with hay or grass, but man needs variety. It is just so in the social world. Society exists within society, but all have some good for an object.

Other tendencies, however, are always at work. Man is not made of the milk of human kindness, and has frequently an ambition to be rich, successful and popular. In some form or other the love of self becomes apparent and many are anxious to grow rich, even at the expense of others—of rising to power and trampling on those who were once above them. This mad struggle from birth causes great evil to exist, and lying and slander are thereby originated. So man joins together for protection from others and protection from himself, to promote mutual love, mutual service and to counteract that influence which, if left unchecked, bids fair to choke out and kill all the higher sentiments of life.

All through the Christian era, contended the speaker, we find traces of men banding together for all kinds of purposes. Throughout the middle ages every trade had its order. The present day orders were not so closely related to the church as were those of the past, yet were linked to the church by bands of invisible unity. The Christian faith was recognized by them and was considered necessary to their constitution.

Mr. Symonds considered it the duty of a preacher, not only to exalt and encourage, but also to warn. Otherwise he would descend into a mere flatterer, which was despicable in a man.

Nothing on earth, the speaker stated, was perfect.

The chief flaws generally consisted of

I. Defect.

II. Excess.

Excessive devotion to a society might lead to an unfulfilled recognition of family ties and family claims. Many knew what it was to never have an evening at home with their family. There was a growing tendency on the part of fathers to throw the responsibility of training their children on the state, through the schools, or on their mothers, and he oftentimes became almost a stranger to his own children. This neglect of the children's training sometimes sprang from selfish motives.

One evening a week should be devoted to the home. It should be considered as much an engagement as any other and a man should put aside society, business, aye even church, and devote himself to his little ones on this evening. He would soon grow to look upon it as the pleasantest evening of the week and in after years the children would recall it with the happiest of recollections and do the same by their children in turn.

Another piece of advice which Mr. Symonds impressed upon the congregation was the need of family devotion. There were difficulties, it was true, but it could be taken up on this one evening at home, anyway. Fathers should go to church with their children, should take them with them, encourage them to join in the service and take part in the hymns.

Such are the dangers of which I desired to warn you, continued Mr. Symonds, and such are the suggestions I trusted to make for the remedy thereof, though not for a moment would I suppose that the disadvantages outweighed the advantages in the relations between a man and a society nor was a society man more prone to neglect his children than any other. He considered it a great privilege to meet society men in church in this manner and closed by exhorting them, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, to live according to the lofty principles of their Order, which were almost the exact words of the great Apostle, "Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others."

On returning to their apartments votes of thanks were passed to Rev. Mr. Symonds and to the Church Wardens by the members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges who were in attendance.

Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

Going Out of Business!

ROBERT HALL

Begs to announce that he has decided to retire from the Dry Goods Business in Peterborough, and, in order to close out his present business as rapidly as possible, he will commence

TO-MORROW MORNING, APRIL 28th,

A Positive Clearance Sale

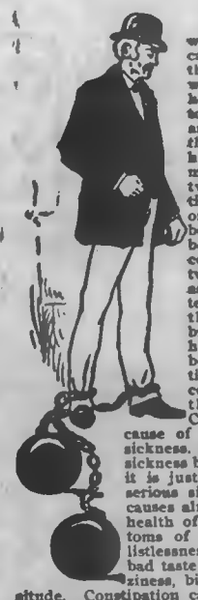
Covering every Department of his business. MR. HALL desires to state that this sale will be conducted strictly in good faith with the public. No deception of any kind need be apprehended and he confidently asks the public to rely upon the genuine character of this sale, as everything will be done in a straightforward manner. The Reduction of Prices will apply in all departments as follows:

GENERAL DRY GOODS, SILKS AND DRESS MATERIALS, MILLINERY AND MANTLES, RIBBONS AND LACES,	PARASOLS AND UMBRELLAS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, BED AND TABLE LINEN, UNDERWEAR,	SHIRTING, SHEETING, TOWELLING LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES AND DRAPERIES, SMALLWARES.

There can be no question about the High-Class Character of this Stock. Every department is in first-class condition—many lines not one month out of their cases. The Spring Stock is the choicest and most strikingly new in character ever brought into Peterborough. Exclusive styles are here in ample variety, with no chance of their being duplicated now or two months hence. No such opportunity has occurred for years of securing goods of sterling quality at prices much below their regular value.

TO-DAY THE STORE WILL BE CLOSED in order to afford an opportunity for marking down the goods. To-Morrow morning the doors will be opened and the Clearing Sale will commence punctually at 8 o'clock. As the entire stock must positively be disposed of previous to the 30th of June, prompt sales and positive Bargains must prevail every day. You are advised to shop early. ☞ During this sale it will be impossible to continue our Furniture premiums.

385 George Street, Peterborough. ROBERT HALL.



The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. A man who spends two-thirds of his time in business, and one-third of his time being sick, cannot be expected to accomplish more than two-thirds as much as the man who attends to business all the time. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. It isn't considered sickness by most people, but it is just the same. It is serious sickness, because it causes almost all of the ill-health of mankind. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are perfectly simple—perfectly safe. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently. You don't have to keep on taking them. You don't acquire a "pellet habit." Take them regularly for a while, and you are cured permanently. After that, take them only when you find yourself suffering from indigestion. There are many medicines offered for the same purpose on which druggists make a bigger profit. For this reason, some druggists would rather sell the other things. If your own health is of more importance to you than the druggist's prosperity, you will insist on having what you ask for.

HUNKINSON'S MAIL.

The Postmistress of Beautiful Shore Visits Chicago On Business.

Assistant Postmaster Hubbard was sitting in his private office when a gaunt woman of uncertain age was shown in, says the Chicago Record.

"I come to see about it," she said, as she took a seat.

"Yes, madam; about what ?"

"That letter."

"I guess I don't quite understand you," the postmaster observed, looking about uneasily to see if there was any chance of the visitor having a bomb about her person.

"That letter of Bill Hunkinson's, you know. Bill Hunkinson, of Beautiful Shore, Neb."

"You will have to be more explicit, madame," said the official, with his voice still laden with care and apprehension.

"Oh, I thought you'd remember that, sure. I'm Mrs. Marthy Walters, the Postmistress of Beautiful Shore, an' I've come clear in here to see if it was wrong, I don't want to do nothin' wrong, an' I don't feel quite easy. You see, Bill Hunkinson was sent to the penitentiary for rustlin' four 'flyin' W' cattle off the G. I. C. range. They talked of hangin' him, but there wasn't any tree in the country."

"Yes ?"

"Well, Grothers, the feller on the next claim to mine, had been worryin' me half to death wantin' me to marry him. Uset to come around and sing just outside my sod house where I had the post-office on the Beautiful Shore road. Sung fearful, too. Uset to git drunk on reservation whisky an' swear he'd kill himself if I wouldn't have him. Acted scandalous, and bein' a worthless man, I couldn't abide him. But that didn't make him any the easier in his conduct. Made him worse. Well, after Hunkinson went down to Lincoln to stay inside, this here letter came. It came from Chicago. You remember it ?"

"No, I don't, I assure you."

"Last April ?"

"I cannot recall it."

"Well, mebbe you have more than we do at Beautiful Shore. At any rate, when it come Grothers was at his drunkest and affectionatest. I hated to see the letter to go to waste, so I called him in an' give it to him. Told him it was his'n. I knew he couldn't read, an' he made me read it for him. I told him it said his lost grandfather had just died in Chicago an' left him $4,000,000 an' wanted him to come right on east an' prove it. He ris up an' declared in haughty pride that he was now done with me forever an' was glad he hadn't married under his station. Sold out his claim an' critters and next day left for Chicago. What has bothered me all this time is, was it all right ? The letter couldn't done Hunkinson no good anyway, for it was only an advertisement for a new kind of overalls made by some Chicago feller. Was I justified, or is a Goverment man comin' out there to make trouble? It worried me till I allowed I'd come in here an' ask you."

"I think it will be all right," Mr. Hubbard replied.

"Much obliged. I don't see how it could hurt anybody if you're satisfied, Grothers was a dreadful pleasin' man."

THE LINE AND THE STAFF.

There Seems to be Considerable Jealousy in the U.S. Navy.

Washington, April 24.—As a result of the affray yesterday between Congressmen Hall and Money, Secretary Herbert will take some action with regard to the bitter feud between the line and the staff of the navy, which was the primary cause of the conflict in the Naval Affairs Committee room. The bitterness of the two factions has been increasing until it is now at fever heat and the more conservative men who take an interest in the matter believe that the service is being injured and that vigorous action is necessary on the part of the Secretary to bring about better relations between naval officers. The bills before Congress giving actual rank to the members of the Engineer Corps form the basis for the present tensity of feeling. Lobbying has been freely indulged in for and against the measures and social and political influence has been brought to bear on every member of Congress. The line officers are determined that the staff shall not secure actual rank and have formed an association for the purpose of fighting the measures proposing such an arrangement.

The Cabinet, it is understood, discussed the matter at its meeting today and action may be looked for by the Navy Department. It is not unlikely that charges will be preferred if the matter goes much further. Some time ago the subject was given consideration with a view to stopping the growing enmity between the two branches of the service, but no definite action was taken.

THIS IS A GOOD MOVE.

American Live Stock Sent to Canada for Exhibition Purposes May Return to the U.S. Duty Free.

Washington, April 24.—A bill of much interest to Canadian exhibitions and hore shows passed the House of Representatives to-day and will undoubtedly receive the consent of the Senate and become law shortly. It is a bill which deals with a matter brought to the notice of the Secretary of the Treasury by Mr. S. S. Howland, the well-known horseman and the owner of the Belwood Stud. Mr. Howland desired to send a number of horses over to the Canadian Horse Show held recently at Toronto, and found that on all his foreign bred horses he would have to pay duty a second time on their re-entering the United States. On his representations a bill was drafted with the following clause:

"That whenever any article or articles, or live stock shall be sent out of the United States for temporary use or exhibition, at any public exposition, fair, or conference, held in a foreign country, such articles shall be entitled to be returned to the United States, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, without the payment of customs duty, whether they shall be of domestic or of foreign production."

The bill was introduced by Mr. Adams and passed the House in short order. It removes a disability which has practically prevented American exhibitors from being represented at exhibitions and horse shows in Canada.

The Burden Diamond Robbery.

London, April 24.—William Turner and William R. Dunlop, the Burden diamond robbers, were arraigned in the Mralborough street Police Court this morning and handed over to the custody of Police Inspector Friett, under an extradition warrant, which requires them to appear in the Low-street Police Court this afternoon.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

Enormous Cost of Solomon's Temple.

Few people, even in these days of palmy extravagance and millionaire display, have any adequate impression of the gigantic cost of the great temple of Solomon. According to Villalpandus, the "talents" of gold, silver and brass used at the enormous sum of £6,879,822,000. The worth of the jewels is generally placed at a figure equally as high. The vessels of gold, according to osephus were valued at 140,000 talents, which reduced to English money (as has been shown by Chapel's reduction tables), was equal to £575,296,203. The vessels of silver, according to the same authorities, were still more valuable, being set down as worth £646,344,000. Priests' vestments and robes of singers, £2,010,000; trumpets, £200,000.

To this add the expense of building materials, labor, etc., and we get some wonderful figures. Ten thousand men hewing cedars, 60,000 bearers of burdens, 80,000 hewers of stone, 3200 overseers, all of which were employed for seven years, and upon whom, besides their wages, Solomon bestowed £6,732,997. If their daily food was worth 50 cents each, the sum total for all was £63,877,038 during the time of building. The materials in the rough are estimated as having been worth £2,545,337,000.

FARM TESTS FOR 1896

CO-OPERATIVE AGRICULTURE COVERING MANY KINDS OF CROPS.

Over 1,000 Varieties Tested Within the Past Ten Years - The Valuable Reports From Ontario Farmers - Experiments in Agriculture for 1896.

A prominent feature in the work of the Experimental Department at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, is the testing of different varieties of farm crops. Within the past ten years upwards of 1000 kinds have been grown on plots similar in size and shape, and situated side by side. Fully 600 of this number have been grown from four to seven years in succession. Not only have all the available varieties in Ontario been tested, but similar tests have been made with varieties from twenty-one foreign countries. A few imported varieties in nearly all classes of farm crops have given better results than the best Ontario kinds in the average of seven years' experiments.

After the varieties have been very carefully tested at the college for about five years, the best are selected for testing in a co-operative way throughout Ontario. These co-operative experiments are carried on chiefly through the medium of the ex-students' Experimental Union; but any farmer in Ontario may join in the work, provided he applies for the seed early; and agrees to make a careful test and to report the results according to specified instructions. Within the past five years, we have distributed to experimenters upwards of 32,000 packages of choice seeds, with very gratifying results.

Leading Varieties.

For a detailed account of the various tests conducted in 1895, the reader is referred to the report of the Experimental Union, which is published as an appendix to the Agricultural College report for the same year. This report is now being distributed by the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, to those who reported the results of their co-operative experiments in 1895, and to the members of the Farmers' Institutes in Ontario.

Our Agricultural College has imported into Ontario some foreign varieties of farm crops, which have made high records both at the college and throughout the Province, and which are becoming quite popular for general cultivation. Those which we will mention in this brief article are as follows: Siberian Oats, Russia; Joanette Oats, France; Poland White Oats, France; Mandscheuri Barley, Russia; Herison Bearded Spring Wheat, France; Mammoth Cuban Corn, United States, Wisconsin Earliest White Dent Corn, United States; Salzer's North Dakota Corn, United States; Jersey Navet Turnip, United States; Salzer's Dakota Millet, United States, etc.

Among the leading varieties of farm crops, the seed of which we obtained in Ontario, the following have made high records: Dawson's Golden Chaff Winter Wheat, Bavarian Oats, Red Fern Spring Wheat, Prussian Blue Peas, Canadian Beauty Peas, Egyptian Mummy Peas, Hartley's Bronze Top Swede Turnip, Improved Short White Carrot, Improved Mammoth Saw Log Mangel, Empire State Potato, etc.

There are other varieties, both foreign and Canadian which have given excellent results, some of which have not been used in co-operative experiments.

Experiments in 1896.

Any person wishing to join in the work should select one of the experiments for 1896, and inform the director of his choice. As applications for several thousand packages have already been received, and as the supply is limited, those who apply first will be the surest of obtaining the desired outfit. It might be well for each applicant to make a second choice for fear the first could not be granted. A sheet containing instructions for conducting the experiment selected and the blank form on which to report the result of the work, will be sent to each experimenter at the time the fertilizers or the seeds are forwarded. Material for No. 1 experiment will be sent by express and for each of the others by mail. Particular varieties need not be mentioned, as all the kinds to be distributed are those which have done exceptionally well on the trial plots at the college. The area of land required for the different experiments varies from 4 to 10 rods.

List of Experiments for 1896.

No. of Exper't.

1. Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with oats.
2. Comparing the advantage of nitrate of soda over no fertilizer with rape.
3. Ascertaining the relative value of our varieties of millet.
4. Growing three fodder crops.
5. Growing Lucerne as a crop for green fodder.
6. Growing crimson clover as a crop for hay.
7. Testing six leading varieties of fodder corn.
8. Testing five leading varieties of turnips.
9. Testing five leading varieties of mangels.
10. Testing five leading varieties of carrots.
11. Testing five leading varieties of spring wheat.
12. Testing five leading varieties of barley.
13. Testing five leading varieties of oats.
14. Testing five leading varieties of peas.

All material will be furnished entirely free of charge to each applicant, and the produce of the plots will be the property of the person who conducts the experiment. In return, we ask that each experimenter be very careful and accurate in his work and that he forward to the director a complete report of the results obtained from the test, as soon as possible after the plots are harvested.

C. A. ZAVITZ,
Director Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Perfect Wisdom

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF GOWNS.

Men Never Praise Even the Gowns of Women They Dislike.

Lilian Bell discusses "The Philosophy of Clothes," most interestingly in Ladies' Home Journal. She declares that "there is a hollowness about having a man praise your gowns when you know he doesn't know what he's talking about. When a man praises your clothes he is always praising you in them. You never will hear a man praise even the good dressing of a woman whom he dislikes. But girls who positively hate another girl often will add, 'But she certainly does know how to dress.'

"And so the experienced woman wears her expensive clothes for other women and produces her 'effects' for men. She wears scarlet on a cold or raw day, and the eyes of the men light up when they see her. It makes her look cheerful and bright and warm. She wears gray when she wants to look demure. Let a man beware of a woman in silvery gray. She looks so quiet and lovelike and gentle that she has disarmed him before she has spoke one word, and he will snuggle down beside her and let her turn his mind and his pocket wrong side out. A woman couldn't look designing in light gray if she tried. He dotes upon the girl in the pal blue. Pale blue naturally suggests to his mind the sort of girl who can wear it, which is generally a blonde with soft, fluffy hair, fair skin and blue eyes—appealing, trustful, baby-blue eyes."

Paris Exposition Novelties.

Here are a few "fin de siecle" attractions proposed for the Paris Exposition of 1900: A twentieth century Arc de Triomphe, overtopping the Eiffel Tower; a Pantheon composed of foliage, presumably evergreen; an eruption of Mount Vesuvius; a round dozen hanging gardens of Babylon; a palace peopled with all the characters (living, not in wax) of the elder Dumas (might not John Bull send a Pickwick gallery?); a gold mine after Nature; a mechanical man a la Frankenstein, sixteen feet high and capable of speech; the gliding from top to bottom of the Eiffel Tower; the projection of visitors from 300 to 1000 yards into space and their return to terra firma in parachutes—time for the operation not stated; a palace to be devoted to the competitors for the prize of beauty; the creation of an aerial oasis, whatever that may mean; the New Jerusalem represented according to the Apocalypse; a "coup d'oeil" from the moon, in other words, a lunar landscape from which the spectator surveys his own poor little globe and the adjoining luminaries in all their splendor; these "inter alia." The entire list is too long to quote, proposals coming from all parts of France.—London Daily News.

THAT IMPALING CASE.

Mr. H. E. Hudson, Combermere, Severely Injured—Protruding Knot Entered the Body — Cured by One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Combermere, April 13, (Special)—Mr. H. E. Hudson, trapper, hunter and lumberman, was injured by falling on a knot which entered his body from beneath and injured the bladder and kidneys. He says:—"I was confined to my bed for six weeks and was rarely able to work, feeling too weak since the injury over eight years ago. I have taken one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly cured and as able bodied as ever before in my life. One box was worth one hundred dollars to me, if it is possible to estimate such a benefit in dollars."

Some Husbands Compared.

In talking with an American about the different condition of women in Japan and the United States, a Japanese diplomat once said: "When I marry I take a head servant; when you marry you become one." A man who recently visited Japan quotes a remark in a somewhat similar vein made by a Japanese interpreter. "I sat one day," he said, "at the door of a dining-room in a hotel in Tokio where all kinds of foreigners were staying, and I watched them as they came in. The Frenchman came in with madame on his arm. Then the Englishman came in so (imitating a pompous, self-important personage). And his wife? Oh, she came after him like this (dramatizing a meek and timid woman following). And the American husband? The American husband? Oh, he's not in it. Madame sails in ahead of him, and he just walks behind wherever she goes."—New York Tribune.

Cherry Stone Curiosities.

There is a cherry stone at the Salem, Mass., museum which contains one dozen silver spoons. The stone itself is of the ordinary size, but the spoons are so small that their shape and finish can only be well distinguished by the microscope. Dr. Oliver gives an account of a cherry stone on which were carved 124 heads so distinctly that the naked eye could distinguish those belonging to popes and kings by their mitres and crowns. It was bought in Prussia for $15,000 and thence conveyed to England, where it was considered an object of so much value that its possession was disputed and it became the object of a suit in chancery.

Recent Medical Discoveries.

Two recent medical discoveries are the value of the use of music as a hypnotic, and the value of conversation at meals as an aid to digestion.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

LAKEFIELD.

From an Occasional Correspondent.

The announcement of the nomination of Mr. Richard Hall as the candidate for this riding in the ensuing elections for the House of Commons is received here with much favour. The high standing, clean character and business ability of Mr. Hall are looked upon as a tower of strength in the coming campaign. If the present temper of the elections in this neighbourhood can be taken to gauge the final result on polling day, the indications are strongly in favour of a rousing majority against the government candidates in both East and West Peterborough.

The enterprising furniture and undertaking firm of Messrs. Thos. Hendren & Son have purchased a splendid team of black horses specially for the use in their undertaking business. They are a beautifully matched pair, 17 hands high, with intelligent heads and fine shoulders and are acknowledged to be one of the finest teams in the country.

Mr. R. J. Munroe of the Queen's hotel, is busy renovating and improving his premises to be in time for the rush of spring business, Trent Valley Canal patronage and the election excitement. A new floor has been put down in the hall and sitting room on the first floor, and new wainscotting laid on. The public halls downstairs and upstairs have been treated to a nobby new pattern of wall paper. The parlour on the second floor has been recently papered and painted, and new oilcloths are to be spread on the hall floor upstairs. Mr. C. J. Burgess has the job on hand, and the work will reflect credit on his skill with the brush.

The water has been so high that the Trent Valley Flour Mills of Messrs. Edwards & Badcock have been closed down for a week. Mr. Hull's mill, however, has been running regularly all the time.

The citizens do not all seem to well satisfied with the decision of the Minister of Railways and Canals as to the route of the canal through the village and the level bridge to be built instead of the overhead bridge. The site of this bridge will be directly opposite Ash's Hotel.

Business is not brisk, neither is it dull. Merchants are not on the whole discontented, but appear hopeful.

HAVELOCK.

The Methodist church is on the move and will reach its destination by Tuesday.

Mr. Fred Haskill has rented from Mr. J. A. Gould the house which he now occupies, on George street. Mr. Haskill, who is now running on the eastern division, will be transferred to this division the first of the month.

The aggressive village of Havelok will soon be an up-to-date village. Arrangements are being entered into to disperse its darkness with electricity. We don't know of any place in this section that has made such rapid strides in so short a time as Havelock has.—Hastings Star.

A social event of more than ordinary importance, to at least two of the attendants, took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Louck, Seymour East, on the evening of April 9th, being the marriage of Miss Emma Eley, of Campbellford, to Mr. Robt. James McAlpine, of Seymour. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe of Campbellford, in the presence of a number of friends. The bride was the recipient of a number of useful presents, and a very pleasant evening was spent. All join in wishing them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Owing to the removal of the Methodist church it has been necessary to secure other quarters until the completion of the new church, and Drain's hall has been secured for the purpose. Services will be held at the usual hour.

Mr. Harold Kindred, teacher at old Havelock, has purchased a new wheel. As Harold deems it necessary to visit Havelock once a day for the purpose of getting his mail and despatching his correspondence, the bike will add greatly to his convenience.

Royal Lodge, No. 236, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, attended church in a body on Sunday, April 26th, at three o'clock. The sermon was preached by Rev. O. Tarrant in St. John's church. A large number of visitors were present from Campbellford, Norwood, Hastings and Marmora.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Birt and family have returned from Pickering.

Messrs. R. Phillips, D. Wilson and Wm. Judson were in Norwood on Tuesday on business.

Mr. George Fanning has returned home from Minnesota, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Fanning.

While playing, a few days ago, the little daughter of Mr. J. H. Owens, of Trent Bridge, had her arm broken.

There are to be some important changes in the C.P.R. time table on May 1st. All day trains will be about forty minutes earlier and the night east train about thirty minutes earlier.

Mr. Jas. Graham, of the Graham House, has purchased a fine new vehicle from Mr. Jesse Cannoy. It is admired by all and is certainly the best bails rig in town.

Mr. O. Raymond, who lately received employment on the C.P.R., as brakeman, had the two first fingers of his right hand smashed while making a coupling in the yard on Thursday.

THE WHEEL.

The Wheelman says George Van Felson has a great head. His generalship was clearly indicated by his withdrawing the 500 votes of the Quebec club that were in dispute and likely to cause an interminable discussion at the annual meeting. I can do better than quote John H. Gerrie. Speaking of the result of the meet fight he said:

Perhaps this result was contributed to by Geo. Van Felson's graceful action in withdrawing the protested votes of his club rather than inflict upon the meeting a pratracted discussion of their eligibility, as at one time seemed imminent. Mr. Van Felson's action certainly won the sympathy of many of those present. Quite in line with this was the commendable spirit with which Peterborough took its beating. When Waterloo won out on a technicality last year, the Peterborough boys journeyed up to "Seagramville" in a special car, and added not a little to the success of the meet in 1895. When the result of Friday's vote was announced, Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., mounted the table, and, in a ringing speech, said that on behalf of Peterborough he wished the vote for Quebec to be made unanimous. The Peterborough bicyclists, he said, would do all in their power to make the next meet a bigger success than the last, and then Peterborough and Quebec were good friends again.

The Mail and Empire has been requested to publish information as to how to compute gearing. Here are a couple of tables, condensed within a small space, which tell more about bike gears at a glance than a long string of explanation. The gearing of the bicycle is an operation of extreme importance. One of these tables will tell you about the gear, and the other will tell you how far a particular gear will carry you, and how many revolutions are necessary to carry you over a mile of road. As almost every bicycle is fitted with 28 inch wheels, the following table is based on that size of wheel:

To combute the gear:—

Teeth in sprocket.	Gear.
16x6	74
16x7	64
16x8	56
17x6	79
17x7	69
17x8	59
18x6	84
18x7	72
18x8	63
20x6	93
20x7	80
20x8	70
22x6	102
22x7	88
22x8	77
21x7	96
24x8	84

Another table which is quite interesting is the following, which shows the distance covered at each turn of the pedals and the number of revolutions made in a mile.

To tell the distance travelled:

Gear in inches.	Feet per revolution.	Revolutions per mile.
56	14.76	360.16

A CANDID FRIEND.

Quebec Paper Gives the Conservatives Plain, Unpalatable Advice.

The St. John, Quebec News, a Conservative paper, says:

Candidly, the best thing that could happen to the Conservative party would be defeat. The long use of power has unfitted them for the task of governing. They have been enervated by the security of possession and fatness. Keen cerebral processes have been strangled at their birth by the lethargy of satiety. And the leaders, through being for long years a law unto themselves, have lost that keenness of moral sense which only a season of opposition can restore.

'Twas opposition which developed the epigram in a Disraeli. One needs a garret sometimes for brilliance. An empty cupboard has before now, given genius to the world. Hunger is a good intellectual whetstone. If Milton had never been poor and despised, he might never have given us "Paradise Lost." Office makes us fat and obesity is the foe of intellect. Cæsar recognized that when he desired to have only fat men about his person—"sleek persons who sleep o' nights"—being well assured that with obesity he had a torpidity which was his best protection against the schemes and treasons which are only possible to intellectual alertness.

'Twill be a mercy, then, for the country to put the Conservatives in opposition for at least five years. The effect will be illuminative, and dense creatures will feel the need of growing brains as well as fat. Bumptious individuals will learn in the cool shades of opposition that, the glamour of office being gone, ability only is the passport to popular favour.

ALL GONE TO PIECES.

The Dominion is Now Without a Cabinet.

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL RESIGNS.

Sir Charles Tupper Asked by His Excellency to Take the Reins—The Hare- not Now Busy Constructing His Cabinet—The Ex-Premier Will Live at Belleville.

Ottawa, April 27.—After 18 years as a member of the Cabinet, Sir Mackenzie Bowell has retired from active political life. Sharp at 1 o'clock today the Premier entered a carriage and was driven to Rideau Hall, where he tendered his resignation to the Governor-General.

Sir Mackenzie wore a look of relief as he drove down Sparks-street, and cheerily waved his hand in response to the salute of a number of newspaper men who stood at the Russell House entrance.

Sir Mackenzie remained at the Hall until nearly 4 o'clock, and the Cabinet meeting which had been called for 3 o'clock, did not eventuate. In fact, the Cabinet went out of existence with the resignation of the Premier. However, the ex-Ministers sat in the capacity of Privy Councilors until after 5 o'clock, when they were dispersed.

Sir Charles Tupper was leaving the buildings for home when a telephone message came to him from Government House that His Excellency would like to see him. Those who heard of this well understood the significance of the message.

Sir Charles was with Lord Aberdeen for nearly two hours, and then he returned to his son's residence at New Edinburgh, which is within a stone's throw of Rideau Hall.

Your correspondent had a chat with him to-night, and learns that he had been asked by His Excellency to form a Ministry, and that he had accepted the commission. As to the personnel of the Ministry, Sir Charles could say nothing. First of all, there were many matters still unsettled, and even if the "slate" were complete, etiquette dictated that the names of His Excellency's advisers should be first of all submitted to His Excellency.

To-night Sir Charles is seeing some visitors, and will doubtless burn the midnight oil. To-morrow the definite announcement of the composition of the Cabinet will likely be forthcoming.

The general impression around town to-night is that these members of the Bowell Ministry will be in the new Cabinet: Mr. Foster, Mr. Haggart, Mr. Montague, Mr. Ives, Sir Adolphe Caron, Mr. Dickey, Mr. Costigan, Mr. Prior and Mr. Wood.

These are doubtful ones: Mr Daly, Mr. Ouimet, Mr. Desjardins, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, of course, is out for good.

For these four places the following are slated: Chief Justice Meredith, Hugh John Macdonald, Gov. Chapleau and the Hon. A. R. Angers.

So certain are political quidnuncs that Justice Meredith is coming in that they say he will take hold of the Justice Department on Wednesday, and it is held to be a sure thing that Hugh John Macdonald will become Minister of the Interior. There are those also who insist yet that Mr. Chapleau will be found in the Tupper Ministry.

Your correspondent found Sir Mackenzie busily engaged in his office this evening clearing away his belongings preparatory to quitting active political life. He was in great good humor and seemed to be working under exhilaration of a welcome release from mental strain.

"Yes, it is true," he said, "that I have resigned the Premiership. I saw His Excellency this afternoon and am now relieved from the cares of office after 18 years of hard work. I think I am entitled to a rest and hope to spend the remainder of my days quietly at Belleville, except when I am here attending to my Senatorial duties."

In further conversation Sir Mackenzie said that Sir Charles had urged him to accept a seat in his Cabinet and the leadership of the Senate with or without a portfolio, just as he might choose, but he felt that he could now claim to be allowed to retire.

Sir Mackenzie, his daughter, Mrs. McCarthy, and his little granddaughter leave for Belleville probably on Saturday.

The week following, as stated last night, Sir Mackenzie leaves for England. It appears that Sir Donald and he are the commissioners to the cable conference and that Mr. Fleming has been appointed technical expert and adviser to the commissioners. In the event of the third representative being given to Australia, Mr. Fleming will be the third Canadian delegate.

Practically his last official act was to announce the appointments of Saturday which His Excellency has approved. They are the three new Deputy Ministers, Major Gourdeau (marine), Mr. Joseph Pope (state), and Mr. John McDougall of Pictou, commissioner of customs; Aleck McKay, inspector of customs; Wm. Patterson (ex-member for Colchester), assistant postoffice inspector for Nova Scotia, and Arthur Boyle (ex-member for Monck), collector of customs at Niagara Falls.

Mr. Chapleau is still in Atlantic City. Mr. Nantel, Quebec's Commissioner of Works, and Mr. Horace Bergeron, ex-Deputy Speaker, have gone to see him to discuss the situation.

Mr. B. B. Osler, who is here on Assize Court business, was to have left to-night for Toronto, but at a late hour cancelled his order for a Pullman coach. And rumor is again busy with his name, as it was 15 months ago, as likely to enter the Dominion Cabinet.

PREMIER GREENWAY

Talks to a Reporter, But Gives Very Little Information.

Toronto, April 28.

The bold and much beflourished signature of the Hon. Thomas Greenway ornamented the register at the Queen's Hotel last night. The Premier of the Prairie Province has just returned from New York, whither he went some days ago after his flying visit to Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

A newspaper man found Mr. Greenway ten minutes after his arrival in one of the hotel corridors despatching a telegram by night wire to Winnipeg. After getting the message off he invited the interviewer to his room on the ground floor, where a big batch of accumulated correspondence awaited his attention.

Manitoba's Prime Minister appeared to be a little rusty on the political happenings of the past few days and asked the reporter several questions. He wanted to know if the elections had been definitely fixed for June 23 and if Hugh John Macdonald was to enter the Dominion Cabinet, and was particularly anxious as to whether Chief Justice Meredith was to join the Government. Nor had he heard of Sir Charles Tupper's succession to the position of First Minister.

In reply to a series of queries, Mr. Greenway stated that his trip to New York was made on private business, and that he would go from here direct to Winnipeg without visiting Ottawa again.

"How long will you be in Toronto?" was asked.

"Two or three days."

"Will you meet Sir Oliver Mowat while here?"

"I don't know that I shall. I have no appointment with him."

"Will you resign the Premiership of Manitoba and enter the Dominion campaign as Mr. Laurier's lieutenant?"

"I have not heard anything of it."

"Have you had any offer to do so from Mr. Laurier?"

"No! I have not."

"Who do you think will win in Winnipeg, Mr. Macdonald or Mr. Martin?" pursued the scribe.

"Has Mr. Martin definitely come out?" replied Mr. Greenway, in a seemingly surprised tone. "If so, he will win easily. Mr. Martin is a strong man."

"Do you intend to take any active part in the campaign in Ontario?"

"I don't think I shall. I've made no such arrangement."

Mr. Greenway further stated that while in Montreal he had taken such action as he thought would stimulate immigration to Manitoba.

A DASTARDLY ACT.

Paris Green Thrown Into a Well Which Supplied One Hundred Families With Water at St. Malo.

Quebec, April 27.—A startling discovery was made in the suburbs of St. Malo during the latter part of last week. Mr. Jos. Bigouette, postoffice employee, is the possessor of a well which supplies one hundred families with good water. The ice at the bottom has not yet melted, and to this circumstance is due the preservation of a number of lives. Saturday morning a person going to draw water from the spring noticed an extraordinary appearance, and on closer examination discovered that a large quantity of Paris green, at least three or four pounds, had been thrown into the well during the previous night, and was then lying only partially dissolved at the bottom. A medical officer examined the contents of the well and notified the authorities. The poison must have been deposited there during the night of Friday. There is no clue to the awful attempt at wholesale poisoning. As the municipal authorities have declined the aid of their detectives, the Government Police Bureau will likely take the matter in hand.

NUBRUEIL'S BODY FOUND.

Sank Down from Exhaustion Within a Short Distance from Shelter.

Winnipeg, April 27.—(Special)—William Nubrueil, a young man missing since April 18, when he was thrown from a runaway rig, about 30 miles from the city, was found to-day about a quarter of a mile from the Mennonite village of Steinbach, having evidently sunk down from exhaustion on the night of the mishap within a short distance from shelter.

That Awful Missouri Cyclone.

Kansas City, Mo., April 27.—The following additional victims of the Clay County cyclone have been reported: Dead—Eli Belthazer, Mrs. Belthazer, Julian Trimbly, J. S. Hazen.

Injured—Six children of Belthazer. The number of injured will reach 25 and may go to 50.

NO COMPROMISE.

Archbishop Langevin Wants Candidates Pledged

TO RESTORE THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Catholics of Manitoba Want Them and Nothing Else Will be Acceptable—The Opening of the Canals—Dr. Montague and the Indian Regiment.

Ottawa, April 27.—Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface preached at Hull yesterday and in the course of his remarks said it was the duty of every Catholic elector, before voting, to exact from every candidate a pledge that he would give Roman Catholics Separate schools to the minority of Manitoba, and not accept a promise for any mixed system or a compromise of any kind. The Catholic minority in Manitoba knew what they wanted. They wanted Separate Roman Catholic schools, and nothing else will be acceptable to them. Long speeches from candidates to the Catholics were unnecessary—a pledge was what was wanted. Those who refused to the minority what the minority wanted were false friends. He counselled them to look carefully at the declarations of the leaders of the two parties.

Mr. Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, informed your correspondent to-day that the Welland Canal would be open for traffic to-morrow. The St. Lawrence and Rideau, the Lachine, the Beauharnois and Soo canals on the 1st of May. The Ottawa canals were opened to-day. The Soo Canal was unwatered a few days ago and everything was found to be in splendid condition.

Mr. George Johnson received a letter from a Chicago gentleman to-day asking for information regarding his sister, who came to Canada in 1887 with one of Miss Rye's parties of girls. The girl went to Essex County and has been lost sight of. The information from the census which Mr. Johnson is able to furnish will probably lead to a reunion of brother and sister.

Dr. Montague had a long conference with the Minister of Militia to-day with regard to the proposed Six Nations Regiment. The Minister pressed strongly upon his colleague the desirability of granting the request. He also had a conference with Major-General Gascoigne upon the same subject. It is more than likely that Dr. Montague will succeed in securing the formation of the regiment.

Dr. McEachran, chief veterinary inspector, left for Toronto and the west to-night. Before returning to Montreal he will inspect the cattle quaratines at Windsor and Sarnia. Dr. McEachran has just completed a draft of the new regulations governing the inspection of horses for export.

Major Donaldson, secretary of the Dominion Artillery Association, has sent out notices to the following that they are entitled to representatives on the Shoeburyness team for 1896: 1st B.F.A. Guelph, Toronto Field Artillery, Winnipeg F.A., Gananoque F.A., Kingston F.A., Newcastle F.A., and Hamilton F.A., Halifax G.A., Montreal G.A., New Brunswick G.A., P.E.I., Digby, Cobourg, No 1 and No. 2 Levis, Quebec, Pictou and Yarmouth. They have until May 5 to say if they will take advantage of the opportunity.

An interesting event took place in St. George's Church yesterday when Victor, the youngest son of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, whose natal day was that on which Sir Charles was recently elected in Cape Breton, was baptized. Lady Aberdeen was Godmother to the boy.

N. Boyd, ex-member for Marquette, expects to leave for the west to-morrow. He told a reporter this afternoon that he expects to commence his campaign in the new constituency of Macdonald immediately and expects to be elected by a good majority.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell visited Topley's studio to-day and was photographed in his Windsor uniform as he appeared at the recent historical ball in the Senate. Their Excellencies are getting up a picture in connection with the ball, and Sir Mackenzie wanted to have his photograph taken while he was in office, so that he might present it to Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

Mr. J. A. Ruddick, who has had charge of the dairy school at Kingston during the past winter, has resumed his position on the Dairy Commissioners' staff here. There were 91 pupils under Mr. Ruddick during the past season, three of them United Staters.

Senator David McKeen, who resigned his seat in Cape Breton in favor of Sir Charles Tupper, has resigned the position of manager of the Dominion Coal Company. He is succeeded by Hiram Donkin, C.E.

Sir Adolphe Caron has been asked to run in a new district to-night, the western half of Ottawa County. He definitely decided to contest Rimouski again.

"Dr. William Stubbs, V.S., M.P.," as the posters announced him, disappointed a large audience to-night. He was advertised to lecture under the auspices of the Ottawa Humane Society, on "The Horse and How to Use Him." The crowd was there, but no lecturer, Dr. William sent no excuse for his absence.

Mr. Daly was to-day presented with a solid silver claret cup by Dr. McEachran, on behalf of the stock raisers of Albert, in appreciation of the many favors which Mr. Daly has granted them.

It is stated to-night that Hugh John Macdonald's arrival from Winnipeg has been delayed for a few hours by an accident to his train at Nepigon.

Funeral of Baron de Hirsch.

London, April 27.—The Daily News will to-morrow publish a despatch from Paris saying that the funeral of Baron de Hirsch took place Monday, the remains being interred in the Mont Marte Cemetery. The wish of the deceased for a simple funeral was observed so far as having a second-class hearse and no wreaths on the coffin, but otherwise the funeral was a magnificent pageant. The Hirsch residence, No. 2 Rue de l'Elysee, was profusely draped with mourning. The coffin was of ebony, inlaid with gold and silver. An enormous line of mourning coaches followed the remains to the grave, and the streets were thronged with sightseers.

An Attractive Window.

Mr. A. Clegg's window to-day displays a very handsome bedroom suite with tables, chairs, etc., and a very pretty secretary, all in native birch. The panels and prominent parts are of selected wood, and the effect is very artistic and pleasing. The style of the furniture, especially the bedstead, is quite new.

THE LIBERAL PLATFORM.

THE organs of the Government, whose only policy is to cling to office, are fond of accusing the Liberal party with having no platform and no policy. They know that they are stating deliberate untruths; for the Liberal party has a clean cut, well defined policy, whose application will remove the evils from which we suffer and bring the advantages which, with our unlimited national resources and a strong, vigorous and energetic people, this country should enjoy. At a great national convention of Liberals held at Ottawa in June, 1893, representing Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a series of ten resolutions was adopted unanimously, and the platform of the party as expressed by these resolutions may be briefly expressed as follows:—

1.

Expanded trade and reduced taxation. A tariff for revenue only—a tariff that demands the payment of only enough taxes for the purposes of honest government and legitimate development of our resources. A tariff so adjusted that the taxation will fall as nearly equally as possible on all classes, and will favour none at the expense of another; that will afford all the protection which Canadian industries are, consistently with the fair treatment of the people generally, justly entitled to; that will promote manufacturing industries by cheapening the raw material they use. The modification of the tariff in such a manner that, while existing industries are fairly fostered, and others encouraged by improving manufacturing facilities, the interests of the mass of the people are subserved, combines weakened or destroyed, and the manufacture of millionaires, at the expense of the taxpayer, without adding to the revenue, discouraged—the modification of the tariff so that taxation will bear lightly upon or make free the necessaries of life.

2.

Wider and freer trade relations, especially with Great Britain and our neighbours to the south of us,—relations that will facilitate the profitable exchange of commodities, on terms honourable to the countries concerned.

3.

The destruction of the present system of corrupt administration by which the public revenues, contributed by the people, are diverted to the political profit of the party in power, by which even members of the crown can profit by corrupt waste of the public funds and escape punishment, through government influence and connivance.

4.

Strict economy in public expenditure. A decided lessening of expenditure, which has enormously increased during the term of the present administration, to an alarming degree, and furnishes an excuse for the present burdensome taxation under which the country suffers.

5.

Responsible government and independence of parliament to the end of preventing the "white-washing" of members of government and others guilty of serious crimes against the state, and retaining them in power and opportunity of repeating their offences, at the expense of the taxpayers of this country.

6.

The land for the settler and not for the speculator—involving the establishment of conditions that will make our public domain attractive and easy of access to the actual settler.

7.

The entire reconstruction of the Dominion franchise act, with the immense annual cost of revision—which has already cost the people a million of dollars besides entailing heavy expense upon both political parties; and its replacing by the simple, cheap, effective, more liberal and more workable franchise founded on the provincial models.

8.

To destroy the effects of the gerrymander acts by which the constituencies have been distorted in outline and composition in order to give an undue and unrighteous advantage to the party in power and to prevent a fair expression of popular opinion, and restore to the principle of respecting county boundaries in the reconstruction of constituencies.

9.

To reform the Senate, to give it life and make it responsible to, and representative, of the people.

10.

A prohibition plebiscite with view of eliciting public opinion as a basis for measures to mitigate or remove the evils of intemperance.

NEARLY A MILLION IN EXTRAS.

SOME startling facts relative to the building of the Sault canal were brought out at Ottawa on Friday. It was shown that the contract for building the lock was awarded to Hugh Ryan & Co. at $1,282,000, although two lower tenders were presented, one at $1,225,000 and another at $1,163,000. It was further shown that Ryan & Co., after securing the work at a higher figure than that named by other tenderers, were allowed $190,000 for enlarging the lock beyond the first estimate; for a second change and building culverts a further allowance of $498,000 was made; and, for still additional work, including the building of a pier, $107,000 more was allowed. But even this was not all, as an unknown amount, representing the cost of the change to Portland cement, is yet outstanding.

These facts, stated by Collingwood Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, before the Public Accounts Committee, indicate that the building of Canada's greatest canal was about as big a job as was ever perpetrated in Canada. Awarding the contract at $119,000 above the lowest tender was an indefensible act in the first place, and the three quarters of a million to a million dollars paid, or to be paid, in extras subsequently show at once gross carelessness in preparing the plans in the first instance, and scandalous conduct in awarding such an amount of work without contract in the second.

A SCANDALOUS GOVERNMENT.

The present government's career has been studded with scandals, which imply the most monstrous misgovernment. Volumes could be written about this. But a bare enumeration of them is enough to set the honest elector to thinking whether a government capable of such scandals, which are practised so extensively as to be considered a part of their policy, is fit to be entrusted with the guidance of the affairs of a country, which with proper management could be made one of the most progressive, happy and prosperous countries on the globe. Look at this partial list:—

St. Charles Branch Railway (14 miles)—Promised cost, $136,000; expended upon it, $1,740,000; outstanding claims, $20,719; cost of road itself, $382,000; cost of land damages, over $900,000.

Tay Canal (6 miles)—Estimated cost $132,660; expended upon it, $476,128; revenue for 1894, $126; cost of maintenance, 1894, $2,458.

Little Rapids Lock—Contract estimate of cost, $66,680; paid to contractor, $260,000; contractor's claim still unpaid, $61,000; no traffic and no receipts from the work.

Galops Rapids Channel (Cornwall Canal)—Contract price, $306,600; paid to contractors, $446,500; contractors' claims still unpaid, $130,000.

Shiek's Island Dam (Cornwall Canal)—The original contract was cancelled and a work abandoned upon which $153,000 of money was absolutely thrown away.

Langevin Block—Estimate of cost, less than $500,000; already paid, $781,000; outstanding claims, $250,000.

Printing Bureau Scandal—Senecal's commissions on purchases for supplies and machinery, $50,000.

Fredericton and St. Mary's Bridge—Paid-up capital of company, $20,000; Government loan, at 4 per cent., $300,000; Government bonus, $30,000; total cost of bridge, $418,000; floating debt of bridge, $19,000; interest due the Government upon loan since 1888, $66,000; total amount of public money sunk in this private speculation, $396,000.

A Government with such a load of sins may well choose to meet the people on any other issue than the record of its administration.

N. P. PROMISES.

Sir John soared around the country in the guise of a ministering angel to the farmers, in the elections of 1878, when the N. P. was in the throes of parturition. The farmer was to have been the great gainer by a home market that was to create a demand for the farmer's "truck," even down to surplus turnips and small potatoes. The price of all sorts of grain was to be sky-highed. And the farmers believed it and saddled themselves with high taxation that sticks to them like chronic rheumatism. For a while it seemed that the Protectionists were right—that the law of supply and demand could be "monkeyed" with by tariff tinkers to increase yield and bring up prices. But this is the way it worked, in the long run, as shown by the Globe:—

The wheat exports in 1878, the product of Canada, amounted to 4,303,535 bushels, valued at $5,376,195.

The wheat exports in 1895, the product of Canada, amounted to 8,825,689 bushels, valued at $3,352,109.

In other words, four million bushels of wheat, under a revenue tariff realized to the farmer, almost twice as much as double the number of bushels (8 millions) did in 1895 under a protective tariff that has had sixteen years to show what it can do.

Mr. Rufus Stephenson said in 1880:—"I'm going to support a Government that has raised the price of wheat from 79 cents to $1.40."

A GRAND TRIBUTE.

The penny-whistle party organs are fond of throwing the charge of obstruction and unfair tactics against the leader of the Opposition and his followers. Mr. Laurier is not an obstructionist, but a statesman who deals with public questions from the point of view of a statesman, and not from the standpoint of a party heeler. Hear what Sir Donald Smith, the highest minded and most respectable man in the Conservative party to-day, who was urged to be Premier, but declined the position, and has been made Canadian High Commissioner in London says: What he said at Montreal in an interview is a lesson to those snarling critics that seek to throw off the charge of obstruction that rests on to their own shoulders. In reference to Hon. Wilfred Laurier, the great Liberal leader, Sir Donald Smith says:—

> "Speaking for myself, I consider Mr. Laurier an honourable man, who was as anxious as anybody that the school question should be settled and who would have been only too willing to help the commissioners when they went to Winnipeg. I do not believe he wanted to make capital out of this question at all. He was sincere, as far as my conviction goes, and I have ever regarded him as a well-intentioned statesman. It remains now for the electors to decide the question as between the the parties."

Find a Liberal, or even a Conservative, paying such an unsolicited testimonial to the single-mindness and uprightness of the Conservative leader and present premier.

THE PRISONERS IN PRETORIA.

John Hays Hammond, the American Mining Engineer, Pleads Guilty to Treason—Judgment To-Day.

Pretoria, April 27.—John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer, and the other members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee who were absent from the court on Friday, when pleas of guilty of treason and lese majeste were entered by the accused, attended court to-day with the other defendants. Hammond pleaded guilty of treason, while Bauer and Simpson pleaded guilty of lese majeste. J. S. Curtis, an American engineer, who was also among the members of the committee who were arrested, is the only one of the defendants who has not pleaded guilty to the charges. He is at liberty on bail.

Counsel for the defence to-day read a statement to the court, signed by Hammond, Phillips, Farrar and Col. Rhodes, admitting that they had asked Dr. Jameson to go to Johannesburg, but deploring the mistake in entering the Transvaal and marching on Johannesburg, when there was no urgent need for his presence. They maintained that their action throughout was not hostile to the Government. Judgment will be rendered to-morrow.

The trial of Curtis was postponed until next session of the court.

IN THE INTERESTS OF PEACE.

Negotiations Between England and the U.S. Regarding Venezuela.

London, April 27.—In the House today Sir William Harcourt, in accordance with the notice given by him on April 23, asked the Government what, if any, arrangements had been made to conclude by arbitration a settlement of the differences between the United States and Great Britain in regard to Venezuela.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, said that arrangements to arbitrate in respect of the Venezuelan and other questions was a matter which both the British and the United States Governments had in view. The latest communications on the subject which had been received from the United States on Friday were now under consideration and dealt with both the general question of arbitration and the Venezuelan dispute. To give further information concerning the matter, he concluded, would at the present time be inexpedient.

"And age is a time of peace
So it be free from pain."

Old Age AND ITS Infirmities.

The descent of the hill of life should be gradual and easy. The decline of life should be free from care and sickness and pain. So it would be in the great majority of cases were the prime of life lived according to Nature's rules. But in the struggle for wealth and fame, swimming against the strong tide of competition, health is neglected. We live too fast, work too hard, drink too much, sleep too little, keep our nerves on the jump all the time.

Then the Kidneys give out. They can't stand the terrible strain to which they are being subjected.

As a result the blood is not properly filtered. It passes through the system unpurified, and carries disease to every organ of the body.

That terrible affliction of old age, Rheumatism, seizes on the joints and makes life unendurable with suffering.

Muscular weakness, tiredness, depression, irregular heart action, and shortness of breath follow in its train.

Perhaps there is suppression of urine, frequently it scalds, and often there are brick red deposits in it.

The remaining years of life instead of being peaceful, happy and free from pain, are one continuous round of suffering.

Is there no help or hope this side the grave?

A thousand times YES.

Doan's Kidney Pills are the great remedy for all those ailments that arise through diseased or disordered kidneys.

They're the old people's friend. They relieve their sufferings, cure their diseases, and infuse new health and hope and happiness into their life.

But always see that you get Doan's; other pills are almost sure to disappoint. For sale by

That Tired Feeling

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired feeling is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that MILLIONS FOR DEFENCE!

Tired Feeling

NOT ONE CENT FOR TRIBUTE.

Safety of Canadians Assured

When Paine's Celery Compound is Used.

It has ever been the boast of Britons that they never shall be slaves. The Briton's heart warms to freedom; his blood is aroused when human beings become mere chattels--bought and sold like animals. British subjects will suffer patiently even extreme taxation for the raising of millions for defence; but, never, never will they pay tribute to any foreign master.

British subjects—men, women and children—are slaves too often! What do we mean? Just what we say—that we are too often miserable bondmen and bondwomen when we might revel in freedom and strength.

Thousands of us are slaves to some trouble or disease that makes the earthly pilgrimage burdensome and oppressive.

Why suffer longer? We have near us a mighty and powerful deliverer and rescuer known as Paine's Celery Compound that quickly banishes our assailing and tormenting enemies that come too often in the form of rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness, sleeplessness and blood diseases.

Why encourage and pay tribute to such death-dealing masters? Our bodies should be free, clean, pure, and fitted for the full enjoyment of true life. That world-renowned prescription, Paine's Celery Compound gives perfect health, strength and life. It removes every trace of disease from the body, and purifies the blood.

This is the season to banish every weight and oppression. Let the renovating work be commenced now, so that summer and the hot weather may be met with strong and vigorous bodies and clear heads. Paine's Celery Compound has in past spring seasons saved thousands of sufferers; it will do the same for you today, weary and sick mortal.

When you decide to use the the great health-giver, see that your dealer gives you the kind that CURES. Ask for Paine's Celery Compound, and see that it has the trade-mark, the "stalk of Celery." No other preparation will suit your case.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN INTERFERES

And Says the Trial of the Newfoundland Bank Directors Must Proceed.

St. John's, Nfld., April 27.—The Right Hon. Arms for Matabeleland.

Lisbon, April 27.—The British Government recently asked the Portuguese Government for permission to transport arms and ammunition from Beira, on the Indian Ocean, through Portuguese territory, to British South Africa. The Government has granted the request. Beira lies some 150 miles to the eastward of Matabeleland, and by using this route the British will be able to get supplies to that country much more rapidly than by sending them by way of Natal.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, asthma, sore throat and all lung troubles.

OOM PAUL'S REPLY

To the Invitation to Visit Great Britain.

MR. KRUGER'S DIFFICULT POSITION

Instructions Cabled to Sir Hercules Robinson to Come to England—The Times Says Britain Can Also Play a Waiting Game—Other Cable News.

London, April 27.—In the House of Commons to-day the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in reply to questions on the subject, stated that the Government had received by telegraph the substance of President Kruger's reply to the Government's invitation to visit London to discuss Transvaal affairs. The reply, he said, was long, and could not be fairly appreciated without referring to the despatch in extenso and the preceding correspondence. President Kruger, in the course of his reply to the British invitation to come to England, continued Mr. Chamberlain, said that he felt confident that the English Government would recognize the difficulty of his position and that it appeared to him to be a wise course not to press the question of his proceeding to England any further at present, but to leave the matter open, more especially in view of the approach of the opening of the session of the Volksraad, which it was desirable he should attend, as measures of great importance were to be considered. It was his confident hope that by the exercise of patience and tact on both sides a peaceful and satisfactory solution of the questions at issue could be obtained.

Under the circumstances, Mr. Chamberlain added, the Government reluctantly withdrew their invitation to President Kruger and had cabled to Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony, instructing him that as soon as Sir Graham John Bower, the Imperial Secretary at Cape Town, should arrive there on his return from England, he being now on the way, he (Robinson) should come to England and receive instructions which would guide him in the pursuit of future negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain announced that the whole correspondence would shortly be published.

Mr. Labouchere asked what amount of cash belonged to the Chartered South Africa Co., and would the Government obtain security that the cash would remain available to repay the Government for its outlay in defraying the expense involved in suppressing the Matabele revolt.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that the company had £500,000 cash. That the Government, he added, did not propose to take the course which Mr. Labouchere's question suggested, the Chartered company having paid the expenses of contending against the revolt as they had been incurred.

Mr. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, said the Russian Ambassador had informed the Government that the statement made in the press that a secret treaty had been concluded between Russia and China, whereby the latter ceded large tracts of territory to Russia, was devoid of the slightest foundation.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reply to a question, said the Government declined to alter the law so that a remission of the income tax would be granted on the life premiums of American insurance companies doing business in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Balfour moved that the Government control the whole of the time of the House for the remainder of the session. A long debate took place on the motion of Mr. Balfour, after which a vote was taken and the motion was adopted—266 to 124.

London, April 27.—The Daily Telegraph says in an editorial: "It will not make any difference whether President Kruger comes or not. It is the Boers' loss, not ours. President Kruger knows that the real effect of the Transvaal trouble will be to make, sooner or later, a British South African Empire, having no more contented and prosperous subjects than the Dutch."

The Chronicle publishes an interview with Major-Gen. Sir Frederick Carrington, who is just departing for South Africa to take charge of the military forces there. Gen. Carrington gave it as his desired opinion that there would be no fighting except such as is going on now with the Matabeles.

The Times, commenting in an editorial upon President Kruger's reply to Secretary Chamberlain's invitation to come to England, suggests that England also can leave matters as they are, including the indemnity, which must be claimed, if at all, from the Chartered South Africa Company.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

LAST EVENING'S LIBERAL RALLY.

IN HARNESS FOR A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering of Workers—Committees Appointed—Rousing Addresses by Supporters of Mr. Hall.

Last night at the opening of Mr. Hall's committee rooms for this campaign, No. 413½ George street, over Clegg's the tobacconist, and next north of Lech & Son's fur store, there was a large and enthusiastic attendance of earnest workers on behalf of Mr. Hall's candidature. A noteworthy and encouraging feature of the attendance, was the presence of numerous Conservatives, whose independence of the party lash has led them to do their own thinking and who disgusted with the vacillation, corruption and incompetency of the present Government, have decided to assist in the overthrow of that Government and in replacing it by an administration whose policy is to govern the country in the country's interests and not in the interests of a favoured few at the expense of the many.

Addresses of a rousing and enthusiastic character were made by prominent supporters of Mr. Hall and of the Liberal policy which he represents. Never in any campaign has the opening meeting been marked by so strong a spirit of encouragement and aggressive enthusiasm.

Organization was effected so far as the appointment of committees, and another meeting will be held this evening, in the Committee Rooms, when complete arrangements for aggressive work will be made.

Every worker and every elector, having the success of the Liberal candidate at heart is urged to be present at the Committee Rooms on Wednesday and following evenings to assist in the work of restoring honest government to Canada.

VERY QUIETLY WEDDED.

Nuptials of Miss Maude Morrow and Mr. A. J. Gough Celebrated in the Bishop's Private Chapel.

A very quiet wedding took place on the 28th inst., in His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor's private chapel in the Episcopal Palace, when Mr. A. J. Gough, of the firm of Gough Bros., and Miss Maude Morrow, eldest daughter of Mr. Bernard Morrow, County Register, were united in the Holy bands of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by His Lordship, the Bishop, assisted by Ven Archdeacon Casey.

The bride was assisted by Miss T. Waller of Ottawa, and the same office was performed for the groom by Mr. Robert Day, of Guelph.

This wedding is the first at which the Bishop has performed the ceremony since his elevation to the episcopate, and the honour is a most significant one, and was conferred in recognition of the close relations to the church which the young couple have always borne, and to the fact that Mr. Gough was christened by the Bishop.

Although a large number of guests from out of town were present the wedding, none were in attendance at the performance of the ceremony, as the wedding was solemnized in the quietest possible manner on account of the very serious illness of the groom's father. Both the young people are so extremely well and favourably known in town that any comment upon their personal character is unneeded.

A VERY PRETTY WEDDING.

It Took Place in Marmora, and Peterborough Friends Attended.

The marriage on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., of Miss Hannah O'Connor, second daughter of Mr. M. O'Connor, of the O'Connor House, Marmora station, to Mr. James Auger, also of Marmora, was one of the most important matrimonial events that has occurred in that village for some time.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Murtagh, at the Sacred Heart church, Marmora, which was filled to its utmost capacity with interested spectators.

The bride was arrayed in a costume of crimson silk, trimmed with lace, and she also wore a veil and wreath and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss M. Auger and Miss M. O'Connor, sisters respectively of the groom and bride, who were also prettily attired and carried bouquets of roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. E. D. O'Connor, brother of the bride. Among the great number of invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. Crawford, Mr. McMechan, Banker, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haight, Mr. Wm. Bowen, Miss Fainy, Clairmont, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. and the Misses McWilliams, Mrs. J. O'Connor, Mr. and Mrs. W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. D. Crawford and the Misses Crawford. Amongst those present from a distance were Sheriff Hope, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McDonald, barrister, Madoc; Rev. Fathers Quinn and McCarthy, Marysville; Miss Crawford, Deseronto; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Pope, Peterborough; Mr. W. D. Hay, Toronto; Mr. T. Callaghan, Campbellford; Mr. T. Drain, Norwood; Miss Lillian Crawford, Port Huron, Michigan, and many others. The bride received an unusually large number of valuable presents.

Mr. Gough, father of Messrs. A. G. and R. J. Gough, is lying critically ill at the residence of his sons on Hunter street. Messrs. E. D. Gough, of Belleville, and B. J. Gough, of Lindsay, two of his sons, have been in town for the last few days, as have his daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Walsh, of Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Day, of Guelph and Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Rogers, of Toronto.

ELECTION BOOM TO LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Our Protected Industries Playing to the Galleries.

"Coming events cast their shadows before." If we were not otherwise informed of the fact, the unwonted activity in certain local industries and vote-influencing enterprises would tell the story of an election at hand.

The Lock Works which enjoy the benefit of a 33 per cent. protective tariff, together with exemption from taxation, haven't been doing much night work lately, but co-incident with the issue of the writs for the election, the writs have been issued to make them boom. They are now working full blast and may be expected to be in this feverish state of excitement till the 23rd of June at least—the date of the election. In that time enough stock will be manufactured to glut our restricted home market, and supply the demand for months. Then the fever of industry will abate, and the employees will have another opportunity of going fishing all summer, or looking for another job to keep the wolf from the door, unless in the meantime, as is pretty certain, the good sense of the people bring the Liberals to power under the leadership of Mr. Laurier, when the restoration of confidence arising for honest government methods and rational assistance to manufacturing industries, will encourage factories to run continuously. In the event, however, of the Conservatives being returned to power the employees of the Lock Works will pray for an election every three months so that they may obtain continuous employment.

The N.P. is a great thing to stimulate industries, but it's nowhere in this respect with a general election.

The Bridge Works are also to be brought into full play again, and will be humming in every corner of the establishment till June 23rd at least. It is to be hoped that they will not then shut down, as the Bridge Works did at the end of the general elections of 1891, after an election spurt of a few weeks that made every piece of machinery hot. Do these establishments and the election heelers that order the full staff to go on at election time, fancy that workmen are such fools as to be deceived by such transparent dodges.

The Trent Valley Canal is to be worked hard as an election agent for the next two months or so. Mr. R. B. Rogers is down Trent way now inaugurating a deuce of a boom in promoting surveys of the Canal route. While he is down there he will doubtless set a gang of workmen (who have votes) at work on that everlasting old Government scow at Hastings.

What a boom we are having just now! How keen an interest do our Conservative statesmen take in these great events just on the eve of an election. Since the Government has pretended to take an interest in the Trent Valley Canal, enough money has been boodled on other contracts to finish it. Oh dear! What great people we are at election times! What enterprise! What public spirit! What feverish haste and hurry for a few weeks—to subside into a peaceful lull a few days after the elections are over.

MISS ROBINSON'S RETURN.

What The Examiner Said of Her Last Appearance.

The concert given last night in the Opera House by Miss Beverley Robinson and her concert company was not very largely attended. No doubt the asceticism engendered by the Lenten season prevented the attendance of many who, under other circumstances, would have been present. Consequently the audience was composed of those especially devoted to music.

The programme was well selected, being largely of a popular character, with a few exceptions, which were of classical calibre. The programme opened with an instrumental duo, from Greig's Sonata in F., performed in good style by Miss Ada Hart and Miss Evelyn De Latre Street, pianiste and violiniste, respectively. Miss Beverley Robinson, the soprano of the company—technically called a soprano, though her voice at times encroaches delightfully on the contralto register—sang as her first number a cantilena by Gounod, in which the executive qualities and range of her voice were well developed. She was rapturously recalled and bombarded with bouquets, but perhaps her most pleasing songs were her double number, an Irish song—"The Dear Little Shamrock," and a Scotch song, "Within a Mile of Edinboro' Toon." These were given with exquisite pathos and playfulness as they respectively demanded and another recall was the pleasing penalty of her success. Altogether the concert was a most pleasing success, all the more satisfactory from the fact that all the performers were native Canadians. The company will be assisted by Mr. Thos. Dunn, Peterborough's favourite baritone. Prices, 25, 50 and 75c. Opera House tomorrow night. Seats now on sale.

"AIR AND OCEAN CURRENTS."

An Interesting Paper by Mr. D. W. Dumble on this Subject.

Owing to the numerous counter attractions of this season of the year, there was not a large attendance at the open meeting of the Fortnightly Club, held in the County Council Chamber last night. But those who were present had the pleasure of listening to a comprehensive, coherent, vigourous and instructive paper on "Air and Ocean Currents," by Mr D. W. Dumble.

It is unfortunate that this paper did not appear earlier in the season's programme. However, a short synopsis of it may be read in a few days in the F. C. column. Mr. Drope supplemented the paper by way of discussion.

The final meeting of the year will be private, and will consist of an open discussion on the Armenian question. It will be held Tuesday evening, May 12.

Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

On Monday, according to promise, our store was closed to the Public, and our entire stock of General Dry Goods, Millinery, Mantles, &c., MARKED DOWN TO REGULAR COST PRICE. To-day according to promise the store was Re-opened, and

OUR POSITIVE CLOSING-OUT SALE BEGINS.

According to promise, two months from now we expect to be Out of Business—perhaps sooner; for we take it that the enthusiasm of the good start which we have had on the Opening Day of the Sale, is an augury of a more speedy and more successful sale of our stock than we even hoped for.

IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES.

We wish to impress upon the Ladies, especially, that the strong feature of the Bargains at this sale consist in the Goods being ALL NEW.

You can buy regular goods here, bright and fresh, for less than you may be asked to pay for the driftwood of merchandise which has been taken and retaken stock of, for the past dozen years or more.

We have plenty of everything except old goods. No need to hesitate about what to buy. No danger of coming across any of the stuff that filters to the bottom through the necessities of trade. We've none of it—none of the relics that can be sold at half price or so-much-on-the-dollar.

In every department there are Bargain triumphs, but never any inferior qualities—never any moss-grown styles.

These are the facts you have to deal with, and the comparisons most people are looking for.

The Well Known Eye Specialist to Visit Peterborough.

Dr. Jebb, the well known eye specialist, formerly of New York, and inventor of the famous Recherche Optometer for pointing out every defect and disease of the eye and sight, will visit our town. Dr. Jebb is one of the leading opticians of America. He brings with him the high and honourable endorsements of the most eminent of the medical profession. Get one of his books on the eye and sight and see what others say of him. He will be at Messrs. Clarke & Gibson's Jewelry store, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, where he will give consultation and examination of the eye and sight free. Cures granulation and inflammation of the lids, long standing headache, neuralgia and straightens cross-eyes and squint without an operation. This is an opportunity that should not be lost by people with defective eyesight. Come early, as many leave it too late and are disappointed in not receiving proper attention. Dr. Jebb's long experience is the best guarantee of his ability.

AN UPRIGHT MAN.

Mr. R. D. Conger, Now of Town, Presented with an Address by Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville.

The Belleville Intelligencer says,—"An impromptu gathering of friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Conger took place at their residence yesterday afternoon. The Quarterly Official Board of Bridge street Methodist church had decided to express to Mr. Conger the regret felt by the church at his removal to Peterborough, and a number of the members of the congregation, learning the hour that the address was to be presented, met with the Quarterly official Board.

A large number bore tribute to the worth of Mr. Conger as a business man, a citizen and a Christian, also to the goodness of Mrs. Conger, Miss Bryant, Mrs. Geo. A. Kingston, Arthur and Ted, and expressing the universal sorrow at losing a family beloved as they were.

Mr. Wm. Johnson read the following address:

R. D. Conger, Esq.:—

DEAR FRIEND,—On the eve of your departure from Belleville for Peterborough the members of the Quarterly Official Board of Bridge street Methodist church for themselves and the congregation wish to express to you and your family their regret that the happy ties which have united us so long are to be severed.

In the thirty years you have lived here your upright character, your kindness of heart, your habits of industry and your equanimity have won for you the confidence and esteem of the community.

In Mrs. Conger we have seen that "meek and quiet spirit," which "is in the sight of God of great price," the model wife and mother who has been admired for her intrinsic worth.

Your children have been an honour to you, and Mrs. Geo. A Kingston was a blessing to many.

Your removal likewise takes away from us Miss Helen Bryant, the excellencies of whose life and her faithfulness as a class leader and Sunday School teacher have left their impress on our church.

In the trials that have recently been yours and in the bereavements you have passed through in the death of your brother, and Mrs. Conger in that of her mother, we have sympathized with you and seen how you have bowed to the will of our "Father which art in Heaven," and have learnt lessons from your unwavering trust in His love and wisdom.

We pray "The God of all peace that brought from the dead the Lord Jesus Christ, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is pleasing in his sight through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever." Amen!

THE NEW Y.M.C.A. BUILDINGS.

ON THE EVE OF REALIZATION OF HOPES.

Tenders Called for—What the Plans Provide—A Substantial and Elegant Structure—Replete With Every Modern Convenience.

By reference to another column it will be seen that tenders are requested for the erection of the new Y.M.C.A. buildings, and a short sketch of what the plans provide will be of public interest. The exterior appearance will be solid and imposing and they will be a land mark and a beacon to young men, standing prominently on the corner of George and Murray streets, opposite Central Park and close to Court House Park. The material is of Credit Valley stone for part of the first story and for the trimming of the other portions, which will be of red brick.

The main building is 60 x 62 feet, three stories in height, with a gymnasium annex 40 x 70.

The main entrance on George street is imposing, and consists of an arched opening 17 feet wide. On the right of this is the entrance steps, and on the left alongside of the vestibule, is a small office.

From the vestibule, entrance is had to the reception room, having on the right the capacious reading room, and on the left the parlours, separated medially by folding doors. The reception room is provided with a cosy open fire place. In the rear of the reading room is the secretary's office, which is so situated that it commands a view of every door on this floor. This floor also contains the main stairway and enttance from Murray street, and also lecture room, boys' room, cloak room and lavatory.

The basement contains the baths, consisting of plunge bath, 14x32 feet, shower and needle baths; locker rooms and bowling alley. In the front of the basement are manual training rooms and bicycle storing rooms, with a capacity for fifty wheels.

The second floor contains the assembly hall, to seat 350, ladies' room and three class rooms.

Over the gymnasium is a running track, 30 laps to the mile. The track is suspended and there are no pillars in the way. The upper floor contains the janitor's apartments and two large class rooms.

The first or more public floor is admirably arragned so that independent entrance and access to rooms when others are engaged are secured. The entire plans seem to be admirably adapted to serving the purposes of the work of a Young Mens' Association, combining compactness, seclusion and every necessary requisite. Mr. W. Blackwell is the architect.

DOES IT FRIGHTEN HORSES?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I beg leave to address a few words through your columns to the town officials and also the Street Car Company. For the last two or three days the Street Car Company have allowed large cotton strips to be fastened to the sides of the cars. These things are a great inconvenience and danger to those of the town and country people who have to drive along the main street, inasmuch as they do not decorate the cars in the least. They frighten a great many horses and a very serious accident might result. The officials of the town or the Street Car Company should look into and put a stop to the danger at once. Thanking you for your valuable space,

I remain

Get Rid of Neuralgia.

There is no use of fooling with neuralgia. It is a disease that gives way only to the most powerful remedies. No remedy yet discovered has given the grand results that invariably attends the employment of Polson's Nerviline. Nerviline is a positive specific for all nerve pains and ought to be kept on hand in every family. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a bottle.

A MECHANICAL SCAVENGER.

Mann's Garbage and Rubbish Dryer and Burner.

A new and useful machine for collecting, drying and burning household garbage, rubbish and night soil, is being introduced into Canada by Mr. Robert Mann, of this town. The invention is the patent of Mr. James Mann, of Michigan, a brother of our townsman. A representative of the EXAMINER was invited to inspect this valuable machine, one of which is erected and in operation in the basement of Mr. Robert Mann's residence on Division street.

It consists of a series of perforated buckets or baskets hung on arms radiating from a centre shaft like a small ferris wheel. The whole series of buckets is enclosed in an air tight case, having two pipe attachments, one at the back through which all the refuse, such as the slops from the kitchen, greasy water, potato parings and all garbage, bones, sweepings, etc., must pass and fall into the lowest bucket. The contents of water closets pass into the same bucket through the same inlet. The pipes leading from the kitchen and water closets join together just outside of the machine by ordinary cast iron soil pipe fittings. The solids are retained in the bucket while the water percolates through the bottom of the machine which is cement lined, having an opening leading to a sewer or cesspool. The other pipe is a six inch, and leads by a stove pipe into the chimney.

In the front and near the bottom are dampers to regulate the drafts, also a large door for access to the buckets or furnace. The furnace is simply a few grates placed on foundation inside of the brick casing.

On the shaft and outside the brick casing is a ratchet wheel securely fastened to the shaft, having notches to correspond with the number of buckets, are so placed that when the pawl is in one of the notches a bucket is securely held beneath the pipe from which it is filled. Beneath the grates is an ash pit with door to remove the ashes and to regulate the draft to the fire.

The machine is properly named a mechanical scavenger. It embraces nature's most efficient laws to accomplish the end; first, by a strong current of air passing in and drying the accumulations completely, without allowing time for fermentation, then consuming it by fire—nature's best destroyer. No odours or gases can be detected. Everything is clean and free from smell.

One of the most troublesome problems in cities and towns is the disposal of the disagreeable garbage boxes in the alleys and back premises, water closets, pits, cess pools, etc., which pollute the air and breed disease. In this machine a cheap and effectual method is provided, saving to the individual taxpayer the constant tax of paying for collecting and disposing of it, and, above all, keeping the premises clean and healthy.

Mann's Garbage and Rubbish Dryer and Burner was patented in the United States in 1893, and is now in use in many places, where testimonials have been given recommending its use to housekeepers in the strongest terms. It was also patented in Canada in 1893, and its success has proved a boon to all who use it.

Mr. Robert Mann, 19 Division street, will be glad to give particulars to all interested in this important invention.

Hair for the People of Canada's Great Northwest.

Prof. Dorenwend, the eminent hair specialist, is starting on his periodical trip across the continent to supply the hairless inhabitants with artificial coverings. On his way he is taking in a few favoured places in Ontario to supply old customers and such new ones as require his goods. He is noted from pole to pole and from ocean to ocean for making fine goods. For ladies who follow the dictation of fashion he makes frontpieces of curly or wavy hair, really more attractive than the natural growth. His switches for the back hair require no recommendation; the thousands in use testify to their popularity. For persons who have lost their hair he supplies wigs, toupee, etc., which replace the loss and cannot be detected. You can profit by an interview with the professor. He will be here for one day only, at the Huffman House, on Monday, May 4th.

THE old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children and his children's children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Once in a while you find such a man who has never taken any medicine. That man has lived a perfectly natural life. Not one in a thousand does do it. Sometimes very slight indiscretions or carelessness pave the way for serious sickness. The germ theory of disease is well authenticated, and germs are everywhere. This need make no difference to the perfectly healthy man. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. They are hurried along rapidly and thrown off before they have time to develop or increase. Let them once and lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of rich, life-giving properties, the blood will be a sluggish, putrid tide of impurity. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them unwholesome and innutritious matter, and the man will lose flesh. The more flesh he loses and the weaker he becomes, the more susceptible he is to disease. His trouble will become complicated and serious consequences will follow. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, replaces impurities with rich, red blood, feeds the tissues and makes strong, healthy flesh.

PURE CANADIAN!

Scott's Sarsaparilla No Imported Decoction.

The Raw Ingredients Are Brought Here and Prepared.

Foreign Sarsaparilla Cannot Compete with it on Account of a Heavy Customs Duty—That is why They are so Much Poorer than Scott's.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is of purely Canadian manufacture. The ingredients are imported and the medicine compounded and put up here.

That is the reason no American or foreign preparation can begin to compare with it in quality or strength.

The Canadian duty on imported patent medicines is 50 per cent. on the selling price. Hence on a bottle of imported Sarsaparilla that sells for one dollar the customs authorities collect fifty cents. Yet these imported medicines have to compete with those of Canadian manufacture which have no duty at all to pay.

Of course it is impossible for them to do so. To meet the duty without increasing the price so much less must be spent in the medium itself. Reducing the cost of the ingredients in a bottle of Sarsaparilla by fifty cents so as to cover the duty makes the medicine worthless.

Raw Sarsaparilla

The manufacturers of Scott's under the Canadian tariff have the right to import all their raw material free. In Canada the real genuine Sarsaparilla is prepared. It is put up good and strong.

Saddled by no duty, Scott's Sarsaparilla outdistances in strength, purity and health-giving qualities anything offered on the Canadian market. Those who prefer medicines simply because they have foreign names should ponder over this. If Scott's Sarsaparilla were made in the United States and sent to Canada it could not be sold here for less than $1.50 per bottle, the extra 50 cents would be for duty. If it had to be sold at $1, as some Sarsaparillas are, the amount of the duty would have to come off the cost of the medicine.

Purely Canadian.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is made in Canada, the bottles it is sold in are made in Canada, the labels on the bottles are printed in Canada. The boxes and wrappers it is sold in are Canadian Everything about it is Canadian, and that is the reason it has made its reputation as the best and most thorough blood purifier and spring tonic to be had anywhere. Good cleaning out medicine at this season of the year is an absolute necessity in every household. Purchasers are foolish to experiment on unknown preparations when they can get an established medicine like Scott's to whose curative properties thousands of leading Canadians testify. More tomorrow.

DESPERATE BURGLARY.

Henry Kitchen of Ancaster and Two of His Family Bound and the House Robbed.

Hamilton, April 26.—(Special)—The coolest and most daring robbery that has taken place in some time occurred last night in the Township of Ancaster, about three miles from Copetown, when five masked burglars went to the home of Henry Kitchen, and after beating, binding and gagging the inmates of the house, got away with about $350 in money and jewelry. About 8.20 p.m. as Gilbert Kitchen, the son, was going out of the house, two masked men pounced on him, threw him down, kicked him and with revolvers pointed at his head threatened to shoot him if he made a noise. Two more masked men went into the house, and one took charge of Miss Kitchen, while the other looked after Henry Kitchen, the father, a man 76 years old. With revolvers at their heads they made them sit down and be quiet till the other two dragged the son into the kitchen. Then the four proceeded to tie the inmates of the house up. They tied the son and the father to the chairs and then placing the backs of the chairs together, tied chairs and men together. Then they bound Miss Kitchen to a chair, tying her hands, feet and waist. They brought the ropes with them, and during the tying operation pointed the business ends of the guns at the three and threatened to shoot if either of the three opened their mouths or called for help. All securely bound, they blew the kitchen lamp out. Two of the burglars remained with revolvers cocked while two more went through the house from cellar to garret, ransacking the entire house. They got several gold rings and brooches, a gold watch and chain and a number of gold pieces and bills. They took several bottles of wine from the cellar. The fifth man stood in front of the house ready to give the alarm. It was about 11 o'clock before the burglars left the house and it was some time after this before the three became extricated. By hard struggling the son unfastened the ropes and released his father and sister, and after awakening the neighbors, rode to Jerseyville, where he telephoned to Chief Smith. They could not recognize any of the marauders.

ANOTHER BOILER EXPLODES.

Three Men Were Killed and Several Were Badly Injured.

Altoona, Pa., April 25.—Shortly after noon to-day the boiler in the portable sawmill operated by J. B. Burgoon at Flinton, Cambria County, exploded. Three men, including the proprietor, were killed. They were: Matthew McGough, a sawyer; S. S. Gates, a helper, and J. B. Burgoon, proprietor of the mill. Several employes were badly injured. The mill was completely destroyed by the explosion. It is believed that some of the injured will die.

TWO SUICIDES IN WINNIPEG.

An Unknown Man Throws Himself in Front of a C.P.R. Train.

Winnipeg, Man., April 26.—(Special.)—There were two suicides here yesterday. William Thompson, a laborer who has been drinking hard lately, threw himself into the Red River. His body being recovered an hour later with a drag net.

An unknown man threw himself in front of a C.P.R. train, his head being cleanly severed. All attempts to identify him have failed.

Renewal of the Massacre Feared.

London, April 26.—The Daily News will to-morrow print a despatch from Constantinople saying that 200 leading Armenians have been arrested at Moosh on the pretext that they were implicated in the murder of a Kurd that occurred in 1894. The despatch adds that the Embassies fear a renewal of the massacre at Sassoun.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

DYER, THE WOMAN FIEND.

Overwhelming Evidence Being Procured Against This Wholesale Murderess of Infants.

London, April 26.—Mrs. Dyer and Palmer were again charged at Reading on Saturday with infanticide. There was little evidence against the man, who will doubtless be discharged. Crushing testimony, however, was offered against the woman, especially that of the old woman named Smith, whom Mrs. Dyer picked up in the workhouse to look after the children in her keeping. This woman recognized as Mrs. Dyer's several articles found in the parcel that contained the bodies of children. The police Friday took away three hundred weight of children's clothes which had been pawned at Reading by Mrs. Dyer under various aliases.

OUR MAIL.

B.B.B. CURES

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN,—During the winter of 1892 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.

IS NOT A NEW WOMAN

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON'S BRIDE-ELECT, MRS. DIMMICK.

An Accomplished Needlewoman, an Excellent Nurse, Fond of Music, But Doesn't Care for Athletics—A Great Reader.

If ex-President Harrison's opinions can be inferred from his choice of a bride, he can have little sympathy for the so-called new woman, for Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick is her very antithesis. The fact that she never wore, and steadfastly refuses to wear, shirt waists, is a good key to her character. She dislikes anything stiff, or mannish or severe, and, though she dresses plainly and generally in dark colors, she always chooses soft things that cling to her in an effectionate way, as if they were a part of herself, and had not been merely put on. She does not care much, either, about their being in the height of fashion, as long as they are becoming.

All, or at least most, of her tastes and accomplishments are feminine. She is passionately fond of music, embroiders beautifully, and is an excellent nurse.

Mrs. Dimmick has not the smallest interest in athletics of any kind. She was never on a bicycle, and does not approve of the machine, and she does not ride, drive nor skate. Her time is pretty evenly divided between books and embroidery and the opera. She is a great reader, and keeps up with all the current literature.

Mrs. Dimmick is a thoroughly well-informed woman, and has decided opinions on all the questions of the day. She can talk about politics as intelligently as about embroidery, but at the same time, if one of her learned remarks were to be interrupted by the entrance of a mouse, she would be the first to jump on a chair, and it seems to have been just this combination of qualities that fascinated the ex-President. He finds his fiance always ready to listen sympathetically to anything he may choose to say, and yet she has enough feminine weakness to give him the pleasure of posing as a protector.

In appearance Mrs. Dimmick is not exactly beautiful, but she is so bright and vivacious, and so aristocratic in her bearing, that she gives one the impression of being so.

The wedding is to take place at noon on April 6 in St. Thomas' Church, New York, and will be extremely quiet.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

It Looks as if President Faure Would be Forced to Resign.

Paris, April 26.—This morning M. Sarrien, who was requested by President Faure to form a Cabinet, held a consultation with Goblet, Gerville, Dujardin, Henri, Ricard and Brisson. At noon it was announced that M. Faure then had requested President Faure to allow him to defer his reply until 5 o'clock this evening. Later it was stated that M. Sarrien had informed the President that he was unable to form a conciliation Cabinet. M. Faure pressed him to continue the negotiations, but M. Sarrien replied that he was convinced he could not succeed. Nobody else has been summoned to the Elysee. It is believed that a Radical Cabinet with M. Goblet at its head is inevitable or that M. Constans or M. Dupuy will be called upon to form a Ministry and the Chambers dissolved.

It is again rumored that President Faure meditates resigning.

The Transvaal Prisoners.

London, April 26.—The Telegraph will to-morrow publish a despatch from Pretoria saying it is reported that the arrangement under which certain of the members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee pleaded guilty of treason and others of lesmajeste towards the State provides for the infliction of a nominal fine on sixty odd members of the committee. The five leaders will be accorded severer treatment, but their punishment will not exceed a heavy fine and a short term of imprisonment.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.
Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.
Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.
The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.
If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.
As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.
This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

CONVALESCENT.

The fever went at the turn of the night,
She lies like a lily white and still,
But her eyes are full of the oil love-light;
She'll live, if it be God's will.

God's will, and it been to snatch her away,
We had bowed, we had knelt, we had kissed the rod,
But His own dear will bids our darling stay,
And we, we just thank God.

THE DEAR INVALID.

A Florence Nightingale Jacket and a Table for Her Comfort.

This invalid's wrap is made of pink soft French flannel; it can also be made of elderdown flannel, but in that case the revers must be faced. It is of very simple shape, and made so that it can be put on or off without exertion. The shape is shown in the figure. To make, take a straight piece of flannel twenty-five inches deep by sixty-six inches long, and fold it through the middle, making it thirty-three inches long on the half. The fold forms the middle of the back. Slash the top of back six inches deep and turn down the corners nine inches deep; this forms the revers at the neck; a pair of white ribbon ties are placed at the neck.

The invalid's table, illustrated, is made to screw to the side of a chair or bed. Two-thirds of the length of the table can be tilted and adjusted by a screw to serve as a reading desk, the other part remaining stationary to hold a lamp, cup or other article.—Harper's Bazar.

HE WANTS OTHERS TO KNOW.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please state in your journal, that if any sufferer from Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lack of Energy and Ambition, Lost Manhood, Night Losses, etc., will write me in confidence, I will inform him by sealed letter, free of charge, how to obtain a perfect cure. I ask for no money, having nothing to sell. I know how to sympathize with these sufferers and am only too glad to be able to assist them. I promise everyone absolute secrecy and as I do not, of course, wish to expose myself either, I do not give my name. If you desire to get well, send stamp and address simply: P. O. HOW
THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.
I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."
I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

CANADIAN FORESTRY
BOOMS IN NORWOOD.

THE LIVE WORK OF ORGANIZER STUART.

Four New Courts Organized Within Seven Weeks—Court Norwood, No. 619, has a Grand Start—Report of Institution Proceedings — Speeches Delivered on the Occasion.

On Friday evening April 24th, District Organizer R. J. Stuart organized another Norwood Court, to be known as Court Norwood, No. 619, of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and we are pleased to state, notwithstanding there is another large court of the same Order in the village, the new court starts under most favourable auspices, indicating from the staff of officers and members which encircled the throne of initiation, that nothing but success can follow this court, as there were twenty-seven members initiated and eleven applications for initiation at the next meeting, May 1st. This is the fourth court of this Order that Mr. Stuart has organised within a radius of six miles of Norwood in the past seven weeks, which goes to show he is the right man in the right place, and also that the executive committee of the High Court in their selection made a wise choice in securing the services of a gentleman so well adapted for this grand work.

At 8 35 p.m., Mr. Stuart took the platform of the town hall, and in a few well chosen words announced to the very large gathering present that they were assembled for the purpose of

of the Canadian Order of Foresters in the village of Norwood, and invited the following brethren from a distance, as well as from home, to a seat on the platform to assist him in instituting the new Court :—Bros. R. Q. Dench, D.D.H.C.R., Lakefield; Bros. Jameson, Nesbitt, Rose and Hardwick, of Peterborough ; Bros. Turner, Brethen and Cuthbertson, of Court Rob Roy, Norwood; Bros. Dr. Moffatt, Brethen and Andrews, of Dummer ; Bro. Burgess and others, of Havelock, also Bro. Keefer of Court McCahill, Forest.

Bro. Stuart then requested the Brethren to act in the following offices during the ceremony :—Bro. Keefer as High Chief Ranger, Bro. Jameson to assist Instituting Officer, Bro. Rose as High Marshall, Bro Nesbitt as C.R., Bro. Dench as P.C.R., when the following candidates were duly obligated by Bro. Hardwick : — J. F. Sherry, barrister ; Rev. J. F. Somerville ; D. A. Fraser, Jas. White, E. H. Scott, M. Brown, Jas. Cummings, E. Martin, H. Dafoe, H. Robb, W. Scott, E. Wildman, B. Morrison, J. McNally, D. Sedgwick, J. Rothwell, W. A. Caranhan, M. McGregor, A. D. Fletcher, R. G. Johnston, W. S. Hall, L.D.S., A. Frost, T. Midgly, C. J. King, W. J. Stephenson, G. Peters, D. A. Deck.

Bro. Nesbitt then instructed the candidates thoroughly in after which Bros. Dench and Stewart addressed them at some length as Foresters and brethren of an order of which all feel justly proud.

Next came the election of officers, which seemed a hard task, there being so much good material to select from. Finally choice was made of the following worthy brethren :

Bro. J G Sherry, barrister	C R
" W S Hall, L D S	V C R
" D A Frazer, merchant	R S
" J W White, druggist	F S
" Jas Cummings, manufacturer	Treas
" Rev J F Somerville	Chap
" E Martin }	Woodwards
" E Wildman }
" C J King }	Beadles
" Geo Peters }
" M McGregor	P C R

After the election of officers it was announced that mine hostess, Mrs. Beckett, was in readiness to furnish the good things to stay the appetite of all present, and after Bros. R. Patterson, W. Askey, W. J. Stephenson, G. Hetherley, C. Hetherington and others had been chosen to act in the capacity of biscuit shooters, all sat silently down to a most pleasant repast and enjoyed themselves devouring the good things Mrs. Beckett so nicely prepared for the occasion.

After lunch, Bro. Dench acted as installing officer, and with the aid of Bro. Rose as Grand Marshall, he duly installed of Court Norwood in a most creditable manner, and we might here say the officers fill their respective chairs to the general satisfaction of all.

THE NEWLY-ELECTED OFFICERS

After all were installed, and it became the duty of the newly elected C. R., Bro. J. G. Sherry to act as chairman, and after the usual remarks from that quarter, he called on the following brethern to address the assembly.

Bro. J. F. Somerville being first called upon gave all present wholesome and sound advice, how they should walk the forest path and their duty to all. This being the first society it was his pleasure to become a member of, he was highly pleased with the workings of it, and assured them all he would at all times if possible be present and do his part as Chaplain of Court Norwood, both religiously and in assisting to build up the Court.

Next came Bro. Jameson, member of the Executive, who very ably outlined the standing and working of the Canadian Order of Foresters from its organization to the present, its membership, its financial standing and its rapid increase in all points, until it stands to-day among the foremost of Insurance and Benefit societies in any land. Bro. Nesbitt then spoke in glowing terms of and how Forestry was rapidly advancing from one end of our fair Dominion to the other.

Bro. Rose verified the statements of the brethren who spoke before him and advised the new court in many ways how to conduct their business, which will be valuable to the new court. He also spoke in warm terms of the old Court Rob Roy, which initiated him some years ago, and the many happy evenings he spent with its members in the past, and wished them God speed.

Bro. Hardwick spoke of the good qualities of Forestry and could see nothing but good in it. He wished the new Court every success.

Bro. Dench in a very witty address kept the house in laughter from beginning to end and told how he loved Forestry and the good wishes he had for all Foresters.

Bro. Keefer, of Court McCahill Forest, said the speakers who preceded him had covered all the ground and had left him but a small piece of the Forest to go over. However he found a good many paths to talk about and he clearly showed he had an interest in the order, as he had been a member for a number of years and just so long as it travelled in the good way it was now advancing he would that he was a Forester.

A messenger announced that the Court Physician, Dr. J. C. Moffat, was professionally requested to visit a patient in the country and therefore was unable to give his experience, but you can take it for granted he has been too long a Forester to say anything but the best for the order.

Brother Brethren, Past Chief Ranger of Court Rob Roy, acquitted himself in his usual good style. Taking from his initiation in the basement of the present building, some eleven years ago, he spoke in high terms of Forestry and the good old Court Rob Roy, that he prided himself he was a member of. He would strongly advise everybody to be a Forester, just as he did his son, as soon as he was of age, and who was now connected with them. He was glad that Bro. Stuart had found room for another court of Foresters in Norwood, with such good blood in it. He closed his remarks by wishing the new court every success, and extended to them a hearty invitation to visit Court Rob Roy.

Bros. Cuthbertson and Turner, Past C. R. of Court Rob Roy, were also called upon to praise their forest home. They expressed themselves with being more than satisfied with forest life, and were still willing to in the good way to forest homes. He concluded his address by speaking in great praise of Bro. R. J. Stuart, and the noble work he was doing in encouraging the young and middle aged to connect themselves with an order which nursed the sick and provided amply for the widows and orphans of every Forester.

Bro. Stuart then presented the new Court with a very handsome Bible, showing his good wishes to the newly organized body and how he wished them to conduct their meetings. He said he would, he thought, never get tired of doing good for others, as it seemed his vocation. He was going to go on in this good way and place a Forest branch in every home which would hear to his entreaties, as he knew there was no other order which could do better for its members and be on and grow numerically as well as financially in the same space of time as the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Chief Ranger Bro. Sherry, in accepting the beautiful volume of God's word on behalf of Court Norwood, expressed himself as well pleased with the evening, and and assured Bro. Stuart they should ever cherish his gift and it should ever remain to be handed down to his successors in office as a memento of this grand organization. Probably not in years, if ever in the history of Norwood, was there a more pleasant evening spent or a better satisfied body collected under one roof for the purpose of becoming brethren, to work in peace and harmony together and do good for one another. He then brought the meeting to a close by wishing the Brethren to meet one week hence in the same place and the committee appointed would report their success in securing a hall in which they would make their future abiding place to transact business pertaining to Forestry and meet all candidates wishing to join their Forest home.

LITTLE MONEY NEEDED.

How to Dress the Youngsters Well.

Diamond Dyes Keep the Children in New Clothes.

Little money is needed to keep the children well and handsomely dressed. Thrifty mothers rarely buy new clothing for their little ones, yet they always appear nicely dressed. This is the result of using the Diamond Dyes, which make all the fashionable colours with but little work and trouble.

Father's suits and mother's dresses can be taken to pieces, re-dyed, and made over for the boys and girls at a very small expense. When this work has to be done, be sure you use the Diamond Dyes in order to get good colours. The use of imitation dyes means loss of your materials, as well as waste of time and money.

Mrs. Benj. Scott, Van Horn, Ont., says : "My heart caused me great uneasiness, my appetite failed and I became very weak and discouraged. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made me all right ; I feel well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

The prince of pectoral remedies, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness and bronchitis without fail. Price 25c., all druggists.

BRITAIN IS ROUSED

Because of the Death Sentences Pronounced.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS EXCITED

Message of Mr. Chamberlain Asking a Commutation of the Sentence—And if Kruger Declines There Will Certainly be Trouble at Once —Stormy Outlook.

London, April 28.—In the House of Commons to-day, Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said: "I have received a private telegram, of the accuracy of which I have no doubt, saying that five of the leaders of the so-called National Reform party at Johannesburg had been condemned to death. I thereupon cabled to Sir Hercules Robinson at Cape Town, instructions to communicate the following to President Kruger: "The Government has just learned that the sentence of death has been imposed upon the chief leaders of the Reform Committee. The Government has no doubt that Your Honor will commute the sentence. Indeed, the Government has assured Parliament that this is Your Honor's intention."

Mr. W. J. Galloway, asked whether the law governing such cases did not provide simply for the confiscation of the property of persons found guilty and not for the imposition of the death sentence.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that he could not answer that question, as he was doubtful whether the condemned men had been tried under the statute law of the Transvaal or the Roman and Dutch laws.

Right Hon. James Bryce asked the names of the prisoners under death sentence, and Mr. Chamberlain said they were Col. Francis Rhodes, brother to Cecil Rhodes, George Farrar, Lionel Phillips and John Hays Hammond. The name of the fifth condemned man he had forgotten for the moment. Four of them are British subjects, and one (Hammond) is an American.

Though the news of the death sentence passed on the five leaders of the Johannesburg movement was a surprise and shock to those here who have watched the case, politicians inside and outside of Parliament admit that the sentence is the natural complement of the plea of guilty. Nobody here believes that the sentence will be executed. It is thought that under the law under which the accused were tried there was no course open to the Court but to impose the death penalty. It is believed now that the arrangement between the prisoners and the Transvaal authorities provided for the passing of the death sentence while at the same time the five men knew that the President would exercise the power with which he is invested and later commute the sentences.

What the general feeling among the Boers is towards the prisoners is a matter of doubt. Before the trouble at Johannesburg they were all very popular, but there was a significant incident in connection with their arrest that is not generally known. Shortly after they were lodged in the jail at Pretoria a number of Boers took to that city a beam on which some years previously the British had hanged several Boers for treason. When the attention of the Government was called to this fact a prompt disclaimer of any implied threat to hang the prisoners was made, and it was asserted that the beam had been taken to Pretoria to be used for building purposes.

Ex-Prime Minister Lord Rosebery, in a speech at Rosedale to-night, made an attack on Mr. Chamberlain for his treatment of the Transvaal difficulty. A greater diplomatic comedy of errors, he said, had never been performed. He hoped that the Secretary of State for the Colonies would now exercise patience and discretion and curb his tongue. Then the negotiations might be satisfactorily concluded.

A representative of the United Press tried to-day to obtain an interview with Dr. Jameson, the leader of the ill-fated raid into the Transvaal, on the subject of the sentences imposed by the High Court at Pretoria upon the members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee. Dr. Jameson declined to discuss the matter beyond saying that he was astounded by the severity of the sentences, which rendered their position very serious.

Late reports received from Pretoria indicate that four instead of five of the leaders of the committee were sentenced to death, unless Mr. Leonard, one of those who signed the invitation to Dr. Jameson to go to the relief of Johannesburg is included. If he is the fifth man the sentence will be of no effect in his case for he is now in England.

No explanation is given in the despatches of the inclusion of Mr. Curtis among the lesser members of the committee who were condemned to fine, imprisonment and banishment. It is thought, however, that the despatch stating that his trial was postponed was erroneous.

The Daily News, commenting tomorrow on the despatches from Pretoria, will say that the sentences of the leaders of the Reform Committee and the hardly less startling ones of the rank and file, will inevitably immediately aggravate the situation which President Kruger's reply to Mr. Chamberlain's invitation to visit England had rendered serious enough already. The severity of the sentences will make a greater impression, because it was entirely unexpected. Sixty of the prisoners are the leading men of the Rand, and if the sentences are put into effect their business will be ruined and the whole community dislocated. Discussing the position of President Kruger, the paper will say it cannot doubt that he will display the wisdom and moderation that he has already shown he understands. It considers President Kruger's reply, apart from his refusal to accept Mr. Chamberlain's invitation, as of somewhat disturbing import, and not a very hopeful augury of amicable relations.

The Morning Post will say that the sentences will stir racial feeling and undo all the conciliation of recent results. The paper assumes that the punishment will be commuted and declares that the sentences are the result of President Kruger's effort to obtain his own end.

The Chronicle assumes that even momentary alarm is causeless, and it thinks the prisoners are likely to eventually escape with punishments out of proportion to the gravity of their offence.

The Standard holds that extravagant vindictive penalties were intended to be affected though not to have been passed. It says the simple fact that Mr. Chamberlain judged it proper to send a message to Herr Kruger implies that some such thought is entertained, although the probabilities are overwhelmingly against the occurrence which would set South Africa in flames that would assuredly leave hardly a whole beam of timber in the fabric of the Transvaal when the conflagration was over. The sentence passed upon sixty of the rank and file of the committee will constitute a complete paralysis of the capitalized industries of the Rand. This solution of the Uitlanders' difficulty may be drastic, but it is absolutely inadmissible.

The Times will say: The death sentences are regarded with equanimity here, solely because it is perceived that they cannot be executed. The same applies to the monstrous penalties imposed on the rank and file of the committee. The public does not rely upon President Kruger's magnanimity, but upon common sense. To carry out the sentence would be a grievous blunder. This fact is so obvious that it must suffice to induce a man much more fanatical and less humane than President Kruger to commute the penalties without delay.

The Times and other papers dwell upon the likelihood of a revulsion of feeling against the Africanders everywhere in favor of the Uitlanders, if the penalties are enforced. More than half of the sixty lesser members of the committee are Africanders and most of them were proved guilty of little more than sympathy with the objects of the reformers.

Johannesburg, April 28.—The most intense excitement was caused here when it was learned that the leaders had been sentenced to death, and extremely severe sentences pronounced against the other members of the committee. A public meeting has been summoned to give expression to the popular disapproval of the action of the court.

IT MAY MEAN INSTANT WAR

If an Attempt is Made to Carry Out the Sentences at Pretoria.

London, April 28.—A report is circulated and generally credited in the lobby of the House of Commons that the Colonial Secretary(Chamberlain) advised the surrender of Col. Rhodes and his comrades to the legal authorities at Pretoria, and also advised them to enter a plea of guilty upon the assurance that the Pretoria authorities would treat them with leniency. The Opposition are framing a series of questions to be propounded to the Government with the object of forcing them to make revelations showing precisely what part the English Government has played in the affair.

The Globe, in an article on the condemnation of Rhodes, Hammond and the others to death, says: "The news absorbs the entire interest of the House of Commons. The consensus of opinion is that the condemned men are in no real danger, but the feeling is unanimous that in the event of the contrary there must be instant war. It would be impossible for even the present Government to hold office for a day if any other course were taken."

Matabele Less Aggressive.

Cape Town, April 28.—A despatch received from Buluwayo, under date of April 27, says the Matabele have become discouraged at their repeated defeats in front of Buluwayo, and have retreated to a point ten miles from the town.

Later despatches from Buluwayo say that a coach load of ammunition has arrived there from the south. The Matabele were again approaching the town, which they were attempting to surround, and also to block the Tati road.

Another despatch from Buluwayo, dated Monday afternoon, says that three impi of Matabele surrounded the town that morning, and were defeated and repulsed with great loss. The result of the fight, the despatch adds, had a good effect in rendering the Matabele less aggressive.

Their Execution Unlikely.

Washington, April 28.—No official information has reached the State Department of the condemnation of John Hays Hammond of California. There is a general supposition that the State Department fully understands that whatever forms may be gone through by the Boers to uphold their laws and constitution, neither Hammond nor his fellow-prisoners will be executed.

C. H. Knight, U.S. Vice-Counsel at Cape Town, South Africa, has cabled Secretary Olney that the sentence of John Hays Hammond is understood to have been commuted.

HER DEATH STILL A MYSTERY.

The Coroner's Jury Has Rendered an Open Verdict in Ollie Reichart's Case at Hamilton

Hamilton, April 28.—(Special)—The cause of Ollie Reichart's death, which occurred in this city in February last under suspicious circumstances while living here as the wife of J. A. Lafferty, still remains a mystery, but if anyone had a hand in causing it he may now breathe freely, as the jury to-night labored and brought forth the verdict that she came to her death from causes unknown to them. The bottom fell out of the foul play theory when Prof. Ellis' report was read stating that the embalming fluid contained arsenic and if it had been injected into the abdomen accounted for the arsenic found in the stomach and liver, and the evidence of the undertaker proved that it had been injected into the abdomen.

Dr. Lafferty, Ira Green, F. A. Green, Drs. Rodgers and Olmstead, J. R. Howe, Mrs. Mayhew, Mrs. Ellicott, John A. Barr and Marjory Lawlor gave evidence embracing the facts which have already appeared in the press. After the girl's death, Howe told Lafferty she had said she had $1000 laid away, after which he enquired if there was a night watchman at the cemetery. After her death he made enquiries as to the condition of the body, and during her illness took care to dispose of what she had vomited without anyone seeing it. Before death he gave her quinine pills and remarked that if he had not taken some himself might have thought they were morphine capsules. After her death he pawned her clothes, but appeared to be deeply touched about her death.

WITH INTENT TO KILL HIS WIFE.

The Shooting Charge Against Edward Thompson Partly Heard at the Assizes Yesterday.

Toronto, April 29.

The first case called by Justice Ferguson at the Criminal Assizes was that of Edward Thompson, charged with shooting at his wife, Nellie Thompson, with intent to kill.

J. K. Kerr, Q.C., acted as prosecutor for the Crown, and the prisoner was defended by John King, Q.C.

Mrs. Thompson, the first witness, swore that they had been married in Belleville, about five years ago, but only lived with her husband about a year. She came to Toronto to earn a living for herself, as her husband was about to lose his situation. Since coming to Toronto she had been employed in a number of laundries, had been a parlor maid at the Musee, had taken part in a walking contest there, and had also been cook on a boat running from St. Catharines to Port Arthur. She denied ever having been intimate with men, or keeping company with loose characters. She admitted having adopted a child and taking it to her husband at Belleville, telling him it was his own. This, she did in hopes that it would make him a better man, as he had been drinking all his wages.

On Jan. 25 last, Mrs. Thompson said her husband called on her at Portland-street, where she boarded, with Thomas Dickey. It was about 2.30 when he called. He (Thompson) asked his wife to go and live with him again. She refused, telling him that she was earning her own living and was getting on all right by herself. He said, "If you do not come and live with me you will die." He threatened to shoot her, and said he would go and get a revolver. He returned in about three hours, and, after talking to his wife for a few minutes, he drew the gun and pointed it at her. She jumped to one side, and grasped his wrist. The revolver was discharged at that moment, the ball passing close to her head.

Thomas Dickey swore that on the afternoon of the shooting, Thompson called on him at Fox's lumber yard and showed him a revolver, at the same time stating that he intended shooting his wife that night. Witness denied having told the prisoner that Mrs. Thompson had been an inmate of a house of illfame, or ever having seen or heard anything detrimental to her character.

Mrs. Dickey gave Mrs. Thompson an excellent character and explained the baby deal. She (Mrs. Dickey) had received $20 from some one, to take the child. Mrs. Thompson took the baby to Belleville, where it died in three weeks.

P. C. Craig testified that Thompson gave himself up, and said he had been shooting. He had not intended to shoot his wife, "because he loved her, and her only." Thompson had been drinking and did not act sane.

This closed the case for the Crown.

Mr. King called Mrs. Spotton for the defence, who stated that Thompson was always kind to his wife.

Mr. Weeks, for whom Thompson had worked, said that he worried a great deal over his wife's conduct, and because she would not live with him. Thompson was jealous of his wife, and did not think she was living a proper life.

The case was not finished.

The grand jury brought in a true bill against George Whitters for burglary. A bench warrant has been issued for Helen and Thomas Mallons, who are wanted as witnesses in this case.

The grand jury brought in "no bill" against John Findlay, for manslaughter. This is the trooper who struck his brother with his sword scabbard.

FROM PARLIAMENT TO PAP.

Mr. John S. McDougald, ex-M.P. for Pictou, Nova Scotia, is another representative who has gracefully slid from Parliament into pap. He has been appointed Commissioner of Customs at Ottawa, and is another illustration of the truth of Mr. Dalton McCarthy's assertion that members of parliament were voting for the government with the assurance of government favours as the pleasing (to the recipient) but expensive (to the country) quid pro quo. Mr. Jas. Masson, Q.C., the representative of North Gray, was also pitchforked into a judgeship as a reward for unanswering government support. Everybody with the least inclination to independence of thought characterizes this appointment as highly improper as a reward for political services, as well as the indecent haste with which it was made in order to evade a provincial statute that would have lessened the emoluments of the office. These are only samples of the manner in which partisan supporters of the government are rewarded at the public expense, for services rendered to a government deserves condemnation for its extravagant waste of the public funds. None but the most hide-bound of partisan journals offer any justification or even excuse for such a betrayal of trust on the part of the government. Independent Conservative journals like the Ottawa Journal see only evil in the practice. Referring to such appointments as these mentioned to the Journal says that every public interest is violated. "Not only does the nomination partake of the nature of corrupt payment by ministers to a representative of the electors, but it places an untrained and inexperienced officer at the head of a public department in which training and experience are necessary to the proper doing of the work. The public treasury is used by the government to pay a party debt, and is used in a way that only makes a wrong disposition of the taxpayers' money, but inflicts also a direct business injury upon the taxpayers."

The Bowels.

A constipated condition of the bowels causes the accumulation of waste and effete matter, which poisonously impregnates the whole system by being taken up by the blood. Hence Bad Blood, Headache, Biliousness, Fevers, Foul Humors, Pimples, Blotches, etc. Burdock acts thoroughly on the bowels, removing all effete and waste matter, and cleansing the entire system.

It heals all sores, ulcers, abscesses and broken out surfaces of the skin so completely that not even a scar is left. In all skin diseases it should be taken internally and applied externally, according to directions.

HOW IT CAN BE DONE.

The Conservative journals assume to be puzzled to understand how the Liberal policy of tariff reform is to be carried out. Now in respect of the unequal bearing and injustice of the tariff an example can be suggested. Now it is a principle that should govern taxation, that it should bear most heavily on articles of luxury and that if anything it should bear more lightly on the poorer classes. But the Canadian tariff as at present fixed outrages this principle in scores of ways, for it is true that the most heavily taxed goods are those that the masses have to buy. This is shown by a recent actual business transaction which the Globe records. Last week two shipments of mantles for ladies' wear were passed at the Toronto custom house. One shipment contained German manufacture of fine quality, sold to the better class of purchasers. The other shipment, from London, contained inferior qualities for the cheaper trade. Note the difference in duties, which the poorer class will have to pay, in comparison with their well-to-do neighbours:

German shipment—Sterling value, £140; duty, $230.

London shipment—Sterling value, £122; duty, $385.

The poorer quality from London pays $155 more duty, although in value £18 less. What does that mean to the farmer or mechanic when purchasing an ordinary garment for his wife or daughter? The N. P. hits the masses at every point.

A very simple way to remedy the inequality in this instance is to reverse the pressure of taxation, is to honestly put the heavier taxation upon the rich man's goods and the lighter on that that has to be bought by the classes less able to buy. We should have one tariff as well as one law for the rich and the poor; and that is what Laurier will give.

THE CONSERVATIVE LEADER.

YESTERDAY we quoted the high opinion that Sir Donald Smith holds respecting Hon. Mr. Laurier's fairness and statesmanship, with the suggestion that it would be difficult to find any Liberal or even respectable Conservative to say a word in commendation of the high character of Sir Charles Tupper. But we can quote the opinion of a new Conservative journal that doesn't exactly paint Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., as an angel of light. The Toronto Mail, now that it is a Government hack, finds the courage, or rather the cheek, occasionally to give half-hearted commendation to its leader, Sir Charles, but in 1891, when it was independent and spoke without bias and with a stricter regard for truth, had the following to say of Sir Charles Tupper on the occasion of his leaving his office of High Commissioner in London to bulldose the electors and to defraud them with a bogus offer of reciprocity. On the 9th of June, 1891, the Mail spoke of Sir Charles Tupper in these words:—

> "Of the system which Mr. Blake deplores, Sir Charles Tupper has notoriously been the chief agent; all that is worst in it and has tended most to debase the national character is familiarly connected with his name, which may be said to be a household word of corruption. Nor has he, like his late chief, succeeded in convincing the people that except when he is doing the dirty work of a political party his hands are clean; or that, if he governed the nation, its honour, while it might be in danger from such exposures as that of the Pacific Railway scandal, would be secure against a deeper stain. His name is at this moment unpleasantly connected with a suspicious commercial affair in England, and if the sentence of the arbitrators in the Onderdonk contract case next month should be against the Dominion, another sinster transaction will be recalled to mind. * * * It is too evident what sort of scene would be opened by his accession to power. He is the Prince of Political Cracksmen, no doubt, but we cannot afford to purchase ability even of so rare a kind at such a price as that of continued and increased demoralization. * * * The appointment of such a man as the head of the State would be not merely the inauguration of violence and corruption unredeemed by any true wisdom or statesmanship; it would be the signal for a disruption of the community and for a moral civil war."

CAN we expect much vitality in a government that is die em-Bowelled?

SIR Charles Tupper is apparently finding that it is easier to wreck a cabinet than to reconstruct it.

WE'RE afraid that the government organs that claim that there are no cabinet dissensions at Ottawa, are right in a sense—there does not seem to be much of a rift in the loot.

FIGHTING Joe Martin is still "in it" at Winnipeg. He has consented to be the the Liberal candidate to oppose Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, who is slated for Minister of the Interior in the government of Sir Charles Tupper. It is pretty certain that Hugh John will have to seek another constituency if the government is successful in the coming elections, and another seat whether they are successful or not.

A Conservative government organ claims that Mr. D'Alton McCarthy is only opposed to the Government on remedial legislation but that in other respects he is Conservative still and in sympathy with the Government party. Isn't there some slight divergence of view between Mr. McCarthy and the party on the subject of the tariff? Mr. McCarthy favours tariff reform, and the Government still stands for high taxation. Speaking at Cresmore July 20th, 1894, Mr. McCarthy sounded a loud note of revolt from within the party on the tariff question:—I was, as you know, a National Policy man, and now I tell you that I am for as much free trade as we can get. We should be all the better if we could have it as they have it in England. But that is impossible, and so I say that what this country needs now is to get down to A TARIFF FOR REVENUE.

WORDS FOR WOMEN.

There are Thousands Who Need Help—Why They Suffer—How They Can get Relief.

Oh! what misery, what suffering, what anxiety and despair is endured by thousands of poor suffering women. They are women with pale faces, tired eyes and drawn, weary looks, who feel sickly and worn out. Their lives are darkened and they feel blue and depressed because they are troubled with some female complaint which gives them no rest. They suffer silently, patiently and too often they keep on suffering.

There seems to be no relief! Day after day they are tortured with headaches, back-aches, pains in the limbs, bearing down pains—pains everywhere. They suffer from dizziness, faintness, disordered stomach, nervousness, moodiness. They seem to be afflicted with almost every disease that was ever known. No wonder that such women cry for help and ask despairingly, "Is there nothing I can take to get rid of these awful feelings?"

This is a sad picture, but it is true to life! It reveals the actual condition of that vast number of women in whom the course of nature becomes interrupted. They suffer and they get no relief.

But if women only knew it they might easily find help. There is a way to prevent and cure these distressing ailments. Many women have discovered that there is a remedy which will cure them. It is a remedy that has made thousands of weak suffering women strong, healthy and well. This is what one woman has to say about it:—

Mrs. Isabel Green, of Colchester, recently said:—"For years I suffered with backache, bearing down pains and various other ailments (peculiar to womankind, and tried many remedies, but until I took Warner's Safe Cure I received no permanent relief. As the result of taking the safe cure I now feel like a new woman, and have not had an ache or a pain for two years past. I cheerfully recommend this remedy to every woman who suffers as I did."

No woman can afford to be without this valuable remedy. By using it she can safely avoid every form of sickness and suffering. No other remedy equals it for building up the system and restoring lost health.

Every druggist keeps Warner's Safe Cure. Give it a trial!

SWEENEY'S ALIBI FAILED.

The Prisoner Sent Down for Six Years at Welland for Highway Robbery.

Welland, April 28.—At the second and closing day's court held here to-day before Chancellor Boyd, Charles Sweeney was tried for highway robbery, the charge being that he, with one Shep. Smith, held up and robbed Customs Officer Young, who was returning from his office at night on Aug. 23, 1895. Smith was convicted in December and is now serving a sentence in Kingston. Sweeney asked for a postponement in December to procure further evidence and his defence to-day was an alibi, several witnesses swearing that he was in Buffalo when the offence was committed, but Customs Officer Young swore positively that Sweeney was the one who held the revolver to his head. The jury found the prisoner guilty and the Judge sentenced him to six years in Kingston Penitentiary.

Get Rid of Neuralgia.

There is no use of fooling with neuralgia. It is a disease that gives way only to the most powerful remedies. No remedy yet discovered has given the grand results that invariably attends the employment of Polson's Nerviline. Nerviline is a positive specific for all nerve pains and ought to be kept on hand in every family. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a bottle.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

MISSES
CAHILL & HOOLIHAN

EVENTS AT OTTAWA

Sir Charles Tupper Having Trouble Getting Material.

MR. CHAPLEAU WILL NOT COME IN

Mr. Daly Not Pleased With the Idea of Being Pushed Aside - Mr. Osler's Name Mentioned Without Authority—Hugh John and Col. Tisdale Remain.

Ottawa, April 28.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who is now the only ex-Premier of Canada alive, authorizes the statement that he refused to join Sir Charles Tupper's Cabinet. Nobody seems to want to join it, and Sir Charles Tupper is finding harder work than he anticipated in securing a Ministry that would be any improvement over the old one. Mr. Daly protests against being crowded out by Mr. H. J. Macdonald of Winnipeg, but it is urged by Ontario Conservatives that it is essential to the party's success to have "Hugh John" in the Government. They have represented to Sir Charles Tupper that he, the new Premier, is of little account in Ontario, but Hugh John might be employed to stump Ontario, and his resemblance to his father, the late Sir John Macdonald, would win back some of those old-line Tories who are disgusted with the state of affairs existing at Ottawa since the death of the chieftain in 1891.

The new Cabinet is already causing unhappy divisions in the happy family. If the Manitoba view prevails, that Mr. Macdonald will represent Ontario, then no further changes are needed in the west. At all events it seems quite settled that Chief Justice Meredith will not enter the Cabinet. Ontario must be content with Hugh John. The fact that several Manitoba and Northwest members waited on Sir Charles Tupper last week and asked him to keep Mr. Daly, although at the time Sir Charles had not been called upon to form a Government, is indicative of the cocksureness with which the conspirators counted on the ultimate success of their conspiracy, which came to a head in January last.

As to Mr. Chapleau, it was stated this morning by one of Sir Mackenzie Bowell's ex-Ministers that some of Mr. Chapleau's friends went to New York and met him there on Sunday. The result of the conference was a decision not to enter the Tupper Cabinet. This appears to be final, and it accords with Mr. Chapleau's reputation for political shrewdness. He sees that the Government are foredoomed to defeat and that it is too late to save them in Quebec.

Mr. Bergeron's name is mentioned as a possibility. Some of the Conservative press mention Mr. B. B. Osler's name this morning, and make him the victim of a rumor that he has been offered a seat in the new Cabinet. As Mr. Osler has some knowledge as prosecutor in the McGreevy-Langevin scandals of the corrupt methods of Government at Ottawa under the present men he is not likely to even treat the rumor seriously enough to deny. Since writing the above your correspondent saw Mr. Osler at the Rideau Club. He had nothing to say for publication beyond this, that some newspapers were making statements about him just as they were about Chief Justice Meredith, and without any more authority. "I am not in politics," he added; "I am in law. I came here to attend the Assizes, and was in hopes of getting away sooner. I am leaving to-night for Toronto, having finished my Assize Court cases." After all it looks as if Sir Charles Tupper was reduced to Col. Tisdale, who is one of the few Ontario Conservatives still without an office.

Late this afternoon Sir Charles Tupper sent for Messrs. Haggart, Montague and Wood, with whom he discussed the situation from the Ontario standpoint. The three gentlemen named favor Mr. Tisdale as colleague.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell had intended issuing a valedictory in the shape of a manifesto to the Canadian people, but on further consideration he decided not to do so.

OTTAWA GENERAL NEWS.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen Will Entertain Entrenchers—Other Notes.

A fine collection of stuffed fish and oysters from the Government reserves, and the like, is that which is now ready at the Fisheries Museum for shipment to London. It is designed to complete the collection in the Canadian Court of the Imperial Institute. Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Mr. Costigan and other ministers have inspected the specimens and expressed their satisfaction with the mounting and selection of the exhibits.

Next session, it is not unlikely that Parliament will deal with the subject of the compulsory branding of cheese with the date and place of manufacture. The matter would have been taken up during the last session, but for pressure of other business. The House Committee on Agriculture was in possession of some valuable practical suggestions on the subject, furnished by Manager W. J. Gurd of the North Branch Cheese Company of London. The firm forwarded to the chairman of the committee a cheese marked after their own method, a plan that was very highly commended. The lettering was upon a disc of thin white muslin, placed upon the cheese before the transparent cheese cloth was fixed over it. The marking is thus rendered indelible and cannot be tampered with, except by mutilating the cheese covering, which may be easily detected.

During the past winter the Governor-General expressed a wish to arrange a complimentary entertainment for the railway men of Ottawa. After consultation with the railway authorities His Excellency decided that spring would probably be a more convenient time, when the gathering could take the form of a garden party. Arrangements have accordingly been made for a party of this description to be held at Government House on Saturday, to which Their Excellencies are inviting the railway officials and employes connected with the actual traffic departments of both the Canada Atlantic and Canadian Pacific Railway systems, so far as resident in Ottawa. This invitation on the part of Their Excellencies is prompted by the fact that Lord Aberdeen has all his life been greatly interested in railway work and much in contact with railway men of all grades and also by the wish of Their Excellencies to show their appreciation of the courteous attention which they have experienced during their many railway journeys in Canada.

Mr. J. Fletcher, entomologist of the Experimental Farm, left for Kingston to-night, where he will have the degree of LL.D. conferred upon him at the closing exercises of Queen's University, in recognition of his work as a scientist and because of the important position he holds as treasurer of the Royal Society.

Wm. Cahoe, an old veteran of the war between the Northern and Southern States, died last evening, the result of an accident received at the exhibition grounds. He was born in the States and after the war emigrated to Canada, taking up his residence at Guelph, from which place he moved to Ottawa. He leaves a widow and family.

A local deputation waited upon the Minister of Militia to-day to ask the transfer of Capt. Eaton of the Geological Survey to some other branch of the civil service, so that the Ottawa Field Battery, of which he is now commanding officer, would not suffer on account of his absence on surveying trips.

In 43rd Battalion circles it is said this fine local corps is the top limit for comparative efficiency among infantry.

It is reported that Mr. Joncas, ex-M.P. for Gaspe, will be appointed agent of the Marine Department at Quebec. Mr. Gregory, the former agent, retired some weeks ago.

J. M. McDougall of Aylmer will be the Conservative candidate for Wright. A ratification convention will be held at Hull May 7.

The petitions to the Prince of Wales asking for the repatriation of the 100th Regiment are being extensively signed. Capt. Brown Wallis, who has charge of the petitions, to-day received from Paris the signatures of Lord and Lady Dufferin, who express deep sympathy in the movement.

One of the lakes of Lievre River, Thoma Lake, has been washed out by the freshets this spring, the banks at the southern end giving way. Nearly 900 acres of land have been rendered available for farming, and Buckingham people to-day came back with a cartload of fish, which could be had by picking them out of the rivulet in the bed of the lake.

The Ottawa & Gatineau Valley Railway has decided to run Sunday trains over its line.

The electric railway to the Experimental Farm will be opened on Saturday of this week.

Sir John and Lady Carling have resolved to remove from Ottawa and reside permanently in London. Their residence here is offered for sale.

Mr. A. H. O'Brien, son of Mr. Henry O'Brien of Toronto, and a nephew of Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, M.P., has been appointed assistant law clerk of the Commons.

A Muddled Horticulturist.

Last evening a gentleman in the west end, who is desirous of adding to the beauty of his neat little home, procured from a neighbour a sturdy clematis plant, which when taken from the earth showed about equal length of roots and canes that had been cut back. His friend, with an interest in the success of the translation movement of the vine, stood chatting with the amateur horticulturist's wife, while the plant was being placed in its new resting place. The new owner of the vine on the completion of his task, straightened his aching back, shook the soil from his hands, and triumphantly called upon his wife and friend to witness the success of his operation. The result was an unique example of experiment in vegetation. The top of the plant was firmly fixed in the soil, while the roots were stuck upwards, groping in the evening air. The trio were so exhausted with laughing over the affair, in which laughter the victim was forced to join, that there was hardly strength enough left to remedy the gymnastic pose of the unfortunate plant, and restore the position ordained by nature. The amateur horticulturist was not rooted in his prejudices regarding the proper relation of roots and branches of the vine whose career he had so heroically attempted to revolutionize. And all this took place several hours after the gentleman had dined.

Railways and Canals—R. Mulholland, J. M. Irwin, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., J. H. Burnham, F. H. Dobbin, G. W. Ranney.

Board of Arbitration—W. Manson, Geo. Munro, R. J. Winch, W. D. Parker, H. Rush, John Nugent.

Mr. J. Gilchrist, of Hall, Gilchrist & Co., was appointed the Board's representative to attend the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in London, England.

The question of introducing permanent improvements was taken up and discussed, the Board being urged to arouse the Council to the necessity of having a better standard of pavements. No resolution was passed concerning the matter, although there was a unanimity of feeling in regard to the advisability of not allowing Berlin, Belleville and Woodstock to be ahead of Peterborough in such matters.

COURT OF REVISION.

A Large Amount of Business Transacted Last Evening.

At a meeting of the Court of Revision last night, with Mr. J. L. Hughes in the chair the following applications were taken up :

From Mrs. Mary Ann Robinson, R. Thorndyke, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Ellen Dwyer, Mrs. Vass, Mrs. Moore and E. Cleeves, for remission of taxes—No action.

From Robert Norton, asking to be given to May 15th to pay his taxes—Granted.

From Allen Wells, Thos. Bullen, W. E. Hudson and Mrs. Geo. Blackstock, asking for time in which to pay their taxes—No action.

From Louis Denno and W. E. S. Hudson, asking for time in which to pay their taxes—Stand.

From Mrs. Kate Marks, asking for remission of taxes for 1895—Remitted.

From John Burnham, on behalf of F. Birdsall, asking to have taxes for 1894, charged against part of lot 2, east of George street and south of Brock street, written off—Allowed.

BATTALION NOTES.

There was a large turn out of the Rangers at drill last evening, when it was announced that the battalion would have its first march out of the season on Tuesday night next.

On Thursday night, May 7th, the examination of the non-coms and men who have been studying during the winter for non-commissioned officers standing, will take place and will be conducted by the Adjutant.

Sergts. Harold Cluxton and Thos. Hounsell were advanced to the standing of commissioned officers, last night, being balloted for and unanimously accepted. The old idea of there being a wall between the rank and file and the officers has no reality in the 57th. If a man is deserving and desirous of being an officer there is nothing to stand in his way.

Farm Sold.

Mr. Thos. E. Bell has sold the balance of his farm in the 4th concession of Smith, to Mr. George McKee for the sum of $6,784. This parcel consisted of 160 acres. The sum realized for the whole farm of 200 acres is $12,784—not a bad price as farms are selling now-a-days. Mr. McKee has now 512 acres of as good land as there is in these counties. May he live long to enjoy it.

Hair for the People of Canada's Great Northwest.

Prof. Dorenwend, the eminent hair specialist, is starting on his periodical trip across the continent to supply the hairless inhabitants with artificial coverings. On his way he is taking in a few favoured places in Ontario to supply old customers and such new ones as require his goods. He is noted from pole to pole and from ocean to ocean for making fine goods. For ladies who follow the dictation of fashion he makes frontpieces of curly or wavy hair, really more attractive than the natural growth. His switches for the back hair require no recommendation; the thousands in use testify to their popularity. For persons who have lost their hair he supplies wigs, toupee, etc., which replace the loss and cannot be detected. You can profit by an interview with the professor. He will be here for one day only, at the Huffman House, on Monday, May 4th.

THE STEAMER NORTH STAR'S MAIDEN TRIP.

She Makes her Initial run for the Year Down the Otonabee—River Notes—High Water (Re) Marks.

The North Star ran her maiden trip down the Otonabee to Rice Lake yesterday. The steamer left the Peterborough dock at 8.40 a. m. laden with freight and passengers for the various landing stages along the route and arrived at Jubilee Point at 10.45, Gore's Landing, 11.00; Harwood, 11.20. On the return trip Engineer Grylls, on leaving Jubilee Point at 4.45 p. m., pulled the throttle wide open and the staunch little steamer made great headway, notwithstanding the swift current. She reached the locks at 5.50 p. m., arriving at the Ashburnham landing stages at 6.05. The crew is the same as last year:—Captain, Chas. Calcutt; Mate Tobin, and Engineer Couch Grylls.

The landing stages along the route are submerged with water.

Wedlock's frog pens are in a dilapidated condition.

Inspector Breese's noiseless "detective" steamer was passed above Hales' Bridge in a shady little nook on her upward trip.

There are acres of drowned land and cords of wood afloat on either side of the river.

The approach to the new iron bridge between Monaghan and Otonabee, known as the Benfort bridge, is flooded with water on the Otonabee side to a distance of some fifty feet.

Many boathouses are reached either by wading or by means of a raft. Some are upside down, others on their sides, and some are fully fifty feet from shore. If not removed they will suffer greatly when the logs, which are at present entering Little Lake, are cut loose. No doubt they will be bunted out of existance.

The piers at the east and western gaps are under water, as well as the Yankee Bonnet, and all the Government buoys along the steamboat channel.

Messrs. Gilmour & Co's. aligator is busily engaged in stringing their booms at the eastern gap. Richard Lund, formerly of the City of Peterborough, is the engineer.

Mrs. F. Arkles, who is manageress of Jubilee Point summer resort, has a gang of men cleaning up and putting things in readiness about the hotel, while Mr. Archie Fulton is renovating the sample rooms. He is having the wine cellar deepened and is also having it stocked with a well selected stock of wines and other fluids. He is also looking after the ball grounds, dancing pavillion, and will not forget to give the candy stand a touch on his rounds.

The park is looking brighter than ever this season, the grass on the ball ground having formed a sod. Already several excursions have been booked for Jubilee.

CONGESTION IN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Urgent Need for Increased Accommodation—Surplus of Pupils Enough to Fill Half a Dozen New Rooms.

In casual conversation with teachers THE EXAMINER learns that in spite of the large increase in the accommodation for pupils there is still a great lack of room. The surplus is chiefly in the junior departments, indicating that the infantry branch of our population is coming on rapidly, and also that the doctrines of Malthus do not secure much sympathy in Peterborough. The congestion affects all the ward schools, as will be seen by the following figures :—

Miss Aldridge's room, South Ward, attendance 80—proper accommodation for 40. (The pupils in this room have had to be placed on half time to meet the emergency.)

Miss Thomas' room, West Ward, attendance 70—proper space for 40.

Miss Ames, Central School, attendance 62—proper space for 40.

Miss Morrow's room, North Ward, attendance 60—proper space for 40.

The Kindergartens have each an attendance of 75 instead of 60, which should be the limit.

Thus we have a total attendance of 347 pupils in rooms that can only properly accommodate 220, an excess of 127, enough to fill four more rooms. Besides, it is expected, the teachers say, that in September the number of new pupils will amount to at least 100. This will make a total of about 230 pupils to provide room for, demanding the providing of five or six more rooms.

Under the present conditions efficient teaching is impossible and, moreover, the effects of crowding children in a space half too small cannot have a beneficial affect upon their health.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Asst.-Supt. Webster and M. C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk, are in town, arranging for the summer touring up the lakes.

The first train on the G. T. R. composed of cars of the new standard colour, passed through to-day from Toronto. The coaches are a rich dark chocolate, relieved with cornices and lettering of gold. The locomotives are of the usual colour, picked out with red and gold points, whilst the numbers on the tenders are of bronze and fully three fact in height. The new colours are most tasty.

It is said that a new C. P. R. timetable with some important changes on this division, will go into effect shortly.

PERSONAL.

The Lindsay Post says : Mr. Jas. Ross, of Peterborough, is visiting his brother, Mr. Alex. Ross, for a few days.

Miss Murdock, manager of Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co's. millinery department, was at the summer millinery openings in Toronto this week.

Mr. Hamilton, of the local branch of the Ontario Bank, has been transferred to the Kingston agency. He leaves this evening to assume his new duties.

Mr. Will Armstrong, who has for some years been employed in the Canadian General Electric Works, left town yesterday morning for Toronto, where he expects to reside.

Miss Mason, Murray street, who has been suffering for some time, from the effects of an attack of la grippe, is slowly sinking. Mr. W. A. Mason, her brother, of Cleveland, arrived home this morning.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

ACCORDING TO PROMISE

ROBERT HALL GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

On Monday, according to promise, our store was closed to the Public, and our entire stock of General Dry Goods, Millinery, Mantles, &c., Marked Down to Actual Cost Price. On Tuesday, according to promise, the store was Re-opened, and

OUR POSITIVE CLOSING-OUT SALE STARTED.

According to promise, two months from now we expect to be Out of Business—perhaps sooner; for we take it that the enthusiasm of the good start which we have had on the two Opening Days of the Sale, is an augury of a more speedy and more successful clearing of our stock than we even hoped for.

IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES.

We wish to impress upon the Ladies, especially, that the strong feature of the Bargains at this sale consist in the Goods being ALL NEW.

You can buy regular goods here, bright and fresh, for less than you may be asked to pay for the driftwood of merchandise that has been taken and re-taken into stock for the past dozen years or more.

We have plenty of everything except old goods. No need to hesitate about what to buy. No danger of coming across any of the stuff that filters to the bottom through the vicissitudes of trade. We've none of it—none of the relics that can be sold at half price or so-much-on-the-dollar. No old legacies of former shelf-worn stocks.

In every department there are Bargain triumphs, but never any inferior qualities—never any moss-grown styles.

These are the facts you have to deal with, and the comparisons most people are looking for. Sensible Shoppers get here early in the morning.

Contradiction.

A paragraph recently appeared in the Toronto Evening News stating that Dr. J. H. "Cottswood" — evidently meaning "Eastwood" of Pickering, is to succeed to the practice of Dr. Goldsmith, who removes to Belleville about the 20th of May; and also that Dr. Eastwood was a prominent figure in the Alger insurance case. Dr. Eastwood had nothing whatever to do with the case in question in any way. Dr. Eastwood will arrive in town on Monday and will spend two or three weeks with Dr. Goldsmith, previous to taking formal possession of his practice.

The Well Known Eye Specialist to Visit Peterborough.

Dr. Jebb, the well known eye specialist, formerly of New York, and inventor of the famous Recherche Optometer for pointing out every defect and disease of the eye and sight, will visit our town. Dr. Jebb is one of the leading opticians of America. He brings with him the high and honourable endorsements of the most eminent of the medical profession. Get one of his books on the eye and sight and see what others say of him. He will be at Messrs. Clarke & Gibson's Jewelry store, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, where he will give consultation and examination of the eye and sight free. Cures granulation and inflammation of the lids, long standing headache, neuralgia and straightens cross-eyes and squint without an operation. This is an opportunity that should not be lost by people with defective eyesight. Come early, as many leave it too late and are disappointed in not receiving proper attention. Dr. Jebb's long experience is the best guarantee of his ability.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The Children's Aid Society is in need of funds.

—The Dickson Company have commenced loading lumber at Harwood.

—Dr. Bethune's lecture last night was more on entombology of insects than entomology.

—There is to be an auction sale of children in the Salvation Army barracks to-morrow (Thursday) at 8 p. m.

—Timothy Fobert was before the magistrate this morning, charged with the larceny of a blouse from E. Lawrence. He was discharged with a warning.

—Mr. P. Simons received yesterday some photos of his son Dan taken in character costume. Dan is playing with the Marks Bros. in Cobourg this week but early in May leaves to take a trip with a summer company. He has signed with the Marks Bros. for next winter. Dan is hard to beat as a funmaker.

—Commodore Calcutt, accompanied by his daughter Maggie, and Miss Titia Quirk, went down the river this morning for a pleasure trip per steamer North Star to Jubilee Point. While there the commodore will give instructions as to beautifying the grounds and his popular summer resort hotel in a home comfort style for tourists from whom he has received several applications for rooms and board, mainly from the States, on account of the fishing season starting two weeks earlier. The indications at present are very encouraging to the Commodore, and it is his intention to have the Point second to no summer resort in Ontario. Those in charge are most efficient and obliging, and will see that tourists are well looked after.

NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

A Deeply Interesting Address by Rev. Dr. Bethune, of Port Hope.

The Natural Science Association is to be congratulated upon the success which attended their first open meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last evening. In inviting and securing the consent of Rev. Dr. Bethune to lecture upon "Canadian Insect Life," they ensured to their audience an address of the highest scientific interest, and to the large and representative gathering assembled last night Dr. Bethune proved that he added to a complete knowledge of his subject, the gift of exposition in simple but graceful language in a very high degree.

Mr. J. A. Fife, Science Master at the Collegiate Institute, and president of the Natural Science Association, occupied the chair, and took advantage of the occasion to outline in his opening remarks the object and work of the Association.

Miss Helen Dennistoun then gave an exquisite pianoforte interpretation of Tennyson's poem "The Brook," which was received with applause.

Rev. Dr. Bethune said that in commencing a lecture on insect life it was natural to begin with the question, "What is an Insect?" The word was derived from Latin and meant something almost cut in two. An insect was divided into three segments, and in the perfect state was possessed of six legs. The segments were the head, the thorax and the abdomen. Insects passed through various transformations in the course of their existence. There was first the egg, then the grub or caterpillar, sometimes with and sometimes without legs, but never with wings. The greater part of the feeding of insects was done in this stage. From the larva the insect was transformed into a chrysalis, and finally became a moth, a butterfly, a beetle or some winged insect.

Passing on to classification, the lecturer said that insects might be divided into two great classes according as they took their food by biting or by suction. Of the latter class the mosquito was a familiar example; of the former, the ants. The older entomologist divided all insects into nine orders, viz:

1. The Hymenoptera—Bees, wasps, etc.
2. The Diptera or two-winged—Flies, crane-flies.
3. The Lepidoptera or scale-winged—Moths and butterflies.
4. Coleoptera—Beetles.
5. Neuroptera—Dragon-flies.
6. Orthoptera — Cockroaches, grasshoppers.
7. Hemiptera—Bugs.
8. Tricoptera—Caddisflies.
9. Aptera or Wingless—Fleas.

Some insects are injurious to man, others beneficial. The housefly, although such a pest, is a great scavenger, on the other hand the larvæ of many insects are injurious to vegetation. The study of this branch of the subject is entitled Economic Entomology, and has been much developed of recent years especially on this continent. Canada has its Government Entomologists and the United States has a Department of Entomology. In order to be useful the knowledge of an insect must embrace its entire life-history and this was discovered by breeding and rearing the insects. Biting insects could be poisoned, and the custom of spraying fruit trees was rapidly growing. One caution should be observed. No tree should be sprayed when in blossom, but either before or better just after the fruit was set, otherwise the bees and other insects which perform so large a part of the fertilization of flowers, are poisoned.

Plant lice and insects that took their food by suction could be destroyed with an emulsion of coal oil, whose composition Dr. Bethune carefully described.

The lecturer then gave some very interesting instances of the practical triumphs of Economic Entomology, of which the following is perhaps the most striking:—Some time ago the orange growers of California found their groves threatened with destruction by the ravages of a small scale-bug. They informed Mr. Riley, the distinguished head of the Department at Washington, who instituted enquiries and found that this particular scale existed there. He applied to the government for funds to enable him to send a skilled entomologist to Australia to study it in its home, but was met with the objection that no moneys could be granted for work outside of America. About the same time an exhibition was being held at Adelaide, and Mr. Riley obtained permission to send two commissioners to attend it. He took good care that they should be entomologists, and they devoted themselves with more zeal to the study of the orange pest than to the exhibition. As Mr. Riley expected, they discovered an insect, a species of lady-bird, which preyed upon the scale. This was imported to California, and an important industry threatened with destruction has been preserved.

Dr. Bethune thought that everyone who takes an interest in nature must also be interested in the life history of animals. He advised all to have a hobby. He was surprised so few ladies pursued the study of entomology. In England there lived a Miss Ormerod, who was admittedly the first entomologist in the British Isles. The structure of a tiny insect was as wonderful in its way as the starry system—the infinitely small was as marvellous as the infinitely great. The study of nature to the devout mind, is the study of the Mind of the Creator.

One great advantage of a hobby was that when wearied or worried with the cares of our ordinary avocations, we could turn to our hobby, and soon in the study of flowers, and birds or insects, our troubles were forgotten, and in true recreation we were prepared at the proper time to resume the main duties of our lives. He remembered a bank manager in Toronto, who one evening was visited by a friend, who discovered him clad in an old dressing gown and bearing a pan in his hand. "What in the world are you doing?" enquired the astonished friend. "I am feeding my little chickens," was the reply. "Ah! these chickens I don't think I could get through my work if it were not for them." Such was the value of a hobby, and none were so absorbing, so full of results, or so expanding to the mind as some branch of natural history, indeed, according to the poet Coleridge, the love of nature inspired and fostered a higher love.

"He prayeth best who loveth best
All things both great and small."

At the close of the lecture Mr. E. B. Edwards moved and Mr. Hampden Burnham seconded a very hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Bethune for his lecture and to Miss Helen Dennistoun for her music, after which a great many who were present inspected the three cases of beautiful specimens of butterflies, beetles and other insects brought with him by Dr. Bethune.

Dr. Bethune was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Hammond, and this morning was escorted through the High School by Mr. Fessenden. He afterwards visited Mr. Elcombe's to inspect his collection of moths and birds, returning to Port Hope by the 11.45 train.

SPRING.

Gentle spring is here again
With her birds, flowers and bees.
With her storms of wind and rain,
And her brightly verdured trees.

Now the air with harmony's filled
As the feathered songsters sing,
Trilling forth their music skilled,
Fit for any sovereign king.

Sweet the scent that fills the air,
As the gentle zephyrs play,
From the beauteous flowers rare
That smile to greet the sunny day.

Now the honeyed workers fly
To and fro from fragrant flowerr,
And the sun from azure sky,
Sends its beams to cheer their hours.

Soft the gentle southern breeze,
Playing sweet o'er sea and land;
Sways the vestments of the trees,
While in mute repose they stand.

Hark the sound of vernal showers
Beating on the emerald grass;
Brightening up the queenly flowers
Till all others they surpass.

See the tall majestic trees
Swaying in the balmy air;
Drinking in the fragrant breeze;
Freighted down with odors rare.

Gentle spring is here again;
Sound her praises one and all.
She will cheer the heart of men
Till this fleeting globe shall fall.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. George J. Horkins, District Consul, is in receipt of a communication from Mr. J. D. Balfour, Chairman of the C. W. A. Membership Committee, asking him to accept the Chairmanship of a District Membership Committee, to be formed of representatives of the different clubs in the district. Mr. Horkins has suggested that the personell of the committee be composed as follows: — R. J. Wilson, Kingston; F. C. Anderson, Napanee; J. T. Benor, Havelock; Jas. Archer, Campbellford; W. Upton Runnals, Port Hope; Fred. Hawley, Cobourg; W. Neal, Colborne; Chas. Parker, Sterling; H. McGinnis, Belleville; A. Campbell, Lindsay; Harry Wilson, Hastings, and George J. Horkins, Peterborough.

ELECTRICITY

Its marvellous advances.

An interview with a prominent electrician and inventor.

Mr. D. C. L. Ferguson, of the Eclipse Electric and Manufacturing Co'y, 211 Church st., Toronto, consented to be interviewed by our representative the other day. Mr. Ferguson said: "To see me now you would not fancy that I had undergone severe hardships and battled with disease, yet such is the case, and were it not for the events I am about to relate I would not now be able to prosecute further scientific researches.

"I have been troubled with my kidneys and liver for the past 10 years. During the last 4 years I have been growing worse rapidly, until I was almost unable to work. I have been treated by doctors and taken a large variety of medicine without benefit. I had constant pain across my back, at times almost unbearable, especially at night. My urine was wine color as if mixed with blood, and with much sediment, burning sensation when venting. I felt tired and dragged, and it was with the utmost effort I was able to work at all. Seeing the Doan Kidney Pill Co. advertisement, I thought I would try one box of their pills on the principle that it would do no harm to try again, so I got one from W. S. Robinson, Druggist, 832 Yonge st. I have not quite finished that first box, but am happy to say it has proved the best experiment of my life. I improved from the start and there has been a rapid improvement daily, until I am to-day a well man. Pain all gone. Urine natural in color, no sediment. I am stronger, and able to work as well as ever I did. I cannot be too thankful for the result of my trial of Doan's Kidney Pills. I would be glad to tell anyone who suffers as I have done, how I was before, and how I am after taking Doan's Kidney Pills, if they will call at my place."

Why is one woman attractive and another not? It isn't entirely a question of age or features or intellect. The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. Everybody doesn't realise just what it is that makes her womanly. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Health brings all these things but health means more than most people think of. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Upon her strength in this way depends to a large extent her general health, her good looks and her attractiveness. Some women are born stronger than others. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." It is easier for some women to retain health and strength than it is for others. Some seem able to do anything they like, whenever they like, without serious results. Still, there is no reason why women should not enjoy perfect health. Those who do not, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It is absolutely certain. There are some who have neglected themselves so long that a complete cure is next to impossible, but even these will find comfort and improved health in the use of the "Favorite Prescription." It has cured hundreds of women who have received no relief whatever from years of treatment with good physicians. It is absolutely unique in the history of medicine. Such a remedy can be discovered only once. There is nothing in the world like it, nor has there ever been. Hundreds of things that every woman ought to know, are contained in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, which will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only. THE NEW BLOOD CRY.

Remarkable Expressions Made Use of by La Presse of Montreal.

Montreal, April 27.—(Special)—Some one is playing a rather singular game in Montreal. La Presse, which is owned and edited by intimate personal friends of the Hon. J. A. Chapleau, has a remarkable article to say the least, and one that has caused a great deal of disappointment and chagrin in Government circles. La Presse begins by saying that the Conservative press all over Canada has been advising the new leader at Ottawa to infuse new blood into the Cabinet, but it appears to have been forgotten that the operation of infusing new blood in politics is as dangerous in politics as in surgical operations. If it required to infuse into the Prime Minister's right arm the blood of the Merediths and the Kirkpatricks and in his left arm that of the Angers and the Chapleaus, God only knows what the mixture of these fluids would result in when they met in the heart of the unfortunate chieftain of the Conservative party. Contagion would be immediately followed by paralysis. The task devolving upon Messrs. Meredith and Kirkpatrick would be to rally the Wallaces, the McNeills, the Macleans, the Sproules, the Tyrwhitts et al, and to bring about the acceptance of the Government's school policy by the Province of Ontario. Is it to be believed that in such company Chapleau, with all his eloquence and diplomacy, and Angers, with all his firmness, even if they were supported by the clergy and three-quarters of the population of this province, could redress our wrongs, vindicate our rights and strengthen our influence at Ottawa? Is it wise to sacrifice our best men to allies who have so cruelly deceived us, and is it to be supposed that Chapleau and Angers are in a hurry to become the stepladder by which these men can reach power? We cannot answer these questions, but it seems to us that there should be a limit to all this.

La Presse then goes on to say that in the nominations made by Sir Mackenzie Bowell before going out, the French-Canadians only got one out of eight, and that Mr. Joncas, M.P. for Gaspe, should have succeeded Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine. "Decidedly," concludes the writer, "if we lose our present representatives in the Cabinet, we cannot be worse treated in the future than in the past, if this is any consolation."

ALL GOING TO WRECK AND RUIN.

Terrible Devastation in Cuba From the Work of Incendiary Insurgents.

Havana, April 27.—The rebels have burned all the tobacco plantations belonging to Pedro Murias, near Dimas, in the Pinar Del Rio Province, together with other property. Over 300 houses and 4,000 bales of tobacco were destroyed. The loss is estimated at over $1,000,000, that of Murias alone being $70,000. The misery resultant from the firing of the plantations is terrible. Three thousand persons are rendered homeless. They are being protected by the Government as best they can be, and fed with military rations. The rebels made an attack upon the town of Sitio Grande Carsagua, but were repulsed.

Maximo Gomez is reported at Sancti Spiritus, organizing his forces for a new invasion of the Matanzas and Havana Provinces. He is said by other reports to have already started to march his men in pursuance of his purpose of invasion of the provinces mentioned.

MAY DAY IN EUROPE.

Great Preparations Being Made in Labor Centres—Where Red Stockings or Red Petticoats are Prohibited.

New York, April 27.—The Morning Journal has a despatch from Mr. Henry W. Fisher at Berlin which says:

My despatches from all parts of the continent show that workmen are making preparations for a demonstration on May 1. The Governments have issued orders prohibiting these celebrations, but it is evident that the workmen will defy the authorities. A clash is expected.

The employers in many towns throughout Germany have informed their men that they will be discharged if they take any part in the Maifeier. Some of the workmen will, therefore, wait until evening, while others will celebrate during their half-holiday Saturday, and a few will make their demonstration Sunday.

In Hamburg the woodworkers, tailors, stavemakers and tobacconists will celebrate thoughout May Day, but in Bremen and Lubick there will be no official celebration until evening.

Schleswig workmen will have an all-day celebration, as will the workmen of Hanover also. In a few places the demonstration will be made Saturday. In the Province of Saxony (in Prussia) the workmen will celebrate Sunday, except at Magdeburg.

There will be great celebrations May 1 at Anhalt and Thuringia. Workmen who do not take part in the celebrations at these places will be fined 50 pfennings by the unions to which they belong.

In the Kingdom of Saxony open demonstrations have been prohibited. Workmen are preparing for them, nevertheless, the workmen of Dresden being especially active.

The workmen of Mayence, Cassel, Munich and Stuttgart, like those of Dresden, are making elaborate preparations for their celebration. The Frankfort men, however, will work May 1. The manufacturers of Durlach have voluntarily granted their men a holiday on May 1.

Workmen of Austria, especially those living in Vienna, will have a grand eight-hour celebration. In Vienna the procession to the Prater, a great garden and park, will be bigger than ever before.

At Buda-Pest the police have prohibited any May Day celebration, and the workmen for the most part will heed the warning.

In Belgium the Maifeier will be officially celebrated by mass-meetings, special performances and picnics. The authorities of the great manufacturing and mining town of Searing will entertain the workmen at a banquet.

There will be no celebration in Holland, except at Amsterdam, where the cigarmakers, printers and part of the diamond cutters will celebrate. Demonstrations have been prohibited most of the cities of Holland.

Premier Rudini of Italy has prohibited demonstrations in any part of the country. The workingmen of Bologna, Milan, Florence, Venice, and Naples, however, will remain idle May 1.

The authorities of Oldenburg, Ger., announce that they will permit a procession May 1 on condition that the women and girls wear no red stockings or petticoats. This is a fact.

CLARA BARTON AT WORK.

The Turkish Governors are Assisting the Red Cross Mission.

Washington, April 27.—Miss Clara Barton has cabled Secretary Olney that there were reports on Saturday from three of her relief expeditions. One was to the effect that the physicians in control at Marash were improvising temporary hospitals at Zeitoun. The second report was that the expedition relieving Malada was en route to Harpoot. The third report was that the relief expedition distributing at Diarbekar would arrive at Harpoot on the 30th of this month. Miss Barton adds that the provincial governors are cordial and helpful, and without thought of direction or control.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

IS JOHN J. QUIRK INNOCENT?

Sentenced to Auburn for 11 Years in Connection With the Tonawanda Riot.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 27.—John J. Quirk, one of the men who was sent to Auburn to serve a term of 11 years for his connection with the Tonawanda riot, in which Capt. Lorenzo Phillips and his son Charles were murdered, has made a statement, in which he declares that Hyde, who was sent to prison for life, is the man who fired the shot that killed Capt. Phillips, and that, with the assistance of Jesse Graves, he killed the son. All this District Attorney Kennefick knew, and so did Judge Woodward, when sentences were imposed. Quirk also maintains his own innocence, and says that Collins, who was sent to Auburn for 11 years, is innocent. These declarations are doubted.

Dead Meat Scheme Killed.

Ottawa, April 27. — (Special) — Prof. Robertson stated to your correspondent to-day that in view of the fact that Parliament had not voted any money for opening up the dead meat trade the plan would not be proceeded with. Enquiries, however, would be made this year and additional information secured regarding the details. If the new Parliament votes an appropriation a trial shipment of beef from ranch cattle will be sent to England in the fall. The experience thus gained will be useful for paving the way for more efficient work both here and in England next season.

Another Accidental Electrocution.

Springfield, Mass., April 24.—William Hayes, aged 22, a dynamo engineer, was instantly killed at the station of the United Electric Co. last night. He found that the current in the arc lamps was reversed, and attempted to locate the difficulty. In working at the switch board he pulled out a plug and sent a current of 2500 volts through his body.

Rev. Mr. Byman's Hours of Rest Creates Trouble in the Conference.

Newark, N.J., April 27.—At the African Methodist Episcopal conference here to-day, Rev. Mr. Byman of Elizabeth, was accused of sleeping until after 10 o'clock in the morning. Presiding Elder Sturgis of Camden, corroborated the report. Mr. Byman passed the lie. Mr. Sturgis thereupon pulled off his coat, and the conference was in an uproar. Bishop Tanner broke his gavel in pounding for order. Two clergymen stepped in between the disputants and succeeded in quieting them. Subsequently Mr. Sturgis apologized and the affair ended.

DEATH OF DR. MIGNAULT.

He Was One of William Lyon Mackenzie's Party in Canada in '37.

Detriot, Mich., April 27.—Dr. J. B. K. Mignault died Saturday night at the residence of his daughter in this city. He was born 79 years ago in Montreal, graduated from McGill University, and took an active part in Canadian politics. He was a contemporary of Dr. Nelson, William Lyon Mackenzie and others famous in the stirring times of that date, and owing to his share in the uprising of 1837 he left Canada and came to Detroit.

KILLED NEAR NEPIGON.

Dan McNeill, a C.P.R. Locomotive Engineer, Loses His Life—A Delay.

North Bay, April 27.—Dan McNeill, locomotive engineer, was killed this afternoon by his engine breaking through a bridge three miles west of Nepigon. The Winnipeg passenger train going west will be delayed 10 or 15 hours by the accident.

Jane Cakebread.

The suit which Lady Henry Somerset instituted against William Waldorf Astor, will shortly be tried in London. Lady Somerset's complaint is based on a statement in the Pall Mall Gazette that "Lady Henry Somerset would drive any one mad." The statement was occasioned by the efforts of Lady Somerset to reclaim Jane Cakebread, a notorious dipsomaniac, who has a record of having been arrested 300 times.

Lady Henry Somerset induced Jane Cakebread to enter the home which her ladyship maintains on her country estate. The plan was to cure Jane at this home and then to set her up in a cottage in Surrey for the rest of her life.

The plans for the woman's reformation fell through when she managed to procur liquor and turned the home into a pandemonium. It was decided that she was irreclaimable, and Lady Henry Somerset took steps to have her sanity determined.

JANE CAKEBREAD.

Then it was that the Pall Mall Gazette made the cruel statement that Lady Henry Somerset would drive any one insane, and intimated that Jane Cakebread had been made mad by the methods of the reformatory home.

When Mr. Astor essays to prove that Jane Cakebread's insanity was caused by her association with Lady Henry Somerset, London will have a sensation.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B B B again, and when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Just So.

"The palmists tell us that the line of life, the line of fate and all the other lines," observed Mrs. Morcomb, who was interested in the science, "but the palmist who wrote this book—"

"Have you been buying a book on palmistry?" asked Morcomb.

"Why, yes."

"Had your hand looked at, too, I suppose?"

"I have."

"What did it cost?"

"Only $5."

"Only $5! H'm! What did the palmist say about your line of economy?"

"He didn't say anything. There isn't any such line, is there?"

"If there is!" snorted Morcomb, "the palmist never sees it in the hand of anybody who visits him."—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life,' consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excells. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

TAMPERING WITH WHISKY.

The Walkerville People Will Prosecute Several Winnipeg Dealers.

Winnipeg, April 27.—A prominent legal firm of this city have in hand through information placed in their possession by a special agent employed by Walker & Sons, distillers, authority to proceed against a number of Winnipeg houses for infringements upon and tampering with the Dominion Government official marks upon packages of spirits sold by the said Walker & Co. These infringements upon the internal revenue laws have been suspected for some time, and it is expected that sensational developments will follow.

NO MORE FAT JOBS ON THE G.T.

Manager Hays is Said to be Playing Havoc With the District Agents.

Montreal, April 27.—(Special)—General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk is making sad havoc with the district agents who have heretofore possessed pretty fat jobs. Mr. N. Grace has been relieved of his position at Portland, and offered that of traveling passenger agent, with a drop of $800 in his salary. Mr. Pease of Bonaventure will have his jurisdiction extended as far west as Kingston.

FATHER SLAUGHTERED HIS SON

And the Young Man as He Fell Shot His Brutal Parent Dead.

Gate City, Va., April 27.—At Rosedale, Russell County, to-day, Mr. Dutter and his son quarrelled over a money transaction. The father fired several shots at his son, his wife knocking down the pistol. Finally a ball took effect in the son's breast. As he fell he shot his father through the heart, killing him. The son lived half an hour.

SOL. WHITE'S SIDE OF IT.

He Denies That a Motion Was Made for His Committal.

Windsor, April 27.—Sol White denies the report telegraphed from Toronto that a motion was made for his committal. The motion was made, he says, to compel him to account, which he claims he is not compelled to do for one year after the death of his mother, who was the life tenant of the estate. In any case, he says, Splitlog is not entitled to demand an accounting, as he is not residuary legatee. He receives a legacy of $500, and Mr. White is ready to pay it to him.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

LIVE STOCK AT MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 27.—There continues to be a fairly good demand for butchers' beeves at the markets, but little has been done on export account yet. Prices to-day were a shade higher than on Thursday last. At the Eastern Abattoir Market about 500 head of cattle, 20 sheep, 600 calves and 20 spring lambs came in. A fairly active enquiry was shown for both cattle and small meats. Best butchers' stock sold at 3¾c to 4c per lb., live weight, which is an advance of ¼c over last week's prices. Lower grades ranged from 2c to 3½c, according to quality. Sheep and lambs were in light supply, and calves came forward freely. Following was the general range of quotations: Cattle—Butchers' choice, per lb., 3¾c to 4c, live weight; do., medium to fair, do., 3c to 3½c, do.; do., culls, do., 2c to 2½c. Calves—Good to choice, $7 to $10; common to fair, $1 to $6. Spring lambs—Common to good, $2 to $4. Sheep—Common to good, 4c per lb., live weight.

MATRIMONY FROM THE "NEW WOMAN" STANDPOINT.

An Interesting Lecture by Mrs. Ellis, Phrenologist.

Monday evening Mrs. J. M. Ellis, phrenologist, delivered her last lecture, "Matrimony, from the 'New Woman's' Standpoint." Since her arrival here her lectures have not been as well patronized as they merited, still there has been a fair-sized audience present each night. The lecturer is a very fluent speaker and thoroughly understands her subject. At last evening's lecture there was a marked predominence of ladies in the audience.

All, said the speaker, have discussed the subject under consideration this evening, at some time or other. Still it never grows old. People are marrying, have been marrying, and intend to marry as long as the world lasts.

Did you ever notice, said she, the different smiles which are brought into play the moment "Matrimony" is mentioned? There are various kinds of smiles expressed; some show contempt for the man or woman who would thus "bind" themselves for life; others favour you with a sort of a sour, grave smile. "I do not believe," said she, "that all marriages are made in Heaven." Mrs. Ellis knew of a family whose marriage has been "Heaven-made"—so-called—and the result of that marriage was three more idiots were born into the world. Do you think that was a "Heaven-made marriage?"

Some marriages however, undoubtly are made in Heaven. She thought that the girls of the present generation should study hard to fit themselves for wives and mothers. Many marry to get a home or some pecuniary gain. Do not do this, she urged. Learn to think and reason things out for yourselves. Too many mothers would positively tell their daughters, not "to cross the bridge before they come to it," thus forcing them to sit idly by and let fate take its own course. It ought to be the law, that every young man or woman who is a candidate for a marriage license, should be made to answer a long list of hard questions on the subject, to show that they understand the responsibility of marrying. Doctors, lawyers and others must prove their fitness for their work and how much more important it is that people should prove their fitness for the marriage relation. Unsound people, with any taint whatever in the family, ought to be refused a license. If this was rigidly carried out, how much better it would be for humanity. There would be fewer lunatic asiyums and other places for a similar purpose.

Do not look at marriage merely as a ceremony to be performed, by which you will be the gainer, continued Mrs. Ellis. Be prepared to go through this life by yourself, girls, she said, and if when you are doing this you should meet with a suitable partner, take him. He will think none the less of you for your independence, but more of you if he does not have to draw you up the hill of life on a hand-sled.

Many girls marry with the idea that it is their duty to start a reform school for one. Think well before deciding on this question. Marriage should be looked upon as a gain to both and not to one only. Some marry for very foolish reasons, as for instance, so that they won't be an old maid. Doing this is very nonsensical. Others marry to get rid of parental discipline and for other very foolish reasons. You should be phrenologically and physiologically mated. Two persons with the same temperament highly developed should not marry, but two who are well balanced may marry with good results.

She then explained very fully the signs of love and jealousy in the head and face and at close of the lecture two ladies were chosen out of the audience and husbands selected for them from amongst those assembled. The choice however was not necessarily binding.

CIRCULAR.

Foundation Day in our High Schools to be Observed.

The Education Department is making an effort to ascertain the exact date at which each High School in the Province of Ontario was established, in order that those who are interested in its maintenance, and particularly those who profited by its instructions might hold an annual reception with a view to preserve the traditions of the school and cultivate an esprit du corps among the pupils and ex pupils.

Many of the most prominent men of Canada received their instruction at some of our High Schools, and would gladly join in festivities such as the occasion would suggest. Many able men who were teachers in such schools have passed away, and unless such gatherings are held their name and memory might be forgotten. Ontario owes a great deal to its Public and High School masters, and to recall their services would be a well merited tribute to the memory of those who gave direction to the educational life of the Province during its early history.

Dr. Hodgins, historiographer of the Education Department, and who has been connected with it for over fifty years, would be glad to receive any information with regard to the establishment of any High School that may be in possession of trustees, secretaries, or that citizen known as the "oldest inhabitant." Brockville, Cobourg, Cornwall, Kingston, Niagara, Sandwich, London and Toronto were established by statute on the 13th day of March, 1807. Next year would be their 90th anniversary.

Ivorine for the Teeth.

Ivorine is a dentrifrice as delightful and fragrant as it is cleaning. It strengthens the gums, whitens and polishes the teeth, and imparts a fragrant sweetness to the breath. Ivorine never injures the teeth and has received the highest commendations from profession and public. Druggists have it, 25 cents per bottle.

The prince of pectoral remedies, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness and bronchitis without fail. Price 25c., all druggists.

A CORRECTION FROM MR. ROBT. ELDER

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—My attention has been directed to your issue of the 25th, ult., containing a communication from Mr. Thomas Telford, in which he states that through the carelessness and neglect of the undersigned his application for membership in the Otonabee Lodge, I. O. O. F., was never presented to said lodge and therefore no action was ever taken by said lodge on said application.

Mr. Telford is evidently mistaken, for the reason that I left Peterborough in the spring of 1879 and the lodge referred to was not reauscitated until a year or more after I left Peterborough. From the above it will be readily seen that the fault was that of others, as Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows was not in use during my residence in your city, and your correspondent has evidently confused the undersigned with others. My sole object in addressing you this communication is to place myself in a true position before your readers, among whom are many of my old friends and acquaintances.

Yours very respectfully,
ROBT. ELDER.

Modesto, Cal., April 17, 1896.

[In a private note Mr. Elder states that he is doing a thriving business in Modesto, a town 114 miles from San Francisco. His old friends in Peterborough will be pleased to learn that he is the owner of a very comfortable residence. In his garden he grows lemons, oranges, figs, almonds, walnuts, pomegranites, peaches, nectarines, apricots, almost anything that can be grown in the country. Mr. Elder is also the happy father of four sons and two daughters.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

THE CABINET MAKER

NO CHANCE OF GETTING CHAPLEAU

Mr. Angers Looked Upon as the Probable Colleague of Sir Adolphe and Mr. Ouimet for Quebec—Col. Tisdale Said to Have Been Summoned.

Ottawa, April 29.—"Mr. Chapleau has decided that the condition of his health renders it impossible for him to undertake to assist in the reconstruction of the Government."

That was the announcement officially given out by Sir Charles Tupper to-night. Further than that he had nothing to communicate.

Thus the hopes of the Cabinet-making Baronet are again blighted. Mr. Horace Bergeron, who was here to-day, saw Mr. Chapleau in New York yesterday, and says there is no question that the Lieutenant-Governor is ill.

With Mr. Bergeron there was an influential crowd of Quebec politicians in town to-day, including Speaker Leblanc, Dr. Lachapelle, Senator Montplaisir, Mayor Panneton of Three Rivers, Mr. Girouard of Two Mountains and others. All had the same story to tell, that owing to the state of Mr. Chapleau's health he will not accept a portfolio.

One thing is probable to-night, viz., that Augustus Real Angers will be the third French Canadian representative in the new Ministry, Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. J. A. Ouimet being the other two.

It is reported that Mr. Angers will resign his Senatorship and run for Maisonneuve, one of the new districts of Montreal.

As stated last night Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Ouimet have been invited to accept portfolios under Sir Charles Tupper. Up to this afternoon Mr. Desjardins had not. Clearly Sir Charles intends bringing in one new man from Quebec, and Mr. Angers is seemingly the best man available.

The situation as regards Ontario has a good deal of interest. The report current to-day is that Sir Charles has telegraphed Col. Tisdale to come to Ottawa, presumably to receive the offer of a portfolio, but there are those who still insist that Sir Charles Tupper has not abandoned all hope of securing Chief Justice Meredith.

Twice to-day Sir Charles invoked counsel of Sir Mackenzie Bowell. On his afternoon visit to the ex-Premier's residence he was accompanied by Sir Donald Smith. Your correspondent's opinion is that Mr. Tisdale is the man, as Messrs. Haggart, Montague and Wood are pressing for him.

It is just possible that Mr. Dickey may have to remain at the Justice Department and Mr. Tisdale be given the Department of Militia.

The Winnipeg train, due here yesterday, on which Mr. Hugh John Macdonald is traveling, has been cancelled, and Mr. Macdonald will, according to latest reports, not reach the Capital until late to-morrow afternoon.

Mr. Costigan will be here again to-morrow.

OTTAWA GENERAL NEWS.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell May Visit Australia for a Holiday.

Ottawa, April 29.—(Special.)—Lake mariners will be gratified to learn that on the recommendation of Hon. Mr. Wood an order-in-Council has been passed abolishing the fee of fifty cents charged to owners of vessels navigating the inland waters of Canada for entering at or clearing from a port. The change applies equally to United States as to Canadian vessels.

It is not unlikely that when Sir Mackenzie Bowell completes his mission in London he will proceed to Australia on a holiday trip to renew the many friendships formed when he was there three years ago.

It is stated that Judge Gwynne of the Supreme Court has decided to accept retirement on superannuation allowance. He is to be chairman of the commission to revise and reconsolidate the Federal statutes. It is ten years since the Federal statutes were last revised.

Bellot, Minister of War; Admiral Besnard, Minister of Marine; M. Cochery, Minister of Finance; M. Hamband, Minister of Public Instruction and Worship; M. Lebon, Minister of the Colonies.

The French Senate and Chamber of Deputies have adjourned until to-morrow, when M. Meline will read the statement of the new Cabinet which he is now preparing.

BEFORE THE PRIMROSE LEAGUE.

Lord Salisbury's Assertion Regarding the Reform Leaders at Johannesburg.

London, April 29.—At the annual meeting of the Primrose League, held at Covent Garden to-day, Lord Salisbury said in an address that he was sure President Kruger would not use unworthily the power which circumstances had placed in his hands. As regards the situation in Armenia, Lord Salisbury said the last Government was to blame for having adopted a policy of coercion toward Turkey without sufficient support. The Premier defended the campaign in the Soudan as being in accordance with the responsibilities which Great Britain undertook when she occupied Egypt.

Lord Salisbury referred to the leaders of the Reform movement as struggling for what they conceived to be their rightful liberties in the Transvaal. This assertion was received with loud cheers.

President Kruger's name was received with hissing from some parts of the Premier's audience. There was a very large gathering present, but most of those in attendance were ladies.

BOOTH-TUCKER'S FALSE WHISKERS.

The S.A Commander Arrested on the Bowery While in Disguise.

New York, April 29.—Booth-Tucker, the successor of Ballington Booth, was arrested last night on a charge of disorderly conduct and locked up in the Elizabeth street station. Commander Tucker had disguised himself by putting on a preposterous wig of oily brown tow and a pair of grizzly whiskers, which proclaimed themselves as artificial to the observer. When the party emerged from Pell-street and started to go up the Bowery, a detective noticing the disguise of the commander placed him under arrest. Later Steve Brodie went on his bond in the sum of $500, and he was released. He was taken before Magistrate Sims this morning. The commander told the magistrate he had put on the disguise so that he would not be recognized. He said he did not know he was violating the law. After cautioning him against wearing a disguise in the street, the magistrate dismissed the case.

Thompson Found Guilty of Shooting With Intent.

JOSEPH MARTIN STILL VERY LOW

The Operation of Trepanning the Skull Performed—Terrible Death of a Teamster Who Was Run Into by a Trolley Car in the Subway.

Toronto, April 30.

At 4.30 p.m. yesterday the jury, after being out one and three-quarters hours, brought in a verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation for mercy, in the case of the Crown v. Edward Thompson for shooting at his wife Nellie with intent to kill. Both the prisoner and his wife, who testified against him, wept when they heard the verdict, and the jury stood 8 to 4 for conviction. Judge Ferguson will pass sentence on Saturday.

Yesterday morning, when the case was resumed, Thompson gave evidence in his own behalf. He said that on the day of the shooting he called on his wife. He asked her to return to him as he was in a position to support her. She refused, and he accused her of preferring some one else. He took his revolver from his pocket for the purpose of frightening her, and held it by his side. She moved around behind him and threw one arm around his neck, and with the other tried to seize the gun. In the struggle it was discharged.

His Lordship's charge was against the prisoner.

Will be Tried To-Day for Murder.

A true bill was brought in by the grand jury against James Healey for the murder of John Corrigan. Mr. Robinette, counsel for the accused, was not ready to proceed at the Assizes yesterday. The case will be called this morning.

BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH.

Horseman Martin's Precarious Case at the General Hospital—Detectives' Difficult Task—There Are no Clues.

Joe Martin, the horseman, is lying in the General Hospital in a delirious condition. That his mind is running on horses is indicated by his ravings. Whether he will survive the brutal assault of Tuesday night it still a doubtful question, but he has a fighting chance.

The assault on Martin was the principal topic of conversation among sporting men around town, and at the track yesterday.

Inspector Stark has detailed Detectives Davis and Cuddy on the case. If any men can get the thugs they can, but unfortunately they have little or nothing to work on. All sorts of rumors and alleged clues were followed up, but they amounted to nothing. The "mysterious stranger" business is no good, and if any arrests are made, it will be some people who are well known in this city that will be pulled in.

Yesterday afternoon the doctors at the Hospital trepanned Martin's skull, as parts of the fractures were pressing on the brain.

MANGLED BY THE TROLLEY.

Terrible Death of Teamster Notley in King-Street Subway.

Toronto, April 30.

Thomas Notley, laborer, single, 260 Lippincott-street, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from injuries received in a trolley accident in the King-street subway, and Matthew Chillman, 94 Claremont-street, lies in the Hospital badly hurt.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning the two men were coming east through the subway with a load of earth, when the double-tree of the wagon broke. Both men were busy repairing the break when motor car 466, going in the same direction ran into the wagon. Chillman's head and face were cut, and some ribs fractured. Notley by some means was jammed under the car, where he remained for twenty minutes before being rescued. He was terribly crushed and mangled. Both men were taken to the Hospital, where Notley died an hour later. Chillman is a teamster in the employ of the Park Commissioner's Department, and Notley was taking a ride with him.

Coroner Aikins will hold an inquest to-night at the General Hospital.

TREMBLIE TO BE BEHEADED.

He Murdered His Friend Farbos in Buenos Ayres—An Awful Case.

Douai, France, April 29.—Raoul Tremblie, who was convicted of the murder of Francois Farbos and sentenced to be guillotined, but was granted a new trial, has again been convicted of the crime and condemned to death. Tremblie induced Farbos to go from France to Buenos Ayres, and after his arrival there murdered and robbed him. The body was decapitated, and cut into 12 pieces, after which it was salted in a barrel. Tremblie had fled to France, but the authorities at Buenos Ayres, had in the meantime discovered the murder, and cabled for his arrest, and he was taken into custody at Dunkirk May 23, 1894. He having murdered a French citizen, his trial took place in France.

SUPERANNUATION ABUSE.

There is no department of the public service whose administration is not abused by the party in power at Ottawa and one of those in which the public money is wasted without a return of service as an equivalent, is the superannuation department.

The system of superannuating Dominion civil servants, began in 1871, was based upon the idea that after a public official had become feeble and worn out he should be retired from the public service and his place filled by an efficient substitute. A fund was created to supply which two per cent. of the salaries of civil servants was retained. In 1871 the receipts of this fund amounted to $50,000 and the expenditure to only $13,000. In 1893 the receipts were $64,433 and the expenditure $263,710. In 1894 there was paid into this fund $63,974, while there was paid out of it the enormous sum of $262,302.

In the twenty-three years since the inauguration of the system we have paid $2,500,000 over and above the receipts.

The total number on the superannuation list on June 30th, 1893, was 551. Of those 173 were under the age of sixty, which is the limit fixed by the act, and below which the government is not supposed to go unless for very special reasons; seventy-three were under the age of fifty.

The needy followers of the government, and some who are not needy, have had to be provided for, and the superannuation system has been used to provide places for hungry followers.

The whole county of Welland knows that Mr. Brookfield, collector of customs at Fort Erie, was superannuated on purpose to provide a place for Mr. Lawson, a defeated candidate, thus making the taxpayers pay two officials instead of one. This act was a most disgraceful perversion of the public service to reward a political partizan, and unfortunately it is only one of hundreds of cases all over the Dominion.

Mr. Dansereau, a leading Montreal Conservative, desired the postmastership of that city, and Mr. Lamothe, the postmaster, was superannuated. He was entitled to a retiring allowance of $1,360, but the government added eight years to his time, and Mr. Lamothe is drawing $2,000 a year and Mr. Dansereau is receiving as postmaster $4,000, which makes the cost of that office $6,000 a year.

Mr. Robert Wallace, postmaster at Victoria, B. C., strenuously resisted being superannuated, but his place was wanted for Mr. Shakespeare, then a member of Parliament. To quiet Mr. Wallace eight years was added to his length of service, and he is now living in England drawing a pension of $1,300 a year, and Mr. Shakespeare is doing his work at a salary of $2,000 a year.

Mr. Charles Thibsault was appointed secretary of the board of Dominion arbitrators, a sinecure, and after drawing $2,000 a year for nine years was superannuated at the age of forty-nine on a pension of $700 a year.

Mr. Vankoughnet, deputy-superintendent-general of Indian affairs, was superannuated in 1893 at the age of fifty-seven, against his will and against his strong protest that his health was quite good. In order to force him to apply for superannuation the minister threatened him that it would be worse for him if he did not, but if he did all would be made right. (See official letter from minister, June 28, 1893, page 4326, Commons Hansard, 1894.) Mr. Vankoughnet is now living in England drawing $2,112 a year for the rest of his life. The reason Mr. Vankoughnet was forced out was to supply Mr. Hayter Reed with the position. Mr. Reed is the gentleman who was chiefly responsible for the looting of furs after the Northwest rebellion, but he sheltered himself behind General Middleton and destroyed a letter which connected him with that disgraceful affair.

Mr. Trudeau, deputy ministers of railways and canals, was superannuated against his will on an allowance of $3,756 a year.

H. A. Whitney, mechanical superintendent of the Intercolonial Railway, was superannuated at the age of fifty-eight, and Mr. A. S. Busby of the same road, at the age of fifty-four, on allowances respectively of $1,280 and $1,000 a year.

Mr. John Tilton, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, was superannuated at the age of fifty-five, and can be seen any day in Ottawa, a strong, healthy, vigorous man, in the prime of life; yet he is drawing a pension, reserved for sick, feeble and aged persons, of $1,536.

With such a state of affairs is it any wonder that the public debt is growing bigger and heavier every year, and that times are getting harder and harder—for everybody except the ever-increasing army of officials and pensioned off ex-officials.

During the five years of the Mackenzie Government the receipts of this fund averaged more than $40,000 a year, and the payments were under $100,000, whereas we are now only receiving $64,090 and paying out $263,000, a deficit of $200,000 a year.

On May 22nd, 1883, Sir Leonard Tilley moved the third reading of the bill (No. 91) to amend and consolidate the Act relating to the superannuation of persons employed in the civil service of Canada. To this G. W. Ross, Liberal M. P. (Middlesex), moved the following amendment: "That the bill be recommitted to a committee of the whole to amend the same so as to provide (with due regard to the rights of those who have been already admitted to the superannuation list) for the abolition of the present system and the substitution of a plan whereby a percentage of the salary of each civil servant shall be retained and placed to his credit and shall be payable to him with interest on his quitting the service, or to his family in case of his death in the service." This amendment was negatived by the Conservatives on the following division: Yeas, 47; Nays, 100. (Hansard, Vol. II., p. 1364.)

A resolution moved by Mr. James McMullen, Liberal M. P., North Wellington, Ont., in parliament during the session of 1894, declaring that the Superannuation act had been administered by the Government in a loose and unjustifiable manner, and that the system as now established should be abolished, was voted down by 91 to 55, every Conservative in the House voting against it.

The Liberals disclaimed any intention of interfering under that resolution with the rights of those who have paid money into the fund, but they held that it was unfair to the labouring men and to the farmers of this country, that they should continue to be taxed $200,000 a year to keep half a thousand men idle, when half of them are well able to work, and when scores of them are living a life of ease in foreign lands, drawing fat pensions from the Canadian taxpayers.

Government blue books and circulations based on their figures show that fifteen persons who have been superannuated paid into the Treasury $5,825 and have drawn out $383,448, or sixty-four dollars drawn out for every dollar paid in. Conservatives uphold this system, Liberals condemn it. Is it any wonder the Government officials are ready to swear by a Government which uses the public funds to keep in idleness men, hundreds of whom are as able to earn a living as they ever were but who have been shelved and pensioned to give a fat place to some hungry applicant.

CAN the Premier Minister of a Cabinet based on intrigue and treachery, consistently appeal to the loyalty of the party he leads—with a ring in the nose, in true bull-dosing style?

ONE can easily understand Mr. Osler's refusal to enter the Dominion Cabinet. He is a great criminal lawyer, and at the same time a man of honour, and does not possess the Tupper brand of ethics that would permit him to practice his legal specialty upon his colleagues, in which he would have abundant material. They are on trial before the jury of the country, and doubtless Mr. Osler has grave doubts of his bringing about a verdict of not guilty. If he were prosecuting counsel he would have an easy task.

HON. T. M. DALY, Minister of the Interior in the Bowell Cabinet, strongly objects to being Minister of the Exterior. In the pending reconstruction of the remains Mr. Daly's name is omitted and to this he strongly objects, being thus cut off from the spoils, but it is asserted that he will be solaced with a judgeship. Why in the name of economy should the public money be used to pension Mr. Daly at the public expense? If he is now simply a disappointed politician, it is the fortune of war. The public can't afford to give a fat office to every man who would like to be a cabinet minister. It would not be surprising, however, if Mr. Daly is made a judge or given some fat sinecure. One of the greatest evils of the present government's policy is the use of the public treasury for the sake of rewarding political hangers-on. This system explains in part the enormous increase of the annual expenditure and the rapid and alarming growth of the public debt.

THE PIONEER

A SIMCOE COUNTY MAN WHO HAS AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

At 263 McCaul st., in this city, lives Mr. Samuel Kilgore, a vigorous specimen of those sturdy pioneers to whom the rapid development of this Province is mainly due. Mr. Kilgore relates, with pride, how he cleared the land on which Judge Gowan (now Senator Gowan), had his house built, and how himself and that honorable gentleman together laid the corner stone and deposited a box with various coins, etc., within the corner stone at the time. With his own hands also he cleared the land on which stands the Barrie High School, which numbers among its ex-pupils such names as Wm. Lount, Q.C., and D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C. Mr. Kilgore has served as reeve and councillor also in the township, and his sterling integrity and sound judgment give great force to his words. A few words from him will be sure to be of interest. Mr. Kilgore says:

"The dull aching pains around my loins and in the small of my back indicated to me several years ago that my kidneys were affected. I had to get up frequently at night and my rest was broken accordingly. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Gilpin's drug store some time ago, and they did wor rs for me. They gave me relief almost immediately. The annoying pains around my back fled. The trouble in urinating was felt no more. My stomach, though foul, became sweet, and my whole system became so regulated that I looked back, with pleasure, to my boyhood days when pains and aches were unknown to me. I am now over seventy-three years of age, and Doan's Kidney Pills are the most wonderful medicine I ever took. After having given them a fair trial I can heartily recommend them to any one with kidney or stomach troubles."

Sick headache and constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

KRUGER COMMUTES

The Sentences Passed Against the Reformers.

INTERVIEW WITH THE BOER CHIEF

Mr. Lingham of Belleville, Ont., Was Among Those Fined and Imprisoned - London Papers Look Upon the Sentence as a Game of Bluff.

London, April 29.—A despatch from Pretoria, under yesterday's date, gives the substance of an interview with President Kruger, in which the Boer President said in regard to the sentences passed upon the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Union, that he was earnestly weighing in his mind the developments of that day. He trusted that the people of Johannesburg would calmly await the decision of the Government. The judgment of the court would be presented to the Executive in writing on April 30, when the matter would be promptly dealt with.

John Hays Hammond's physician stood by him while the sentence of death was being pronounced. Hammond was weak in health, but seemed strong in spirit, and showed not the slightest sign of fear.

Among the other 60 Uitlanders who received minor sentences for participation, were two Americans named Butters and Sampson.

A despatch from Pretoria to-day says the Executive Council is now in session, considering all the sentences imposed by the court yesterday.

In passing judgment upon the prisoners yesterday, the judge said it was his painful duty to impose extreme sentence, but he hoped the Executive would exercise the same degree of clemency towards the prisoners that he had shown at the beginning of the year.

Monster petitions are being signed in Pretoria and Johannesburg asking the President to pardon the members of the Reform Union, upon whom sentence was pronounced yesterday. The Boer jurors before whom the condemned men would have been tried had they not pleaded guilty have also signed a memorial asking that Executive clemency be extended to the self-confessed reformers.

All of the members of the Reform Union who are under sentence for high treason or lese majeste are in jail, though at present they are granted certain privileges.

Johannesburg, April 29.—The Diggers' News says that "Barney" Barnato, the "Kaffir King," is very bitter in his feelings and expressions concerning the sentences imposed upon Rhodes Hammond and others at Pretoria yesterday, and is showing his resentment by closing all his mines and selling all his landed properties in the Rand. The people are paralyzed at the prospect, as the closing of the Barnato mines will throw thousands of men in the already overflowing ranks of the unemployed.

MR. LINGHAM ALSO SENTENCED.

The Well-Known Belleville Man and His Valuable Franchises.

London, April 29.—The list published in The St. John's Gazette of the prisoners sentenced at Pretoria yesterday to £2000 fine, two years' imprisonment and three years' banishment does not contain the name of the American Butters, which is given in the list sent out by the Central News, but it does include the names of F. R. Lingham, H. J. King and Sampson.

Mr. Lingham referred to in the foregoing despatch is a well-known Belleville man, who was in charge of large railway interests in the Transvaal. He is a partner of Mr. James Maclaren of Buckingham, Que., in the carrying business in the Boer Republic. Mr. Lingham some time ago procured from the Transvaal authorities certain valuable franchises and the general belief of his friends is that he was arrested in connection with the Johannesburg Reform Society for no other reason than to regain possession of the franchises he had procured. Mr. Maclaren of Buckingham, on receipt of the news a few months ago that his partner had been arrested on a charge of treason, went to England and laid Mr. Lingham's case before Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary. Letters have been received from Mr. Lingham, and also from his wife, which show that he took no part whatever in requesting Jameson to start on his ill-fated expedition, but that he was really arrested as a stranger, who was doing a business which created jealousy in the minds of certain Government officials. Mr. Lingham, according to last night's despatch, has been fined $10,000, sent to prison for two years, and will then be banished from the Transvaal Republic, if the sentence is carried out, which is altogether unlikely. This sentence of course would mean the abrogation of the franchises held by Messrs. Maclaren & Lingham.

J. H. HAMMOND COLLAPSED

As Soon as He Received His Death Sentence—Were They Badly Advised?

London, April 29.—The Daily Telegraph to-morrow will publish a despatch from Pretoria, dated April 28, saying that the accused Reform leaders without exception received their sentences with dignity. John Hammond, after being sentenced collapsed and was taken immediately to the jail, where he was placed under the care of a doctor and the chief jailer. The bitterest feeling exists among the prisoners, who consider that they were ilfy advised in pleading guilty. Fully forty prisoners avow that they could have proved their innocence except so far as joining in the movement at the last moment constituted guilt. A number of interviews have been had with English residents of Pretoria who were summoned as jurors, and all of them concur in the opinion that it would have been impossible for the judge to have imposed any other sentences upon the prisoners. It was unfortunate, these persons thought, that all had pleaded guilty. Had the case gone to the jury many of the latest adherents to the movement would have been acquitted. There is a strong feeling in Pretoria that many persons against whom no accusations were made were far more guilty than those who have been sentenced by the court.

Denied in London.

London, April 29.—The statement made by The Diggers' News of Johannesburg that "Barney" Barnato is closing all of his mines and selling all of his landed properties in the Rand, because of his resentment of sentences imposed upon Hammond, Rhodes and the other members of the Reform Union, is denied by Mr. Barnato's London agents.

Feeling in Johannesburg

Cape Town, April 29.—The Cape Argus, in an article upon the action of the High Court at Pretoria yesterday, in condemning to death the leaders of the Johannesburg reform union, says: "The awful sentence pronounced upon these men has created a painful sensation throughout the civilized world."

In Johannesburg the sentences shocked the entire town. The people were greatly excited and thronged the streets discussing the event. An immense public meeting was held yesterday afternoon to protest against the severity of the court's judgment. The greatest sympathy is felt for those among the condemned reformers who did not take any active part in the movement. Most of the theatres in Johannesburg as well as a majority of the stores were closed last evening, and business was practically suspended. The town was quiet.

There Was No Agreement.

Pretoria, April 29.—The State Attorney has officially denied the statement that any agreement had been made in accordance with which lighter penalties would be imposed upon the leaders in the Reform movement in consideration of their pleading guilty to the charges against them.

BRITISH PRESS OPINIONS.

The Sentence of Death Looked Upon as a Mere Bluff by Kruger.

London, April 29.—Commenting upon the judgment of the High Court at Pretoria, pronounced upon the members of the Johannesburg Reform Union yesterday, The Dublin Freeman's Journal says: "It is with peculiar satisfaction at the grim irony of the situation that Irishmen now witness the authors of coercion in the act of making a petition for mercy based upon the principle that political offences must not be regarded as ordinary crimes."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The condemned Reform leaders do not command overmuch sympathy. They had no business to fall as egregiously as they did; yet the commutation of their sentences is imperative. Their death in pursuance of the judgment of the Pretoria Court would mean war."

The St. James Gazette says: "The outrageous sentences imposed upon the Reformers is a mere bluff to enable President Kruger to pose as a magnanimous executive, but yesterday's brutal injustice will still remain to deepen the indignation of the country."

The Globe is similarly sarcastic at the expense of President Kruger's despatch to the Government saying that he hoped for a peaceful settlement of the troubles.

The Westminster Gazette counsels patience, but foresees the gravest troubles, even if the sentences of fine, imprisonment or banishment imposed upon the 60 lesser members of the Reform Committee are carried out.

A French View.

Paris, April 29.—The Figaro, in an article upon the European situation, dwells upon the many difficulties which are besetting England and predicts serious trouble for her in the Transvaal.

The Gaulois says that President Kruger's refusal to visit England, the assistance given to the Boers by Germany, the Egyptian campaign in the Soudan and in the Venezuelan dispute, which is still unsettled, place Great Britain in a position from which she may find it impossible to extricate herself without serious loss to her prestige.

To Incriminate Rhodes.

London, April 29.—The Daily Telegraph to-morrow will allude to the reported intention of the Government at Pretoria to publish certain documents bearing upon Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal as involving Cecil Rhodes, ex-Premier of the Cape Colony.

B.B.B. FOR THE BLOOD

B. B. B. Turns Bad Blood Into Rich Red Blood.

In Spring Time get Pure Blood by using B.B.B.

No other remedy possesses such perfect cleansing, healing and purifying properties as Burdock Blood Bitters. It not only cleanses internally, but it heals, when applied externally, all sores, ulcers, abscesses, scrofulous sores, blotches, eruptions, etc., leaving the skin clean and pure as a babe's. Taken internally it removes all morbid effete or waste matter from the system, and thoroughly regulates all the organs of the body, restoring the stomach, liver, bowels and blood to healthy action. In this way the sick become well, the weak strong, and those who have that tired, worn out feeling receive new vigor, and buoyant health and spirits, so that they feel like work. If your appetite is poor, your energy gone, your ambition lost, B.B.B. will restore you to the full enjoyment of happy vigorous life.

Fish Not Yet Spawning.

Inspector Breese states that the fish have not commenced to go on the beds yet and he thinks they will not begin to spawn until about the ninth of May, as usual. In a trip down the river yesterday he was able to steam along over submerged fences on farm lands without inconvenience. The crops of fall wheat near the river bank are therefore totally destroyed.

In the Back Lakes.

The Mary Ellen made her first trip of the season back the Lakes yesterday. Mr. A. L. Davis, of town, was one of the passengers and reports the cottages as having wintered well, though the ice damaged the wharves to considerable extent. A large number of the ice houses have been flooded, which means a loss of the ice which was stored during the winter.

Grocers' Early Closing.

The grocers are in favour, several of them, of inaugurating the early closing movement at once. It is claimed, that as the season, which out of doors is so pleasant, is at hand, that the principals, employees, as well as the delivery horses, should have the rest implied by closing at 6 p.m. The public can easily accomodate themselves to the shorter hours, which will be a great boon to all concerned in the grocery business. Persons who practice concluding an evening stroll by calling to order groceries, should think that by so doing the putting up of parcels and their delivery means the working of jaded employees and jaded horses, long after thoughtless shoppers are enjoying rest and sleep. Let the Golden Rule be followed.

Hair for the People of Canada's Great Northwest.

Prof. Dorenwend, the eminent hair specialist, is starting on his periodical trip across the continent to supply the hairless inhabitants with artificial coverings. On his way he is taking in a few favoured places in Ontario to supply old customers and such new ones as require his goods. He is noted from pole to pole and from ocean to ocean for making fine goods. For ladies who follow the dictation of fashion he makes frontpieces of curly or wavy hair, really more attractive than the natural growth. His switches for the back hair require no recommendation; the thousands in use testify to their popularity. For persons who have lost their hair he supplies wigs, toupees, etc., which replace the loss and cannot be detected. You can profit by an interview with the professor. He will be here for one day only, at the Huffman House, on Monday, May 4th.

FRUIT SPRAYING.

For the purpose of demonstrating the value of fruit spraying the Ontario Government is sending out Mr. Pettit, superintendent of the Experimental Fruit Spraying Stations, to take a trip through the Province and make practical tests in the orchards of the different districts. Mr. Pettit will operate in Mr. E. B. Edwards' orchard, on Saturday morning next, at nine o'clock, and all interested in the culture of fruit are invited to be present. Local experimenters have demonstrated to their own satisfaction that, by spraying, the value of a fruit crop can easily be doubled. Mr. Pettit will illustrate the mode of appliance, etc.

RESIGNATION OF MR. AND THE MISSES WHITE.

Their Coming Departure from Town Necessities the Severance of their Connection with St. Andrew's Sunday School.

There was a special meeting held by the trustees of St, Andrew's church last evening for the purpose of considering the resignations of Misses Hattie and Ella White and Mr. W. White from the Sunday School.

Mr. White has held the secretaryship of St. Andrew's Sunday school for years, and has been of very valuable assistance. He was also much respected and bad many friends in the Sunday school. Miss Ella White has been a teacher in the Sunday school, and her sister, Miss Hattie White, was assistant superintendent of the primary department.

There is universal sorrow expressed by the members of the Sunday school at their coming departure, as they are above to remove to Toronto where they intend to reside in future. The resignations will, therefore, necessarily have to be accepted.

Mr. Garnet Bell was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Mr. White, and he will be assisted by Mr. T. Waldon. Mrs. Stewart will take Miss Ella White's class, and Mrs. Matthewson will take Mrs. Stewart's class, Miss Tremble will take Miss Hattie White's place as assistant superintendent of the Primary Department.

In the absence of the pastor, Mr. G. W. Mulligan occupied the chair.

ENTERPRISE APPRECIATED.

Approval Gracefully Extended.

The EXAMINER has received the following from the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, (Western Division):—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—At the Board meeting of the W. F.M.S., yesterday, I was instructed to forward to you a hearty vote of thanks, passed by the members, for the very full and interesting account published in your paper of the annual meeting of the Society, held in Peterborough last week.

Respectfully yours,

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Representatives from the different orders among the C. P. R. employees waited upon General Superintendent Leonard the other day in Toronto. On March 1st last the C.P.R. adopted a system providing that for every offence committed by an employee a black mark shall be placed opposite his name, and after 60 such marks the employee shall be liable to dismissal. The men object to this regulation, and ask for its cancellation.

The C. P. R. yards are being cleaned up and the debris of the old sidewalk removed.

The recent high water in the creek has washed down a quantity of gravel and covered the mouth of the pipe which supplies the station with water. Mr. Wm. Taylor is busily engaged in probing around for the late intake with a crowbar.

Mr. George Adams, the genial and popular brakeman on the Lakefield train, was put through his facings last night by Asst. Supt. Webster and passed his examination with honour, which means that in the course of a week or two George will be in charge of a "sausage special." Whilst Peterborough will be sorry to lose him, still congratulations will be heartily extended on his promotion.

The changes which General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk is now inaugurating in the passenger department of the road, are all tending to reduce expenses. A number of expensive agencies which have hitherto been kept up by the Grand Trunk, are now to be abolished altogether, and a considerable saving is expected to result. The district passenger agencies at Detroit, Buffalo, Ogdensburg and Boston are to be done away with. Mr. George B. Oswald, district passenger agent at Ogdensburg, and Mr. N. J. Grace, occupying the same position at Boston, have accepted positions as travelling passenger agents, the former at St. Alban's, and the latter at Portland, Me. Only ticket offices will be maintained at Ogdensburg and Detroit, and at Boston the Central Vermont will look after the Grand Trunk's passenger business. District passenger agent D. S. Wagstaff is to be transferred from Detroit to Cincinnati. Mr. Wagstaff was in Montreal last week when this arrangement was made.

THE "INDEPENDENT" CANDIDATE.

Mr. Robert Newman, of Toronto, Brought out by the McCarthy Party.

Last night a well attended gathering of the sympathisers with the platform of Mr. D'Alton McCarthy was held in the True Blues' Hall.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Robert Weir, who intimated that the meeting was called to nominate an "independent" candidate to contest the representation of West Peterborough.

The next speaker was Mr. W. A. Shaw, who gave a vigorous address on the lines that in the remedial question both parties had forfeited their claim to the confidence of that class of electors the meeting represented.

Then followed Mr. Robert S. Newman, of Toronto, who, in the course of a lively and well received address, dissected the course of the old parties. He dealt particularly with the Remedial Bill matter, and claimed that the bill was an outrage on the freedom of the people of the Prairie Province.

A discussion ensued as to the advisability of nominating an independent candidate, and at length Mr. Robert C. Newman, of Toronto, was tendered the nomination, and accepted it amidst considerable enthusiasm.

Mr. Newman is a past grand master of the Orange True Blues. It will be remembered that he was nominated as the "independent" candidate in West Huron, but he retired, leaving the the field free to Mr. Weismiller, the Conservative candidate, who was defeated by the veteran M. C. Cameron, by a majority of 250, at the bye election last January, in spite of the help afforded by Mr. Newman's opportune retirement. Mr. Newman is said to be a good speaker, is a warm admirer of Clarke Wallace, and has been all his life a prominent Conservative. Mr. Newman, it is understood, is "independent" in politics to the extent that the sole plank in his platform in this campaign is opposition to the Remedial Bill.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

It is probable that the Conservative nomination convention will not be held next Saturday. It will be postponed until Saturday, May 9th, when the Hon. Mr. Dickey will be here.

The industrial election boom is still on and employment is being provided by the Conservatives for every able-bodied voter possible. There seems to be greater necessity than ever to do something to make the waverers stick.

Mr. Gus Sawers has been appointed Assistant Fishery Inspector to Mr. David Breese. The appointment is from date and will terminate in about six weeks' time—the end of the elections.

It is suggested that the lock master, Mr. Collins, and the janitor of the Post Office and Customs' House also have assistants appointed.

The coming fight in West Peterborough promises to be a triangular one. It is to be a right-angled triangle, too, with Mr. Richard Hall in the right angle.

The rumour is not confirmed that in view of the nomination last night, the Conservatives will not bring out a candidate. But they want a New-man for a candidate, instead of the old man, and they have him in last night's nominee — nominally at least.

In West Huron Mr. Newman retired in favour of Mr. Weismiller. Will he have Mr. Wes'miller "wid him" in West Peterborough?

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see by the EXAMINER that the Board of Trade wishes to press the council to take some action in regard to permanent improvements. By this term I understand that the Board especially refers to asphalt pavements.

If the members of the Board watched closely the proceedings of the council they would have learned long ago that the only reason why permanent pavements was not laid down on our principal business streets is that the system of sewerage is not yet completed.

The Board of Trade should carefully consider all sides of a question before seeking to give advice upon it. The members would hardly expect a pavement to be laid and ripped up again when a sewer was being constructed.

Mr. John Wardrope, of the Benson House, Lindsay, was in town to-day.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan has been engaged to sing at the Firemen's concert at Millbrook on the 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sanderson, who have through the winter months been sojourning in Toronto, have returned to their home, Lake street, Ashburnham.

Mr. Frank Sanderson and Mrs. McKee, of Smith, returned to Peterborough on Wednesday, having been called to Lenox, Iowa, to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. David McFee.

The many friends of Mr. W. H. Murray, formerly of Peterborough, while they will be pleased, will not be surprised at his success at Queen's College, Kingston, where he is pursuing his studies for the ministry. At the annual examinations Mr. Murray took the Sarah McClelland scholarship in theology, value $120. He also stood at the head of the pass list in first year Divinity and Apologetics, second in New Testament Exegesis; third in Old Testament Exegesis; second in Hebrew and well to the front in Church History. Mr. Murray's success will revive Ruskinian reminiscences in the minds of his old associates of the Fortnightly Club, of which he was one of the ablest and most prominent members.

A Great Book Free!

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., published the first edition of his great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labour and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him at above address 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing ONLY, and the book will be sent post paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50, except only that the books are in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send NOW before all are given away.

DAILY MOTTO.

Thursday, April 30th.

The doors of your soul are open on others and theirs on you . . . Simply to be in this world, whatever you are, is to exert an influence—an influence too, compared with which mere language and persuasion are feeble.

We know not half the power for good or ill,
Our daily lives possess o'er one another;
A careless word may help a soul to kill
Or by one look we may redeem our brother.

OBITUARY.

A Tribute to the Late Mrs. McFee.

We clip the following from the Lenox, Iowa, Time Table, with reference to the death of Mrs. McFee, formerly of Smith who was a daughter of Mrs. Francis Sanderson, of that township:

On Monday, April 20th, 1896, death came to the home of David McFee, and claimed his wife, and her going has not only crushed the husband's heart, but it has cast a shadow of sorrow over the entire community.

To make her death more sad, she leaves her two children suffering with disease, which has well nigh conquered them, and she was laid away without their knowledge that they were motherless.

The funeral occurred yesterday from the Presbyterian church, where the pastor, Rev. J. F. Hinkhouse, made use of the following words concerning her:

"Mrs. Margaret Sanderson McFee was born near the city of Peterborough, Canada, on the 17th day of May, 1854, and died at her home near Lenox, Iowa, on the 20th day of April, 1896, being 41 years, 11 months and 3 days old. On June 6th, 1881, she was married to Mr. David McFee. For six years after her marriage she and her husband resided in Canada. In the year 1887 they migrated to the States, and have since lived on a farm near Lenox. Mrs. McFee was the mother of two interesting children, Ethel and Frank. Early in life Mrs. McFee confessed her faith in Christ as her personal Saviour and connected herself with St. Paul's Presbyterian church, of Peterborough, Canada. It was the pleasure of the speaker to welcome her to the communion of the Presbyterian church of Lenox, July 5th, 1891.

In all the relations of life Mrs. McFee was a true womanly woman. She was a loving wife. Her husband safely trusted in her. She did not eat the bread of idleness. She was a gentle and self-sacrificing mother. Nothing was too much for her to do for her children; during the long illness of her son, Frank, she would allow no one to take her place, even that she might have necessary rest, and we are prone to say that she gave her life for her boy. She was a good neighbour, and was always willing to lend a helping hand. She was a faithful member of the church. It was her constant regret that she did not live nearer the sanctuary that she might enjoy its services, and yet few of the congregation, considering distance, were more faithful. I remember the last day she was at church, it was a stormy day and the roads were bad. I was somewhat suprised to see her. She was loyal to her church and pastor, and what is better, so far as my observation went, she was loyal to her Master.

In many ways Mrs. McFee was more than an ordinary woman and made such warm friends as is the lot of but few. She will be sadly missed by her husband, and yet more by her children who are lying on the sick bed. Everybody has a kind word for her and all show unmistakable signs of sorrow at her taking away. We all mourn for her but not as those who have no hope. We have many reasons to hope that she has gone to dwell in one of the many mansions that our master has gone to prepare for all those who love and serve him."

BATTALION NOTES.

Lt. Col. Cotton, of the 15th Battalion, Belleville, has issued the following memorandum to his men:

With the concurrence of the officers and non commissioned officers of the 15th battalion, A. L. I., it has been decided to form a regimental fund, similar to that of all other city battalions, in nearly all of which all ranks contribute their whole pay to this one general fund.

For the year 1896 the sum of $4 has been considered sufficient to meet all requirements, so as to completely equip the battalion as to helmets, leggings, numerals and drums, and to enable the corps to visit Peterborough on the 23rd of May, remaining in camp over the 24th and 25th and returning on the night of the 25th. Every preparation is being made in Peterborough for our entertainment and welcome. The 57th Peterborough Rangers propose to pay a return visit to Belleville on 30th June and 1st July next.

It is pointed out that there is a probability of the 4 day's pay withheld by the Department last year being granted to those who continue to serve this year in addition to their full 12 days' pay for 1896, being an increase of $2 per man.

In order that there may be intelligent co-operation among all ranks, with regard to this "plan of campaign" for the season, it may be advisable to indicate that our Battalion must be more than a mere local organization, if it is to hold its own with our sister city battalions; and if we leave Belleville we must leave thoroughly equipped. The Government does not furnish helmits, leggings, or numerals, and there is a large deficiency in these essential articles of uniform for a city corps, which must be supplied.

An estimate of the expenses of the proposed outing, calculated for each man (on a basis of 200 in all) places the expense at $3.25 per man. The equipment 70 cents per man—in all about $4. An enjoyable times is assured, as the citizens of Peterborough are sparing no trouble to make the visit a pleasant one.

The memorandum concludes: Let all unite as volunteers, not as mercenaries, to establish the good name and prestige of the battalion at home and abroad. Only through this united esprit du corps, and this union of resources, can we hope to hold the high position we have gained in the militia of Canada, and at the same time be a source of pride to the City of Belleville.

NEW BURIAL REGULATIONS.

An Ordinary Death Certificate Not Now Sufficient.

The Provincial Board of Health met the other morning, and the principal business taken up was a discussion of the new laws regulating births, marriages and deaths, which are very stringent. The appointment of a division registrar is provided for who shall make returns of all births, marriages and deaths twice a year, and medical practitioners and others are compelled to register events of that kind forthwith. Another important proviso is that the medical health officer shall forward the names of those guilty of breaches of the law to the Provincial authorities who will prosecute. Hitherto the matter has been left in the hands of local officers and no convictions have resulted.

Especially are the new regulations designed to prevent graveyard insurance by the co-operation of medical men or others. Every physician is required to report the death to the medical health officer of the town or district before giving a death certificate. The latter shall make investigations and report to the division registrar who will in turn, without charge, issue a permit to bury the deceased. The law applies to all deaths and puts heavy penalties on any undertaker, pall bearer, clergyman or grave digger who permits a burial without a certificate from the division registrar. Any doctor found to have furnished a false report as to the causes of death is subject to a $50 fine and discipline by the medical council.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

CRICKET.

There will be a practice on P. A. A. grounds, Saturday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, when sides will be chosen. Matches have been arranged with Trinity College School, Port Hope, for games during June, for the 1st and 2nd eleven. The secretary has also received communications from Ottawa, the Royal Military College, Kingston, and Lindsay, asking for dates. The probabilities are that Peterborough will have a strong eleven this coming season.

THE WHEEL.

The increased use of the bicycle is said to have caused a decrease in the consumption of beer, thus presenting the wheel in the new role of an effective temperance agent.

Gratz and McCall, the crack tandem team, will go into active training to-day at the Island, Toronto.

At a meeting of the Century Road Club committee last night in Toronto, Messrs. Kelly, Ramblers; Walton, R. C. B. C., and Schultz, Torontos, were appointed a special committee to arrange a new constitution. They will report at a meeting next month, when all wheelmen in the city and invited to attend to ratify the rules. It was decided that after May 15 next, all centuries to be recorded must be done under ten hours. It is likely the Century Road Club will issue sanctions for all road trials and road races in Canada and will appoint consuls for the different districts to look after the road and report there on.

That Angus McLeod, the sturdy Sarnia rider, will be the man of the year in Canada again looks like a foregone conclusion. Reports come from Brantford, where he is in training with five-mile champion McIntosh, that he is riding in great form, considering how young the year is and that he is heavier than when he went into training three weeks ago. In his first attempt to show anything like speed he rode a mile in 2.10, the last quarter close to 30 seconds, though only pedaling a 68 gear. McIntosh is not so far advanced as he is, and it will be two weeks before he will be asked any questions by trainer Jim Quirk, who is an expert conditioner. Fred. Westbrook, who was champion of Canada twelve years ago, is training at the track along with John Davidson, a brother of Harley. The pair will probably ride tandem. In a few weeks McLeod will be sent a fast mile, paced by tandems, and he is expected to chop more seconds off the two minute mark than any Canadian rider has ever done.

Coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc., yield at once to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, the successful throat and lung specific.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

The meeting on Monday night was automatic in nature. Having no leader it was bright, spiritual and active throughout. The hour of closing came before all had an opportunity to speak on the topic.

On Friday evening a farewell social will be tendered to Miss Quinn, who is going to the New York training school to prepare for missionary work.

The junior branch of this society will hereafter be conducted by a committee appointed by the Senior Society. On Saturday afternoon the Juniors will assemble at Hazel Brae for the purpose of enjoying an afternoon on the beautiful grounds of that place. This will be the last opportunity the girls and boys will have to enjoy an outing with Miss Quinn, who has been their superintendent for many years.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST.

The Charlotte street Epworth League of Christian Endeavour held their regular meeting on Monday evening. Instead of the regular topic there was a literary evening, under the management of the literary committee, Rev. J. J. Rae, convenor. There was a debate on the following subject "Resolved that the prodigal son was better than his brother," the affirmative being taken by Miss M. Sherlock, supported by Mr. Dawe and Mr. German. The negative side was taken by Mr. H. Godwin, supported by Miss E. Thomas and Miss DeLand. The papers presented were very interesting and instructive, showing a large amount of intelligence and forethought on the part of those who composed them. After the discussion, a committee was appointed to decide as to which side presented the strongest points on the subject.

The committee decided in favour of the negative, that the son who stayed at home was better than his brother. During the evening the League choir rendered some of their best selections, one of their hymns being "Christ receiveth sinful men." The attendance numbered eighty five. Our meetings are on the increase. We were glad to see a number of strangers.

THE LOCAL UNION.

Next Monday night the union meeting of all the societies in town will be held in George street Methodist church Sunday School room. This promises to be a bright rally. An invitation is extended to all to attend. The officers for the year will be appointed at this meeting.

THE GREAT TUPPER.

(W. A. Ratcliffe, Listowel.)

I, Tupper the old, have come. I'm here;
Some of the land, I speak, be'ken and hear;
I rolled you sun upon its gilded way,
I spoke, and lo! he gives you light by day;
I made and hung on high the moon,
I cause her face to shine in night's dark noon;
I made the sea, I made it roar and laugh;
I bowed the freckles on the tall giraffe;
I make the buds, the leaves, the streams to flow.
I make the dew, the rain, the ice, the snow,
Sir Mac has gone, and I your boss will be;
They told me, too, down by the sounding sea,
Your debt shall grow and grow from year to year.
For I will bridge the broad Atlantic tide,
And tunnel calm Pacific, rolling wide;
I'll melt the Arctic ice from round the pole,
I'll dig or bore a million-fathom hole
That I the axle of the earth may grease.
Hurrah for I I you idiotic geese.
I'll grind the Rockies into powder small,
I'll make St. Lawrence climb Niagara Fall;
I'll ditches dig and worthless bridges make.
If that won't do I'll pump out every lake.
This land I'll boom, I will, by gob,
Come heelers, one and all, who want a job.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 239 George Street.

Selling a $30.000 Stock of New Goods at Cost

can be made an easy and pleasant task even though we have to do without the profits, on the goods.

We do not want to be sensational, but we cannot help being the cause of sensations. Low prices of course are forcing these goods out quickly, but QUALITY outshines Price every time. This Sale means most for people who realize that economy doesn't mean low prices only. The cheap deception of naming an imaginary "value" as a basis for reduction is too common, and won't go down.

EVERYTHING AT COST

is the plain, unvarnished truth. No juggling with figures here. The crowds of people who are daily shopping at the Sale have implicit confidence—for absolutely nothing is risked in buying here. The Goods are All New. The low prices are not made to move stuff from past seasons, nor because of errors in buying. Nothing old handicaps our sale.

CARD.—We would esteem it a favour if our friends in town would do their principal shopping before Saturday, so as to leave that day for our friends from the country. It would help us to handle the crowds better.

ROBERT HALL,

385 GEORGE STREET. TELEPHONE 171.

The dream of Ponce de Leon was that he might discover the fountain of perpetual youth. He died searching for it. The fountain he was looking for was an impossibility, unnatural and chimerical. The nearest thing to the fountain of perpetual youth is a fountain of perpetual, perfect health. Health keeps people young. Sickness makes them old. Health means first of all, strength and regularity in the digestive functions. Put indigestible matter into the stomach and it is likely to find lodgment in the bowels. It will stop their action. Poisonous, refuse matter, which should have been thrown off, is retained in the body, and as it cannot go any place else, more or less of it gets into the blood. That's constipation. It is such a wonderfully simple thing that people do not regard it seriously. They let it run on, let it grow worse, become chronic, and show itself all over the body in fifty ways before they consider it important. Constipation causes nine-tenths of all human ailments. Its first symptoms do not seem very serious, but even they are very disagreeable. A few of them are sour stomach, flatulence, heartburn, distress after eating, foul breath, coated tongue, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sick and bilious headaches, general lassitude and debility. When any of these symptoms show themselves, you should immediately take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, according to directions. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, made on purpose to cure constipation. They do this perfectly and quickly, and they are the only preparation in the world that will do it. There are plenty of medicines that will give relief as long as you keep on taking them, but you can't stop. They don't cure; they give merely temporary relief. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets give immediate relief and produce a permanent cure.

PATRONS AND LIBERALS

Go Hand in Hand in North Ontario—Mr. Duncan Graham Nominated as an "Independent" Candidate.

Beaverton, April 28.—A joint convention of Patrons and Liberals of North Ontario was held here to-day for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the interests of both parties in the Dominion elections. The meeting was in every sense representative, delegates being present from every municipality in the riding, although, as one speaker stated, it is 185 miles long. The utmost harmony prevailed and Mr. Duncan Graham, Reeve of the Township of Mara, Warden of the County of Ontario, received the unanimous nomination of the assembly, his nomination being moved by Mr. Robt. C. Brandon, Patron nominee, and seconded by Dr. H. S. Bingham, Liberal nominee, both of whom retired in his favor

A HORSEMAN BEATEN

Murderous Assault on Mr. Joseph Martin

AT THE WOODBINE TRACK STABLES

The Wounded Man Taken to the General Hospital, Where He Lies in a Precarious Condition—Detectives Have a Very Poor Clue to Work on.

Toronto, April 29,

What may prove to be a brutal and cowardly murder occurred at the Woodbine last night. Joseph Martin, the well-known horseman, was assaulted and perhaps robbed of a large sum of money. About 9.40, as Billy Nicolls, a stable boy was entering his stable, he heard a sound in the direction of Martin's stable. He thought it was Martin dragging a bag of fodder along the ground. He called out, "Is that you, Joe?" He saw two men run and dodge around the corner. He went over and found Martin lying unconscious ad bleeding on the ground. He rushed away to give the alarm.

Dr. Cleland was summoned and the ambulance telephoned for. The injured man was taken to the General Hospital, where he now lies in a private ward in an unconscious condition. It is doubtful if he will recover.

As Nicolls is the only one who was near the spot at the time full particulars of the assault could not be ascertained. It is supposed that Martin had just finished attending to his horse for the night and was leaving the stall for the next one, in which he slept himself when the assault was committed. When found his clothing was disarranged and half his vest torn off and carried away. In the remaining half, in the inside pocket, was found $2085. His gold watch and chain and diamond pin were also missed by the thugs. These were taken possession of by Charlie Boyle, jr. Whether any money is missing or not is not known, but Martin was a man who always carried a large sum around with him.

The assault was an unnecessarily brutal one. Near the body was found a hardwood club about three feet long and a heavy iron bar four feet long and 12 inches in circumference. It is thought that the latter weapon was the one that struck the cruel blow. There is a wound on the victim's head 4 1-2 inches long. A portion of his hat was crushed into the cut. A projection on the iron bar fits the wound. Besides the wound in the head, there are marks of choking on the throat and both eyes appear to be partly gouged out. This, however, may have been caused by the crushing blow on the skull.

Detectives Cuddy, McGrath and Duncan were soon on the spot, but the information they could get was so meagre that it was of little use. When Detectives McGrath and Cuddy were searching for some sort of a clue, they found the other half of the vest, about 500 yards west of the first gate in Queen-street. It is thought from this that the men must have made for the city. There was nothing in the pockets of that portion of the vest. The only thing young Nicolls saw as the men ran was the gleam of a white shirt.

Joe Martin, known by many frequenters of the race tracks as "French Joe," is about 50 years of age, a widower, and of French descent. He stands about 5 feet high, and very muscular. His home is in Ogdensburg, N.Y. He has two brothers, Willie being one of the leading jockeys of the American turf, and for a number of years in the employ of Eugene Leigh. Joe had no confidence in banks and always carried his money on his person, be it $100 or $10,000. He once hid a large sum of money, amounting to about $3800 in a tin can, which he placed in a hole in his cellar. On his return home, after several months' absence, he discovered that his money had gone, but the thief was never discovered. He has never more than one horse at a time, his present one being Strathol, now quartered at Woodbine Park, and which he purchased in Kentucky last fall. Last spring he had Sir Arthur, which he disposed of to John Dyment of Orkney. He is a man of good habits and very successful with his horses.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

MRS. DYER SURE TO HANG.

The Reading Coroner's Jury Brings in a Verdict of Wilful Murder.

London, April 28.—The coroner's jury at Reading to-day returned a verdict of wilful murder against Mrs. Dyer. Overwhelming testimony was offered directly connecting the woman with the numerous cases of infanticide, which were recently unearthed by the accidental discovery of infants' bodies in the Thames. In several instances the bodies were wrapped in cloth, which witnesses identified as having belonged to Mrs. Dyer, and in many other ways a clear case was made out against her.

The woman prisoner, who is charged with the murder of a number of infants, has made a written confession, admitting the murders of which she is accused. It is probable that insanity will be her defence when her case comes to trial.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal in Its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Verdict Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kincardine, Ont., had made himself a hopeless invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever." Samuel Elya, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of Renfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Paisley, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through la grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, 'I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known bailiff of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but, thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians did not help me. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say that I am a new man."

A shrewd observer of human nature has said: "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." How important it is, then, that health and strength should be made the lot of the mothers of this country. The women of Canada are ready by scores to tell of the benefits that have come to them through the use of South American Nervine. Mrs. R. Armstrong, of Orillia, wife of the colporteur of the Bible Society of that town, suffered for six years from nervous prostration. Medical assistance did not help. "In all," she says, "I have taken six bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say this is the one medicine that has effected a cure in my case." Mrs. John Dinwoody has been for 40 years a resident of Flesherton, and has reached the allotted three-score years and ten. Three years ago her system sustained a severe shock through the death of a daughter. Nervine was recommended. She perseveringly took 12 bottles of medicine, with the result that she is to-day again strong and hearty. Hundreds of women suffer from impoverished blood and weakened nerves. "All vitality," says Mrs. J. Hallis, of Brampton, "seemed to have forsaken my system. I was unable to get relief from any source until I commenced taking South American Nervine. The results are most satisfactory—greater far than I could have hoped for." It came within the way of Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, to treat under the best physicians, both in Canada and England, for heart disease and nervous debility, but she failed to get any relief. "I was advised," she says, "to take South American Nervine, and must say I do believe that if I had not done so I would not be alive to-day."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

THE NEW COIFFURES.

AS WORN BY FOURTEEN COMELY BUT WAXEN LONDON LADIES.

Fringe, Coil and Bandelette—A New Pompadour and an Absolutely Ideal Headdress For a Lady Who Has Said Farewell to Her Youth.

A certain establishment in Great Portland street, says the London Lady's Pictorial is just now a centre of very particular interest, for part of it is taken up by an assemblage of fourteen comely ladies, whose faces represent all the various types of beauty, and whose hair, ranging in color from palest yellow to dusky black, is dressed in all the latest styles which Dame Fashion favors.

As to the styles of these coiffures, our sketches will give you an idea of some of the most notable varieties.

An eminently chic and Parisian coiffure is shown in Nos. 2 and 3, the fringe dressed high in front and the sides left almost plain, while the back is arranged in coils and twist which fall low on to the neck, the bodice of this smart little lady consisting of a foam of pale blue chiffon, with a spray of pink carnations crossing the left shoulder, while another Parisian coiffure, which you will do well to notice, has fair hair curled into a high point in front, and slightly waved at the sides, while from the loosely twisted back two little curls fall on the neck with exceedingly pretty effect; the bodice in this case being of eau de Nil silk gauze.

The very newest and most becoming form of the waved bandelette is shown in No. 6, where the waxen lady boasts of a particularly smart bodice of vivid blue velvet, outlined with jeweled galon and filled in with soft chiffon, a cluster of brilliant yellow nasturtiums on the shoulder giving an effective touch of contrasting color, and the neck being encircled by a soft band of chiffon arranged in front with outstanding bow ends. The dark hair is dressed very low on the forehead, the sides waved and the extreme centre only curled, while at the back it forms a series of little coils reaching almost to the crown.

I foresee a great future before this coiffure, for it is eminently becoming and calculated to soften and beautify almost any face.

Then again if you are not a lover of the fringe proper there is a new pompadour coiffure for you in No. 5, where the fair hair forms a sort of aureole round the face by being drawn back from the forehead in soft waved puffs, with only one stray lovelock as a relief, while at the back it is softly twisted and coiled in the narrow limits between two diamond side combs. If you want to imitate the bodice, you must know that it is of pale pink lisse with jet embroidery for trimming.

Last of all as far as our sketches are concerned, but by no means least in value, is an absolutely ideal coiffure for a lady who has said farewell to her youth with the advent of gray locks. Skillfully treated, nothing is more becoming than gray or silvery hair, and certainly this arrangement of softly waved locks, parted in the centre and drawn up high at the sides, where it is divided from the coiled and twisted back by jet side combs, is altogether admirable.

The Time for Building

Up the system is at this season. The cold weather has made unusual drains upon the vital forces. The blood has become impoverished and impure, and all the functions of the body suffer in consequence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great builder, because it is the One True Blood Purifier and nerve tonic.

Hood's Pills become the favourite cathartic with all who use them. All druggists. 25 cents.

The Natty Vests.

Fronts of sheer white linen lawn, finely tucked in clusters, with narrow Valenciennes edging sewn in the edge of one tuck in each cluster, or with insertions of the same lace set in between, are to be quite as much worn as they were last year. And ecru batiste made up in the same way is used for the same purpose. Closely fitted vests in truly tailor style are made of white silk, white cloth and all sorts of novelty vestings, and later in the season pique vests of white and pale tints will be worn. The new stiff linen shirt front fastens in the back, and over the high standing collar is a narrow tie of satin, which ties in a little bow in front.—New York Sun.

Cold in the Head

And Headache cured in 5 minutes. Catarrh cured in a week by using Dr. Hunt's Magic Snuff, 25 cents box. For sale by J. D. Tully and H. S. McDonald and all druggists.

Every person who is deprived of outdoor air and exercise, should take Miller's Compound Iron Pills. They keep the bowels regular and tone up the nervous system. 50 doses for 25 cents.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 339 George Street.

ESQUIMALT FORTIFICATIONS.

Britain Has Made This Point Her Stronghold on the Pacific.

Halifax, N.S., April 28.—In conversation with a British army officer, a Halifax reporter was informed that the strengthening and equipment of the military and naval station at Esquimalt, B.C., was proceeding in a very quiet way, and has been going on for a long time very quietly. He said it would be a surprising fact to know that this was now one of the most powerful and important naval stations in any part of the British Empire. Vast quantities of ammunition and war material of all kinds had been accumulated there in small shipments at a time. The fortifications were very extensive and as impregnable as time, patience and science could make them. The expenditure at this station was tremendous, and it was evidently the intention of the War Department and Admiralty to make this place the stronghold of the Pacific. The officer said it was not generally known, but it was true, nevertheless, that there was a very large number of engineers at Esquimalt, which was a condition arrived at in the same quiet manner, that the place had been armed and fortified. The works and fortifications of Esquimalt would surprise the world, the officer said, when some idea of their extent and importance became known.

WAS HE JACK THE RIPPER?

Feigenbaum's Lawyer Believes the Man Electrocuted at Sing Sing Really Was.

New York, April 28.—William S. Lawton, who was counsel for Carl Feigenbaum, the murderer who was executed at Sing Sing prison yesterday, made a statement to the effect that Feigenbaum was a murderer of the Jack the Ripper type, if indeed he was not the Whitechapel murderer. Mr. Lawton revealed many secrets of Feigenbaum's life and said he did so in the interests of science and the public welfare, now that the man was dead, and there was no longer any necessity for remaining silent. He said Feigenbaum told him that he had got into trouble solely because he was the victim of a mania, which was beyond his control, and which led him to mutilate women. Yet the murderer never directly admitted that he killed Mrs. Juliana Hoffmann, nor did he ever deny it to his counsel.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Zephyr, Ont., Aug. 12, 1895.

Dear Sirs.—It gives me much pleasure to testify to the fact that Scott's Sarsaparilla has caused a most remarkable change in my condition. I was so much run down I had to give up work, and felt as if life was not worth living. Mr. Dafoe, our local merchant, induced me to try Scott's Sarsaparilla. I did so and took four bottles. I am now feeling as I did years ago. I want to say for the benefit of those suffering from indigestion and broken down health, don't despair until you have given Scott's Sarsaparilla a trial.

WM. W. THOMPSON,

Anyone can verify these facts by writing either Mr. Thompson, or Mr. Dafoe, general merchant, Zephyr.

Dear Sirs.—In reply to your enquiry concerning the effect of your Scott's Sarsaparilla on heart disease I may frankly say it has been most beneficial to me. For a long time past I have frequently been severely ill and sometimes thought I was near death. Smothering spells and palpitation of the heart laid me up for days at a time. I am now at this date of writing as well as ever I was in my life, and have not had a return of heart trouble since taking the first dose of Scott's Sarsaparilla. Yours sincerely,

DUMMER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Dummer council met in Warsaw on April 18th. Present, all members. Minutes read and signed, after which the following business was transacted.

Re report of wharf, Stony Lake, moved by Thos. Webster and William Crowe, that report be adopted.—Carried.

Report of Thos. Webster, re covering of bridge on boundary between Dummer and Asphodel, amount $16.62. Moved by Rich. Crowe and Wm. Crowe, that report be received and that an order be drawn on the treasurer for $8.31, as Dummer's portion, in favour of James Webster.—Carried.

Moved by Robert McCracken and Thos. Webster that the township appropriate a special grant of $50.00 towards 9th line of Dummer, providing that the county grant a like amount of $50.00, and the Ontario Government grant the sum of $200.00, and that the clerk notify the Crown Land Commissioner to that effect.—Carried.

Application of Wm. Lyttle, re fence on lot 12, con. 12, Dummer—moved by Thos. Webster and Wm. Crowe that no action be taken.—Carried.

Moved by Thos. Webster and William Crowe, that an order be drawn for $5 for charity for Mrs. Geo. Matthews—Carried.

Communication from Mrs. Parker, re. extra charity for Wm. Wilson Moved by Thos. Webster and W. Crowe, that communication be laid over for further consideration—Carried.

Account from county treasurer for $27.46, due county for interest on old arrears. Moved by R. Crowe and Thomas Webster, that township treasurer have authority to pay same—Carried.

Moved by R. McCracken and W. Crowe, that an order be drawn for $60.76 for timber furnished for wharf at McCracken's Landing, Stony Lake, in favour of George Carveth—Carried.

Moved by T. Webster and R. McCracken that the following orders be paid viz: Jno. Hughes, bread for Henry Argue, $1.85; A. H. Stratton, minute book for council, $1.50; E. Hawthorne, attending adjourned and sale, $3; total, $15.35—Carried.

Communication from E. Pearse, County Treasurer, re lot 34, con. 6, Dummer. Moved by Richard Crowe and Thos. Webster, re communication, that the same be left in the hands of Richard Crowe and Jacob White to investigate and report at next meeting.—Carried.

Moved by Thos. Webster and Wm. Crowe,—That the Clerk notify the County Treasurer to readjust the assessment of lot 22, con. 8, by correcting roll so that assessment be the same as in 1894, viz., n half to be assessed to Wm. Kelly and south half to Edwin Smylie.—Carried.

Moved by Thos. Webster and Richard Crowe,—That D. H. Moore receive an abatement equal to the amount of taxes paid by Mr. Hoover on Island No. 34, Stony Lake, during years 1894 and 1895.—Carried.

Council adjourned to meet again on Saturday, May 30th, as a Court of Revision on Assessment Roll, 1896.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Mrs. Benj. Scott, Van Horn, Ont., says: "My heart caused me great uneasiness, my appetite failed and I became very weak and discouraged. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made me all right; I feel well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist

BAILLIEBORO.

At the Easter examinations, at the Guelph Agricultural College, Mr. W. T. Lucas of this place passed the first year's examinations, standing 9th in the class of 20. He took first class honours, standing well at the head, in "Agriculture," "Poultry," "Chemistry" and "Zoology" and second class honours in "Geology." Congratulations.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root.

the great Blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the Complexion and cures Constipation, 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

Men's Hats and Furnishings.

A certificate of character goes with every Hat we sell. Money does not come so easy to every man now that he should pay Hatters fancy prices for Felt Hats. Ours are the latest spring importations—and not the accumulations of a last years moth-eaten business. No Hatter would be content with our little marginal profit on first cost. Our New Spring Dollar Derby is the regular $1.75 Hat at the Hatters.

The Small Fish Swallow the Big.

It looks as if the little fish were going to swallow up the big ones.

While such unpretentious Dry Goods stores as ours are smoothly gliding over the waves of commercial depression, the "Great Easterns" are calling loudly for help and throwing out ballast in despair. Of a truth "All flesh is grass and all glory fades."

Too Much Style

That's the trouble. Going it blind must end seriously. We keep down expenses, living cheap, buying prudently, and the result is demonstrated every day in this store by SMALL PROFITS and QUICK RETURNS—not big profits and big blow.

We're not building factories with blood, nor conducting trade at the sword's point. Neither overloaded stocks nor syndicate interests handicap this business. Whatever the lowest prices are in any store in town, we can beat them here any day of the week. But—

NO SPASMODIC JUMPS
NO FORCED EFFORTS
NO ASSUMED SACRIFICES

Under no circumstances will we be undersold by any store in Dry Goods, Millinery and Mantles.

Come here, get our prices. Make any comparison you like.

No furniture given away—but all the value in your Dry Goods purchases.

BULUWAYO RELIEVED

Recent Defeats Have Weakened the Insurgents.

COLLIERY HORROR IN YORKSHIRE

One Hundred Miners Entombed Alive—Twenty-Five Rescued, Badly Burned—The Other Seventy-Five Believed to Have Perished—The Imperial Parliament.

London, April 30.—The Daily Telegram says that it hears that a new Impi is approaching Buluwayo, and that, although the rebels are partly demoralized by their recent defeats, they do not show any signs of desisting in their hostile attempts.

Buluwayo, April 30.—The recent actions with the insurgent Matabeles have resulted in inflicting such severe loss upon them that Buluwayo is looked upon as being practically relieved, and it is no longer likely that the natives will attack the town in force, although they still number more than 15,000 armed men in this vicinity.

Capetown, April 30.—Earl Grey, the new administrator of the British South Africa Co., has arrived at Buluwayo.

AN AWFUL MINE DISASTER.

The Lives of Seventy-Five Men are in Doubt—Some Rescued.

London, April 30.—An explosion occurred in the Micklefield colliery in Yorkshire to-day, cutting off the escape of 100 men, who are now entombed in the mine. Searching parties are endeavoring to find and rescue them. The explosion is ascribed to the use of naked lights.

Twenty-five men have been rescued from the Micklefield pit, all of them terribly burned. It is feared the others have perished.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S ENERGY

Took the Wind Out of the Sails of President Kruger.

London, April 30.—An editorial in The Daily Telegraph (Liberal) congratulates the country upon Mr. Chamberlain's energetic telegram to President Kruger, informing him that the Government had already announced to Parliament, before hearing of the commutation of the death sentences, that he would commute them. This message, The Telegraph thinks, frustrated a renewal of President Kruger's clemency and magnanimity trick to please Germany.

The Chronicle (Liberal), on the contrary, thinks it is time for England to drop her bullying tone, "which does no credit to the nation, and which cannot be translated into effective action." The Chronicle adds: "Better wait for the healing influence of time."

The Daily News (Liberal) says in an editorial: "President Kruger has justified his reputation for shrewdness and moderation. He will make no unworthy use of his prisoners, because he is not a savage. But as he is neither a fool nor an angel, he can hardly be expected to make no use whatever of them." Judge Gregorowski was one of the judges named as likely to be called from the outside to judge the case. He is an ex-judge of the Orange Free State, of Polish descent, born in Cape Colony.

The Standard (Conservative), in an editorial, asks why the fact that Roman-Dutch law was invoked was not announced at the beginning of the trial. The Roman-Dutch law left no discretion with the trial judge when the accused pleaded guilty about imposing the death sentence. The proceedings were only saved from being a scandalous farce by the needless suffering and anxiety entailed.

The expressions of the German press as reported in despatches to the morning papers are unanimous in hoping for a commutation of the death sentences, but the comments betray a strong anti-British feeling.

EX-SPEAKER WHITE

Is Not With the Government in Regard to Remedial Legislation.

Ottawa, April 30.—(Special)—Hon. Peter White, ex-Speaker of the House of Commons, has issued his address to the electors of North Renfrew. It contains the statement: "I am opposed to the policy of the Government on the Manitoba school question, as I am fully convinced that no legislation of the Dominion Parliament on a question so essentially provincial as education, can be effectually enforced on an unwilling people, and I cannot help thinking that the adoption of such legislation will bring about a conflict with the Province of Manitoba and become a fruitful source of irritation, which should, if possible, be avoided."

Col Bacon, secretary of the D.R.A., two or three weeks ago sent out an unofficial letter to the first 25 of the Bisley hundred, asking if they would be prepared to cross the Atlantic this year in the event of their being chosen on the team. The answers came promptly enough, but to the official notice sent out last week the same ready response is not forthcoming. Only six of the first twenty having signified their willingness to go to England. Among these six are Major Macdonald and Sergt. Harp of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, Ont. Sergt. Bell of the Royal Grenadiers has intimated.

Representations have been made to the Fisheries Department that the close season for maskinonge is too long, as far as Rice Lake is concerned, and that this species of fish have finished spawning by the 20th of May. It is claimed that by the 15th of June, until which date the close season extends, the weeds are so thick in Rice Lake as to render fishing for maskinonge very difficult. In view of these representations an order in council has been passed, providing that the close season for maskinonge in Rice Lake shall be from April 15th to June 1, both days inclusive.

The Lord Bishop of Ottawa, formerly of Niagara, arrived at Ottawa this afternoon and was met by a large and influential delegation of the Anglican community as well as by the Mayor and members of the City Council. This evening a public reception was tendered to the Bishop in the drill hall, when nearly 1000 people were present. Among them were the Supreme Court Judges, Sir Chas. Tupper and all the ex-Ministers. Addresses of welcome were presented by the Mayor and corporation, the clergy of the diocese, the lay delegates and the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Bishop Hamilton created a very favorable impression.

J. L. Payne, who was private secretary to Sir Mackenzie Bowell, will perform like duty for Sir Charles Tupper.

Mr. Desjardins said good-bye to official life to-day. Before his departure Sir Charles Tupper saw him and thanked him cordially for his services as member of the Government and expressed the hope that he would be able to render good assistance in the coming fight.

The banquet which it was proposed to give the Premier in Montreal on Monday has been postponed on account of other important political engagements.

THE NEW FRENCH CABINET.

M. Meline Outlines the Policy of His Government—Will Pass Laws for the Working Classes.

Paris, April 30.—M. Meline, president of the new Council of Ministers, made a statement of the policy of the new Cabinet in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. The Chamber received the statement very coldly, scarcely half of the Deputies applauding his utterances, and the Socialists interposing their accustomed interruptions. The new Premier began by saying that he would not attempt to disguise the difficulty of the task before him and his colleagues, but, he said, there are times when politicians who are devoted to their country have no right to shirk the burdens of office. We impose upon ourselves the policy of pacification and will endeavor to restore harmony among the public powers, which is indispensable. The Chamber exercises dominant action in the general direction of politics, he continued, but it is impossible to legislate and govern without the co-operation of the Senate.

M. Meline then made an appeal for reciprocal goodwill toward the Ministry on the part of the Chambers, which he said would solve and settle all discords. He was convinced, he said, that the Chamber contained a Republican majority which was resolved to shelve all differences and devote its efforts to the establishment of Democratic reforms and pass laws in the interests of the working classes. The surest means of putting an effectual bar in the way of revolution, he declared, would be to remain faithful to the tradition that justice and solidarity form the rampart of the Republican party.

M. Meline placed the fiscal reforms before the Chamber as matters of the first importance. The probate laws and the laws regulating the traffic in drink, he said, would be introduced in the budget, and would be operated under a system which dispensed with an inquisitor or any other arbitrary measures and assure a better division of the direct taxation, thus relieving small tax payers. The Government, he said, would vigilantly apply the economies which the nation demanded and simplify the present complicated administration. They would also spare no effort to aid the interests of agriculture, to complete the national defense, to regulate the hours of labor and the liability of employers and to organize pension funds. The prosperity of the nation, he declared, depended upon Parliament abandoning sterile discussion and limiting its labors to such legislation as would serve the interests of the working classes. The stagnation of business had been chiefly caused by an uncertain and narrow policy. Order and the progress of labor was imperative and equally advantageous in home and foreign affairs. France, he said, is weary of agitation and wants a truce from enfeebling dissensions. In conclusion, he said he felt convinced that Parliament would respond to the Government's statement, and help the Ministers to carry out their policy of peace and progress.

TAILLON AND ROSS

Will Join the Cabinet of Sir Charles Tupper.

MR. ANGERS WILL BE THE LEADER of the Quebec Wing—What a Quebec Politician Says About Mr. Chapleau's Real Reason for Not Joining the Cabinet Latest Ottawa Gossip.

Ottawa, April 30.—(Midnight Special)—Messrs. Angers and Taillon arrived late to-night, and it is now said both will be in the new Cabinet, with Speaker Ross of the Senate as the third Quebec Minister. It is said Mr. Angers will be President of the Council, and will run for either Montmorency or L'Islet. Mr. Taillon will be Postmaster-General and Mr. Ross without portfolio.

Sir Charles Tupper to-day received the following cablegram from London: "I desire to tender my personal and hearty congratulations on your acceptance of the office of Prime Minister of Canada. (Signed) Chamberlain."

This has been a great day of conferences among the politicians and the end is not yet. Sir Charles Tupper has no announcement to make to-day. Possibly he may have to-morrow, both with regard to the Ontario and the Quebec personnel of his Cabinet, which is by no means decided.

Leading Quebec politicians have been thick on the ground for the last two or three days and more, including Commissioner of Works Nantel, who arrived to-day.

While it is generally believed that Mr. Angers yesterday accepted the offer of a portfolio, it is by no means so certain that Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Ouimet will be his colleagues.

A prominent French Canadian told me to-night that Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Ouimet were certainly going, and that the presence of the Quebec contingent here during the past few days was for the purpose of bringing pressure on Sir Charles Tupper on their behalf.

Mr. Angers' acceptance of a portfolio implies that he will be the Quebec leader, and that he will practically choose his own colleagues. The names of Premier Taillon and Hon. Louis Beaubien, ex-Minister of Agriculture, are mentioned in this connection.

As regards Ontario, it is said to-day that Sir Charles has not yet despaired of getting B. B. Osler, Q.C. Under any circumstances, the Premier has determined to secure a strong man.

Mr. Ives left for Montreal this afternoon. Before his departure he was gratified by being asked by the Premier to retain his present portfolio.

Hugh John Macdonald, who is to be Minister of the Interior, arrived here to-night at 8.30, having been on the road from Winnipeg since Sunday afternoon. Mr. Macdonald was met at the station by Dr. Montague and Lieut.-Col. J. Pennington Macpherson, his cousin, whose guest Mr. Macdonald is for the present. Speaking to your correspondent he said that while he had come to Ottawa at Sir Charles Tupper's request it would be premature to say that he had accepted a portfolio. He had an appointment with the Premier for 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and after that he might be in a position to speak. He had no doubt about Winnipeg returning to its old political faith.

Confirmed from Montreal.

Montreal, April 30.—(Midnight Special)—Old Quebec is wild with excitement to-night and if Ontario has promised her Premier to Mr. Laurier, Quebec has sent hers to aid Sir Charles Tupper. The Quebec Government is without a head, as Hon. L. O. Taillon has resigned the Premiership and has gone to Ottawa to be sworn in a member of the Tupper Administration, and he will have for French colleagues Hon. A. R. Angers, Hon. Alphonse Desjardins and Hon. J. J. Ross, ex-Premier.

Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain is here, and it looks as if he would be called to form a new Government.

TO HELP BRITISH FARMERS.

The Bill Respecting the Rating of Occupiers of Agricultural Land Gets a Second Reading.

London, April 30.—The House this evening passed on its second reading the bill to amend the law respecting the rating of occupiers of agricultural land in England. This is the bill that was introduced on April 21 by the Rt. Hon. Henry Chaplin, president of the Local Government Board, and provides that after March 31, 1897, agricultural land is to be assessed upon a proportion only of its full ratable value instead of upon the whole ratable value. The effect of the bill will be to take from the Imperial exchequer the sum of £2,000,000 yearly. The vote stood 333 to 156.

MR. MARTIN NOMINATED.

He Will Run Again in Winnipeg in the Liberal Interests

Winnipeg, April 30.—(Special — The Eastern Assiniboia Conservative convention to-day renominated Mr. McDonald, late member for the Commons. One hundred and thirteen delegates were present and much enthusiasm prevailed.

The Liberals of the city met to-night and formally nominated Mr. Martin for the Commons. The organization for the campaign was also perfected.

NOT BUILT THAT WAY.

The Brantford Expositor remarks that Sir Donald Smith says he wants no salary as Canadian High Commissioner, and adds that he is evidently "not built on the Tupper plan."

Our contemporary is right. The habit of receptivity is an integral part of the Tupper build. The Tuppers are expensive luxuries, for which the people pay very high prices, and as in the case with many luxuries, without any corresponding advantages. Yesterday we called attention to the waste of money under the abuse of the superannuation system, by which it appeared that office holders were forced out of positions to give place to party heelers, and pensioned so heavily that the people were practically paying two salaries for doing the work of one office. Let us look for a moment at what the Tuppers have cost the country. The people have a right to know the figures for it is their money these gentlemen have been sucking up as a sponge absorbs water. A single year is enough as a sample. First there is Sir Charles Hibbert, the younger one—he, during the season of 1893, drew the following sums from the treasury :—Salary as Minister of Justice, $7,000; indemnity as M.P., $1,000; expenses of a trip to England in December, '93, $758.30 ; trip to Paris re Behring Sea matter, $4,428.95 ; other travelling expenses, $180 ; cab hire at Ottawa, $65.50 ; to a private secretary, $600 ; to Joseph Pope, who acted as Secretary to Sir Charles during the Behring Sea arbitration, $3,387.50 ; to A. J. Horan, another private secretary, $538, and there may be others—but these are in the report—a total of $16,960. Then there is Sir Charles, the elder, too, he is doing fairly well as Canada's high Commissioner, though just why she requires such an office or just what Sir Charles does apart from reading eulogistic notices of himself in the Canada Gazette, or being responsible for the exclusion of Canadian live cattle from the British market, there is difficulty in discovering. He is well paid for whatever he does at any rate, for the accounts show the following figures :—

Salary of Sir Charles as High Commissioner, $10,000 ; Contingencies of Office, $11,022.00 ; salaries of office help, $7,834 ; a total of $29,856.50 or a grand total for Tupperism of $45,856.50.

Sir Donald Smith may work as High Commissioner without pay, but as seen above Sir Charles Tupper is not built that way. Sir Charles is not only expensive in the way of personal absorption of the public funds by way of salary and perquisites, but he is a boomster of the first water. Wild and reckless schemes that cost immense sums are his special accomplishment, and it is such an expensive man that the Conservatives have allowed to force himself upon the party as premier—"the prince of political cracksmen" as the Mail called him. He is the man whom the people are asked to place in charge of the public purse strings. Sir John Macdonald was extravagant with a political extravagance, but the birdlime of selfish greed did not ooze from his finger tips, and as far as personal profit was concerned "his hands were clean." At a time when taxation is at the highest notch, when prices of farm produce are at about their lowest, when it takes a third of the revenue to pay interest on the public debt, which has increased under the present government at the rate of about six millions a year ; when the annual expenditure is increasing almost at the rate of a million dollars a year, is it a time to place in power a government, under the leadership of a prime minister whose equal for extravagant schemes and waste of the public funds has never been produced in the history of the country? The electors have the matter in their own hands. If they are blind to their own interests they will have to suffer the consequences.

A SMALL BUSINESS.

The Monetary Times is by no means a Liberal journal. Yet this is what it has to say of a scandal that is being repeated in many forms :—

"There has been sent us from an Ontario town a House of Commons envelope, bearing the frank of "S.S.R., M.P.," addressed to a commercial firm, and containing a four-page printed sheet, entitled "A Political Review ; circulation 350,000." This so-called review contains a report of a speech by Sir Donald Smith ; also a criticism, in the main disparaging, of Mr. Laurier, the leader of the Opposition in Parliament, and some attacks on free trade and the Liberal party. These occupy seventeen out of the twenty-four columns of the sheet, the remaining seven columns being occupied by advertisements of an alleged rheumatic cure, of which the member of Parliament whose initials frank the copies, is the proprietor. A more shameless use of the mails to puff a patent medicine at the expense of the country we have never seen. No wonder that even a Tory journal, disgusted at such a proceeding, reproves, albeit under the disguise of a pleasantry, such an indefensible proceeding."

Here is another explanation why our post office department falls tens of thousands of dollars short of paying expenses. Franking, or sending matter free through the mails, is privilege accorded to members Parliamen. But Parliament is now dissolved and there is no member of Parliament that has a right to the privilege, and seeing that Canada is practically without a government, no member of a government has any moral right to prostitute the the mail service to the carrying of party campaign literature. A gentleman in town to-day received a sealed official envelope of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, franked through the mails by W. H. Montague, quasi-Minister of Agriculture. And what did this document contain? A bundle of Conservative campaign literature, endorsed by rubber stamp, thus : "With the compliments of Sam Hughes, M. P."—not the falsehood implied in the addition of "M. P." Sam Hughes is no M. P. and has no more right to have campaign literature sent through the mails than any other citizen. The bulk of the enclosure was literature consisting of speeches in favour of the coercion of Manitoba. Every politician should be man enough to pay his personal election expenses and not use a subterfuge to compel the people, the great majority of whom do not believe in the rubbish he scatters broadcast at their expense, to do so. Such is Conservative statesmanship.

THE STRUGGLE IN CUBA.

The Flow of Human Blood Still Continues —The American Filibusterers.

Havana, April 30.—Col. Ardanas has arrived at Holguin. He reports that his command had two engagements with rebels near Zanja and Calbaguan. The insurgents had many killed and wounded. The troops had three men killed and two officers and 15 privates wounded.

Capt. Pozo, commanding the Palma guerillas, who captured two men belonging to the Laborde expedition, had a hot fight with rebels near Rio Blanco. Capt. Pozo was seriously wounded. A lieutenant was slightly wounded and one of the guerillas was killed. The rebels lost seven killed and many wounded.

A rebel band commanded by Bandera attacked the town of Artemisa, which is situated on the military line across the island. They burned a few houses and the neighboring cane fields. The garrison repulsed the attack from the trenches, using artillery. The troops had two wounded.

News reaches here of an important battle on Friday last between Col. Seguras' command and the rebels under Roban, Nunez and Zayas, about four leagues southwest of Sagua La Grande. No details have been made public.

Consul-General Williams to-day visited Capt.-Gen. Weyler and the marine authorities on behalf of the Americans alleged to have been captured on the filibustering schooner Competitor, which was seized Tuesday off the north coast of the Province of Pinar Del Rio. Mr. Williams refused to say what the result of his interview was, declaring that the Consulate was no news agency.

GENERAL HAMILTON NEWS.

Inspector Rogers Will Attempt to Locate the Masked Burglars—Liquor at the H.J.C. Track.

Hamilton, April 30.—(Special)—The Saltfleet Township Council was waited on last evening by a deputation of Beach residents, who urged that the Radial Railway track be placed in the centre of the Beach-road. The council and the deputation will go over the road on Saturday.

No more objections can now be made to the selling of liquor in the H. J.C. grand stand, as the South Wentworth License Commissioners to-day cancelled the license for the Road House, and will grant one to J. W. Jardine for the house adjoining the grand stand. Licenses were granted to Mrs. Perry at the Beach and to Mrs. Geiger at the Halfway House.

The Hospital Committee this evening considered and approved of the bylaw to transfer the management of the hospital to a board of governors, composed of the Mayor, chairman of the Finance Commitee and five citizens, not members of the council, to be appointed by it, and to hol doffice for one, two, three, four and five years respectively, retiring member each year, to be eligible for reelection for 5 years. Bylaws, rules and regulations made by the board are ti be subject to veto by a two-thirds vote of the council. The citizens recommended for appointment are ex-Mayor George Roach, Col. Moore, Major McLaren, George Rutherford and John Billings.

Returning Officer George H. Mills received last night the election writ for Hamilton.

Andrew Onderdonk is in town to-day.

Provincial Detective Rogers visited the Kitchen homestead near Copetown yesterday, and returned to Toronto to-day. He will go to work on the case.

SCOTT JACKSON ON THE STAND.

The Prisoner Pretends to Tell What He Knows of Pearl Bryan's Death.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 30.—Scott Jackson, charged with the murder of Pearl Bryan, took the witness stand in his own behalf to-day. The decision to allow him to testify was reached after a long consultation with the prisoner by his attorneys. It is understood that Jackson was not only willing to tell his story to the court, and jury, but even anxious to do so. Jackson, in reply to questions from his attorney, said that he was born at Wiscasset, Maine, March 1, 1869. His father was port captain of the International Marine Company, the boats plying between Jersey City and Antwerp. When he was 14 years old he came to this city. Jackson detailed his life up to the time he first met Pearl Bryan, which was during the holidays of 1894. He referred to the conversation he had with Will Wood at various times on the subject of the girl's condition. He said that Wood was very much concerned about her, and if something was not done soon he would have to leave the town. Jackson said that the last time he saw Pearl alive was on the Wednesday before her body was discovered. He says it was on Tuesday night that he was with her at Wallingford's saloon.

THIS MEANS DOLLAR WHEAT.

It Has Been Raining in Manitoba Continuously Since Tuesday Noon—Means a Late Wheat Crop.

Winnipeg, April 30.—(Special)—It has been raining contnuously since Tuesday noon, and the rain shows no sign of abatement. Thousands of acres of prairie are covered with water, and the streets in the city are almost impassable. Even if the weather should clear at once, no plowing or seeding could be done till the middle of next week. This makes it a certainty that Manitoba's acreage this year will be fully 50 per cent. less than last year. Those farmers who held their wheat are congratulating themselves that the price is sure to go up, and may reach the dollar mark. It looks as if many farmers in the low lying districts will be unable to get in any wheat early enough to escape killing by frost.

A Great Book Free!

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y. published the first edition of his great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labour and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him at above address 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing ONLY, and the book will be sent post paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50, except only that the books are in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send NOW before all are given away.

Prisoners Well Treated.

London, April 30.—A despatch to The Times, from Pretoria, dated April 29, says the health if John Hays Hammond is in such a state as to cause great anxiety to his friends. J. S. Curtis, the mining engineer of New York, is confined to his room with an affection of the brain.

Mrs. Kruger, wife of the President of the Transvaal Republic, has expressed her sympathy with the wives and children of all the condemned men.

The Times correspondent at Pretoria visited the prisoners yesterday afternoon and reports them all well except Hammond, who, however, is as well as can be expected, seeing that he is obliged to eat the ordinary prison fare, which, in the state of his health, is anything but beneficial to him. New rules go into operation on April 30 (today), the correspondent says, which permit the prisoners to have better food and to enjoy many comforts which are now denied them.

The four leaders who were condemned to death are confined in one cell, where they are visited by crowds of their relatives and friends. In view of the circumstances, the correspondent adds, the prisoners are well treated.

Answered With Dignity.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Olney on the 28th inst., telegraphed to the Secretary of State of the South African Republic that it was assumed that the death sentence of Hammond and other American citizens was imposed with the understanding that the sentence would be commuted and that he would like assurance on that point. The answer came to-day from the Transvaal Secretary as follows:

"There was no talk of an understanding between Judge and Government before the sentence of death was pronounced, but before the reception of your telegram the Executive Council had resolved to let mercy take the place of justice and not enforce the death penalty."

John D. Mills to Run Again.

Halifax, N.S., April 30.—Bridgetown, N.S.: The Annapolis County Conservative convention was held here to-day and Mr. J. B. Mills was re-nominated to contest the constituency for the Commons. The candidate made a vigorous address to the convention, speaking for an hour.

DEVELOPMENTS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Place Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in an Awkward Position—Tell-Tale Telegrams Discovered Which Throw New Light on the Transvaal Matter.

London, April 30.—A vastly different aspect has been put on the Transvaal trouble by the publication of a number of cipher telegraphic despatches, translations of which will be found below. It has been claimed by many interested persons that Cecil Rhodes, the head and front of the British South Africa Co., and others of that concern were not cognizant of the intended raid into the territory of a friendly state and had no knowledge that a revolution was pending in Johannesburg. Some critics of the company, notably Mr. Labouchere, M.P., editor of The Truth, held that the company's officials were fully aware of the intended raid and scathingly arraigned them for their duplicity and hyprocrisy. This called down upon his head vituperative abuse from certain journals against which there is more than a suspicion that they are subsidized by the company. It appears now, however, to be pretty firmly established that the events satisfied Mr. Labouchere's criticism and this fact is admitted even by the papers that have heretofore been firm in their defense of Mr. Rhodes and his colleagues.

The publication of the telegrams will prove a rather severe blow to the diplomacy of Mr. Chamberlain, who has been lauded on all sides for the great skill he had displayed in the negotiations he had with President Kruger. President Kruger's policy in keeping all knowledge of the incriminating telegrams from the public until the most opportune time arrived for the publication, is considered, even by those who can in no sense be called his admirers, as a master stroke of diplomatic sagacity. It leaves the whole crowd of "Chartered freebooters," as they have been termed, without a leg to stand upon. So convincing is the proof of their complicity in the crime that some of their apologists intimate that the despatches are forgeries or that they have been wilfully mistranslated.

They prove, if correct, that for some time prior to Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal the leading officials of the "Chartered Company" were fully aware of what was going on and that Dr. Jameson was acting under instructions for some one high in the councils of the company. When the crash came the prime moyers in the agitation scurried for shelter and Dr. Jameson made a scapegoat for the whole lot. As it at present stands, President Kruger is master of the situation and considerable interest is felt as to what the next move will be.

It is noticeable that the papers that were so bitter in their commente against the Transvaal revolt, when the announcement was made of the sentences that had been passed upon the Pretoria prisoners, are now more mild in speaking of the matter. Messrs. Belt, Rhodes and Harris will very likely be called upon to explain their connection with the conspiracy and a further explanation will be due from Mr. Rhodes of the assurances he gave to Mr. Chamberlain during his recent visit to England.

TELL-TALE DESPATCHES

Which Go to Show Where the British South Africa Company Was.

Pretoria, April 30.—A great sensation has been caused here by the publication of a series of telegrams that was entered as evidence at the trial of the members of the Reform Committee. These telegrams, it is claimed here, show beyond any doubt whatever that the raid of Dr. Jameson was not the result of a desire to protect the women and children of Johannesburg in the event of a rising there, as has been so sedulously argued by certain English newspapers, but was the outcome of a carefully prearranged plan on the part of certain individuals of the South Africa Co. to seize a portion of the Transvaal, a portion well known to be the rich gold reef of Witwatersrand, on which Johannesburg is located.

Some of the telegrams were in cipher and on their face were apparently harmless business messages that had passed between different men connected with Johannesburg and the South Africa Company. At the time Dr. Jameson and his companions were captured by the Boers the latter found in the doctor's bag a key for code messages. This was taken possession of by the authorities, who later obtained the messages containing words corresponding with those in the key. In certain cases the words in the original messages could not be deciphered by use of the key and in these cases the code words were read as part of the despatches.

The dates of the despatches range from Dec. 7 to Dec. 29. The following are extracts from the messages:

"Dec. 11.—ColRhodes, Johannesburg, to White Mafeking: Inform Jameson not to send more heroes before January. No more room for them."

"Dec. 13.—Stevens, Cape Town to Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg: Jameson wires most strongly urging no postponing shareholders' meeting. Let Hammond inform weak partners that any delay most injurious."

"Dec. 18.—Hammond, Johannesburg, to Cecil Rhodes, Cape Town: Cannot arrange respective interests without Beit. Flotation must be delayed until his arrival."

On Dec. 19 Beit replied that his health prevented him from going to Johannesburg, and asking where the hitch was.

"Dec. 18—Doctor Wolf, Johannesburg to White Pitsani. I suggest that you immediately instruct Major Grey to forward as soon as possible, 200,000 founds of surplus ammunition to Gardner Williams."

"Dec. 21—Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg, to 'Charter,' Cape Town: Inform C. J. Rhodes that chairman won't leave unless special letter inviting him. Definite assurance been given by all of us on that day of flotation you and he will leave. There must be no departure from this, as many subscribers agreed to take shares on this assurance. You responsible for chairman's departure."

"Dec. 21—Harris, Cape Town, to Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg: Beit has telegraphed urging start flotation new company. Reply when you can float, so I may advise Jameson same day."

Harris also sent a despatch to the above to Dr. Jameson at Pitsani.

"Dec. 23 — Harris, Cape Town, to Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg: Beit has wired Phillips assuring him that chairman starts immediately the flotation takes place. No invitation necessary.'"

"December 23—Harris, Cape Town, to Jameson, Pitsani: Company will be floated next Saturday midnight. They are very anxious that you do not start before 9 and secure telegraph offices' silence. We suspect Transvaal getting slightly aware."

"December 26—Cecil Rhodes, Johannesburg, to Charter, Cape Town: "Absolutely necessary, postpone flotation. Leonard left last night, Cape Town."

On the above date Harris repeated the last mentioned despatch to Dr. Jameson, adding: "You must not move until you hear again. Too awful. Very sorry."

On the same date Jameson's brother telegraphed from Johannesburg to Jameson, informing him that it had become necessary to postpone the "flotation" through unforeseen and unexpected circumstances, and "until we have C. J. Rhodes'" absolute pledge that the authority of the Imperial Government will not be insisted upon."

On December 27 Harris sent a despatch to Dr. Jameson, referring to a shareholders' meeting to be held on January 6, and requesting him to wait patiently.

On the same day Harris sent another despatch to Dr. Jameson, referring to the distribution of the British South Africa Company police.

On Dec. 28 Harris, in another despatch to Dr. Jameson, stated that Leonard and Hamilton had informed him that the movement was unpopular in Johannesburg. This message concluded: "We cannot have a fiasco."

On Dec. 28 Dr. Jameson telegraphed to Dr. Wolf at Johannesburg saying: "Meet me as arranged before you leave, which will enable us to decide the best destination. Make cutting tonight without fail. Have great faith in Hammond, Lawley and miners with Lee-Metford rifles.

A FREE PARDON ASKED.

Prominent Boers are Now Signing Petitions to the Executive.

London, April 30.—In the House of Commons to-day Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, stated that he had received a cablegram from Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony, saying that the Executive Council of the Transvaal Republic met at Pretoria yesterday for the purpose of considering what punishment should be inflicted upon the leaders of the Reform Committee, whose death sentences had been revoked and were still discussing the matter. The Transvaal Boers themselves, Sir Hercules wired, were strong in their condemnation of the severity of the sentences which had been imposed upon the leaders of the Reform movement, and upon the minor prisoners as well, and that prominent Boers were actively at work obtaining signatures to petitions, asking the Government to mitigate the punishment of the prisoners or to grant a free pardon.

Mr. Chamberlain, continuing, said he was informed that the president judge who imposed the sentence upon Rhodes, Hammond, Farrar, Phillips and the other members of the Reform Committee in the High Court at Pretoria, had been borrowed from the Orange Free State. His name, he said, was Gregorowski, and he was of Polish nationality.

Mr. Reginald McKenna, Liberal, asked what truth there was in the report that one of the prisoners, John Hays Hammond, an American, had been released.

Mr. Chamberlain said he had no information on the subject.

Mr. J. H. Dalziel, Liberal, asked whether the selection of Judge Gregorowski was an indication of impartiality, or of corruption.

Mr. Chamberlain made no reply and Mr. Dalziel gave notice that he would ask the question again in a formal way.

The Rumored Commutation.

London, April 30.—A rumor is in circulation on the Stock Exchange that the Transvaal Executive has imposed the punishment of five years penal servitude, with banishment at the end of the term of imprisonment, upon Hammond, Rhodes and the other Reform Committee leaders, whose sentence of death was remitted yesterday.

Should be Removed.

Last Monday the Light and Power Co'y distributed their poles along Lake street, Ashburnham, and threw one of them across the sidewalk opposite Mr. John Butcher's residence, where it still remains. Pedestrians, wheelmen and those with baby carriages are obliged to take the roadway in order to pass. Many have taken headers during the night. The villagers state that if this obstacle is not removed before Sunday they will remove it themselves by sawing the pole in two.

Magistrates Trial.

On Saturday the 18th inst., Edward Wilcox and John Murray, both of Hastings village, were arranged before Magistrate Miller, in Warkworth to answer to the charge of receiving and concealing and disposing of the stolen tombstone of the late Mr. Insley. The plaintiff claimed he urged the person holding the stone to give it up and have no trouble over the matter. The defendants denied the charge, but had to give bonds to the amount of $300 each, to appear before the jury at the next County Assizes at Cobourg. Lawyer Hunter appeared for the Crown and Lawyer Stone, of Peterborough, for defendants.—Journal.

Hair for the People of Canada's Great Northwest.

DEATH OF MR. ALEXANDER GOUGH.

An Old and Highly Respected Canadian Passes Away.

Last night at the family residence, 379 Hunter street, Mr. Alexander Gough, father of our well known citizens, Messrs. R. P. and A. J. Gough, departed this life after a somewhat protracted illness. The deceased had not been in good health since an attack of inflammation of the lungs last fall, but, though he apparently recovered, the infirmities of advancing age affected his weakened constitution and death came as stated last night. Mr. Gough, at the time of his death, was in his 77th year, having been born at Kingston in 1819. There he remained till about the age of 26 years, when he removed to Kleinburg, York County, where he carried on a large cooperage business and stave factory, incidentally, during his business career, engaging in lumbering in the Parry Sound District. Five years ago Mr. Gough retired from active business and removed to Peterborough, where shortly after Mrs. Gough died. Mr. Gough was married about 49 years ago to Miss Eliza McMahon, and to this union were born ten children—seven boys and three girls. Of these the latter are all living—Mrs. T. J. Day, Guelph; Mrs. J. J. Walsh, Stratford, and Miss Mary Gough. The surviving sons are Mr. E. D. Gough, Belleville; Mr. B. J. Gough, Lindsay; Mr. Charles A. Gough, Old Point Comfort, Virginia, and Messrs. A. J. and R. P. Gough, of Peterborough.

Mr. Gough was a gentleman whose qualities of character, won him the highest respect of the community in which he passed over half a century of his life. He was a native of Canada, and took great pride in his nationality, and was active and earnest in promoting the interests of his country. He was of a quiet and retiring disposition and did not seek positions of public prominence. In the township of Vaughan, where he resided, he was repeatedly presented with influential requisitions asking him to be a candidate for the reeveship, but he declined to enter public life. He was a most pronounced Reformer—one of the advanced type who are sometimes called "Grits." He was a faithful reader of the Globe and was a subscriber from the time of its establishment. He was an active worker in the cause of Reform, and was for several years president of the Reform Association of Vaughan, and was in every way active in promoting the principles he so strongly held. Mr. Gough also took a prominent part in the services of his country during the troublesome times of 1837 38. He shouldered his musket and served under Col. Hamilton till the close of the troubles. He was young then, and though he sympathized with the aspirations of those who were aiming to secure responsible government, he did not sympathize with their methods and was faithful to constitututed authority. The rest of his life was spent in earnest endeavours to give the country the best results of the blessings that came from the establishment of responsible government. He always had a patriotic pride in being a Canadian and in the fact that he had had the honour of wearing the Queen's uniform. He lived a life that brought him the highest respect and esteem of all who knew him, whether they agreed with or opposed his political opinions.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 379 Hunter street, on Monday morning, to the C.P.R. station, at 4.42, and thence to Kleinburg, where interment will be made in the family burial plot.

THE ASSESSMENT RETURNS' FIGURES.

A HUNDRED NEW RESIDENTS IN THE TOWN SINCE 1895.

The Value of Personal Property has Grown by $16,500, and the Total Value of Real and Personal Property and Taxable Income by over $28,000.

The assessment returns have been made and the results show that during the past year the population of Peterborough has grown by 100 souls. The value of lands has increased from $3,965,392 to $3,981,780, or in round numbers, $15,000. The personal property also shows an increase. The number of dogs is fortunately on the decrease. That the health of the town is good is shown by the fact that whilst last year there were 54 deaths this year there only 44, a decrease of ten. The number of births is also on the decrease, there being about forty less this year than last. A recapitulation of the different wards is appended, as is also one of the entire town, where a comparison with last year's figures is shown.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Visitors Coming That Day—We Make all Welcome.

Queen's Birthday this year promises to be celebrated somewhat in the right way. We shall have a large attendance of visitors probably. These will include the gallant 15th Battalion of Belleville and their camp followers including a large excursion party. There are also booked excursions from Picton and Orillia. Let them come; the more the merrier; we shall make them all welcome. Should not our citizens be making a move to meet the visitors half way at least, and give them entertainment that will give visitors a good impression of our town and tend to bring them back on another occasion? Of course the elections absorb a great deal of attention, but while we are busy saving our country we should not neglect to boom our town. A rare programme of sport including horse and bicycle races etc. will take place in the Driving Park, during the afternoon, when a lacrosse match will also come off; and in the P. A. A. A. grounds a cricket match will be progress all day.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Another Avenue for Election Time Employment.

The election is surely on. Evidences upon all sides prove that fact. Another appointment has been made. Mr. Alf. Belcher is "at last" recognised by his government friends and appointed to superintend one of the surveying parties from Trenton north. How long the appointment "will last" remains to be seen. It will no doubt "last" until the election is over and it is more than probable that that will be the "last" of his job. But so long as it serves a purpose that is all the Government cares.

Let the Prices Speak!

They tell the story of advanced values. They explain why business is always booming at the Peterborough Bookstore. Some people's words are half battles. Every syllable means so much. What we have to say about this store and the prices of the goods, we mean to carry out.

WE MEAN BUSINESS

What is worth emphasizing is that in the lines we quote prices on to-day, we show a large variety of patterns. It is not our policy to select two or three catch lines. You get the choice of a very large stock. A New Stock selected with the utmost care and discretion, that always brings business. It's a Grand Stock for finding just what you want. Radiant with Good Values and sparkling with Low Prices.

WINDOW SHADES.

Our stock of 16,00 Opaque Shades, made from a composition of rubber and whitelead painted on a pure linen, ensures you the most durable shade cloth made. Guaranteed washable. But the prices are what surprise the buyers.

Complete set, with White and Gilt Cornice Trimmings, Rings and Brackets, and White Enameled Pole, for parlours or sitting rooms.....55

These are the Cheapest Cornice Poles in Peterborough. No housekeeper, into the heart of housecleaning, should fail to inspect these poles.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT OUR GREAT WALL PAPER SALE.

Now in full blast. To let a opportunity like this pass by is a big mistake. The prices all lean your way and the stock tells your present needs. Wall Papers do brighten up a home so, and comparitively few people know how cheap we are selling here. Lowest prices start at 4c. per roll.

BABY CARRIAGES.

Up-to-date Baby Carriages, new designs in elegant upholsterings; mother is not so unwise as to keep baby indoors on sunshiny spring days unless it be that she is wanting a baby carriage.

Prices are planned so that the mother with the most modest purse can find something here that will give baby an outing daily. Cheapness and quality are our twine and everybody's pets.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Campbellford is having a celebration on the 24th.

—The new sidewalk to the C. P. R on George street is just completed.

—Farm lands are in excellent condition for ploughing, and the farmers of this locality expect to complete their seeding in good shape.

—Mr. Fred E. Jones intends conducting a hack business in connection with his popular livery stables. His friends will wish him luck in his new venture.

—On Saturday, 2nd of May, the trout brooks will be visited for the treasures they contain, and no doubt several hundred of the coveted fish will be laid away in the baskets of our local fishermen.

—E. Walsh wants every man and boy to catch frogs of any size, and kind and any quantity. Good wages in it. See him at his confectionery store, Hunter street, as he wants frogs this season by the ton. 1d —Not one-half the members of the lacrosse club of last year are now residing in Campbellford, and it is not likely that the remaining members will re organize this season.

—Fowls that are useful and ornamental should be kept within proper enclosures, now that the beds are being prepared for seeding in the garden. When they are allowed to go out on parade, it sometimes begets bad blood between neighbours.

Dogs are Poisoned.

Residents of Barrieficld are raising a "howl" over the loss of a number of valuable dogs by poison. No less than eight canines have met death at the hands of the poisoner. Owners of sheep are blamed for the outrages, but there is no actual evidence that they are guilty. The practice is a most dangerous one.

Rebellious Navvies.

There is trouble brewing among the many Italian navies on the I. B. & O. R. Owing to the washouts and sweeping away of bridges they have been on short rations for a few days, but the principal cause for grievance is that the pay car has not made its appearance for some time past. It was feared that several constables would have to be sent to the scene to prevent damage to the line, but the rebellious sons of Italy have been placated by promises of a speedy settlement.

Rev. Dr. Carman.

Among the passengers for the north on the steamer Danube, when she sails from Victoria, B.C., will be Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada, and Rev. Mr. Woodsworth, Superintendent of Methodist Missions in Canada. The latter goes north to visit the various missions of the church, while the former will preside at a Methodist district meeting to be held at Fort Simpson in the near future. Both expect to be present at the Methodist conference to be held in New Westminster in May, after which they will visit Victoria.—Victoria Colonist.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Alex. H. Melville, of Peterborough, was in Lindsay yesterday on his way north to Fenelon Falls.

The Campbellford Herald says:—Mrs. Hilliard, widow of the late C. S. Hilliard, of Peterborough, has been in Campbellford visiting friends during the past three weeks.

Miss Marty's many friends in town will be pleased to learn that she has been awarded the Gold Medal in Moderns at Toronto University. Miss Marty has yet to put in another year before securing her degree.

Mr. W.W. Bruce, of Beaverton, says the Lindsay Post, passed through town this week on his wheel on his way to Peterborough. Mr. Bruce is riding a St. Catharines wheel this season, and says they are the very best manufactured.

CRICKET

All cricketers are requested to show up on the P. A. A. A. grounds at three o'clock sharp to-morrow afternoon, as sides will be chosen and a game played. Any new players in the town are cordially invited to join the club and take part in the game to-morrow.

LACROSSE.

The Cobourg Lacrosse Club, having been reorganized and considerably strengthened by the addition of several new players, would like to arrange a game for the 25th of May, either at home or abroad. L. Norman, Secretary.

BASEBALL.

On "Paradise Lane" ball grounds (a name familiarly known to old settlers) and now called Chambers street, the Review and EXAMINER staffs had a scratch match at noon. The boys are practising in order to keep up to the "Times" for their annual game of ball. The game will be played on a "Saturday Afternoon," but as yet the "Time's" not mentioned. At all events the "EXAMINER" will "Review" the situation in the near future.

THE "INDEPENDENT" CANDIDATE.

That there is dissension in the Conservative ranks does not admit of a doubt, and that there are large numbers discontented, to the point of disgust and revolt, with the policy of the present dominant wing of the Conservative party, is equally certain. We have numerous brands of Conservatives—honest Conservatives, disgusted Conservatives, disgruntled Conservatives, disappointed Conservatives, Tupper Conservatives, Bowell Conservatives, McCarthy Conservatives, and so on, almost ad infinitum.

Under these circumstances it is not surprising that some of these branches of the Conservative party should under the guise of a third party, put "independent" candidates in the field. Now while no one denies them this right, there is this to be said that there is not the least prospect of a third party ever attaining the importance of a governing power; that will be left to one or other of the old parties.

At the same time, it must be admitted that independent representatives in the true sense of the term, are an important and desirable element in parliament. No honest government need fear their opposition; any honest government can count on their support.

We have in this riding an "independent" candidate nominated. His nomination is designed to injure one of the two old parties, and there is very good reason to think that Mr. Hall is the candidate aimed at.

We know that there are large numbers of disgusted Conservatives in this riding who, in the event of a square, open party contest, would not, in view of the strong positions they have taken, vote for the straight Conservative candidate, and would probably give their support to Mr. Hall.

Now a candidate of another wing of the Conservative party, an "independent" is nominated, and there is every reason to believe that the object is to catch the disgusted Conservative vote that would otherwise go to Mr. Hall.

The officers elected at the nomination meeting of the "independent" shows this plainly. Every man with one possible exception, in this list, represents a gentleman who has heretofore acted with the Conservative party.

It is safe to say that, though Mr. Newman may go to the polls and produce, to a certain extent the results anticipated from his candidature, he will be out his deposit, which will possibly be no personal sacrifice; or he may, as he did in West Huron, work up a case against the Liberal candidate and retire virtually in the interests of the old line Conservative candidate. "Any port in a storm" is a sailor's motto, and in view of the splintered condition of the Conservative party the motto may be parodied thus:—"Any subterfuge in a split." We hope no Liberal will be caught in the trap.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BISHOP'S CONSECRATION.

SEVEN YEARS BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH.

His Lordship Celebrates Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral—A Number of Visiting Clergy Present to Tender Their Congratulations—Regrets on the Part of those Unable to Attend.

The celebration of the seventh anniversary of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor's consecration, was observed to-day at the Cathedral.

The Bishop celebrated Pontifical High Mass at half past eight o'clock in St. Peter's, the assistant priest being Ven. Archdeacon Casey. The deacon of the mass was Rev. Father Conway, of Norand the sub-deacon Rev. Father Twohey of Westport, Diocese of Kingston, and Rev. Father Scanlan, of the Cathedral, was master of ceremonies.

Among the visiting clergy were Monsignor Laurent, V. G., of Lindsay; Rev. Father Killen, Bedford, Diocese of Kingston; Rev. Father Connolly, of Hastings and Rev. Father McColl, of Ennismore.

The Cathedral Clergy were also in attendance.

A number of the priests of the diocese, who were unable to be present sent in their regrets and dutiful congratulations.

At the conclusion of the mass, His Lordship addressed the congregation, thanking them for being present at the mass held in celebration of the seventh anniversary of his consecration, and also for their prayers which had been offered in his behalf.

The visiting clergy and the priests, connected with the cathedral, were afterwards entertained in the Palace by His Lordship.

His Lordship is to be congratulated upon his septennial episcopal anniversary. Since his advent to Peterborough he has won a high degree of respect from all classes of citizens for the unassuming geniality of his manner and the quiet dignity with which he has carried the high honours of his position. And the high estimation in which he is held by his flock, and by his faithful coadjutors, has been evidenced by hundreds of indications, besides those furnished by the auspicious occasion of to-day.

The pupils in the Separate schools are enjoying a half holiday in honour of the event.

We will keep in touch honestly with Shoppers. All advertising goes for nothing, unless believed. And we know that nothing equals the keen judgment of a woman when it is called upon to weigh the relative value of Bargains.

Selling a $30,000 Stock of New Goods at Cost

can be made an easy and pleasant task even though we have to do without the profits on the goods.

We do not want to be sensational, but we cannot help being the cause of sensations. Low prices of course are forcing these goods out quickly, but QUALITY outshines Price every time. This Sale means most for people who realize that economy doesn't mean low prices only. The cheap deception of naming an imaginary "value" as a basis for reduction is too common, and won't go down.

EVERYTHING AT COST

is the plain, unvarnished truth. No juggling with figures here. The crowds of people who are daily shopping at the Sale have implicit confidence—for absolutely nothing is risked in buying here. The Goods are All New. The low prices are not made to move stuff from past seasons, nor because of errors in buying. Nothing old handicaps our sale.

CARD.—We would esteem it a favour if our friends in town would do their principal shopping before Saturday, so as to leave that day for our friends from the country. It would help us to handle the crowds better.

GORE'S LANDING,

And Peterborough.

The Steamer Beaver

Will ply between Harwood, Gore's Landing and Peterborough, every Wednesday and Saturday, leaving Harwood at 6.30 a. m., Gore's Landing at 7 a.m., arriving at Peterborough at 10 a.m., connecting with trains from the north at noon, and east and west trains, and leaving Peterborough on the return trip at 3.45 p.m., sharp.

On other days in the week the Beaver may be chartered for Excursion Parties at reasonable rates. THOS. HARRIS, Proprietor, Gore's Landing P.O.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. One will find enjoyment in a brilliant company, in music, in dancing, in an exquisitely prepared dinner. Another will enjoy these things half as much—another not at all. The things that people see are inside them. What one sees and what one enjoys depends upon the bodily condition—depends upon the capacity for enjoyment—depends upon the health and the vitality. The sick man has pain or discomfort so impressed upon him that he has no time to think of much else. A weak man has all he can do to struggle for mere existence. He has no strength to use in procuring pleasure. His performances are limited by his strength. He can do only a few things so he can enjoy only a few things. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. The bedridden invalid enjoys it not at all. The man who is half sick and half well gets out of life about half what he ought to. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. It doesn't do it in a miraculous way. There isn't anything unnatural about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. It doesn't have to do anything else. Nature does all the rest. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot, and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it. That's the difference. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood—makes men and women strong and healthy; brings good appetite, good digestion and builds up solid, healthy flesh.

POISON FOR CURIAS.

Rumor That the Spaniards Will Practise a New Kind of Warfare.

Havana, April 2, via Key West, April 29.—Scouts to-day brought a rumor to us that the Spaniards have turned loose three mules loaded with poisoned provisions, hoping that they may fall into the hands of the insurgents.

I asked Gen. Collazo if this could be possible.

"Certainly," said he, "not only possible, but probably true. I have known Spanish troops to poison wells and to break up camp, leaving poisoned provisions behind in the hopes of their falling into our hands. In the last war this was a common thing."

Fell Into the Spaniards' Hands.

Havana, April 29.—The persons who were captured on board the American filibustering schooner Competitor, and those who were taken while attempting to swim ashore have been lodged in Morro Castle. The will be tried by a naval court martial. The naval commander is absent in Manzanillio, and Capt.-General Weyler, who is impatient for the trial of the prisoners, has requested him to delegate his authority to another official, in order that the proceedings be not delayed.

ANNIE DYER CONFESSES.

English Baby Farmer Admits She Committed the Murders With Which She Stands Charged.

London, April 29.—Mrs. Annie Dyer, the baby farmer, who, with her son-in-law, Arthur E. Palmer, is under arrest at Reading, charged with the murder of a number of infants, has made a written confession, admitting the murders of which she is accused.

It is probable that insanity will be her defence.

"APPLICATION REFUSED."

This Is How the Pennsylvania Governor Endorsed Holmes' Request.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—To-day a long communication was received by Governor Hastings from H. H. Holmes, the multi-murderer, dated Philadelphia County Prison, asking for a respite. The Governor promptly endorsed the petition "Application Refused." Holmes, in his communication, pretends to want to arrange some important matters before his death and to get himself into a spiritual condition to meet his God. He claims not to be guilty of many of the crimes charged against him.

Holmes Losing His Nerve.

Philadelphia, April 29.—With the refusal of Governor Hasting to grant Holmes a reprieve, the last hope of the murderer is killed, and unless death by natural means or suicide should intervene, he will surely swing from the gallows on May 7. Holmes wrote his petition to the Governor without consulting his lawyers, and they were utterly surprised to-day when they learned for the first time of his course. With the mail which brought Holmes' petition for a reprieve were two letters from Galva, Ill., one from Mrs. Pitezel's father and the other signed by 9000 citizens remonstrating against any delay in executing the lay's decree. No further steps can be taken to stay the execution, and Holmes' lawyers' task is ended.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

CRIPPLE CREEK AGAIN.

Another Great Conflagration in the Mining Town—Three Persons Killed, Fifteen Injured—Loss $2,000,000.

Cripple Creek, Col., April 29.—A second conflagration, accompanied by the loss of life and injuries to many persons, swept the business portion of this city into ashes to-day. At least three men were killed and 15 or 20 persons were burned or otherwise injured. Two of the dead were killed in an explosion of the Palace Hotel boilers, and the other was a thief who was shot by a policeman acting under orders. Griffiths is the name of the only identified dead man. One thousand persons are without shelter to-night, and the business men and the property owners who have lost all, with little or no insurance, are almost in despair. They are in a fever of excitement and wrath against the incendiaries who are charged with starting this and Saturday's destruction.

Mayor Steele has telegraphed for assistance from neighboring towns in the way of tents for the homeless, but the police department feels able to cope with the situation. All that is left of the camp is "Old Town" on the east Capital Hill, the residence section northward and scattering places about the Florence and Cripple Creek yards. West Cripple Creek, across the Freeman placer, was also spared.

The loss will not fall short of $2,000,000, which is more heavily insured than the property burned Saturday.

All the solid buildings, hotels, office buildings, the better class of retail shops went up in smoke, or lie in ruins as the result of the use of dynamite, exploded to stay the flames. The conflagration ended only when the residence portion was reached and open spaces encountered, across which the flames could not reach.

The fire, which was of undoubted incendiary origin, started in the Portland Hotel on Second-street, shortly after noon.

Nine Were Killed.

Denver, April 29.—A telephone message from Altman late to-night states that nine persons are reported killed in the Cripple Creek fire, some by blowing up of a hardware store and others in the Palace Hotel explosion. Many serious casualties are reported. Hundreds of people are sleeping out on the cold hills or are grouped about bonfires.

WHAT RUSSIA IS AT.

Is the Bear Preparing to Strike Herat, Afghanistan, Before the British Can Get There?

London, April 29.—A St. Petersburg despatch to The Times says: "Russia is preparing to be able to strike Herat (Afghanistan) before it could be reached by a British force from the other side. A broad gauge railway will be built as quickly as possible from Merv, in Turkestan, to Kushk, and all the necessary material will be provided Kushk to rapidly build the Decauville line 300 versts further on to Herat. This will probably be denied, although all that it is proposed to do at present is quite within Russia's frontiers."

EXCITEMENT AT WINGHAM.

Are Other Citizens to be Indicted by the Grand Jury in Connection With the Field Case?

Wingham, Ont., April 29.—The Field case is still the absorbing topic here. Sheriff's Officer Gundry arrived last night on the L., H. & B. train, armed with 30 subpoenas for witnesses. A number of those who could be used as witnesses are not summoned, and it is expected that they will be indicted by the grand jury as principals in the affair. Detective Rogers of Toronto has the case in hand. Great excitement prevails in the town to-night.

Fire at Ridgetown.

Ridgetown, Ont., April 29.—Fire damaged T. L. Buller's sash and door factory to the amount of $500. The firemen were very promptly on hand, and, by their strenuous efforts, assisted by a favorable wind, succeeded in saving the saw mill and other portions of the concern. Loss fully covered by insurance.

Wolseley and Buller Fall Out.

New York, April 29.—A London special to The Herald says: Redvers Buller, the Adjutant-General, and Lord Wolseley do not agree, and a crisis may be expected. They are both very strong-willed men. Buller has the reputation of being the most obstinate man in the army. Two irresistible forces have met and chaos reigns. Buller will probably resign.

BAD BLOOD.

Bad blood courses through the veins and arteries just the same as good blood does, but good blood carries with it health, while bad blood distributes diseases throughout the whole body.

Good blood means vigor. Bad blood sows the seed of scrofula, ulcers, abscesses, boils, blotches, skin diseases, and almost all the ills that flesh is heir to. To get health we must cure the bad blood, and is Burdock Blood Bitters, which removes all impurities from the blood by its action on the stomach, liver and bowels, thus carrying off all morbid and effete matter, and purifying, cleansing and healing every organ of the body.

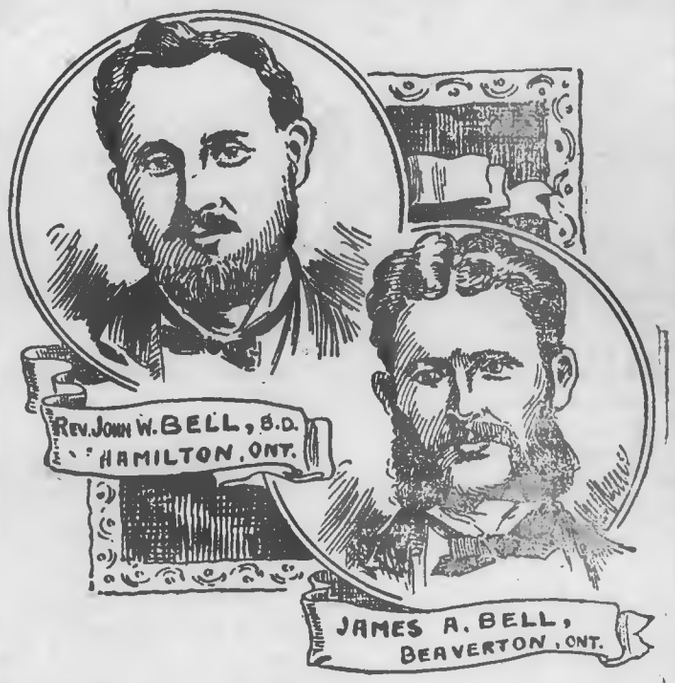
BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.



James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches

A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

THE HOUSEKEEPER.

A KITCHEN TABLE COMBINATION THAT IS INVALUABLE.

The Proportions of the Table and How It Is Made—The Recesses of Its Interior and What They Will Contain—Full Particulars of Measurements.

Our table is a good size, but we have no pantry. We have to use the cellar and shed in place of it. Something more was necessary. This table was made entirely by a joiner, we furnishing the design. It must speak for itself. The top is covered with sheet zinc, which cleans easily, does not rust, will not cut with ordinary usage, and cannot get wet through and musty. The table is plain wood at present. Some day we shall stain it with the mixed walnut stain that can be bought in small cans and thinned to required color with turpentine. The total cost was $7.

The proportions are: 2 feet 8 in. high, 2 feet wide by 4 feet long. On the right-hand side the two large drawers run on rollers, as when filled they are quite heavy. One is for flour, and the other is divided into two sections, which we use for corn meal and beans. In the next tier are three drawers, respectively 8 in., 9 in. and 10 in. deep. In one we keep the cracker box, Quaker oats and such things; in the next white sugar, and in the 10-in. drawer, which is sub-divided, we have the brown and pulverized sugars. The left-hand row has five drawers. These have grooves in the outer sides, and run on lateral strips; this was the joiner's amendment to our plan. He said it economized a good four inches of space. The three top drawers are graded, 4 inches, 5 inches and 6 inches. The two lower are each 7 1-2 inches in depth. We use the top one for cooking spoons, forks, knives, meat chopper egg beater, etc. In the second are hammer, gimlet, screw drivers, tacks and other domestic tools. The third contains packages such as corn starch, chocolate, tapioca and rice. The fourth holds the spice tins, baking powder, soda, cream tartar and others, while the last is dedicated to clean kitchen towels, dish towels, window cloths, and the ironing sheet. The whole table stands close to the floor so that no dust can work under. It is placed in front of a window which gives good light for any work one may have to do on top. We find the table invaluable and it would be equally desirable in a pantry if one possessed that luxury.—E. E. Wilhelm, in American Agriculturist.

Two Kinds of Housekeepers.

The army of women who have to help themselves is far greater than the army well-flanked with assistants. To this greater army my talk is directed. There are two distinct types of housekeepers—ambitious, both of them. The first (and we all have seen her), keeps up a continual warfare against dirt and disorder. So rigid does she become that in her house one feels depressed by its austere, gloomy faultlessness. Painfully precise is the position of every article in her domain. In a flurried, snatchy way she entertains. On leaving, one feels the housekeeper's valuable time has been sacrificed by the intruded visit. How gladly we leave her to herself and her all-absorbing duties. Refreshing is the change of atmosphere when we enter the home of the woman who is mistress, not servant of her work. Comfort, kindliness greet the visitor. Cheery plants nod a welcome, cosy corners bow to rest. Books and magazines suggest the cultivation of thought. The broadminded, philosophical housewife knows that relaxation from worries and treadmill manoeuvres.—Womankind.

The Windows This Spring.

Upholsterers are giving a good deal of attention to window arrangements this spring, and some of the more artistic interior decorators can supply suggestions for every possible form of window drapery. The inevitable lace curtain that has been the accompaniment of the drawing-room window since time was has at last succumbed. Lace is now made up into sash curtains, but the new draperies are of soft, dull-hued silk. Most of the patterns have borders of lace insertion. The color of the silk depends upon the furnishings of the room and the taste of the purchaser, though there is a dull soft shade of yellow that is very fas. able.

For rooms that are comparatively simply furnished there are multitudes of pretty cotton stuffs, that are available for draperies. A suitable effect for library or morning room is gained by using Venetian red Galatea, a new material which comes at 75 cents a yard, with a border of heavy white insertion or applique. Nottingham lace is always pretty and popular for bedroom windows.—New York World.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

A Peculiar Case of Money Being Handed Over Under a Will.

Jamestown, N.Y., April 29.—Some years ago James G. Hopkins of this county died, leaving a large estate, and among his heirs by the will was C. J. Swift, a grandson, now of Cleveland. The provisions of the will were such that the executors were not to pay over the money due any of the heirs if they were of intemperate habits. When Swift became of age it was legally declared that he was intemperate and he did not receive his money. Yesterday Surrogate Woodbury gave a decision to the effect that Swift was a temperate man, and his share of the estate, amounting to $20,000, was ordered to be paid to him. It is a peculiar case, without a parallel in the history of this county.

FUGITIVE COWAN CAPTURED.

A Former Pennsylvanian Caught in Guatemala—Victims in Canada.

Pittsburg, April 29.—Intelligence has been received here of the capture in Guatemala of John L. Cowan of this city, who disappeared last February, leaving his friends, relatives, creditors and victims about $200,000 short.

Cowan was in the lumber business, and his victims are scattered over the lumber regions of Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan and Canada. Forgery, note-raising and other forms of swindling are charged against him. Cowan will be brought back to the United States at once.

Russian Warships in Collision.

London, April 29.—The Russian Warship Rasboynik was in collision off Margate this morning with the German bark Dorade, Captain Anderson, bound from Shields for Iquique. The warship had her mast broken and boats smashed. The fate of the Dorade has not been learned.

Hanging by Wholesale.

Fort Smith, Ark., April 29.—Six men are to die on the old Federal gallows on July 1. The men are the Buck gang, composed of Rufus Buck, Sam Sampson, Louis Davis, Mamot Judy and Lucky Davis and Edward Wilkey, alias Davis. Their crimes were all against women. They are of a very low order of intelligence, with the exception of Buck, the leader.

A Newfoundland Politician Dead.

Halifax, April 29.—A St. John's, Nfld., despatch says Richard Hanly, a member of the Customs staff, and a prominent politician, was found dead this morning in a suburban field. It is thought he was returning from the residence of his daughter, living in that neighborhood, and was attacked by heart failure.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life—Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

TO A BUDDING BARD.

Retire into your whiting den,
Put beeswax on your easy chair,
Take reams of paper, nib you pen
And ruffle your poetic hair,
Don't write of love—it's out of date—
But put your hand to something new,
Work out a subject really great,
And make it brilliant, if not true.
And, if you're lacking for some rhymes,
Look up the poets—they'll supply you;
'Tis one of those enormous crimes
For which the public won't decry you.
You pause in doubt? A phrase of Greek
Will turn your lines in proper metre;
Or if in French a rhyme you seek,
Your verses will appear much sweeter.
And then, I think, if I were you,
I wouldn't send them to the papers,
But twist them up—(I often do)—
Into the sweetest smoking tapers.

THE ROOSTER EXHIBITION.

It Cost Nothing, Had a Purpose and Accomplished Itin One Case at Least.

One day on Third-avenue I saw a rooster in a cage in the window of a saloon. It was a very common fowl—a regular denizen of the barnyard—but yet a crowd of at least thirty people stood about and gazed at him and talked and wondered, says M. Quad, in the Detroit Free Press. Entering the saloon I said to the man behind the bar:

"You have a rooster in the window?"

"Yes, a rooster in the window," he smilingly replied.

"He looks to me like a scrub fowl."

"Yes, he is a scrub."

"Nothing but common blood?"

"Nothing, sir."

"Is he on exhibition or what?"

"You might call it an exhibition, I suppose."

"Keeps a crowd around all the time, doesn't he?"

"All the time, sir, from daylight till long after dark."

"Have you any special object in view?"

"No, sir."

"Just bought a scrub rooster and put him in an old cage?"

"That's all, sir."

"Might just as well have bought a scrub hen as a rooster, eh?"

"Yes, sir. I didn't care which it was."

"Plenty of men come in and ask about the fowl, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes."

"And you have nothing to say?"

"Only what I have told you. He is a scrub rooster. He is there in a cage. You can look at him or not, just as you please. That's all, sir."

I bought a glass of beer and went out, and pretty soon I asked one of the crowd what the possible object could be in exhibiting a barnyard fowl in a saloon window.

"To make fools ask questions and buy a glass of beer!" he replied, as he crowded closer to the window.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1898.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when as Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

DEANERY OF NORTHUMBERLAND.

Rev. H. Symonds Speaks on His Visit to the Blackfoot Homes.

The Deanery of Northumberland held its regular quarterly meeting, during the week, assembling in Campbellford. The following report is taken from the Herald:

"The twenty-first quarterly meeting of the clergy of the Rural Deanery of Northumberland was held in Campbellford on Monday and Tuesday last. The attendance of clergy was far smaller than usual, only six out of fourteen being present. In the cases of two or three there was really no valid excuse for their absence, while in the case of others it might be pleaded that they felt obliged to attend their adjourned vestry meetings. By some unhappy oversight the evening of Monday was fixed upon for the assembling of the clergy of the Deanery, the fact of its being the evening on which adjourned vestry meetings are appointed to be held had not been borne in mind by the Deanery Secretary in announcing that evening for the meeting.

Service was held in Christ church, Campbellford, on Monday evening, when a very large congregation was present. Prayers were said by the Rector, the lessons being read by the Rev. H. Symonds, Rector of Ashburnham, and the sermon, an able and most suggestive and instructive one, preached by Rev. J. Gibson, of Norwood, from Acts v and 39. After the service the rector gave a short account of the grasp taken by the Church of England of the great field of the north-western and northern portions of Canada, bishops being established in dioceses extending from Algoma on Lake Superior, then Rupert's Land, Province of Manitoba, westward to Qu'Appelle, Calgary, New Westminster and British Columbia, then northwards, Athabasca, Selkirk and Mackenzie river, one missionary having charge of even Herschel Island in the Arctic ocean, while along the west side of the Hudson Bay there is the Diocese of Moosonee, the Bishop of Newfoundland having charge of the east coast of Labrador.

Throughout this enormous territory are scattered 75 Indian Homes and industrial and day schools under the sole charge of missionaries (lay and clergy) of the church of England, as well as very many of the Roman Catholic church, and a smaller number in charge of Methodists and Presbyterians ministers and teachers. These schools all receive, without partiality, material aid from the Government. As regards the Church of England missions the government grants for the whole Northwest the amount as follows:

23 schools in	Manitoba	$19,200 00
32 "	Northwest Territories	19,288 00
10 "	outside treaty limits	2,900 00
	Total	$41,488 00

In addition to this the great English Church Missionary Society of England expended in its grants $71,000, making from these two sources alone $112,488 given for the evangelization of the Indians under the care of the Canadian branch of the Church of England.

The Rector then called upon the Rev. H. Symonds to give an account of his visit to the Blackfoot Homes, which he did in a most interesting and instructive way, that could not fail to inspire missionary interest, and greatly foster it were it already existing. It may be interesting to mention that Mr. Symonds has one sister married to Rev. Mr. Mahood, a missionary at this reserve, and another sister engaged in a similar work in that locality. Mr. Symonds address was greatly appreciated by those who heard it. A very interesting service was then concluded with prayer and the blessing.

Next morning at 8 o'clock, a celebration of the holy sacrament took place in Christ church, and a few of the clergy having arrived bythe morning trains, a very profitable and instructive day was spent at the rectory.

The subjects assigned to the members to prepare for the meeting to open discussion, were 15-minute papers on the following subjects:

1. In the Greek Testament—the Acts of the apostles; 2. Forms of Apostolic teaching; 3. Relation of early christianity to Judaism; 4. Development of early Christianity.

In the afternoon the discussion was upon "Christian Socialism," introduced by a very careful and excellent paper on Bishop Wescott's (of Durham, England), book, "Social Aspects of Christianity." The meeting closed at 5 p. m., the clergy left by the evening train.

Thanks were expressed for the very kind offers of hospitality extended by the various members of the congregation making provision for the accomodation of the visiting clery. Particular mention was made of the heartiness of the evening service in the church, and the excellent singing of the choir, and particularly of the beautiful anthem, the steadiness and precision of the singing being very observable.

TURNED UP WITH THE SPADE.

Old Relics Constantly Being Unearthed —A Rare Coin.

Almost every week a paragraph is passed through the newspapers chronicling some find in the way of a relic, valuable or otherwise as the case may be, and generally recognized as being of Indian origin or workmanship.

It is well known that on a certain point extending out into Rice Lake an Indian battle must have taken place at one time, as flint arrowheads, spear heads and bones abound. The owner, however, uses the ground for the cultivation of grain and strongly objects to relic hunters visiting his fields.

On Thursday last a little treasure was unearthed by the cultivator on the farm of Mr. Jas. Diamond, on lot 16 in the 2nd concession of Seymour. While his son was cultivating the soil his attention was attracted by something shining, and on picking it up he found it to be a gold coin. His father took it to Campbellford and it was found to be genuine gold. It is known as a Portugese Moidore, weighs 24 pennyweights, and bears the date, 1765. On one side of the coin is the crowned head of the king, and on the other the coat of arms of the country. On looking up the history of of Portugal it was learned that in the year the coin was made Joseph the First was king, his reign having extended from 1750 to 1777.

The piece of money is a rarity, as perhaps very few of its date could be found at the present day. It will be of value to a collector of old coins, and no doubt Mr. Diamond will realize a large sum for it.

Mr. M. S. Gould, just east of Colborne, has frequently found Indian relics while ploughing on his farm, but his find last Tuesday forenoon was a surprise to him. While digging post holes his brother struck bones with a crow-bar, and remarked to him, "Have you buried a horse here?" No, he replied, and then proceeded to investigate carefully, when he was astonished on discovering the remains of six Indians, three skulls being unbroken, while the others were also the bones of the bodies. All were evidently consigned to the same grave, and that by an enemy, as there was no trace of the articles usually deposited on such occasions.—Express.

GIBRALTAR AS A STRATEGIC POINT.

(National Review.)

Gibraltar (about 1,000 miles from England) is of immense importance as being the great watch tower from which the movements of warships can be observed and telegraphed as they pass into and out of the Mediterrsnean Sea. Moreover, situated as it is near the flank of our trade routes both to the Cape and to the West Indies and South America, it is the point at which vessels would naturally call for news, orders, coal and protection during the continuance of a war. When you consider that in every second of time twenty tons of shipping go out or come into our home ports, and that, as a matter of fact, the stream is continuous and never ceases, and that the value of the sea-borne trade of the British Empire is calculated at £930,000,000, of which about £230,000,000 neither comes nor goes from the United Kingdom, it seems difficult to exaggerate the value of the fortress of Gibraltar or to realize the congestion of British shipping which might seek its protection in war. It has at present no dry-dock. Its garrison consists of seven companies of artillery, four companies of engineers, and three battalions of infantry. It is the meeting place of our Channel and Mediterannean squadrons. The roads do not afford safe anchorage in all winds, and an enemy could conceivably shell them if he mounted heavy guns on Spanish soil.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

Mother, Son and Daughter Perish in the Flames at Magpie, Que.

Pentecost, Que., April 29.—A very sad accident occurred at Magpie last night. The house of Jean Louis Mercier was destroyed by fire, and his wife, son and daughter perished in the flames. His other daughter had her leg broken by jumping from the garret window, and Mercier himself had his feet burnt badly. Both are in a most critical condition. It is supposed the fire originated in dry wood put near the stove.

It Was a Grain Warehouse.

Flesherton, Ont., April 29.—M. Richardson's grain warehouse at Flesherton Station was burned last night about 12 o'clock, in which was stored about 20,000 bushels of grain, which was all burned. Cause of the fire unknown.

A child was cured of croup by a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A neighbor's child died of the same dread disease, while the father was getting ready to call the doctor. This shows the necessity of having Ayer's Cherry Pectoral always at hand.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

TUPPER'S CABINET.

The Bowell Supporters Nearly All Dropped Out.

IT IS AN ULTRAMONTANE CABINET

Ed Says Sir Adolphe Caron, Who is One of Those Turned Down—The Swearing in Took Place Yesterday Afternoon—Col. Tisdale Was Not on Hand.

Ottawa, May 1.—Sir Charles Tupper's Cabinet was sworn in before the Governo-General at 1.30 this afternoon, with the exception of Col Tisdale, who will not arrive in the city until to-morrow.

The new Ministry is constituted as follows:

Sir CHARLES TUPPER, Premier and Secretary of State.

Mr. FOSTER, Minister of Finance.

Mr. COSTIGAN, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. HAGGART, Minister of Railways and Canals.

Mr. ANGERS, President of the Council.

Mr. IVES, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Mr. DICKEY, Minister of Justice.

Dr. MONTAGUE, Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. WOOD, Controller of Customs.

Mr. PRIOR, Controller of Inland Revenue.

Mr. DESJARDINS, Minister of Public Works.

Mr. TAILLON, Postmaster-General.

Mr. MACDONALD, Minister of the Interior.

Mr. TISDALE, Minister of Militia.

Sir FRANK SMITH,

Senator D. FERGUSON and

Senator J. J. ROSS, without portfolio.

Sir C. H. TUPPER, Solicitor-General, without seat in the Cabinet.

The ceremony of swearing in lasted until nearly two o'clock, at which hour the flag was lowered on the viceregal office and His Excellency returned to Rideau Hall.

Three members of the late Administration are not in the new Cabinet. They are Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. J. A. Ouimet and Hon. T. Mayne Daly. Their places are taken by Hon. L. O. Taillon, ex-Premier of Quebec, and Col. Tisdale and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald.

Although perhaps somewhat prepared by last night's report for the change in the Quebec representation the announcement that Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. J. A. Ouimet were not in the new Cabinet was received with surprise. Still the general verdict of the local Conservatives is that by this infusion of new blood from that province Sir Charles had done much to strengthen the party prestige in Quebec district.

Mr. Desjardins left for Montreal last night, having said good-bye, as he thought, to official life. At St. Martin's Junction, however, he was intercepted by Mr. Angers and induced by him to return to Ottawa. It appears that Mr. Angers was asked by the Premier to take the Quebec leadership, and he did so on the understanding that he would have the choice of his French-Canadian colleagues in the Cabinet. Mr. Angers has secured Premier Taillon and Mr. Desjardins. With these three from Quebec, together with Hon J. J. Ross—who, although wearing a Scotch name, is a French-Canadian—for a seat without portfolio, Sir Charles closed up the Ontario vacancy by assigning Col. Tisdale to the Militia portfolio.

The new Ministers lunched together at the Rideau Club after the swearing-in ceremony and then held a council meeting, which lasted over two hours. The principal business transacted was the naming of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council and the Treasury Board.

The former is composed of Messrs. Haggart, Dickey, Prior, Ives, Taillon and Macdonald.

The Treasury Board will consist of Messrs. Foster, Costigan, Taillon, Angers and Wood. Mr. Taillon's acceptance of a portfolio dissolves the Quebec Ministry, of which he was Premier, and rumor assigns the provincial premiership to Mr. Nantel, who is a great friend of Lieutenant-Governor Chapleau. Mr. Angers will retain his seat in the Senate and lead the Upper House, that is, provided the Government is sustained. Mr. Desjardins will resign his Senatorship and probably run for Maisonneuve, while Mr. Taillon will probably contest Terrebonne, although that is problematical, of course.

Mr. Ouimet does not propose to quit politics. He will run in Laval just the same as if he were a Minister. It is noteworthy that La Minerve to-day has a strong article protesting against Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Ouimet being dropped, but the protest came too late.

The Premier authorizes the statement that, in addition to the Ministers from Ontario already given, there will be added to the Cabinet without portfolio a leading gentleman in public life whose name is not given.

It is said Mr. Ouimet will be made a judge of the Court of Appeals in Montreal, vice Judge Baby, who wants to retire.

There is also a rumor that Sir Donald Smith will resign the High Commissionership in favor of Sir Adolphe Caron.

The Premier informed your correspondent to-night that he expected to go to Montreal to-morrow, thence proceeding to Winnipeg probably on Monday. On his return east he will address gatherings at Toronto, Montreal and other places, and then pay a visit to the Maritime Provinces.

As to the election manifesto, Sir Charles could only say that it would not be out for a couple of days yet, and, of course, he could not indicate in advance what its chief planks would be. As, however, the Premier had taken a strong stand upon several important points of public policy since his re-entry into the Government it is of difficult to forecast the leading features of the platform which Sir Charles Tupper will appeal to the electorate.

Without question there will be a significant declaration upon the subject of preferential trade within the Empire as an adjunct to the protective policy which has done so much to develop the industrial life of Canada.

It is not unlikely also that the people will be asked to sustain the policy of the Government in improving the equipment of the militia and strengthening the defences of Canada, in regard to which expenditure the Opposition manifested a spirit of niggardliness.

The Premier will doubtless ask the aproval of the policy of aid to railways and especially in British Columbia, them ineral wealth of which province is now attracting great attention.

On the Manitoba school question the country may be asked to approve of the policy of the Government, which has given a pledge to maintain alleged constitutional guarantees.

After the council, Mr. Taillon was seen by your correspondent and asked as to his intentions. The ex-Premier of Quebec said it had not yet been decided what constituency he would run for. "We have a Central Conservative Committee in Quebec which manages all these things, and I am in its hands,' said he. "That is how things were managed in 1892. I did not know where I was to run for until it had been decided by the committee. Just so in this case. I shall run for any constituency that the party may advise."

Mr. Taillon could throw no light upon the question of the Quebec Premiership. "Mr. Chapleau, you know, is in Atlantic City, and I have not yet had an opportunity to advise his honor on the subject."

With the exception of Hon. Mr. Ouimet the outgoing Ministers were less reticent than the newcomers. The ex-Minister of Public Works, when asked for a statement, replied: "I have nothing further to say than that I intend to run as the independent supporter of the Conservative policy as before."

"In your old constituency?"

"Yes, in Laval county."

A number of strong personal friends were already in waiting to see Sir Adolphe Caron when your representative called upon him early in the afternoon. Sir Adolphe, serene and affable as ever, held out a welcoming hand with the remark: "Well, I'm busy packing up to move, you see, but sit down."

"Yes, I have just learned the composition of the new Cabinet," he went on, and being pressed for his opinion of its composition as regards Quebec, he said: "Personally, the new men are most acceptable. They are, of course, all strongly Ultramontane, and it remains to be seen how that will be accepted in the country."

"Until the Government has formulated its policy," Sir Adolphe continued, "it is not for me to say what particular course I shall take. Only this, I will say, that in the future as in the past, my sympathies and energies will be inseparably associated with the Conservative party. Several friends have called upon me, and to all of them I have given the one advice, to be calm and await the promulgation of the Government's policy, adding, as I have just said to you, that for myself I shall continue to work as heartily as ever for the success of the Conservative party, and do all I can to defeat our common opponents at the general election."

A CONSTABLE SHOT.

A Murderous Affray Just East of Toronto.

THREE TOUGH LOOKING CUSTOMERS

Caught After a Lively Chase During Which They Fired Many Shots—Constable Tidsberry Hit in the Arm—The Toughs Were Seen at the Woodbine.

Toronto, May 2

Roused by disturbing sounds in his barn at 5 o'clock yesterday morning George Tomlinson, a market gardener, living on the Danforth-road, about 1 1-4 miles east of Coleman, found that his horses had been turned out of it and that the barn was in possession of men who, when requested to leave, warned him to keep away. Seeing that he had desperadoes to deal with, Mr. Tomlinson despatched a messenger for County Constable Tidsberry, who was promptly on the scene and acted without delay. The intruders were in the loft, the entrance to which lay through a perpendicular ladder some nine feet in height. Running up the rungs, the constable, as soon as he could see the men, who were lying down in the hay, called out, "I arrest you men on the charge of trespass."

By way of answer the three, two of whom were as evil looking fellows as one would care to see, sprang to their feet and, leveling their revolvers, opened up a brisk fusilade of lead. Quick as lightning the constable had drawn his weapon, but found to his horror that the chambers were empty. A shot now struck his right arm just below the shoulder and another ripped up a furrow on the top of his head. Nearly blind with the blood he grappled with one of the men. As he did so a comrade fired at him at such close quarters that his left cheek was blackened with the powder, while another, running behind him, struck him a crushing blow on the head with his revolver butt.

The constable and the gang massed together were now close to the open hatchway, and seeing their advantage, they worked him into it. When he picked himself up the three had got to the ground through the window and were making for Heron's bush, a wood of some 100 acres, about a mile distant. Market Gardener Sidwick, his son Alex. and Mike Birlow of the G. T.R. were now on the spot, and shouting to them, "Stay with them, boys, if it takes us all day," he followed as fast as his weakened condition would allow.

Every now and then the robbers turned to shoot at their rapidly gaining pursuers, but the pace was too fast for accurate shooting and the bullets either went singing through the air or struck short of the intended marks. The chase had now reached the wood and standing with their backs to a fence, they attempted to reload.

Before this could be done, however, the constable and his men closed in upon them. Young Alex. Sidwick, seizing a fence rail, struck one of the robbers in the face, cutting open his cheek and felling him to the ground. The others, despairing of escape, surrendered. They were marched back, handcuffed, to East Toronto and lodged within its jail.

In their pockets were found four revolvers and a number of ball cartridges, a complete set of burglars' tools, which, judging from the case containing four razors and a pair of barbers' clippers, they had made use of, two pocket knives and about 25 cents in silver.

Magistrates Richardson, Ormerod and Nimmo were summoned for the case, but owing to the disabled condition of Constable Tidsberry, the bullet having gone clear through his arm, it was some time before the court was held. The arraigned men, who were of middle height and ranging in ages from 22 to 30, gave their names as James McMurray of Brockville, John Henderson, Montreal, and James McDonald, Collingwood. Two wore black suits and the third a brown coat. None of them could boast of a collar and wore low necked cotton shirts, one of which was white in color. They said that they had come to York on Thursday night, but it is stated that they were seen in the neighborhood on Thursday.

Among the spectators in court were Constable Booth of East Toronto and Bailiff J. P. Wheeler. As soon as the tramps were brought in they recognized them as the gang they had seen near the Woodbine a little before 9 p.m. on Tuesday, the fateful night of Joe Martin's assault.

The trio were remanded for a week to come up in East Toronto at 10 a. m. on Friday next.

THE MINE THEIR TOMB.

The Forty Victims of the Chihuahua Disaster Are Still Entombed and Must Be Dead.

San Antonio, Tex., May 1.—The latest advice from Chihuahua, Mex., states that a rescuing party is still working in the mine that lately caved in, and that several bodies have been recovered.

The forty miners that were entombed must all be dead by this time, as they have been in there a week. Only the most meagre details can be obtained from the mines. The rescuing party are cribbing the mine as they proceed, in order to prevent further disaster.

A Marvelous Statement by a Prominent Canadian — A Rheumatic Remedy Which is Curing the World.

Mr. E. W. Sherman, proprietor of the Sherman House, Morrisburg, Ont., is known by thousands of Canadians, hence the following statement from Mr. Sherman will be read with great interest and pleasure: "I have been cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing in three days. One bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure performed this most remarkable cure. I had suffered from this disease, as I say, for ten years, and I did not ever expect to be entirely cured. The effects of the first dose of South American Rheumatic Cure were truly wonderful. I have only taken one bottle of the remedy, and now haven't any sign of rheumatism in my system. It did me more good than all the doctoring I ever did in my life."—Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A TUPPERIAN REMINISCENCE.

Sir Charles Tupper is a fixture as Premier of Canada—for one month and 23 days—and on his re-introduction a little reference to his past will show what a safe guide he is and how his "master mind" guarded the interests of this country. Sir Charles' subsequent career show no signs of his having had a change of heart. The middle aged electors will remember what is meant when the Onderdonk steal is mentioned, but the younger electors may require to have their memories refreshed. The changes of time and politics have brought Sir Charles and "My dear Onderdonk" together — Sir Charles from London and Mr. Onderdonk from the United States. Sir Charles Tupper is now Premier and "my dear Onderdonk" is now building a section of the Trent Valley Canal and employing foreigners, when Mr. Haggart promised that Canadian labour should be protected and only Canadians employed on this great work. But about this great steal which amounted to $1,118,000. It occurred in this wise :—

Sir Charles Tupper, then Minister of Railways and Canals, new hope of the Tories, called for tenders for the Port Moody and Kamloops branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Messrs. Charlebois and Macdonald tendered. So did "my dear Onderdonk," and the tender of this foreigner was only in excess of the other by the modest sum of $226,000. It must here be noted that both tenders were accompanied by the customary cheque, but Messrs. Charlebois had neglected to have theirs marked by the bank. This was all the better for "My dear Onderdonk," and Sir Charles, it appears, took no trouble to ascertain whether the Charlebois cheque was all right. The other one was and the difference was only $226,000. But an officious clerk put his finger in the pie and, on his own responsibility, having observed the omission, went to the Bank of Montreal and asked if the cheque was good, with the result that it was stamped "good till paid." But, meantime, the contract had been awarded to Onderdonk, and the large sum of money indicated thrown away.

That ends the first chapter in this extraordinary story. There is some very good reason for believing that between the awarding and the singning of the contract the specifications were changed to the tune of $200,000, which meant the sum of $426,000 for the lucky contractor.

The next chapter opens after the completion of the work. According to the contract the government were at liberty to take over at a valuation the rolling stock used in the work of construction, though they were under no obligation to do so. When the work was completed Onderdonk demanded that the government should take over the rolling stock. The Hon. J. H. Pope had in the meantime become Minister of Railways and, though by no means a political saint, hesitated, but after a time the matter was submitted to arbitration, in defiance of the legal opinion of Sir Alexander Campbell, then Minister of Justice, that the government were not under any obligation to take over the rolling stock. The arbitrators—Mr. Reed for the government, Mr. Haney, of the C.P.R., for Onderdonk, and Mr. Clarke as umpire—awarded Mr. Onderdonk $72,665 for the engines and cars fit for use. That did not suit Mr. Onderdonk, and apparently did not suit some people closely connected with the government, if not in the government; for the Minister of Railways and Mr. Onderdonk succeeded in wheedling or bullying the arbitrators into awarding $202,000 for the rolling stock, which had some time before been valued at $72,665. Mr. Clarke, the umpire, told the committee of public accounts that the award had been increased from $72,665 to $202,000 "by order of the government, and though their names were appended to it, they did not hold themselves responsible." This added to the $226,000 thrown away on the original contract, makes $428,000 lost to the country. Then, after the C.P.R. got the further sum of $15,000 for transferring this precious rolling stock to Quebec it turned out that instead of getting as the Minister of Railways promised, 29 locomotives and 397 flat cars for its $202,000, it only received eight engines and 180 cars, most of which were valueless and unsafe. The third chapter of this interesting narrative tells how, when this costly section was presented to the C.P.R., that company discovered that it had not been completed as the contract required, and modestly claimed the costs incurred in bringing the standard of the Onderdonk contract up to its proper level. An arbitration was granted and awarded the company $575,000 and expenses amounting to $100,000. So that from first to last the squandered money abstracted from the public treasury foots up as follows: On the contract $226,000; rolling stock award, $202,000; paid C.P.R. for haulage, $15,000; award to C. P. R., $575,000; expenses of award, $100,000. Total, $1,118,000. Where did some of it go to? Perhaps the country will never know, and the secret remains locked up in the breasts of Sir Charles Tupper and "My dear Onderdonk." But the country will not do amiss to remember that these acts of public robbery commenced at the moment the first contract was improperly awarded by Sir Charles to Onderdonk. The whole scheme was engineered under the control of the gentlemen who is now Premier of Canada. Under this gentleman the electors of Canada are asked to let themselves be ruled by a government in whose record there exists for Sir Charles Tupper, a monopoly, by no means, of such gigantic steals.

THE new government cannot even command the support of their late speaker. Hon. Peter White has issued his address to the electors of North Renfrew, and declares that he is opposed to the government.

THE fabiest excuse for Hon. Mr. Chapleau's refusal to enter Sir Charles Tupper's Cabinet yet furnished is reported from Ottawa. He was willing to come in, but he wanted too much. "He would have taken the Public Works (a great spending department) but he would not with Mr. Foster as a member of the government, because of Mr. Foster's pledge of economy. A horse that wouldn't laugh at this idea is too dead to have any sense of humour. Talk of a cabinet, of which Sir Charles Tupper is head, making a specialty of economy—except in the matter of truth, fair dealing and honest government.

BLAIRTON.

From our own Correspondent.

Last week an entertainment was held here in our church, the object of which was the augmentation of church funds. Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, of Campbellford, chairman of the district, and Rev. Mr. Curts, of the Seymour East Circuit, out of great kindness in driving so great a distance, were in attendance and delivered instructive addresses.

Miss Agnes Young of Rockdale, though now performing the duties of a deaconess in a hospital in Minneapolis, still continues, as she has been wont to do in the past, to select and get up Scripture readings for the young people of this place. Miss Maggie, her sister, takes it as a delight, and not as trouble is evident, to come here and distribute these productions. These young ladies, to say the least, are zealous in good works. So ardent and constant are their acts of benevolence and charity that they are worthy of more than a passing remark, and as it is fully their due to be said of them, we want to say it. They are the most exemplary young ladies along that and other lines for good that we know of.

To ask for space in so over-crowded and valuable a paper as is THE EXAMINER for reference to the good qualities of a dog—though the qualities may appear to be almost unprecedented—may to some of your readers appear to border on intrusion, but the following statement is true most absolutely: Until a few days ago Mr. Geo. Robson, on lot 4, concession 1, Marmora, owned a collie that one hundred dollars would fail to purchase, and to-day, Mr. Robson or your correspondent either, would not be slow in closing a bargain for the like consideration for the dog's equal. That of fetching home the cows of his own accord, and as regular as clock work, was only placing himself on a par with numerous others of his kind, but for the cows to play on the way or to exceed the slowest gait, was only to call forth the sternest indignation and prompt interference. He would, so to say, "surround" them, and go ahead of them, and a spectator would declare that he had taken them prisoners and was leading them captive. If a member of the family in hearing of the dog, would say, "I would like the cows brought home a little early to-night," the dog would bring them a little early. A member dare not say even at noon, "I wish the cows were here, or the dog would, if hearing the remark, go for them in all haste.

Mr. Robson would scatter grain on the ground, and if the chickens were called, everything else around was deprived of a single kernel; but if he called the pigs, then the hens, though a multitude of them, dare not look in that direction. In placing feed around the yard, one had only to point or mention to the animal to which the portion was allotted, and the dog would marshall to their places any number of them. And should they in their movements, attempt to mar the similarity of themselves to that of a long line of statuary, they then incurred a prompt infliction of a contact of noses, which to the erring animal would be rather less inviting to risk repeating than to quietly obey the canine orders. The dog was unique in the dispatch of his enemies. An intruder of monstrous dimensions might appear, and though a match between them might appear as uneven as Fitzsimmons and a "feather weight," yet yet Collie's plan was to at once assume an aggressive attitude, and exhibit to the fullest extent possible, his set of ivory, and his snapping produced a sound similar to that of "bone beating." This, we consider, was done as a threat, and timely warning as to what these ivories were capable of doing. After a very brief survey of the situation, the intruder would beat a retreat, fully as much satisfied with the fruitlessness of his visit as if he had been placed hors du combat. The other day a neighbour of Mr. Robson informed him that his dog, which for the first time had left home, was at the C. P. R. crossing cut in two by the train.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The band may be heard practising in the park almost any evening now.

Another of the old land marks passed away quite recently in the person of Mr. Robt. Whittington. His son Robert is president of the Methodist College in Vancouver and was a missionary in Japan for many years.

The residence of Mr. Joseph Woods was the scene of an interesting and happy event on Wednesday, it being the occasion of the marriage of his daughter Minnie and Mr. Joseph Huggins of South Monaghan. The presents were many and varied and showed in what high esteem the contracting parties were held. None but the immediate relatives were present.

The water in the river and lake is very high, almost as high as three years ago. The local sawmills have shut down till the water lowers as it is impossible for them to work their machinery to advantage at present.

The farmers are busy putting in their spring crop now, as the land is drying up fast and will soon be in fine shape for sowing. Fall wheat is looking remarkably well considering the winter. Farmers not be short of feed next winter if the crops prove as favourable as the indications.

The work of filling in the approach at the north side of the new bridge has been carried on quite vigorously during the last two weeks. It is quite passable now, and many of the people are taking advantage of the short route to town.

BEAUTIFUL AND STRONG.

The Greatest American Prima Donna Made Well by Paine's Celery Compound.

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES AND IMITATIONS.

There never was a remedy so highly recommended as Paine's Celery Compound.

There never was a remedy in such universal demand.

For it makes people well!

Everyone among the thousands who have been delighted by the beautiful songs of Roma, the great prima dona, recognize in her one of the world-famous singers.

Born in California, she graduated with honours at Eastern musical colleges, and on her return to the coast, became the first prima donna at the Tivoli Opera House in San Francisco.

It was while marking the tour with the famous Marine Band of Washington last season that the beautiful Roma felt the strain of travel, hurry and work, yet in evenings she greeted great audiences with smiles and electrified them with her voice. Could she have done this without her nerves were steadied and her strength built up by Paine's Celery Compound? She says:—

"In Paine's Celery Compound I find a very much long felt want for the worries and exhaustive cares attendant upon an active professional life. Paine's Celery Compound brings restful strength to the body and mind, invigorating the system and prolonging life."

Paine's Celery Compound has made thousands of people well. It has saved thousands of women from nervous prostration. It has made the weak strong. It has cured where everything else failed. Innumerable testimonials as to its wonderful value have been voluntarily sent to Wells & Richardson Co., who prepare it in Montreal, P.Q.

Paine's Celery Compound is the most remarkable remedy for the blood and nerves known to the 19th century. It is employed by the foremost physicians in curing kidney and liver troubles and the diseases due to nervous disorders, faulty nutrition and impoverished blood, producing results that seem little short of the miraculous.

Paine's Celery Compound builds up the system, purifies the blood, regulates the nerves. The weak and worn out soon find their frames invigorated, their spirits raised, and their strength renewed.

It makes people well.

It is as superior to the ordinary nervines, bitters and sarsaparillas as strength is better than weakness.

THE GOVERNOR'S WORD WAS LAW.

French and English Cable Companies Were Compelled to Produce All Messages.

Halifax, N.S., May 1.—An evening paper says: Governor Berges of St. Pierre Miquelon is at Halifax Hotel. He arrived on the steamer Propatria to-day on his way back to France, having been recalled at the solicitation of St. Pierre people, who did not favor him as Governor of the islands. The action against Governor Berges culminated a short time ago and he will probably receive another appointment under the French Government. The sentiment against him is understood to have been very displeasing to the Governor, who is reported to have adopted unusual measures to ascertain the source of complaints sent from St. Pierre to his home Government. Between April 11 and 13 a cablegram or cablegrams were forwarded from St. Pierre to Paris signed by a well-known citizen, and to learn the contents and name of the sender the Governor ordered the French and English cable officers at the local office to produce the messages sent or received by them within the dates mentioned. They refused to accede to the request. The Governor called on the Chief Justice of the colony to issue an order compelling them to carry out his wishes. The order was issued, and thereupon the cable officers produced the whole business.

The Governor found one message which he particularly wanted to see, and then he requested an explanation from the man whose name was signed to it. The supposed writer positively denied having anything to do with the authorship of this cablegram, and since then deep mystery has enshrouded the identity of the sender, and official circles have been much worked up over the affair. Every message that passed through the local cable offices between the dates named is said to have been produced for the inspection of the Governor and the matter created an immense sensation.

THE CRIPPLE CREEK FIRES.

Many Persons are Missing Since the Second Conflagration—The Losses.

Cripple Creek, Col., May 1.—Many persons are still reported missing since yesterday's conflagration. Some of the missing have undoubtedly left town, but it is feared several bodies will be taken from the ruins. The origin of the fire has not been determined. Arson is still suspected, because the flames broke out in so many places at once. Coal oil fumes were detected about the school house yesterday, and some women saw two men trying to set fire to a residence. One unknown incendiary was wounded besides the one killed, and a number of suspects were arrested during the night and sent to Colorado Springs to-day. Fifty objectionable characters were marched out of town, and a Vigilance Committee has been formed. The insurance adjusters roughly estimate the property loss at $1,250,000, not more than 20 per cent. of which is covered by insurance. The loss by the two fires will reach $2,000,000, and the total insurance $400,000.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion is Waste—Overwork Means Shorter Life — Dodd's Kidney Pills Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure so promptly and permanently.

THE SHAH ASSASSINATED.

Persia's Ruler Shot to Death While Entering the Inner Court of a Shrine Near Teheran.

Teheran, Persia, May 1.—While the Shah was entering the inner court of the Shrine of Shah Abdul Azim, six miles south of this city this afternoon, he was shot.

The assassin fired point blank at his heart at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Order prevails here and no disorder is apprehended, as a result of the murder of the Shah.

The assassin, who was promptly arrested, is said to be a Soyyid from Kerman, or from the province of that name. It is believed that the murderer has accomplices.

LORD LOCH DENIES IT ALL.

He Did Not Suggest an Invasion of the Transvaal to the Committee.

London, May 1.—In the House of Lords to-day Lord Loch of Drylaw, who as Sir H. B. Loch was Governor of the Cape of Good Hope and British High Commissioner of South Africa from 1889 until 1895, when he received his present rank and title, made an emphatic denial of the statements involving him in the invasion; that when Governor of Cape Colony he suggested an invasion of the Transvaal to the Johannesburg committee; that he had also offered to support a rebellion with troops, and that he had in other ways encouraged or incited hostile action against the Boer republic. Lord Loch declared that he had never proposed to the Reform Committee an invasion of the Transvaal; had never asked Lionel Phillips if Johannesburg would hold out, nor had he ever promised to intervene in the event of a rebellion, as had been alleged.

Lord Denbigh said he did not think that the matter called for any action on the part of Parliament at present.

When fevers and other epidemics are around, safety lies in fortifying the system with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A person having thin and impure blood, is in the most favorable condition to "catch" whatever disease may be floating in the air.

FRUIT SPRAYING EXPERIMENTS.

Conducted in Mr. E. B. Edwards' Orchard This Morning.

As previously arranged by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and the local fruitgrowers, the first of a series of spraying experiments took place this morning in the orchard of Mr. E. B. Edwards. There were a large number of those interested in the culture of fruit present, among whom were Messrs. Taylor and Christopher Howson, of Otonabee; Robt. Fife, E. B. Edwards, E. H. D. Hall, W. H. Meldrum, John Hillier and others. The experiment was in charge of Mr. W. F. Randall, who was sent by the departments, and who is well posted on the subject. He took pains in explaining every detail of the operation. The solution used is known as the Bordeaux mixture, consisting of copper sulphate 4 lbs; lime (fresh), 4 lbs.; to which was added 50 gals. of water. The copper sulphate was placed in a bag of coarse material and dissolved in about 5 gals. of water, in a wooden pail, and the lime was also slaked in about the same quantity of water. The lime and copper sulphate were then mixed together, and in order to test the strength of the mixture a solution of Serro's cyanide of potassium was dropped into it, and if it showed black more of the lime was added until the potassium showed the same colour as the mixture. This was done in order that the copper sulphate would not be so strong as to destroy the leaves. The sprayed mixture was then put into a barrel, to which one of Anderson's pumps was connected by means of a short piece of hose and eight feet of small gas pipe, to which was attached a Vermoral nozzle. The pump was started and the nozzle produced a fine spray and by the aid of a gas pipe the operator was enabled to reach every part of the tree. The part of the orchard selected was thoroughly gone over, and as the season proceeds two other experiments will take place at later dates. The experiment was very interesting, and no doubt will result in great benefit to fruit growers in this section as it has in other parts of the province.

DEFECTIVE EYESIGHT.

The Alarming Increase of Eye Troubles—Ninety Per Cent of the Population Said to Have Defective Sight—The Necessity for Skilled Opticians.

Whatever may be the causes, and they appear to be multiplying, that lead up to the alarming increase in optical defects in our day, one cannot fail to be impressed with the large number of people in our midst who have to resort to the use of artificial aids for their sight. It is stated on good authority that ninety per cent. of the population at present have defective eyesight. This seems a strong statement, and yet the great demand for glasses which has grown steadily during recent years would warrant its accuracy.

Not very long ago it was an unusual thing to see young persons especially, wearing spectacles. To-day it is the exception who does not wear them. Formerly one was prepared to see the use of glasses resorted to by persons up in years, it being quite natual to expect that the eye would begin to age just as the rest of the body began to age. But now, the young as well as the aged, the children as well as the adult, are everywhere to be seen wearing glasses.

Dimness and imperfection in the sight would seem to come on very early now in children and young people. The eyes may be free from disease and perfectly sound, but the vision indistinct and faulty, because of some interference with the laws of refraction, or in other words, because the rays of light are not focused accurately upon the retina of the eye.

In view of these facts, it is not to be wondered that increased attention is being paid to the study and care of the eyes by skilled opticians who prepare themselves for the proper fitting of lenses and testing the sight on scientific principles. In this enlightened age science steps in and is teaching that many troubles that were formerly considered diseases of the eye are simply due to errors of accommodation. Prejudice against wearing glasses is dying out, although there are many people to be found who are ruining their eyes and sight for life by persisting in thinking that no one but old people should wear glasses.

In this connection it is learned with pleasure that our respected townsman, Mr. W. Madill, druggist, Hunter street, has just returned from Toronto, where he has been engaged in taking a course at the Optical Institute of Canada. Having passed a highly creditable examination, both in theoretical and practical work before the examiners of that institute, he has been awarded a certificate for "sight-testing and correcting by lenses of visual defects, due to errors of refraction, accomodation and convergence." The public can now avail themselves of the full benefit of Mr. Madill's special advice. At a considerable outlay he has fully equipped himself with the latest improved testing apparatus for discovering the different defects of the eyes and their proper correction. If your eyesight is not satisfactory, whether you have glasses or not; if you are conscious of any difficulty in seeing, a consultation with Mr. Madill, and an examination of your eyes will no doubt lead you to being fitted with proper glasses that will set all matters right.

Mr. Madill has been fortunate in securing a full and reliable stock of the best optical goods manufactured, including the finest cut lenses, as well as improved frames for spectacles and eyeglasses in gold, silver, nickel and steel. Cases of failing and defective sight, long-sight, short-sight, eye strain and astigmatism will be treated and corrected, and where necessary special prescriptions for difficulties will be filled and guaranteed.

FAREWELL TO MISS QUINN.

The Members of St. Paul's Church Y.P.S.C.E. Make a Presentation.

Last evening the members of St. Paul's Y.P.S.C.E., with a few friends, gathered together in the Sunday school room of the church for the purpose of participating in a farewell social, tendered to Miss M. Quinn, who is about to leave town to enter a training school to fit herself for foreign mission work. Miss Quinn has been an active Christian Endeavourer during her stay in Peterborough, and St. Paul's Society have had the honour of having her as one of their members, and they, more than any other organization in which Miss Quinn is interested, will feel the loss. Mr. T. H. Martin, president of the society, presided, and a short programme, consisting of the following numbers, was pleasingly rendered: Duet by Mrs. Mein and Mr. Crane; instrumental selection, Mary Patterson and Edith Hall; a solo by Mr. Crane, and a solo by Miss Montgomery, closed the musical portion of the programme. The chairman then requested Miss Quinn to come forward. Mr. Beaton, secretary of the society, then presented the following address:

To Miss Quinn, Peterborough:—

DEAR MISS QUINN,—We, the members of St. Paul's C. E. society, have learned that you have decided to sever your connection with us in order to engage in the Master's service in a foreign field, while we are sorry to lose your valuable services, we cannot but admire the decision you have made to consecrate your life to His service. We cannot, as yet, realize how great will be our loss, as we have always regarded you as the leader of our society, able and willing at all times to give us sound practical advice. As a society we feel we have not given you the assistance we should to aid you in carrying on the Lord's work and to help you to overcome the many difficulties with which you have to contend. The spiritual standing of our society is due mainly to your personal effort, and our prayer is that the seed sown by you in this portion of the Master's vineyard may reap a harvest an hundred fold. We wish you a rich blessing in your course of training and pray that the way may be opened up so that you may have the privilege of "delighting yourself in the Lord" according to the desire of your heart. In whatever field the Master desires you to labour you will have the heartfelt sympathies and prayers of our society. "May the Lord watch between us and thee while we are absent one from another."

Signed on behalf of the society,
T. H. MARTIN, President.
W. A. BEATON, Secretary.

Before Miss Quinn had a chance to say a word Dr. Torrance stepped forward, and after expressing his regret at losing such a faithful worker, presented to her, on behalf of the society and friends, with a gold watch and chain. Miss Quinn, who was much surprised, said she must thank the members for their kindness. She said that the address was necessary to show she was thought kindly of, but felt altogether unworthy of the many kind words contained therein. She said she had done all she could for the C. E. society, but that after she went away they would find that they could get along as well without her. She had always tried to serve the Master conscientiously and hoped she would go into foreign mission work under the auspices of her own church. She told of the circumstances that led her to come to Peterborough to attend the Provincial Convention in November, 1895. She came to take the official report of the convention and while here the way opened up for her to take her present position at Hazel Brae. She again thanked the society for their kindness and said this was the first time during her Christian experience that she had received a present of any kind but would not value this one less on that account.

Mr. Gilchrist said he would have been very sorry to have missed this opportunity of expressing thanks to Miss Quinn for the the deep interest she had taken in the junior work and hoped the importance of the junior work would be laid on the shoulders of some earnest workers. He wished her every success in his new work.

Mr. Madill thought that none of the workers were better fitted to enter mission work than Miss Quinn, and hoped the way would be opened up for her in the way she desired, and he knew she would need the prayers of all in the discouragements one has to contend with in mission work.

Messrs. Johnston, Connal, Simpson, Beeton and Martin spoke on behalf of the C. E. Society, all expressing their regret at losing her as a friend and co-labourer. All united in wishing her every success in her new home.

The meeting closed by singing "Blest be the tie that Binds," after which all gathered around Miss Quinn to say good bye.

Miss Quinn leaves town next Tuesday afternoon.

The address was neatly prepared by Mr. Pringle of the Business College, and the members of St. Paul's Society are deeply indebted to him for his kindness.

AN OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

Demise of Mr. Charles Richardson, Formerly of Peterborough.

Word has just been received in town of the death of Mr. Charles Richarison, of Bridgeport, Conn., formerly of Peterborough. Mr. Richardson, it will be remembered, was for many years a trusted employee of the Hillard estate and afterwards conducted a general store in the North End. Of him the Bridgeport Evening Post says:

"Charles Richardson, aged 59 years, and residing at 30 William street, died this morning after a short and painful illness. The deceased came to this city from the west three years ago. He was for years engaged in the lumber business and while residing in this city he has been connected with the Swords' Lumber Company. He possessed a kind and genial manner and his habits were most exemplary. He was a deacon in Olivet church and took a great interest in religious work. No eulogy is necessary to express his good qualities as his life spoke for itself. He leaves one son and four daughters. The funeral will be held on Monday."

DOG TAGS.

A D. T. is Rather an Expensive Luxury at This Season of the Year.

"Give this dog a tag, I wish he was dead," ejaculated a prominent business man as he planked his dollar down on to the town clerk's desk this morning. A man never thinks of what a nuisance a dog is until the dog tax falls due, when he begins to think that a dog is quite a luxury in its way.

A lady walked in and explained that she had two dogs, as assessed, but she was quite sure the oldest dog would die before the month was out. Two licenses had to be taken out, however, but the clerk good-natuedly suggested that if the old dog did die, an appeal to the Council might result in a refund of one of the dollars.

These are just two of the many amusing interviews which are heard in the town clerk's office as the citizens make their applications for dog tags.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of marvellous medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured, viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation and by imparting tone to the nervous system. Sold by all druggists.

DAILY MOTTO.

Saturday, May 2nd.

In is a great thing to feel, in our human sorrows, that it is not fate that is trying us, but our dear Father who is dealing with us, working out for us his good ends. It is the sublimest power man ever puts forth, to be able to say, "Not my will, but Thine, be done." When we can say it in the spirit in which Christ said it, we are the conquerors of the world.

PERSONAL.

The Lindsay Post says,—Mr. W. H. Coombe, of the Rathbun Co.'s office, is in Peterborough to-day checking the ties inspected on that division last month. He will return this evening.

Miss Julia Strickland has returned to Peterborough from London, where she has been staying since Christmas. She was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Grieve, "Strangeford."

The Toronto Globe says:—"Miss Calcutt, of 'Coldblow Cottage,' Ashburnham, in her usual charming and hospitable manner, lately entertained a number of friends in honour of her guest, Miss Eyre, of Cobourg. In progressive pedro and a dance after supper a most enjoyable evening was spent. The lucky winners of the prizes were Miss Eyre and Mr. Harry Allen."

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Police Court hereafter opens at nine o'clock instead of ten in the mornings.

—Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Somnia, will give a gospel address at the young men's meeting, Y.M.C.A. hall, at 4.15 p.m., to-morrow.

—A complaint was made to the Police Magistrate this morning relative to the damage which a neighbour's hens were doing in a poor man's garden. Trouble will result for the owner of the hens.

—Capt. J. Varcoe, the new proprietor of the Maple Leaf, plying between Bobcaygeon and Bridgenorth at present, is rapidly gaining a knowledge of the intricacies of the route under the tuition of Mr. W. Bottum, who will remain with him for a couple of weeks.

—Quite a number of young maples are being placed in the Central Park to replace those found to be dead. The trees in the boulevard along the east side of the park are also being transplanted to other positions in the park. The boulevard is to be removed, as it encroached too much on the road, the space for vehicular traffic being unusually narrow on account of the street railway "turn-out."

Queen Victoria's Photo.

Given Away by the Manufacturers of Diamond Dyes.

The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes are sending their elegant full sized cabinet photo of Her Majesty Queen Victoria to thousands of families on this North American continent.

The happy arrangements made with the publishers of Our Home, Canada's popular monthly paper, are as follows:

"An elegant full cabinet photo (from a recent copy taken by royal command) of Her Majesty Queen Victoria; a four-page pamphlet giving dates of births, marriages and deaths, and other items of interesting and useful information relating to the royal family, that but few people have access to; six Diamond Dye Dolls with six extra dresses; and a card of forty-five samples of dyed cloth, showing colours of Diamond Dyes, sent free to every man, woman and child who will send in 25 cents in money or stamps for one year's subscription to Our Home, a paper that thousands declare to be worth a dollar."

This wonderful offer cannot last much longer, as the stock of photos is being rapidly exhausted. Hundreds of correspondents write us about the premiums, and say the photo is well worth 50 cents.

Please note: Our Home for one year, cabinet photo of the Queen, and other premiums, as promised above, all for 25 cents. Address Wells & Richardson Co., 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P. Q.

Hair for the People of Canada's Great Northwest.

Prof. Dorenwend, the eminent hair specialist, is starting on his periodical trip across the continent to supply the hairless inhabitants with artificial coverings. On his way he is taking in a few favoured places in Ontario to supply old customers and such new ones as require his goods. He is noted from pole to pole and from ocean to ocean for making fine goods. For ladies who follow the dictation of fashion he makes frontpieces of curly or wavy hair, really more attractive than the natural growth. His switches for the back hair require no recommendation; the thousands in use testify to their popularity. For persons who have lost their hair he supplies wigs, toupee, etc., which replace the loss and cannot be detected. You can profit by an interview with the professor. He will be here for one day only, at the Huffman House, on Monday, May 4th.

The fine weather has brought an increased attendance. It is hoped that parents and others who have pupils in their charge will send them as regularly as possible until the end of the term, so as not to interfere with the preparations for June promotion examinations.

It is the intention of the teachers and pupils to celebrate Arbor Day, May 8th, in the usual manner.

How to get "Sunlight" Books.

Send 12 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, who will send postpaid a paper bound book, 160 pages. For 6 "Life-buoy" Carbolic Soap wrappers, a similar book will be sent. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain good reading. Send your name and address written carefully. Remember "Sunlight" sells at 6 cts. per twin-bar, and "Lifebuoy" at 10 cts. One cent postage will bring you wrappers by leaving the ends open.

THE FAILURE OF PROPHECY.

The EXAMINER begs to acknowledge, with thanks, the flattering attention it receives from its local evening contemporary. An innocent little local political squib draws forth a column of dignified remonstrance. The Review pitches into the EXAMINER for its suggestive statements in reference to the industrial boom in two local establishments, and characterizes our references as a "campaign lie." This is rather strong, since, in regard to the Lock Works the statement was not denied, and in reference to the Bridge Works, we merely indulged in a little prophecy of a possible boom. If our prophecy failed we are in very good company, in our cotemp's estimation. In a matter that nearly affects the point in question, Sir Charles Tupper posed as a prophet. When he was imposing his hundred ton iron duties in 1887, he glowingly pictured the great results that were to flow from them. He held his hearers entranced in the thrall of his iron-clad eloquence. Among other things he said:

"Now sir the result is that by the adoption of this policy, (the iron duties) you will give permanent employment to an army of at least twenty thousand, increasing our population from eighty thousand to a hundred thousand souls. * * Were we to manufacture castings, forgings, cutlery and edge tools, hardware, machinery or engines and street rails, there is no reason we should not steadily progress to that point; the population I have mentioned of one hundred thousand souls would be trebled."

Under the spell of the seer, Parliament submitted to the increased duties on iron, which since that time have amounted to nearly a million dollars a year, or since 1887, to nearly ten millions of dollars. But Sir Charles Tupper's prophecy failed. In 1891 the production of pig iron was not one-third of what it was in 1887, and in 1892 it was a little over; and the importation of pig iron increased from forty five thousand tons in 1887, the year of the new boom policy, to sixty nine thousand tons in 1893, or eleven thousand tons a year more than in 1887 when according to Sir Charles Tupper's reasoning it was to cease altogether, the chief result of this policy, instead of helping things, was to largely handicap manufacturers by increasing enormously the price of their raw material and, of course, enhancing the price to the consumer, and proportionately reducing the wages of employees.

A National Policy journal should blush to the toes to state that in the 18th year of the National Policy, and in the 9th year of Sir Charles Tupper's iron age, a great establishment employing thousands of dollars of capital, and scores of hands, should be compelled to close, and turn its employees temporarily on the street. Why? Because, forsooth, they have to wait for iron from another continent, while the prophetic Tupper claimed that his policy of high taxation of iron would produce all that would be required for the use of this country. And, too, while millions of tons of rich iron ore are lying, close to the surface, within two hours' drive of Peterborough. Talk about "campaign lying," why THE EXAMINER'S little prophecy is truth fresh from the well, compared to the windy mendacity that Sir Charles Tupper used to get consent to the imposition of a burdensome, retrogressive and injurious iron tariff.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S CABINET.

The Cabinet with which Sir Charles Tupper faces the country is not a strong one. There have been changes from the old one. While the new blood is not conspicuous for brilliant ability there is a negative gain in the absence of a professional boodler like Sir Adolphe Caron with his brazen readiness "to do it again." Mr. Ouimet, the champion of the Curran bridge steal, and Mr. Angers will be a little addition of strength in the matter of the Remedial bill. As to the Ontario members it seems as if the Premier did not expect much support from this province, and as to Manitoba, it seems to be the hope of Sir Charles that Mr. Hugh John MacDonald will carry that province by the influence of his father's nose, which one of our enthusiastic Conservatives declares "is alone worth thousand of votes." A very nice programme—Sir Charles Tupper to lead the electors by the nose through the nose of the defunct chieftian. The Liberals have no reason to fear the new government very much. It is a weak combination of incompatible elements.

Michael Adams, M. P. for Northumberland, N. B., is Another who has Used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder And Been Cured.

It does not seem to matter where one looks for good results from that wonderful medicine, Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, they are to be found. Everyone in his own province, and every member of the Commons knows Michael Adams, the popular member for Northumberland, N. B. When he says to the world, as he has done over his own signature, that Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is productive of most satisfactory results for cold in the head and other catarrhal troubles, they know it means much. The medicine is one possessed of peculiar virtues and never fails to effect a cure.

One short puff of the breath through the Blower supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves in ten minutes, and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, colds, headache, sore throat, tonsilitis and deafness. 60 cents. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

CHEMONG PARK ITEMS.

Mr. R. N. Scott is Getting the Stage into Shape for the Summer Work—It will be Running Soon.

Mr. J. Pope, caretaker of the park, has added another new building to his boat house. He has now one of the best liveries in the country.

The roads are in great condition for wheeling.

The park is undergoing a thorough cleaning, so as to be ready for this season's first excursion and picnic, which is booked for the 24th of May.

As the yachting club is offering great inducements to aquatic sports, and the park being thrown open free, many excursion parties have seized the opportunity and booked their fun for here.

Some of the Edison boys are cultivating a great liking for yachting, and it looks as though they will become expert sailors under the management of Mr. L. White.

Seven of Peterborough's fast wheelmen left the hotel the other evening for a road race to town, $5 being the purse. They were all sure winners, but the fast man exceeded the last man by one mile, his time being 16 minutes. Who can beat that?

Nearly all the rooms in the hotel have been engaged for the season.

Let the Prices Speak!

They tell the story of advanced values. They explain why business is always booming at the Peterborough Bookstore. Some people's words are half battles. Every syllable means so much. What we have to say about this store and the prices of the goods, we mean to carry out.

WE MEAN BUSINESS

What is worth emphasizing is that in the lines we quote prices on to-day, we show a large variety of patterns. It is not our policy to select two or three catch lines. You get the choice of a very large stock. A New Stock selected with the utmost care and discretion, that always brings business. It's a Grand Stock for finding just what you want. Radiant with Good Values and sparkling with Low Prices.

WINDOW SHADES.

Our stock of 16,00 Opaque Shades, made from a composition of rubber and whitelead painted on a pure linen, ensures you the most durable shade cloth made. Guaranteed washable. But the prices are what surprise the buyers.

CROWDED HOUSES

—AT—

ROBERT HALL'S SALE.

Our Voluntary Going-Out-of-Business Sale is now so well known that spicy, truthful, specific Reminders of what we are doing every day will be sufficient for the present. PLEASE WATCH THIS SPACE. The news will be interesting. We will keep in touch honestly with Shoppers. All advertising goes for nothing, unless believed. And we know that nothing equals the keen judgment of a woman when it is called upon to weigh the relative value of Bargains.

Selling a $30,000 Stock of New Goods at Cost

can be made an easy and pleasant task even though we have to do without the profits on the goods.

We do not want to be sensational, but we cannot help being the cause of sensations. Low prices of course are forcing these goods out quickly, but QUALITY outshines Price every time. This Sale means most for people who realize that economy doesn't mean low prices only. The cheap deception of naming an imaginary "value" as a basis for reduction is too common, and won't go down.

EVERYTHING AT COST

is the plain, unvarnished truth. No juggling with figures here. The crowds of people who are daily shopping at the Sale have implicit confidence—for absolutely nothing is risked in buying here. The Goods are All New. The low prices are not made to move stuff from past seasons, nor because of errors in buying. Nothing old handicaps our sale.

CARD.—We would esteem it a favour if our friends in town would do their principal shopping before Saturday, so as to leave that day for our friends from the country. It would help us to handle the crowds better.

ROBERT HALL,

385 GEORGE STREET. TELEPHONE 171.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances; just the same as a man might suffer for the same reasons. Nine cases in ten, however, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. Possibly the apparent cause of the headache will be nervousness or indigestion, while the cause of these is not thought of. The organs distinctly feminine are more vital than any other organs in a woman's body. Any trouble of those affects the whole body. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times, women have been treated for the disorders thought to be indicated by these symptoms, when the real trouble was much deeper and more serious. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of the ills and pains very commonly considered the uncomfortable inheritance of her sex. It cures where really good physicians have failed. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favorite Prescription" cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success. The afflicted woman will find immediate relief and ultimate cure in the "Favorite Prescription." There is no doubt about it—there is no question about it. The woman who hesitates is invited to send 31 one-cent stamps for customs and cost of mailing a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This celebrated work contains full information about Dr. Pierce's medicines, with the reproduced photographs of hundreds of people who have been cured by these world-famed remedies, also giving their names and addresses, besides plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions. It has reached the unprecedented sale of 680,000 copies at $1.50 a copy. Thus the expense of preparation has been defrayed, and now 500,000 copies will be absolutely given away. Remember that this book is not a mere advertising pamphlet, but a genuine standard work of 1008 large pages, over 300 illustrations, some of them in colors. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

HOPE WAS ABANDONED.

THE PECULIAR CASE OF MRS. HILL, OF WINCHESTER.

The Doctor Told Her That Her Trouble was Consumption of the Bowels—There was no Hope of Recovery—But Health was Almost Miraculously Restored.

From the Morrisburg Herald,

Mrs. Hill, wife of Mr. Robt. Hill, of Winchester, not many months ago was looked upon as one whose days were numbered. To-day she is a handsome, healthy woman showing no traces of her former desperate condition, and it is therefore little wonder that her case has created a profound sensation in the neighbourhood. To a reporter who called upon her Mrs. Hill expressed a willingness to give the story of her illness and recovery for publication, and she told it with an earnestness that conveyed to the listener better than mere words could do, her deep gratitude to the medicine which had brought about her restoration to health and strength. "I feel," she said, "almost like one raised from the dead, and my case seems to me little short of miraculous. About a year ago I was confined, and shortly after I was taken with canker in the mouth, and suffered terribly. Although I had good medical attendance I did not seem to get better. In fact other complications set in which seemed fast hurrying me to the grave. I grew weaker and weaker until at last I was confined to bed, where I lay for three months. My bowels were in a terrible condition, and at last the doctor said he could do no more for me as with the other complications I had consumption of the bowels. My limbs and face became terribly swollen, my heart became weak, and my blood seemed to have turned to water. I became simply an emaciated living skeleton. At last the doctor told me that I was beyond the aid of human skill, and that further attendance on his part would do no good. One day sometime later my friends stood around my bedside, thinking every moment to see me breathe my last, but I rallied, and at the urgent solicitation of a friend, it was decided at this apparently hopeless juncture to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. In less than two weeks a slight improvement had taken place, and from that out I slowly, but surely, progressed towards recovery, until as you can see for yourself, I am once more a healthy woman. It is impossible for me to express how grateful I feel towards Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which under God's blessing, have restored me to health and family and friends. I feel that the world should know my story, so that some suffering sister may be able to find health in the medicine that I believe will never fail."

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, who, for the sake of the extra profit to himself, may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood, and cure when other medicines fail.

On Guard.

21 CENTS AN HOUR

Demanded by Toronto Builders' Laborers.

DROPPED THEIR HODS AND HOES

Important Building Operations in the Queen City at a Standstill—Deputation Waits on the Mayor, Who Consults the Architect of the New City Hall.

Toronto, May 2.

Mayday in Toronto was marked by the inauguration of a strike which threatens t seriously interefre with building operations. In pursuance of their resoluiton to strike unless their demand for 21 cents an hour was met by the employers, the 300 members of the Builders' Laborers' Union yesterday deserted hods and hoes, and very shortly after commencing work yesterday morning, the bricklayers and stone masons of the city also quit work to exhibit their sympathy with the strikers, as well as for the reason that they could not get along without the laborers.

About 900 men are affected by the strike. Of these some 250 are stone cutters and 350 bricklayers.

Of the works affected the most important is the new City Hall and Court House on Queen-street. Here there were employed 64 laborers, 134 stone cutters and a dozen bricklayers. The laborers did not go to work yesterday morning, and at 9 o'clock the stone cutters and bricklayers working on the building quit work. There are a number of other large buildings in course of erection among which may be mentioned the Foresters' building at Bay and Richmond-streets, the new Cobban factory on the Esplanade, the new Jewish Synagogue and a new hotel in Adelaide-street. On all these work is at a standstill.

About 200 of the builders' laborers gathered at a morning meeting in Temperance Hall. A deputation from the Stone Cutters' Union, then in session at Richmond Hall assured the laborers of the sympathy and support of the stone cutters, and promised financial aid if required. The Bricklayers' Union also met in Richmond Hall, and after considering their own dispute with the employers, who have refused to pay them 36 cents an hour, decided to back up their laborers, and sent a delegation to Temperance Hall with that assurance. The deputations were received with enthusiasm by the laborers, who expressed confidence in an ultimate victory.

The Mayor was interviewed by a deputation, which included President Ramsay of the Bricklayers, President Brooks of the Stone Cutters, and President Reddall of the Laborers, and others prominent in the unions. They presented their case to the Mayor, and asked him to use his influence to have the 21-cent rate paid to all laborers employed on the new civic building. Mayor Fleming assured the union representatives that he would do everything in his power to meet their request, but reminded them that Architect Lennox had charge of the work as trustee pending a settlement of the litigation between the city and Contractor Neelon, and that if the increase were to be given, it might form the basis of a claim for Contractor Neelon. His Worship consulted Mr. Lennox in the afternoon, and the latter informed him that to grant the increase would mean na additional expenditure of $15 a day, which he was not prepared to incur, unless the Board of Control assumed full responsibility. Under these circumstances he advised delay until a decision had been arrived at by the master builders. This information was conveyed to the striking laborers at the afternoon meeting in Temperance Hall. The laborers say the present 18-cent rate affords them a bare livelihood during the eight months in which they are able to work, and that during the remainder of the year many of them are destitute. The men offered to accept 20 cents an hour, which was the rate in 1894, but this was refused by the employers, and the men now say nothing less than the 21-cent rate will satisfy them.

Other Toronto Notes.

James Healey has been on trial for two days for the murder of John Corrigan in February. A row took place over a stove and Corrigan was going after Healey with a revolver. Healey struck him with an ax with fatal result. The evidence is all in. It is expected the case will be concluded today.

The assailants of Joseph Martin at the Woodbine last Tuesday are still at large and so far the detectives are unable to get any trace of them, unless they are the men who are in custody at East Toronto. The tramps who were questioned at Newcastle are not thought to have had anything to do with the affair. Martin is resting quietly, but his condition is still very precarious and but small hopes are held out for his recovery.

SAVED HER LIFE.

What One Bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Did for Mrs. J. L. Hillier, of Whitewood, N.W.T.

Only those who have so suffered know the distressing feelings that follow an affection of the heart. Let one who has been afflicted speak, and tell of the remedy which will cure. Says Mrs. J. L. Hillier, of Whitewood, N.W.T.:—"For some time I was much afflicted with heart failure in fact I could not sleep or lie down for fear of suffocation. I tried all the doctors in this section of country, but they failed to give me relief. A local druggist recommended a bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart; I tried it, and with the result that I immediately secured ease that I did not know before, and after taking further doses of the medicine, the trouble altogether left me. The fact is, knowing how serious was my condition, this remedy saved my life. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Mrs. Benj. Scott, Van Horn, Ont., says: "My heart caused me great uneasiness, my appetite failed and I became very weak and discouraged. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made me all right; I feel well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

ANOTHER BIG STRIKE ON.

A Philadelphia Motorman Sent Up for Two Years for Assaulting a Non-Union Man.

Philadelphia, April 30.—The strike of the motormen and conductors of the Union Traction Company nominally went into effect at 4 o'clock this morning. The effort to tie up the system failed, and it is not believed that the strike will affect the company.

Arthur Merrick and John Neveker, two striking conductors, were arrested during the day for inciting to riot and held for trial in $1000 bail each.

James Campbell, Wallace McGee, Joseph Dinsmore and Nicholas Walther, motormen of the Union Traction Company, who were arrested on Saturday last for assaulting non-union employes, were arraigned before Judge Yerkes in the Quarter Sessions Court to-day. Campbell was tried first and the jury convicted him without leaving the box. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary. The others pleaded guilty and the Court postponed sentence until Monday.

Break Up a Cold in Time BY USING PYNY-PECTORAL

The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

Mrs. Joseph Norwick, of 68 Sorauren Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of croup after a few doses. It cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."

H. O. Barbour, of Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "As a cure for coughs Pyny-Pectoral is the best selling medicine I have. My customers will have no other."

VITALITY in MEN Restored

Failing Sexual Strength in Old or Young Men can be QUICKLY and PERMANENTLY cured by me to a healthy, vigorous state. Sufferers from Nervous Debility Weakness Varicocele and all wasting diseases, should write to me for advice.

I have been a close student for many years of the subject of weakness in men, the fact is, I was a sufferer myself. Too bashful to seek the aid of older men or reputable physicians, I investigated the subject deeply and discovered a simple but most remarkably successful Remedy that completely cured me, and fully enlarged me from a shrunken, stunted condition to natural size and strength. I want every young or old man to know about it. I take a personal interest in such cases, and no one need hesitate to write me, as all communications are held strictly confidential. I send the recipe of this remedy absolutely free of cost. Do not put it off, but write me fully at once, you will always bless the day you did so. Address,

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. TROT ROUND THE WORLD.

What Two Adventurous Boys and Eight Newfoundlands Propose to Do.

Why do so many people keep telling us that the age of adventure is past? They ought to know better. It does not seem that any previous period ever gave so many opportunities for curious and exciting adventures as the present; and the taste for adventure was never stronger. It isn't confined to the men, either; our boys go as far and as fast as anybody.

Every boy in the country, doubtless, remembers the exploit of a young athlete who won fame a few years ago by wheeling round the world on a bicycle. Now the same journey is to be made with a rig still more remarkable. A couple of enterprising lads in North Dakota actually propose to trot round the earth with a team of dogs. Eight big, handsome, well trained Newfoundlands are to draw them every step of the way—except, of course, where it is necessary to cross the ocean. They will hardly be able to make the trip in eighty days like the hero of Jules Verne's story; but they will probably have experiences quite as interesting as his—and theirs will be, not fiction, but fact.

The dogs have already been procured, and six of them are shown in the accompanying picture, made from a photograph furnished by the boys themselves. Only six will be put in harness at one time; the other two will run behind as a reserve force, to take the places of any that become lame or exhausted. Six months have been spent in training these fine fellows; and they are as obedient as horses and almost as strong. The lightest weighs one hundred and thirty pounds, the heaviest one hundred and seventy; and on an ordinary road they can easily make forty or fifty miles a day, drawing their burden. Horses could hardly do better; and this team may very possibly prove much more useful than horses in unexpected ways. If the boys, in any of the half-civilized regions through which they must pass, should happen to be threatened with rough usage, these eight huge dogs would be formidable allies.

This is no visionary scheme, of the sort that "dies in thinking." The two young men—Kenworthy and Whitwall by name—have already started from Grand Forks, N.D.; the big black Newfoundlands are even now coursing along the prairie roads, eastward bound. The wagon shown in the picture will be used as far as Chicago, there a bicycle wagon will be procured, to be used for the rest of the journey.

From Chicago, the boys will proceed to New York; thence by steamer to Liverpool. After a drive through England they will cross the channel to France, and visit the principal European cities. Then will come a long drive through Asia—probably the most hazardous part of the whole expedition. From some port in China or Japan they will embark for San Francisco, and we predict that they will heartily rejoice, both man and dog, to set foot on American soil once more after their long jaunt through the strange scenes of the Orient. It is then intended to visit every city in the United States and Canada having a population of 20,000 or more.

Is not this a tolerably adventurous undertaking? Jason didn't travel half so far in his quest for the golden fleece; and unlucky Ulysses got himself badly lost in a world that was the merest fraction of that which these young westerners propose to circumambulate in a toy cart drawn by dogs.

These boys certainly have the full courage of their convictions. They start without a cent in their pockets; and that is a condition of things from which the bravest may well shrink. They do not mean, however, to permanently ignore the advice of Iago; they hope to "put money in their purse" as they go along. They will put their outfit on exhibition in the various towns through which they pass—for a consideration, of course. And really, it will be a sight worth seeing—especially after the grand circuit has been completed. They also expect to earn something by advertising various business houses along the way.

Results Tell the Story.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequalled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE COMING COMET!

It is Expected to Strike and Smash the Earth.

That is If its Tail Doesn't Swing it Around in Another Direction—Not Due for Some Time Yet.

There is, according to the authorities, a comet coming straight for the earth. It is coming at the rate of several thousand miles an hour, and when it reaches here there will be more or less trouble, and something will have to break. The astronomers in question think the earth will get a trifle the worst of it and are accordingly feeling anxious. It is due here unless somebody turns a switch, and sidetracks it, in less than nine hundred years, so no wonder the discoverers of that comet are anxious. But more things than a comet are due to arrive here before long. With the hot weather will come sickness and death. Spring, deadly spring, will reap its fearful harvest. There will come

Malaria,
Typhoid,
Diphtheria,
Bilious Complaints,
Blood Troubles,
Blotches and Boils,
Pimples and Eruptions,
Ague and Chills,
Rheumatism.

And hundreds of other complaints common to the season. There will be many a gap left at the table. Many a little coffin will be carried to its last resting place; many a home will be filled with sadness.

Take no chances. Prepare for spring. If you or your children are not strong and healthy get strong and healthy. If you are not well get well. If you are well keep well.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is what you want. It is the greatest blood purifier and spring tonic of the age. There is nothing like it on the market. Don't confound it with other weak imitations. It is easily the leading blood medicine of the day, as the splendid testimonials published elsewhere show. Try it.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is unlike most patent medicines. It does not profess to cure every disease under the sun. But it will cure all those that have the same common origin in disorders of the blood, liver, stomach and nervous centers.

More about Scott's Sarsaparilla tomorrow.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, April 30.—Prices were a shade easier for butchers' cattle to-day, and a fairly active trade was carried on, but the demand was for local requirements exclusively, there being no buying on export account at the Eastern abattoir market. The highest price paid this morning was 3¾c per lb. live weight, or ¼c lower than on Monday last. Secondary quality brought from 3c to 3¼c and common to medium stock sold at from 2¼c to 2¾c. Small meats were in moderate inquiry at prices given below. The receipts to-day were 450 head of cattle, 1500 calves, 50 sheep and 100 spring lambs. Following was the general quotations: Cattle—Butchers', choice, per lb., 3½c to 3¾c live weight; do., medium to fair do., 3c to 3¼c; do., culls do., 2¼c to 2¾c. Calves—Good to choice, $7 to $10; common to fair, $1 to $6. Spring lambs—Common to good, $2 to $5. Sheep—Common to good, 3c to 4c per lb. live weight.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, of Arkwright, Ont., says:—I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed and could get neither sleep or rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle and after taking about one half of it I found myself recovering and after continuing it for some time I recovered but when the cold weather set in I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc., yield at once to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, the successful throat and lung specific.

The Care of the Hair.

"If you want to keep your hair in good condition you should remember to brush and brush again," says one who has made the care of hair a life study. "Brushing is absolutely the only means one can use to make the hair glossy, clean and perfectly healthy. Women often ask me what to use to increase the growth of their hair. The hair is very obedient to the treatment it receives, and if that is good and regular, and one is in good health, the hair needs no tonic."—Philadelphia Times.

How to Get Rid of Flies.

The following plan of ridding the kitchen and dining-room of flies is a good one: Take a small stove shovel, heat it red-hot, and pour on it a few drops of carbolic acid, having previously closed the doors and windows. In a few minutes open the room and the flies will be found to have entirely disappeared. Only a faint odor of the fumes of carbolic acid will remain.

SEVERE KIDNEY TROUBLE COMPLETELY CURED.

Two Bottles of South American Kidney Cure Did it.

The idea that disease of the kidneys cannot be cured is a mistake. True, many so-called kidney cures do not cure, but in the great discovery, South American Kidney Cure, there is found an unfailing remedy. This is what Mr. David Hogg of Sunnymead, N.W.T., says:—"I was greatly afflicted with severe kidney trouble, suffering the many annoyances and pain that follows this disease. There was hardly any remedy that I did not use in hopes of securing relief, but it was not until I had bought a bottle of South American Kidney Cure that relief came. The one bottle immediately relieved me, and two bottles produced a complete cure." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Mrs. John Gough, Dresden, Ont., says: "Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured my daughter of St. Vitus' Dance; one hand was uncontrollable and the muscles of the face twitched very badly."

OUR MAIL.

B.B.B. CURES

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN,—During the winter of 1892 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.

Short Sketches of Great Men.
Dr. Samuel Johnson.

Doctor Johnson was one of the few men whose memory is worth preserving. Fortunately it has been preserved and very well preserved too, for Boswell's life of him is almost a facsimile of the great man's career. He was born in the year 1709, and the earliest account of his sayings and doings show him to have been a precocious child, distinguished by his power of memory. He suffered, however, from poor or rather impaired eyesight, which made him appear grotesquely shortsighted. As a youth he was diligent in, if not fond of, study, and ultimately he became the best Latin scholar of his time. He was once asked how it was that he had become so good a scholar. To which he replied: "My master whipt me very well; without that, sir, I should have done nothing." Johnson used to say that this master, Hunter by name,, who was very severe, used to say when applying the birch "this I do to save you from the gallows." Though Johnson at the time expressed his dislike of such treatment, he at a later day gave utterance to the following remarks, which are interesting as pertaining to the use of the rod in the correction of children: "I would rather," said he, "have the rod to be the general terror of all to make them learn than tell a child if you do this or that you will be more esteemed than your brothers or sisters. The rod which terminates in itself. A child is afraid of being whipped, and gets his task and there's an end on't; whereas, by exciting emulations and comparisons of superiority, you lay the foundations of lasting mischief; you make brothers and sisters hate each other." This will hardly be thought in these days the best regimen in general, though in cases where boys are as lazy as Johnson was, naturally it is probably as beneficial now as then In connection with Johnson's natural indolence it is worthy of remark that Lord Chesterfield gave it as his opinion that there was properly only one kind of idleness, viz, listless torpor. About his 20th year he gave the first decided evidence of that profound melancholy, which, from that on, characterized his whole temperament. This, of course, was in part due to his affliction, known as the king's evil. All his life he laboured under a morbid fear of becoming insane. In spite of these afflictions he continued to write those dissertations in Latin, which gained him from time to time the applause of the most learned men of his day. It cannot fail to be interesting to note the course of reading which Johnson adopted. From his earliest years he loved poetry. Shakespeare, the odes of Horace, Homer and Euripides were those works to which he chiefly devoted himself, though metaphysics was the study of which he was most fond. Literature had superior attractions in his eyes, whether from the

PRODUCES AN EFFECT

MORE SPLENDID PROSPECT

or from the miserable uncertainty of metaphysical discussion it would be hard to say. In love, as in other of the affairs of life, he was both peculiar in that he selected a plain widow of twice his own years for wife, and intense in that he loved her with all the ardour of his mighty nature. His manner of courtship was a master of jest. Big raw-boned and awkward with a nervous freakishness of demeanor, he combined the manners of an oddity with the devotion of the most approved style of a lover. Mrs. Porter married him and never had cause to regret it. He cherished for her a most sincere affection. In 1736 he set up an academy at Edial in Staffordshire. Here his only pupils were David Garrick and a young man named Offely. His reputation had not then acquired the degree of celebrity which it reached upon the publication of his dictionary. Then, or after the publication of the "Rambler," his academy would have been thronged by the sons of his numerous admirers. In a scheme for the learning of classics he incorporated a piece of advice to learners which will serve even a higher purpose:—"The greatest and most necessary task still remains (i.e., after reading the authors) to attain a habit of expression, without which knowledge is of little use. This is necessary in Latin and more necessary in English, and can only be acquired by a daily imitation of the best and corrected authors." It was no doubt owing to his cultivation of the Greek and Latin Classics that his own style was characterized of and expressions. A year or two after the experiment of the academy he went to London where he became a contributor to the "Gentleman's Magazine," the first periodical of the day in England. It is not possible in the space of a column to descant upon the imposing merits of Johnson's works, from his poem, "London," which drew forth high praise from Pope through a long list to his "Lives of the Poets" published in 1781. The object of this short sketch is rather to tell what manner of man Johnson was. His striking individuality of character is as important and instructive as are the productions of his genius. There are two relations in which a man chiefly stands in this world. The one towards nature and the other, towards his fellowmen. The former shows his power, the latter his disposition. Johnson's disposition is well portrayed in his relations with Goldsmith, whose mind, Boswell says, "resembled a fertile but thin soil. There was a quick, but not strong, vegetation of whatever happened to be thrown upon it." Though Goldsmith was by no means an unselfish sort of man, Johnson hurried to his assistance once when Goldsmith was in a most uncomfortable position. Arrested for debt he was likely to fare ill, but Johnston advanced him money, negotiated the sale of one of his works (the Vicar of Wakefield), and left him in comfort and

SUCH PONDEROUS WORDS

COMPARATIVE PROSPERITY.

Of Garrack, it has been said that he suffered at the hands of Johnson upon the momentous occasion of his joining the celebrated "Literary Club." That, however, is not the case, as Johnson extended his welcome along with the others. The "Literary Club," which played so important a part in the lives of many celebrated men, was the result of a suggestion made by Sir Joshua Reynolds. Amongst the original members were Sir Joshua, Johnson, Edmund Burke and Goldsmith. They met at the "Turk's Head" one evening a week at 7, and kept up the conversation to a pretty late hour. The club afterwards shifted its quarters and changed its meeting days to once a fortnight. It afterwards comprised in its list of membership such names as Gibbon, Fox, Palmerston and Sheridan. The sentiment uttered by Sir Joshua Reynolds upon the occasion of his first meeting Dr. Johnston and to which he owed the latter's favour, is at least a peculiar one. Two ladies were lamenting the death of a friend, whereupon Sir Joshua observed, "You have, however, the comfort of being relieved from a burthen of gratitude." Johnston defended this on the grounds of its being fundamentally true of human nature. Of the tales told of Johnston's supporting a host of human incongruities in his own house it is only necessary to say that it was by reason of his kindness of heart and not of any eccentricity of genius. A careful perusal of the records of his life will show Dr. Johnson to have been truly great in all that goes to make up the chief elements of true greatness. He was great morally, for he was sincere, unselfish and a lover of truth. He was great intellectually. His influence upon the period in which he lived and upon those that have succeeded has been profound and enduring.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

The Cheese Outlook.

The Brockville Recorder says:—"When spoken to-day regarding Mr. J. C. Warrington's prophecy that the cheese outlook for 1896 was anything but bright, Mr. D. Derbyshire said he could not look at it in just the same light. He lays special stress on the fact that where the season opened last year with some 53 000 fodder cheese on hand to act as a drag on the season's operations, 1896 will have no such drawback. He is of opinion, however, that the prices at the opening will be very low, but hopes and expects them to improve during the season."

thinness

The diseases of thinness are scrofula in children, consumption in grown people, poverty of blood in either. They thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them. Everybody knows cod-liver oil makes the healthiest fat.

Social Equipment.

Few things are more indispensable to the social equipment than a Piano. That it should be a good one goes without saying. Nothing shows worse taste than to ask a musically-cultivated guest to play upon or sing to a poor Piano. People of taste and tact fully appreciate this fact, which may explain the large number of Mason & Risch Pianos in the homes of the cultured. There is another point about them, namely, that not not only are they beautiful when new, but they retain their beauty of tone and elegance of appearance for years after instruments of inferior character are worn out.

LAURIER AND MOWAT.

Sir Oliver Will Join the New Liberal Government.

HE WILL THROW HIMSELF INTO THE CAMPAIGN.

In a Letter to the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier He Makes the Announcement and Reviews the Political Situation, in Which He Finds Urgent Reasons for Every Canadian Who Loves His Country Putting Forth All His Energies at This Juncture, to the End That Capable, Economical and Honest Government May be Given to Canada and the Administration of Affairs Taken Out of the Hands Which at Present Hold it.

Toronto, May 4.—The following letter from Sir Oliver Mowat to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier shows that the Ontario Premier has at last decided to lend his powerful aid in sweeping from office the corrupt and incompetent crew at Ottawa:

Toronto, May 2, 1896.

My dear Mr. Laurier,—When first the application was made to me some weeks ago to give up my position as Premier of Ontario and become a candidate for a seat in the House of Commons, with a view to accepting a position in the Dominion Reform Government which is confidently expected to follow the general elections, the proposal seemed to me to be out of the question, there being in Parliament under your leadership many able men and the general elections being likely to add to their number, I disliked what was proposed, because, first of all, it involved severing my connection with North Oxford, which has stood by me at so many elections, and where I have so many esteemed personal friends. Then, again, no position which practically could be assigned to me in the Dominion Government would be equal in popular estimation or in my own to that of Premier of Canada's greatest province, and there were many other reasons important to myself and my family which appeared to forbid my making the change suggested. One of these was that the assumption of new duties in a new field would involve an increase of work and worry, while a public man nearly 76 years of age, however full of health and strength he may be, might reasonably be looking for less work and less worry rather than voluntarily taking upon himself more. While I am now abundantly equal to my present duties, and my medical adviser tells me that if I do not take too much upon me I may look forward to years yet of active life, it seemed to me that I could not count as nothing the addition of a contested election in a new constituency, and afterwards annual sessions of Parliament twice as long as in Ontario, and with much later hours. To remove to some extent this objection, it has been suggested that I might take a seat in the Senate instead of the House of Commons. I perceive the advantages of this; both as regards myself personally and as regards the consideration of future constitutional changes which would add to the usefulness of that body, assuming that a second Chamber for the Dominion is to be retained. How a second Chamber, consisting so largely of the nominees of one party, as the Senate now does, can be just to a new Government of another party remains to be seen, and the necessity of early constitutional changes may depend on this.

Besides my correspondence with yourself and my personal interview with you, I have during the last few weeks had many communications from and conversations with other representative Liberals, and it has been made plain to me that it is the general opinion of the party to whose favor and confidence are owing my 23 years of the Premiership of Ontario that the crisis is so grave that every personal sacrifice has to be made, and every incidental risk run, if the country is to be rescued from the misgovernment which the Dominion has long been suffering from. From the reasons laid before me, I perceive that my long experience and my success in official life in this province are thought to be a guarantee that I could render useful service in the new Government and Parliament of the Dominion. I feel that I have to consider the matter in the light of these opinions.

I am happy to know that you and I are, and, I believe, have always been, in substantial accord as regards Dominion questions. Our national origin is not the same, our religious creeds are different, but we are both of Canadian birth, we both love Canada and the Empire, and we both rejoice in our British connection, we both desire the prosperity of Canada and the well-being of all classes, conditions and creeds in its population, and I believe that we agree as to the best means of securing these objects.

We are, I believe, at one with respect to the tariff. I think, with you, that the introduction of the protective system was a mistake on the part of our people. So, you, like myself, are a Reformer, and not a revolutionist, and you recognize the necessity of legislation on the tariff being gradual and cautious. Adopting that policy, I am glad that you see your way meantime to changes which will be a relief to our farmers and at the same time will not injuriously affect but rather benefit manufacturers and their workmen. A Government owes a duty to all classes of the people.

I quite see that one difficulty in legislation on the subject is the fact that considerable capital has been invested in manufactories on the faith that a system which our people unfortunately have sanctioned for eighteen years would not be abrogated hastily or without due regard to the interests which have arisen under that system. I quite see, also, that the difficulty of legislation is greatly enhanced by the enormous debt which the present Government has created during the last eighteen years, and the large revenue which is needed for the payment of the annual charges incident to the debt. Almost every year millions have been added to our liabilities, while hundreds of thousands of dollars of the people's money have been going into the election funds of the party, and still more been wasted by extras and indifference, incompetency, or worse.

The Manitoba school question will occupy a good deal of attention during the elections. In the light of past events I should not despair of the question being settled in a manner acceptable to the reasonable people of Manitoba and the reasonable Roman Catholics of the Dominion. My opinion in regard to it, and that of the

WILFRID LAURIER.

Liberals of the Ontario Legislature, was expressed in the resolution passed on the subject during our last session. We have had in Ontario questions of various kinds which seemed as difficult of solution as this question is, and they have been dealt with by the Ontario Legislature satisfactorily.

On these questions and on most others intelligent Conservatives now agree with Reformers, whether they vote for Reform candidates or not. If the Reform platform were less acceptable than it is to intelligent and independent minded non-Reformers, the scandals which have come to light afford more than sufficient ground for all men to condemn and to join in displacing all men who were parties to the scandals, whatever they arose from. In view of all such facts, it is plain to many Conservatives that the usefulness of a Conservative Government under its present leaders is gone, and that a few years of opposition would do the party and the country much good. I venture to concur in that opinion.

For myself, in the interest of Canada I desire greatly to see a Government in power under your leadership, being confident that it would be a good Government, honest and economical, thoughtful with respect to every Province and to all classes of the people, giving to all their just rights, and promoting harmony and good-will everywhere. It would be an honor to assist you in this patriotic work, and, therefore, in deference to your opinion, and that of so many other representative Liberals, I have made up my mind to forego all considerations of a personal kind to the contrary and join you in what will be the second Reform Government since Confederation, if such should continue to be your wish. Everyone recognizes the merits of the first Reform Government, of which the pure-minded Alexander Mackenzie was leader, and which, unfortunately for the country, the hard times overthrew in 1878. Permit me to say that, in common with my fellow-Liberals throughout Canada, and in common, also with many candid Conservatives, I have the same confidence in you as we all had in Mr. Mackenzie, and in the interest of the country I trust that you will have a much longer term of political power for the good of the people of Canada than fell to the lot of our lamented friend. Very faithfully yours,

O. MOWAT.

A BRUSH WITH THE DERVISHES.

The Egyptian Army Made Things Lively for a Time at Wady Halfa.

New York, May 3.—The Herald prints the following special from Wady Halfa, under date May 1: Sir Herbert Kitchener is making a tour of inspection around the advance posts. He arrived at Akasheh yesterday. In the course of the morning 70 Dervishes were sighted at Khor, four miles east of Akasheh. Major Burn-Murdock, with three squadrons of cavalry, supported by the 11th Soudanese regiment, was despatched to reconnoitre them.

The cavalry came up with 800 Dervishes, horsemen, who were supported by more than a thousand riflemen and spearmen. They vigorously attacked the horsemen, totally dispersing them. Major Murdock's men dismounted and opened a heavy fire on the enemy, who retired before the regiment could come up. The cavalry lost one killed and eight wounded, and Capt. Fitton was slightly wounded. The heat was intense, and one man in the 11th regiment died of heat apoplexy. The Dervishes' losses were considerable, but they have not yet been fully reported.

BLOOD STILL RUNS IN CUBA.

Rebel Losses in the Recent Engagement Number Two Hundred.

Havana, May 3.—Intelligence has reached here of a fierce engagement between six columns of Spanish troops under Gen. Suarez Inclan and the insurgent forces under Gen. Maceo near Cacarajicaras, south of Bahia Honda. The rebels' loss is estimated at over 200. The loss on the Spanish side was two lieutenants and 14 soldiers killed, and one lieutenant-colonel, two captains, one major, two other officers and 61 soldiers wounded.

The Spanish troops under Colonel Molina had a desperate encounter with a force of 1500 rebels under the insurgent leader Lacret near Ceja de Pablo, in the province of Santa Clara. The Spaniards succeeded in capturing the rebel camp. The loss on the Spanish side consisted of one lieutenant and two soldiers killed and four soldiers wounded. The rebels are said to have suffered a severe loss, and, it is reported, the rebel leaders Lacret, Vasques, Pancho and Perez were among the wounded.

HIS WIFE DEAD BESIDE HIM.

Mysterious Death of a Halifax Woman—Did She Die From a Kick?

Halifax, May 3.—Alex Lang, living at 227 Albemarle-street, woke up this morning to find his wife dead at his side. Medical Examiner Finn, who was called, learned that there had been a good deal of drinking in the house for several days, and Lang told him that a bruise found on his wife's body had been caused by another woman kicking her, and expressed the belief that this was the cause of death. Dr Finn thinks the injury is an old one, and that death was not due to violence, but has ordered an inquest held. The woman accused of doing the kicking denies the charge. Mrs. Lang was a middle aged woman, in poor circumstances.

TROUBLE IN ALASKA.

Indians and Whites Having a Dispute Which Looks Threatening.

Ottawa, May 3.—(Special)—Advices from Sitka, Alaska, via Victoria, which were received here to-day, state that trouble is imminent between the Indians and whites over the acquittal of a white man who brutally killed an Indian, while an Indian is now waiting execution for killing a white man on provocation. As the force sufficient to handle an Indian outbreak is not maintained there by the United States Government, residents are apprehensive. The scene of the trouble is on the coast, and several hundred miles distant from the Canadian mounted police post. The United States Government will likely send a man-of-war to Sitka.

FREE TRADE NOT AN ISSUE.

Conservative journals are wasting much good ink and much doubtful eloquence in proving that free trade is impracticable in Canada. Who says it is? Who is advocating free trade for Canada? The necessities of revenue, arising from eighteen years of extravagant Conservative rule have made free trade an impossibility for this country. But a tariff for revenue and a tariff that will produce that, will be as protective as any industry is legitimately entitled to. The tariff needs readjustment, and not such "readjustment" as Sir John promised and carried out. We want an honest and just tariff, not one like the present that bears heavily on the poorer classes and lightly on the richer — such as knitted cotton goods, 35 per cent.. and silk-lined fur circulars, 32½ per cent., nails, 30 per cent., average, and gold necklaces 25 per cent.; scythes, 33 per cent., and gold pens, 25 per cent. In cases like these the necessitities should have the lighter tax, and the luxuries the higher. The present tariff is full of such instances of unjust and unfair taxation. The Government recognized that abuses existed. Sir John Thompson admitted that there were "mouldering branches" to be lopped away, but when, in 1894, Mr. Foster introduced a bill to revise the tariff his schedule was revised by the manufacturers and the result was that the revised tariff, while bearing the indications of a reduction of about 2 per cent., was in reality "readjusted," so as to be more oppressive than before; with several "mouldering branches" grafted on. It was a manufacturers', not a farmers', tariff. We need a change and Mr. Laurier's policy is to reform this tariff so that its burdens will be reduced or placed on the right shoulders.

THE CATTLE EXPORT TRADE.

In former years at this season cattle exporters were taking a lively interest in preparations for the opening of the export trade. Sales up to this date had usually in past years been large, and the farmers in this Province had realised handsomely on the stock which they had taken special care to fatten for the old country markets. So far this year this trade had been practically dead. There has been little or no demand for fat cattle for export yet. During the winter months a few ship loads of cattle were exported by way of St. John, Portland and Halifax, but these had no effect on the trade here. The Canadian farmer, unfortunately, appears to have lost the great advantage he formerly enjoyed in this export cattle trade in the mother country, and it has been lost, it may be safely said, through no fault of the farmers. They prepared their cattle with the greatest care for the export trade, and the generally clean bill of health our cattle presented in the British markets long maintained for them the privilege of being sold on the hoof in the interior markets, thus securing for them an advantage over the cattle imported from other countries and getting for the seller a premium on the market price. But since Canadian cattle were allowed to be misrepresented, the aspect of the trade has been changed and there is not now the money in cattle that was made for all concerned in the export trade a few years ago. It is estimated that there are 60,000 cattle in Canada, including those in the distillery byres and in the Northwest, that will be ready for the export trade in May and June. Exporters, who are already in the old country waiting to receive shipments of Canadian cattle, report that the prospects are unfavourable. Much will depend on the number of cattle sent from the United States to the British markets this season, since Canadian cattle are now on the same footing as cattle from other countries. The increasing number of Manitoba and Northwest cattle that are now available for export is also being felt by those who are in the market for Ontario cattle. Dealers just returned here from the Northwest report not only that there are great droves of cattle up there, but that they have come through the winter in splendid condition, and a few weeks on grass will make them fit for shipment to the east. The ranch cattle are said to be in better condition than those which have been housed all winter. It is expected that the opening price for export cattle here will be about 4c.—Globe.

THE NEW CABINET.

A Batch of Press Opinions.

Quebec Mercury, (Conservative.)

This makes a strong team. Mr. Angers' presence in the ministry is the best guarantee for the passage of the Remedial Bill. Nothing else will satisfy him, and he has the people of this province at his back.

Montreal Gazette, (Conservative.)

Altogether it will be a Cabinet of good men that will appeal to the country under the banner of the National Policy, and their leadership promises to realize the expectations of success that their followers feel satisfied in entertaining.

Mail and Empire.

The general feeling in * * regard to the new ministry is that Sir Charles Tupper has succeeded in forming the strongest Government that could possibly have been formed under the circumstance. * * The reconstruction, so far as Ontario is concerned, has restored the equilibrium of representation.

Hamilton Herald (Independent).

It would be ungracious to find fault with the new Cabinet except in respect of the Tupper combination which the astute old party at the head of it has succeeded in forming. The new men and old are well known by the people of Canada, by name if not personally, and the average citizen had better accept the rulers which Tupper has provided and give thanks that the old man did not work in his grandmother's sisters and cousins and aunts.

Toronto Evening News (Conservative.)

The Cabinet that Sir Charles Tupper has got together will be more acceptable to the Province of Quebec than to the Province of Ontario. It is a solid phalanx of remedialists, and so far as this province is concerned that is a serious objection, and will prove a source of weakness. The inability of Sir Charles Tupper to induce some strong and popular politician from Ontario to join him will prove a disappointment to the friends of the party who see the necessity of such a move at the present juncture.

Toronto World (Conservative).

As to the timber in the Cabinet, we cannot see that there is any great difference between it and the former one. One thing that strikes us is that as far as Remedial Legislation is concerned it is stronger on that point than was the cabinet of Sir Mackenzie Bowell. It is Ultramontane or nothing in its Quebec contingent. Mr. Angers, who joins Sir Charles Tupper in the cabinet as the leader from Quebec, left Sir Mackenzie Bowell's Government because he was not convinced that his colleagues were really in earnest on the Remedial question. Col. Tisdale, who comes in from Ontario, is also a very pronounced Remedialist, and his last speech in the House was to challenge either Mr. McCarthy or Mr. Clarke Wallace to contest his seat with him on this issue. Mr. Haggart has also declared himself to be a Remedialist up to the hilt. And Charley Tupper, who introduced the Remedial order, is given a position in the Government.

Montreal Witness Independent.)

"The Ministry is undoubtedly improved and strengthened by the absence of Sir Adolph Caron * * * Mr. Angers will, of course, strengthen the government in its fight for the Manitoba bill in this province, but he will be a source of corresponding weakness in Ontario, Manitoba and the West. For the rest it looks as if the Government had created Cabinet Ministers for this province in order to help them to carry constituencies. Even the Senators, it is said, will be candidates. Col. Tisdale takes the place of Sir Mackenzie Bowell in Ontario. If he accepts the position, along with Mr. Angers, he wipes out his anti-remedial career. It looks as though the Government had left Ontario to the McCarthyites and anti-remedialists to carry, with the idea of securing after the elections were over their support for the Government and remedial legislation. But this will not work * * * The Conservatives hoped for a really strong Government, with Mr. Meredith and Mr. Chapleau in it, and they will not be very enthusiastic over the Tupper Cabinet as it is constituted."

Ottawa Free Press.

The mountain has laboured for many days. It has rumbled and groaned, muttered and smoked, and, lo! at last, out pops a very small mouse. After all the trumpetings and all the nods and knowing winks of the Government press, we are at last afforded a striking example of the maxim, from nothing nothing comes. Toryism is done, and it is only natural that its shadow can produce nothing solid. We were promised much and have got nothing. Strength was heralded, and the result is an abject exhibition of weakness. A cabinet, the likes of which, morally and mentally, has never been witnessed in Canada, was to be announced. And, instead, we are given the old cabinet minus its honest and much wronged Premier, only with the addition of two or three respectable, certainly, but, viewed from the political standpoint, most mediocre men. In vain have the handful of Tories who might have added weight to the shivered cabinet, and afforded some strength to the broken up Tory party, been asked to give their name and presence. They have wisely, one and all, declined. Was ever a more pitiful spectacle witnessed? Was ever internal party dissension more manifest? * * The patchwork thing called the new cabinet affords a fresh proof of Tory disintegration, and may be regarded by the Liberals as an additional guarantee of that sweeping victory which awaits them at the polls.

Toronto Globe.

Thus the seeds of dissension in the party are already being sown. There will be a remedial wing, and an anti-remedial wing, and a contingent of wobblers open to conviction by argument or to persuasion by promises of office. If the policy of coercion is persisted in there will be revolt in the ranks; if not, there will be another bolt from the Ministry. So that instead of the strong Government, united and able to govern, whereof Mr. Foster dreamed, there will be a remarkably weak Government, with every promise of disunion and confusion. If the result of the elections is to give the combination an excuse for holding on to office there will be more dissension, more intrigue, more crises, more deadlocks. The Ministers will be too busy with their domestic quarrels to give to the affairs of the nation that consideration which they require. We agree with Mr. Foster that there never was a time when unity and strength and stability of administration were so urgently called for. But not the most sanguine can expect from the Tupper combination anything but a repetition of the vacillation and confusion that for more than a year have driven business men almost to despair and led them to postpone this or that piece of business at Ottawa "until we have a Government again." Canada is strong in resources, strong in the character if not in the numbers of her people. She has, we are confident, a reserve of energy which will enable her to recover from the effects of the misgovernment and the unwise legislation of the latter half of the history of Confederation. But it is unfair and unwise to draw too largely upon that reserve. The politicians have had their innings. It is time to give the country and the people a chance.

Strength for the Aged.

As age advances the recuperative power of the body decreases. Fatigue clings like a burr to the already depleted store of energy, still further wasting and dissipating it, and in consequence, the elderly find it very hard to keep their spirits up to the "doing" point. An anchor of hope and safety is found in the energizing action of Maltine with Coca Wine, which imparts, almost magically, strength and vigor to the failing powers, and through its nutritive and tonic properties renews those functional activities upon which depend health of body and mind. Maltine with Coca Wine rapidly restores appetite, improves digestion, imparts tone and vigor to the nervous system; in a word is a strength-giver of unequalled excellence. Maltine with Coca Wine is prescribed and recommended by physicians. All druggists sell it.

YOUR "BAD BACK" RE-BACKED.

HOW IT IS DONE!

The pertinent question of the day is—Does your back ache? Is it lame?

Thousands suffer from what they commonly term "Bad back." When they walk or when they work, when they lie down or rise up, wherever they may be or whatever they may do, the old aching, paining, "lame back" worries and wearies and wears them out.

Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can be cured.

Just a word of explanation.

The back is the key-note of the kidneys. When it aches that's a sign that the kidneys are not acting properly. When it is "lame," that indicates that the kidneys are clogged up.

Then all the poisonous products that it is the kidneys special duty to eliminate from the blood, are carried in the blood current to every organ and tissue of the body, bringing on many a kidney trouble which if neglected means disease.

Will you heed the timely warning the back gives you? Will you strike the enemy while you can strike hard? Doan's Kidney Pills are the little enemies of kidney disorders. They strike with no uncertain hand Old backs and young backs are being "re-backed" and freed from never-ceasing pain and many a lame and shattered one, stooped and contracted, is strengthened and invigorated by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. DOINGS AT OTTAWA.

Col. Tisdale Sworn in as Minister of Militia.

FIRST MEETING OF NEW CABINET

The Ex-Premier Departs for Belleville—Distribution of Whitefish From the Hatchery—Mail Service for the Yukon Country—Chief of Police McVeity Dismissed.

Ottawa, May 3.—Matters have become quiet in political circles. On Saturday Sir Frank Smith and Col. Tisdale arrived from the West, and the latter was sworn in as Minister of Militia. The Treasury Board met in the morning, and a Cabinet meeting took place in the afternoon. It is understood that a manifesto to the electors of Canada was under consideration. The Premier, Messrs. Macdonald, Angers, Taillon and Desjardins left in the evening for Montreal, and Mr. Dickey started for Nova Scotia. Col. Tisdale has gone west, and will spend the next seven weeks in Western Ontario.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell left this morning for Belleville. He will return to Ottawa the week after next, and will proceed from here direct to New York, from which port he will sail for England on the 16th of May. The deputy heads of the departments here are uniting to present the ex-Premier with some testimonial of their regard.

The Fishery Department is doing good work towards restocking the inland waters of Canada. This week from the Ottawa hatchery several millions of white fish fry have been sent out. In the Bay of Quinte over a million white fish have been deposited. In Charbot Lake half a million, and in Ottawa County, in the Townships of Lowe and Wakefield, a quarter of a million.

The establishment of a mounted police post in the Yukon country has led to a demand for a regular mail service into that remote region. Col. Prior has strongly urged the subject upon his colleagues and the Government have decided to arrange for three mails into the country a year, in place of one, as heretofore. The contract has been awarded to Capt. William Moore, a veteran explorer of the Pacific coast, who undertakes to carry the mails from Juneau to Fort Cudahy at $600 a trip. Owing to the extreme difficulty of the route only letters will be carried. The first mail leaves Victoria on May 18th. From Juneau it will be carried by steamer to the head of Lynn Canal and thence over the mountains to where the Yukon is struck at Tooshie, from which point there is continuous water communication to Fort Cudahy.

Ottawa's chief of police got his conge to day. At a meeting of the Police Commissioners this morning the following minute was passed: "Mr. McVeity having refused to resign, it is ordered that he be and is hereby dismissed from the office of chief of police for the city of Ottawa." Mayor Borthwick and Magistrate O'Gara were the two commissioners present. Chief McVeity, seen after his dismissal, reiterated his statement of yesterday, that he had been badly treated.

"What do you intend to do?" queried the reporter.

"I hardly know," replied the chief, "Maybe I will run for Mayor. My friends are getting up a requisition, I understand, that I should run for Mayor next year, and if this requisition comes before me I will certainly consent to run."

"And you expect to be elected?" added the reporter.

"Well, I think so. I am confident that if Mayor Borthwick, who is, I am told, looking after a third term, be my opponent, I can easily defeat him."

The Sault Canal will be open on Monday or Tuesday. It was expected the canal would be ready for traffic yesterday, but the finishing touches are still to be put on the new movable dam at the western entrance. This consists of iron shutters, which are attached to the C.P.R. Railway bridge. In the event of the lock gates being carried away, the shutters can be quickly dropped, placed in position, and the rush of water from Lake Superior, which would otherwise follow, stopped.

The Governor-General's Foot Guards will hereafter be known as the Guards. When the battalion was first organized, it was thought that perhaps another regiment of G.G.F.G. might be formed in Toronto or some other city. The present regiment was to be No. 1 division, while the possible other corps would be No. 2, etc. As the second battalion has not materialized during all these years, and as there is no likelihood of its doing so, it has been proposed that the present regiment shall drop their numerical designation and be known as "The Guards." Gen. Gascoigne readily consented to the change.

In 1859 Chief Shauksh of the Kitkahtla Band Indians of British Columbia handed to Rev. Mr. Gurd, the Church of England missionary, at his agency, $100 in gold, to be sent to Queen Victoria, as a mark of his loyalty to her and the empire. The following year, 1890, Mr. Gurd gave the money to Charles Todd, the Government agent of the reserve. A year later Todd forwarded the gold to A. W. Vowell, Government superintendent at Victoria. Then for some reason unaccountable for by the department here, the money lay at Mr. Vowell's office in Victoria till October last, nearly five years. On Dec. 30, by an order in council, it was forwarded to the Queen, with Chief Shauksh's expressions of loyalty. Her Majesty was prompt in her acknowledgment. Yesterday there reached here a return present to the chief, consisting of a steel engraving of the Queen and two Scotch plaids. The picture is two feet ten inches wide and three feet eight inches long, enclosed in a heavy gilt frame, which is surmounted by a crown in relief. The presents have been forwarded with a letter from Government House, which it is understood includes an autograph letter from the Queen. The department officials here say the blame for the delay is not attachable to them in any way, and the matter will be explained to the chief.

The birthday of the Duke of Connaught fell on Friday last and Major-Gen. Gascoigne, as has been his custom in previous years with other forces, cabled to his Royal Highness respectful congratulations on behalf of the Canadian militia. An answer came yesterday to the Major-General from Aldershot: "Thanks; kind wishes for yourself and Canadian militia. Connaught."

Yesterday was the 11th anniversary of the Battle of Cut Knife Hill, and the monument on Major Hill Park to Sharpshooters Wm. B. Osgoode and J. Rogers, who were killed in action, was decorated in their memory. The monument was draped with Union Jacks and small flags and with a handsome wreath.

The rules and regulations respecting steamboat inspection and examinations or engineers' certificates have been codified and amended and are published in The Canada Gazette.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen yesterday were at home to the railway employes of Ottawa and their wives. The gathering was a great success, beautiful weather prevailing.

Mr. Daly leaves to-morrow night to attend the first annual banquet of the Sons of Ontario, which is to be given in the Auditorium at Chicago on Wednesday evening. Mr. Daly will return to Ottawa before proceeding to the Northwest.

Mr. John F. Stairs, ex-M.P., is in the city. He will not be a candidate for Parliament at the coming election. The Halifax Conservatives were anxious for him to run again, but as there is a possibility of Mr. Stairs removing to Montreal he felt it necessary to decline renomination.

Sir Charles Tupper, Messrs. Macdonald and Prior leave for Winnipeg on Friday, Messrs. Nat Boyd, D. W. Davis, Macdowall and probably A. W. Ross will also go west on the same day.

Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Macdonald will address a meeting at Winnipeg on Tuesday, but Sir Charles has had to decline invitations to speak at Portage la Prairie and Brandon as he must be in Toronto next week. The meeting there will likely be held on Thursday evening. Mr. Macdonald will, it is understood, remain in Manitoba during the whole period of the campaign. The fight in Winnipeg will be a hard one, but Nat Boyd says Hugh John will get there sure. Mr. Prior goes straight on to British Columbia.

Neepawa, (Special), May 4th.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying. Her re-appearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and prophesied that they would cure her. She says:—"From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes I say it with heart-felt gratitude I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. J. PADY

At the Park Street Baptist Church Yesterday Afternoon.

At the close of the regular Sunday school exercises yesterday in the Park street Baptist church, Mr. W. Barrie took the chair and in a few words expressed the regret which the young men of the Bible class felt at the severance of their connection with Mr. Pady, who has devoted his special attention to the young men for several years and who has accepted a charge in the suburbs of Toronto.

Mr. Albert Martin was then called upon to read the following address:

To Mr. W. J. Pady, Pastor of the Park Street Baptist Church:

DEAR PASTOR AND TEACHER,—We the members of our Young Men's Bible Class of the Park street Baptist church, hearing of your intended departure from our midst to enter a new field of labour, wish to convey to you our most sincere regret for the unavoidable separation.

In the faithful discharge of the duties incumbent on you as pastor and teacher, you have held up to our view "the great Fatherhood of God" in all its aspects. You have not forgotten that in it was the "Brotherhood of Man."

Many of us have been consoled by you in the hour of affliction, sympathizing with us during times of anxiety and trouble, and have felt, we trust, to our spiritual advantage, your wise counsels which have all the greater effect, knowing that they sprung from, not a mere formal discharge of pastoral duties, but from unfeigned brotherly love.

We earnestly pray the Almighty, disposer of all events, to be as near to you in your new appointment as we believe he has been in the past, and though it is only natural that we should feel sad at this rending of pastoral and social ties, yet we know that there is a "rift in every cloud," and we trust that in your new field of labour you are about to enter on, you may feel and realize that the true brotherhood of man, like its eternal source, "the Fatherhood of God," is not confined to any special locality.

We present you, as a slight token of esteem which we hold you in, and of the regret we feel at parting from you, these volumes, and we trust you will believe us sincere when we say that our regard and affection for you are permanent, and that your stay among us will be an ever present and pleasant memory.

Signed on behalf of the Young Men's Bible Class:

Wm. Barrie,	Thos. Job,
Walter Libby,	Albert Martin,
James Booth,	Geo. Throop.

Mr. James Booth then stepped forward and presented Mr. Pady with six volumes of Matthew Henry's "Exposition of the Old and New Testament."

In replying Mr. Pady said he could hardly find words in which to express his thanks and said that he regretted the pending separation as much as did any of the class. A brief resume of the history of the class was then given by him, showing the growth to have rapidly advanced from a membership of four or five to an average attendance of twenty-five.

Miss Mann, the superintendent, on behalf of the Sunday school, spoke of the regret which all felt at the coming separation and wished Mr. Pady success in his new field of labour.

A DAY ON THE RIVER.

Jubilee Point Looking Most Beautiful This Year—An Ideal Picnic Ground.

The Jubilee Point Picnic Grounds were opened last week by the first excursion of the year, which took place under the joint auspices of the local railway men and the brewery employees. In all about fifty embarked on the North Star at half past nine, and took in what proved to be one of the pleasantest of excursions.

All the way down to the lake the river banks were submerged, and the lowlands are flooded to such a degree as to resemble small lakes. The water is so high at the mouths of the creeks that it is difficult to discover them at all.

The boat reached Jubilee at about noon, after a most pleasant trip down the sinuous Otonabee and the crowd flocked up the hill and was greeted by green foliage everywhere, vegetation being further advanced on the shores of the lake than further north. The grounds at Jubilee have been already cleaned up, and are looking very bright and pleasant this year, a more adaptable picnic ground being hard to imagine. Wild flowers abound in the adjacent groves, and it was not long before the hats of the jolly railway men were decked out in the most brilliant hued of nature's beautiful gifts.

A most toothsome dinner was served up at the Point Hotel, and the freshly caught pike were greatly enjoyed.

After the demands of the inner man had been satisfied, everybody trooped to the ball grounds, where the annual ball game between the railroaders and the brewery nine took place. The captains of the respective teams were Conductor "Bill" Morris of the Grand Trunk, and jovial Harry Neill, Commodore Calcutt's right hand man.

The brewery nine was far too strong for the railway team, and won by a score of nine to three. The game was umpired by Mr. M. Costello.

The railroaders evened matters up by downing the brewery at quoits.

On the return trip the North Star left the Point at about four o'clock, and on the way up the river stopped at the Bensfort bridge to allow a number of wheelmen to disembark and ride home from this point, thus saving a couple of hours. The river road, on the Otonabee side, is bad—very bad, and the wheelman who tries to navigate it should be sure to have a repair kit along, as the roughness is something indescribable.

The boat arrived at Peterborough between seven and eight o'clock and the trip was unanimously voted to have been the most pleasant ever participated in. The mildness of the atmosphere greatly contributed, of course, to the day's enjoyment.

A PETERBOROUGH COMPOSER.

Mr. J. Crane Composes a new Setting for "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

A new arrangement of "Jesus Lover of my Soul" was sung by Mrs. Mein and Miss Montgomery as a duet in St. Paul's church yesterday. A fact which lent peculiar interest to the rendition was the circumstance that Mr. J. Crane, St. Paul's organist, was the composer of the new setting of this familiar hymn, which is certainly invested with many new beauties, as the result of the careful attention which he bestows upon their music.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Te Deum of Dominion Cabinet Ministers — "Thank God there are no Orangemen amongst us."

Sir Charles Tupper says he has "the best possible news from Ontario." Who has discovered a "barrl"?

Sir Charles Tupper is not lacking in courage anyway. He opens the campaign in Winnipeg. His tactics in the opening of the "mill," are to land on the "nose."

Sir Oliver Mowat's alliance with Mr. Laurier is an addition of strength, not a creation of strength. Mr. Laurier was strong before; he will be impregnable now.

Mr. Weismiller is again the Conservative candidate for West Huron. He will have to get on this time without the help of Mr. Robert C. Newman, of Toronto, who is otherwise engaged.

The Liberals of West Northumberland, in unanimously nominating Mr. J. W. McColl, have secured a strong candidate. Mr. McColl may be slightly handicapped in that he has no bridge or light-house positions to sell.

It is said that the Conservatives are arranging to give Sir Charles Tupper a warm reception on his visit to Winnipeg. But it will be nothing to the chilly reception he will get in Manitoba on June 23rd—probabilities of frost.

Does any one for a moment think that if Sir Oliver Mowat had been at the head of affairs in the Dominion that the history of the latter half of Confederation would have been seamed and stained with scandals and odorous of the worst abominations of corruption?

Various opinions will be expressed as to the wisdom of Sir Oliver Mowat's entering Dominion politics. His decision is enough reason for us. Sir Oliver has given abundant evidence in the last quarter of a century that he knows what he is doing; and the people have equal confidence in Ontario's Grand Old Man.

Dr. Vrooman, of Little Britain, was on Saturday nominated as Conservative candidate for South Victoria, Mr. Charles Fairbairn retiring. Mr. Fairbairn was a popular citizen in his riding and on personal grounds had no reason to fear an appeal to the people. But his record as a thorough-paced supporter of the Dominion Government was more than he could face and he retires from the contest.

AN EXPLOSION AT THE LOCAL GAS WORKS.

Mr. R. Mackenzie, the New Manager, Badly Burned on Saturday Night.

An explosion attended with disastrous results, occurred at the gas works at about eleven o'clock on Saturday night, just previous to the shutting down of the plant for Sunday.

Mr. R. Mackenzie, the new manager, and Mr. Andrew Irving were at work in the generating house, when a stoppage occurred. The manager picked up a lamp and went to ascertain the cause. He had not taken more than four steps before a frightful explosion took place, shattering the lamp in his hand to pieces, and burning his right hand and face in a terrible manner. His eyebrows, eyelashes, moustache, and a portion of his hair was singed off, and the skin burned off his face in a most horrible manner. Fortunately his eyes were uninjured, and the fire did not strike in beneath the first skin. Mr. Irving was uninjured.

The explosion occurred so suddenly that Mr. Mackenzie is unable to tell if it was occasioned by a leakage of gas into the room or originated in the lamp itself.

The manager, with his head, face and hand bound up, was at his post again this morning for a few hours, and unless the cold affects his injuries, will probably soon recover from the effects of the explosion.

A COUPLE OF FINE WEDDINGS.

They Took Place in the County During the Week.

NICHOLLS—MCILMOYL.

One of those social events which invariably create a stir in the community took place at the residence of Mr. R. Garbutt, Smith, on Wednesday evening last. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Sarah McIlmoyl, daughter of Mr. Nathan McIlmoyl, of Smith, to Mr. Peter Nicholls also of Smith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. E. McLeod, of the Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, in the presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties. The bride was very becomingly dressed in a handsome wedding costume, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Jennie McIlmoyl, also very becomingly attired, while little Miss Etta Garbutt, niece of the bride, acted as maid of honour. The groom was assisted by Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Lakefield. After the ceremony the assembled guests repaired to the dining-room, where a recherche wedding breakfast was partaken of. The remainder of the evening was spent in social enjoyment. The North Smith Brass Band, of which the groom was a member, was present and contributed to the enjoyment of the evening. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and valuable wedding presents, and the happy couple start out in their married life followed by the best wishes of a large number of friends for their future prosperity and happiness.

ABBOTT—WALDON.

On Monday evening last an interesting event took place at the home of Mr. F. Waldon, of Douro, the occasion being the marriage of his eldest daughter, Ada Mary, to Mr. Frederick Albert Abbott, son of Mr. Wm. Abbott of Douro. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Limbert in the presence of a number of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was neatly attired in a wedding costume, and was assisted by Miss R. Wannamaker. The groom was assisted by Mr. W. J. Waldon, brother of the bride. After the ceremony had been performed the guests adjourned to the dining room, where a wedding feast was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of a number of handsome and useful presents. The happy couple will make their home in Douro.

DAILY MOTTO.

Monday, May 4th.

Oh, my friends, what is our purpose in life, yours and mine? Is it something which this life has given and shaped and will take? Or is it the one eternal purpose of God, which is above this life, which was that for which this life was made, which uses it and yet is superior to it, and can survive its loss and and win the triumph in death and a new life?

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

LAWN TENNIS.

The Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club elected the following officers:

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. A. Poussette.
President—Mr. Hampden Burnham.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. W. D. Parker.
Secretary—Mr. John Parsons.
Treasurer—Mrs. Peter Campbell.
Executive Com.—Mrs. Greenwood, Miss Edwards, Miss Hatton, Miss L. Dennistoun, Mr. Hudson and Mr. David Rogers.

CRICKET.

The annual meeting of the Millbrook Cricket club was held in the council chamber on Thursday evening, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. W. C. Allen.
Vice-President—W. S. Pickup.
Captain—W. T. Wood.
Sec. Treas—B. C. Whyte.
General Committee—H. Hunter, H. M. Wood and J. A. Vance.
Watch Committee—C. Needler, H. Hunter and W. T. Wood.

The following resolution was then unanimously carried: "That the members of the Millbrook Cricket club at this their annual meeting take the opportunity of expressing their sense of the great loss they have sustained through the death of their late lamented secretary, Mr. B. A. Van Homerigh, who, since his arrival in Canada, has ever been identified with the best interests of the manly and noble game of cricket, and at the same time to express to Mrs. Van Homerigh their deep sympathy with her in her bereavement."

THE WHEEL.

The races here on the 24th will be as follows:—One mile, open, "A," one mile handicap, "A," three mile team race, "A," one half mile boys' race, one half mile ladies' race. Already quite a few entries have been received, amongst them being teams from Campbellford and Belleville.

Lionel King is riding a Falcon this year and of the other fast men of last year Geo. Evans has a Redbird, Orville Shortly an Evans & Dodge, Geo. Hopkins an Eclipse, Lytle a Redbird, Lord a Cleveland and Lush a Redbird. The Walker Bros. have not decided as yet what wheel they will ride. The Hamilton brothers are both on Redbirds. There will be a lot of new blood on the track this season and the boys feel pretty certain of landing all the prizes offered in the district for team races. A big effort will also be made to get a team in shape to go to Quebec and also to contest in the Dunlop Trophy Road Race, which latter will probably be run off on the Lakefield road this year.

FOOTBALL.

The Otonabee Football Team organized on Saturday, April 18th, at Grady's School House. The following officers were elected:

Capt.—Matt. Breckenridge, jr.
Pres.—Wm. Hutchison, jr.
Vice Pres.—Thos. Breckenridge.
Sec.-Tres.—Jas. Duff.
Curator—Jas. Shearer
Field Committee—Hilliard Nelson, Earn. Hutchison, David Devlin.

After the first of May the team are open for challenges from any good team in the county and with such officers it has every prospect of success.

MISCELLANEOUS.

At a meeting of the Cricket Club last night it was decided not to allow the baseball club to use the P.A.A.A. grounds for practice. The grounds will be reserved for the exclusive use of the cricketers and lacrossists.

Dr. Quackenbush's mare, Quinte, which will represent Belleville in the race for the Queen's Plate, is said to be going well in her training.

A number of the Cobourg Golf players have commenced visiting the links. As the weather becomes settled the attendance will be larger. What's the matter with the Peterborough Golfers?

The Cobourg bicycle club contemplates arranging a programme of sports for the Queen's Birthday.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The attention of the public is again drawn to the fact that a number of changes have been made in the time of leaving in the C.P.R. express time tables this afternoon and every successive afternoon until further notice is given the express for the west will leave at 4 25 instead of 4 48 as formerly. In the trains leaving for the east the express at noon to-day leaves at 11.22 instead of 11 25 as before, and the midnight express leaves at 11.35 instead of 11 42. Those who intend to travel would do well to make note of these changes.

A Rockland correspondent says:—We might say that the construction of the first ten miles of the new railway between Central Ontario Junction and here is rapidly progressing. The engineers are at work taking levels and the construction train will at once begin operations. We learn from Mr. Ledyard that this portion will be completed so as to run the first train through to the Ledyard Gold and Iron mines by the 1st of July. The product of the mines will be shipped to the Hamilton Smelting Works.

Conductor Chapman has left Havelock with his family for Point Fortune, where he will run a passenger for the summer.

Mr. Frederick Spinks, formerly of Havelock, met with an accident at Central Ontario Junction on Friday last while engaged unloading rails, which resulted in breaking a rib and injuring his foot.

Conductor P. J. Hogan and wife of Havelock are packing up their furniture to remove to Point Fortune, where Mr. Hogan will run a passenger train for the summer.

Conductor P. J. Scanlan of Havelock will remove to Perth, where he will run on the Perth local.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific are about to experiment with a new device for carrying bicycles in the baggage cars in order that they may do away with the complaints from wheelmen that their wheels receive injury in transit. The new invention is a rack fastened to the side of the car, in which the wheels are locked. A number of them have been put in the bicycle room of the Union Station, Toronto, and will be placed as an experiment in some of the baggage cars of the two railway companies.

WHO PAYS THE DUTIES?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—For lo! these many weary years the subsidized shouters for High Protection have been telling us with "damnable iteration" that the producer pays the duties. Now, does he?

Let us look into the matter a little and see if the facts square themselves with the very confident assertions of those self-interested shouters, aforesaid.

It is still fresh in the minds of every householder in the city of Winnipeg, how, during the winter of 1894—5, the hardest known in that city—the price of bread was increased 100 per cent. in the face of a falling wheat market. What caused this abnormal advance in the price of the poor man's loaf?

Ask any baker in Winnipeg this question and he will tell you how one morning—the month and the day are not important—a representative of the "Milling Combination" dropped in to notify him that on a certain date the price of flour would be advanced 35 per cent. and that if he wished to be on good terms with the "combine" he would have to double the price of bread; and how when he tried to argue this question with the representative aforesaid of this soulless organization, and called his attention to the fact that at that very moment hundreds of their fellow-citizens were ranging the the town in search of work and knew not where the next meal was to come from, that individual very coolly replied that unless prices on bread were advanced in accordance with the "combines" programme that beneficent institution would positively refuse to sell the hapless baker any more flour.

Then, after a little questioning, perhaps this baker will relate to you, as he did to me, how he and many of his fellow bakers replied to the "combine's" representative that they would see him—further, before they would succumb to anything so arbitrary and tyrannical and in doing so become a party to a crime against the weak and helpless; and how that same night many carload orders were mailed to a little outside mill west of Winnipeg.

"And is that all?" you ask. "No! nor one half of the infamy," he will tell you. No sooner did it come to the knowledge of the "combine" that the outside mill was running on Winnipeg orders than they sent a wheat buyer into that section with prices that froze the independent miller clean out of the market.

All this our baker friend will tell you and how when the outside miller had been effectually strangled the price of patent flour in the Winnipeg market was advanced to $4.30 while the price of bread was doubled.

With a chuckle the mixer of doughs will tell you how at this juncture a "drummer" from a North Dakota mill came down to Winnipeg and sold his flour to local dealers at 20c per bbl. under the "combination" price, making for his mill a profit of something like 15c per bbl. after paying a specific duty on the same of 73c and freight charges of 26c per bbl.

Now, sir, you have the necessary data. Kindly figure out for yourself the "combine's" profit on a barrel of flour when sold at a price that would compel the North Dakota drummer to sell his flour without a profit.

And yet in the face of all this these same high protection shouters will try to choke it down our throats that the producer pays the duties. I don't see it that way.

Yours truly,
PETER BURROW.

PERSONAL.

Mr. E. E. Dodds was in Port Hope, Saturday.

Mr. Robert Kerr, of Port Hope, is in town to-day on business.

A Haliburton correspondent says:—Mr. Chas. Pym and family are removing to Peterborough. It is with great regret to all our citizens that this removal is being made.

Mr. Walter Stocker has been notified of his appointment as treasurer of the Canadian Bill Posters' Association. The Association can trust Walter to stick to the funds as honestly as his bills stick to the walls.

Mrs. R. E. Wood and Miss Vair embarked at Montreal on the steamship Mongolian of the Allan Line on Saturday for an extended visit to the Old World. They are doubtless on the broad Atlantic to-day.

Mr. W. A. Whitney, a former well-known Peterboroughonian, and now of Springfield, Mass., and representing in New England the Akron Serial Company, Ohio, is in town visiting his parents for a couple of weeks. His many friends are pleased to see him.

Mr. Mungovan, representing the Catholic Register of Toronto, is in town to-day. He has travelled extensively through Canada in the interests of Catholic publications and has done effective work in this capacity. In his travels he reports that he finds politics at fever heart and considerably divided. Mr. Mungovan's friends are pleased to see him enjoying robust health—and looking as young and vigorous as when he first visited Peterborough.

and, of course, it must go on now livelier than ever. We believe one week's selling will prove a big advertisement for the following week. So satisfied have buyers been with the high-class character of our goods and phenomenally low prices that many of them will be back again this week, and their neighbours and friends along with them in increasing numbers.

This Week the Most Startling Bargains Will be in Millinery, Mantles, and Capes. Everything in this Department at bare Cost.

We don't expect to get all the trade, but we do want to get out of business, and, therefore must offer the very best inducements to buyers.

We thank our customers for their friendship and very liberal patronage so far, and solicit a continuance of the same.

CARD.—We would esteem it a favour if our friends in town would do their principal shopping before Saturday, so as to leave that day for our friends from the country. It would help us to handle the crowds better.

ADVERTISE IN THE "EXAMINER."

THE workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man snatches a few minutes from his occupation and turns his desk into a dining-table. Neither gets the exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order.

Nature works as hard as she can, but there are some things she cannot stand. If a man gets some foreign substance into the works of his watch, he doesn't expect the watch to run until the impediment is removed. His own digestive system is a much more wonderful and delicate mechanism than that of his watch, and yet he neglects it and abuses it. He lets it get out of order, and refuses to help it. In the end his neglect reacts with terrible force upon himself. The reaction comes on gradually, however, so that sometimes he scarcely suspects the cause.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation—a condition so common that four people out of five take it as a matter of course. From this one cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They give to nature just the little help she needs. They are as gentle as they are efficient, and will perfectly cure the worst cases of constipation. There is nothing in the world like them, so there can be nothing "just as good." The druggist who tries to sell you something else has his own interest in view and not yours.

Any one sending 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only, will receive free a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It has now been decided to give away absolutely free, an edition of 500,000 copies. Address as above.

PRINCE OF WALES A WINNER.

His Filly Thais Captures the 1000 Guineas —Baseball.

London, May 1.—At Newmarket to-day the May Plate of 300 sov., for 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs, was won by Mr. Leopold de Rothschild's b.f. Goletta, by Galopin, out of Biserta; Mr. Wallace Johnstone's ch.c. Stewartona, by Ayrshire, out of Exning Lass, second, and Mr. F. Foster's eb.c. High Chancellor, by Crowberry, out of Lady Cecil, third. Mr. P. Lorillard's Lamerock started, but was not placed.

The 1000 Guineas Stake of 100 sov. each, half forfeit, for 3-year-old fillies, the owner of the second filly to receive 200 sov. out of the stake, and the third to save her stakes, mile and 11 yards, was won by the Prince of Wales' br.f. Thais, by St. Serf, out of Poetry; Mr. Douglas Baird's br.f. Santa Maura, by St. Simon, out of Palu-flower, second, and Lord Zetland's b.f. Jolly Boat, by Panserschoff, out of Santa Felice, third.

Duke of Westminster's br.f. Omladina, Mr. H. McCalmont's ch.f. Amphora, Mr. Homar Bass' ch.f. Sister to Ella Tweed, Mr. Leopold de Rothschild's br.f. Firecole, Sir J. Blundell Maple's ch.f. Barn Dance, Mr. H. McCalmont's Snowy Corrie, Lord Crewe's Flitters, the Duke of Devonshire's Burgonet, Lord Durham's Drip, Lord Ellesmere's Miss Fraser, Sir R. Waldie Griffith's Vitulo, Sir J. Blundell Maple's St. Auge, Prince Soltykoff's La Toison D'Or, the Duke of Westminster's Helm, and Lord Londonderry's Serfdom also started. Time 1.40 1-5.

The betting: 5 to 1 against Thais, 10 to 1 each against Santa Maura and Jolly Boat, 9 to 2 against Omladina, 5 to 1 against Amphora, 20 to 1 each against Sister to Ella Tweed and Firecole, 14 to 1 against Barn Dance, 17 to 1 against Snowy Corrie, 33 to 1 against Flitters, 50 to 1 each against Burgonet, Drip, Miss Fraser, Vitulo, St. Auge, La Toison D'Or, Helm and Serfdom.

The horses got a good start, St. Auge making the running from Firecole, Amphora and Omladina to the bushes, where Thais came out, followed by Serfdom, Santa Maura, Amphora and Omladina. They ran in this order to the Dip, where Thais was joined by Santa Maura. It was a splendid race from this point home, Thais winning by a head and Santa Maura beating Jolly Boat by three-quarters of a length.

The Brinkley Plate of 200 sov., added to a sweepstakes of 5 sov. each, for 3-year-olds, penalties and allowances, 1 mile, was won by Mr. T. Jennings, jr.'s b.f. Glow, by Sheen, out of St. Helen; Sir H. Farquhar's b.c. The Quack, by Friar's Balsam, second, and Mr. H. McCalmont's b.c. Mitre, by Merry Hampton, third. Mr. P. Lorillard's ch.g. Dakotah II. started, but was not placed.

The Brethy Plate Handicap of 200 sov., 6 furlongs, was won by Mr. T. Cannon's ch.f. Ilfracombe, by Hilden Treasure, out of Ilfra, by Touchet; Mr. J. Jewett's ch.c. Recorder, by Favo, out of Reward, was second, and Mr. R. Lebaudy's b.h. Sweet Auburn, by Sweetheart, out of Goldsmith Maid, third. Mr. E. W. Sword's American horse also started, but was not placed.

Eastern Baseball League

Syracuse, N.Y., May 1.—The opening of the Eastern League season in this city today was attended by a big celebration, in which the Syracuse and Toronto teams and seven thousand spectators participated. The Stars won as they pleased by a score of 9 to 1. The game was marked by brilliant fielding on the part of the home team and inferior work on the part of the Toronto aggregation. McPartlin was hit hard only in three innings, but became disheartened by the support accorded him by the infield. Stuart accepted many chances, and made three errors, two of them being costly.

Padden's wild throw in the seventh innings let in two runs. Mason, who pitched for Syracuse, put up a superb game. Toronto only managed to accumulate four hits off his delivery, and from the speed he showed, there is no doubt that Syracuse has one of the cleverest twisters in the league. Stuart was spiked by Eagan in the second innings, but managed to play out the game. Score:

Syracuse	....	.....	0	5	0	0	0	3	0	1—9

THE RACING BOARD BULLETIN.

Another Batch of Old Class B Men Put Back in the Amateur Ranks.

The C.W.A. Racing Board bulletin of May 1, was handed out yesterday by Chairman Orr, and is as follows:

CHICAGO'S NEW CHALLENGER.

Lincoln Park May Not Depend on Vencedor to Race With the R.C.Y.C. Boat.

New York, May 1.—A special from Gourock, Scotland, to The Herald, gives an interview with Mr. W. Fife, jr., the well-known boat designer, regarding the yacht to be built for the Canadians to race against the Lincoln Yacht Club boat. Mr. Fife said:

"I am hardly in a position yet to give anything away regarding what the boat I have designed may be in detail of hull, spar and sail plan. In point of fact, the matter stands thus: The Lincoln Yacht Club of Chicago challenged the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, and they mentioned as their challenger a boat named the Vencedor. I had designed two boats, the Yama and Zelma, for members of the Canadian club, which were successful, and in consequence a syndicate of the R.C.Y.C. commissioned me to design a boat to defend their interests. This I have done. But it now transpires from a communication I have to hand that the Vencedor is not to be the challenger, but that the Lincoln Club are going to build a new challenger. Here the matter rest. The boat I have designed may very likely still defend the cup."

"Will your new boat resemble the Saint (F. B. Jameson's 52 lineal rater) conformation of hull?"

"She will certainly resemble the Jameson boat in many respects; but, being built to a different rule, there will also be points of dissimilarity. As you suggest, she will be heavier in proportion to her length, and not so steep in the floor. Otherwise below water she will not be unlike the Saint."

LEANDERS OF HAMILTON.

Hamilton, May 1.—At the annual meeting of the Leander Rowing Club, last evening, the following officers were elected: P. D. Crerar, president; R. H. Labatt, first vice-president; John Billings, jr., captain; H. Francis, commodore; R. Calvin, secretary-treasurer; W. A. Logie and C. Powis, auditors.

The club decided in favor of holding the annual regatta of the C.A.A.O. at Brockville.

Another Alleged Blackmailer.

Andrew Ward, a young man who lives at 313 Sumach-street, was locked up in No. 4 Police Station last night on a charge of assault and robbery. It is alleged that Ward is one of the three men who stopped Edward Crossin and a lady in Riverdale Park and charging them with improper conduct, demanded money from Crossin to keep the affair quiet. The other two men, Mills and Rogers, are still in custody.

A NEW CLUB.

Name Suggested for a new Social Organization in London.

London (Special), April 27.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Dodd's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug store in this city the medicine is kept in large quantities and largely recommended.

GRAND TRUNK CHANGES.

District Agencies Abolished and New Districts Laid Out—Who the Lucky Agents Are—Last Night's Bulletin.

Montreal, May 1.—(Special)—There has been considerable unrest during the last three weeks amongst the district passenger agents of the Grand Trunk Railway. It had been intimated from headquarters that a big shaking up was at hand. Late this evening your correspondent was authorized to make the following announcement:

The following district passenger agencies are abolished:

Western Ontario District, Toronto, Ont., M. C. Dickson, district passenger agent; C. W. Graves, traveling passenger agent; Province of Ontario west of line of Kingston & Pembroke Railway.

The following traveling passenger agents are appointed: N. J. Grace, Portland, Me.; T. Wynne, Boston, Mass.; George B. Oswel, St. Albans, Vt.; R. Bushby, Cortland, N.Y.; D. S. Wagstaff, Southern passenger agent, Cincinnati, O.

J. D. McDonald is appointed city passenger and ticket agent, Buffalo, N.Y.

HEADACHE.

A SIMPLE CURE.

As a sure cure for headache, whether caused by liver, stomach, kidney or nerve trouble, Burdock Blood Bitters is the most effective medicine known. It removes the causes of headache by restoring all the organs of the system to proper action and health. Doubts disappear in view of proofs like this:—

In the spring of 1891 I got a bottle of B. B. B. for my mother who had been troubled for twenty-five years with sick headache. I got it from Mr. W. Paxton Baird, of Woodstock, N. B., who gave me two other medicines to take home and let my mother take her choice. Fortunately she choose the Burdock Blood Bitters, and I returned the other bottles. She used it for three months, and has had no headache since. We are sure it was B. B. B. cured her, as she took no other medicine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Bowels.

A constipated condition of the bowels causes the accumulation of waste and effete matter, which poisonously impregnates the whole system by being taken up by the blood. Hence Bad Blood, Headache, Biliousness, Fevers, Foul Humors, Pimples, Blotches, etc. Burdock acts thoroughly on the bowels, removing all effete and waste matter, and cleansing the entire system.

It heals all sores, ulcers, abscesses and broken out surfaces of the skin so completely that not even a scar is left. In all skin diseases it should be taken internally and applied externally, according to directions.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

THE CUBAN REFUGEE.

He Had a Good Deal of Pride and Appetite, but Could Only Speak English.

"Madam," said the tattered wretch, as the woman of the house came to the door, "you see before you a victim of the worst governmental tyranny on the face of the globe."

"You look it," answered the woman.

"My looks do not deceive you. Yet, madam, I can assure you that it humbles me greatly to be compelled to ask alms of you. Two short months ago, madam, I was rich enough to have bought all the houses on this street."

"Indeed," said the woman, growing interested.

"Yes," pursued the wanderer, "I had a great plantation, acres of sugar cane and tobacco, hundreds of negroes to do my bidding. I spent my time in idleness and luxury. I never had a want that I could not gratify by a wave of my hand."

"Where was all this?"

"In Cuba, madam, I am a Cuban refugee. My plantation was burned by the cruel Spaniards because I had given aid to the patriots. My wife and children were murdered, my dependents all scattered, and I—"

"If you're a Cuban," interrupted the woman, "prove it by talking Spanish."

"Madam," said the tramp, with a pained expression, "in the part of Cuba where I lived the people were such patriots that they never used the Spanish language. They talked only English."

"Oh," said the woman, "then there's another way in which you can prove what you say."

"It is humiliating to me to have my word doubted. My Cuban pride revolts at it, but my hunger for the mince pie which I can smell from your kitchen forces me to pocket my pride. Name your other test and it shall be fulfilled."

"You might walk Spanish," said the woman with a smile, as she shut the door.—Buffalo Express.

What Was Lacking.

"How well you are looking, my friend. You really look like a millionaire."

"It must be all in the air, my boy—the million, unfortunately, is lacking."

At His Mercy.

"Why isn't it done?"

In the private office of a large establishment just off the principal boulevard an excited and almost frantic elderly man had forced his way, and, his face livid with rage, he had shouted the words which open this story.

The young man he addressed rose slowly from his desk, and coming forward, placed himself directly in front of his visitor.

"Mr. Van Hopper," he said, smiling, "don't you recognize me?"

The elderly man passed his hand slowly across his brow as he looked long and searchingly into the face of the other, while his countenance changed color, as if in dim realization of what was to come.

"Can it be possible?" he muttered, half to himself. "I thought—"

"You thought," interrupted the other, speaking slowly, as if to further enjoy the triumph which, after years of waiting, had now come—"you thought the young fellow that four years ago you so ruthlessly scorned had sunk out of sight in the vast vortex of human society, never to show himself again. Since then, however, I have changed my business, and you are standing before, not the love-struck youth whom you ordered away from your daughters side, but a man of standing in the community, and one who has you at last in his power. Yes," he continued, as he touched the bell, and rapidly writing out an order, handed it to the attendenat who appeared, "you little thought at that time that the day would ever come when you would in ignorance leave your bicycle to be repaired at my shop. When will it be done?" he continued, with a fiendish laugh at the man who cowered in front of him. "Oh, come around to-morrow, or the next day, and I'll report progress."—Tom Mason, in Harper's Basar.

He Jumped from the Express.

Three drummers sat in a car during the big storm the other day telling stories. The conversation had run to tales of railroad accidents, and two of the men had told of several narrow escapes they had had. The third was silent for a moment, and then he took up the thread of the conversation. "While up the state yesterday," he said, "I jumped from the Toronto-Hamilton express while it was flying along at sixty-odd miles an hour." Then he stopped and watched the effect of his statement. "You jumped from the express?" inquired the other two drummers in unison. "Yes, sir," replied the other. And then he added: "I was on the track when I made the jump."

A SPRING POEM.

Of spring
I sing!
When we catch the glint of the bluebird's wing,
When wilds, now mild, no longer sting,
When birdsongs through the woodland ring,
And bicycle bells do ting-a-ling,
And winter flannels closely cling;
Then it is spring—
The real thing,
By jing!

"THE WIND BLEW RIGHT THROUGH ME."

At Long Range.

I overheard the following conversation in a Market street car yesterday, between a couple of young men:

"I told you that fellow Moore was a scoundrel!" declared one, "and I told him so yesterday."

"You did?" and the other commenced looking his friend over for evidences of a conflict.

"What did he say?"

"Oh, I didn't listen to him. I told him he was a liar, a thief and a scoundrel, and that I would punch him in the nose if he said a word to me."

"What did he do?"

"Nothing; he is a coward."

"Idon't believe that. I have seen him fight at the drop of the hat. Didn't he say a word back?"

"I don't know; I hung up the telephone."—San Francisco Post.

A Great Book Free!

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y. published the first edition of his great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1 50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labour and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him at above address 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing ONLY, and the book will be sent post paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1 50, except only that the books are in strong manil'a paper covers instead of cloth. Send NOW before all are given away.

POLITICS DOWN BY THE SEA.

Conservative Mass Meeting at Amherst—Reception to Hon. L. H. Davies.

Halifax, N.S., May 1.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and Hon. Mr. Dickey will address a public meeting at Amherst next Tuesday evening.

A Charlottetown despatch says one of the largest demonstrations ever seen here was witnessed last evening, when the Liberals of the city and surrounding districts assembled to do honor to Hon. L. H. Davies, on his return from Ottawa. Speeches were delivered by Hon. Mr. Davies, Hon. D. Laird and William Welsh.

A G.T.R. Conductor Hurt.

Windsor, May 1.—John Smith, conductor of a freight train on the Grand Trunk, is in a serious condition at his home as the result of an accident early this morning. Two cars collided at Komoka Depot, the jolt throwing him upon the platform of the depot. He struck on his shoulder and side and was badly bruised. His right wrist was sprained and he is hurt internally.

Thousands have tested the great building-up power of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have found renewed strength, vigor and vitality in its use.
